SAYS YADKIN RIVER IS NOT NAVIGABLE

Greensboro, May 17—The Yadkin River is not navigable at any point in North Carolina and never has been, declared T. S. Johnson, Raleigh, chief engineer of the state department of conservation and development, today in Guilford superior court as a witness for the Duke Power Company which, with the aid of 45 High Point corporations and citizens, is trying to bar the city from building a $6,492,000 power plant at the Styer's dam site on the Yadkin.

Engineer Johnson went further to declare that the effect of the proposed dam would have but little effect on the flow of the river in its slower reaches, as the Pee Dee, in South Carolina. However, to the delight of High Point counsel, he added that any effect the dam might have on navigation in the lower reaches would be beneficial since the dam would naturally store waters in periods of high flow and release it in low flow periods, thus equalizing it to some extent.

His testimony as to the impossibility of actual navigation bore out that given for the Duke company yesterday and this morning by C. P. Roberts, engineer of Marion, S. C.

NUDIST CAMP SAID TABOO

State Official Holds Mocksville Camp Is Unlawful in Reply to Query

IS CRIMINAL VIOLATION

Raleigh, May 19—The attorney general's office today was asked again whether a nudist camp is lawful in North Carolina, and officials said the answer would be the same as that given earlier this week—no.

A letter dated from Mocksville, Davie county, and signed by J. R. Frost, director of the Piedmont Health club, explained that some of the club members "desire to take sunbaths and swimming in the nude; and also in the presence of the opposite sex, just as is now being practiced in many other states."

"We have recently opened a health and recreation club," the letter said, "and desire to give our members the opportunity of sunbathing in order to get the benefit of the healthful and healing ultra-violet rays of the sun . . ."

"Only persons of good moral character are admitted to our club. And we have a strict rule that nothing of an immoral nature will be permitted . . ."

Frost wrote that the organization wanted to be sure it came within North Carolina law and had been told it had the right to operate under the federal constitution and the bill of rights.

Officials said Frost would be sent a copy of a letter mailed Wednesday to Rufus B. Sanford, Jr., Davie county attorney, who requested a ruling on the question. Attorney General Harry McMullan held then that "a nudist camp in North Carolina is unlawful and a violation of the criminal law, making the persons responsible for it guilty of a misdemeanor."

HAYES & SPEAS TO GIVE LADIES GIFT

Hayes & Speas, local furniture store, is in this issue of The Tribune making a special free offer to the housewives of Elkin and this section.

To the first 100 women who call at the store to see the new Philco Conservador refrigerator, the store will give a beautiful glass cookie jar, made of rose crystal glass and fully seven inches high. This gift will be absolutely free.

Housewives are urged to visit the store at their earliest convenience before all the jars are gone.

Aids Southern Women

Reporters asked users in twelve cities of the South—"Were you helped by CARDUI?" Of 1279 women queried, 93 per cent said they were benefited. This word of users everywhere is given to show how CARDUI helps build physical resistance by improving appetite and digestion, and thus works to relieve the symptoms of "functional dysmenorrhea" due to malnutrition. Try CARDUI!

MEMORIAL SERVICE TO BE HELD ON MAY 28th

A union memorial service for all churches in the Union Hill section will be held May 28. On Saturday before the meeting all people in the community are requested to meet at the cemetery and clean off the grounds preparatory to the service.

The meeting will begin on Sunday at 10 o'clock and F. T. Lewellyn, clerk of Surry Superior Court, will be one of the speakers for the service.

A cordial invitation is extended the public to attend.
