Miss Phillips Is Bride of Mr. Coker

In a ceremony characterized by dignity and simplicity, Miss Lucille Phillips of this city and Allen Sewell Coker of Wilmington were married Saturday evening at 8:30 at the First Baptist church. Rev. James M. Hayes of Winston-Salem, an uncle of the bride, officiated, assisted by Rev. Stephen Morrisett, pastor of the church. Only members of the immediate families were present.

The altar was arranged with white gladioli and fever few, against a background of fern. Seven-branched candelabra were used on either side.

Miss Effie Crater, organist, and Mrs. James M. Hayes of Winston-Salem, soloist, gave a program of nuptial music. Miss Crater played "To A Wild Rose" and Mrs. Hayes sang "O, Promise Me." "The Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's Lohengrin was used as a processional and Mendelssohn's march from "Midsummer Night's Dream" was used as a recessional. During the service "Traumeri" was played.

The bridal couple were unattended. The bride wore a daytime dress of white waffle pique, with a hat of white straw, with a short veil. Her other accessories were of white and her bouquet was of talisman roses. For travel she wore a red and white silk print, with which she used white accessories.

Following the ceremony the bride's mother entertained at an informal reception. Mrs. Myrtle Mayberry presided in the dining room, where punch, wedding cake and salted nuts were served. The traditional bridal colors of green and white were carried out in the dining room. The table was overlaid with a linen cloth and centered with a mound of delicate white flowers. Tendrils of English ivy surrounded the punch bowl and white candles in crystal holders were used on the table and buffet.

After a wedding trip to Western North Carolina the bride will reside with her mother and the bridegroom will return to Wilmington where he is connected with the North Carolina Shipbuilding company.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. James Peyton Phillips and the late Mr. Phillips. She attended a Winston-Salem secretarial school and for some time has been employed with The Bank of Elkin here.

Mr. Coker, a native of Rutherford, Tenn., is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Coker of Biscoe.

Mrs. Folger Fetes July Bride-Elect

Honoring Miss Clara Freeman of Dobson, bride-elect of July, Mrs. Franklin Folger entertained at a delightful dessert-bridge at her home on Gwyn Avenue Tuesday afternoon. Roses and magnolia blossoms were used in the living room and dining room, where six tables were placed for the games. Bridal place cards marked the places of the guests.

In the games the high score award went to Mrs. William Freeman and the consolation prize to Mrs. Errol Hayes. Miss Freeman was given a Chatham blanket as guest of honor and Mrs. A. S. Robertson, Jr., the former Miss Ann Russell Gwyn of Reidsville, and a bride of the spring, was presented a lovely gift.

Out-of-town guests were Miss Freeman, the honoree, Mrs. B. F. Folger, Sr., Miss Lucille Freeman, Mrs. Frank Freeman, Mrs. Elizabeth Bolch, Mrs. Joe Folger, Mrs. Paul Folger, Mrs. R. C. Lewellyn and Miss Betty Norman, all of Dobson.

Wedding of Miss Finney Announced

Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Martin Finney of Jonesville, of the marriage of their daughter, Carmol Verrille, and James Melvin Childress, which was solemnized in Independence, Va., on June 6, with Rev. J. W. Ball officiating, using the ring ceremony.

The bride was educated in the Jonesville school. For the past year she has operated Carmol's Beauty Shoppe here.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Childress of State Road, and is employed with Elkin Furniture company.

They are making the home temporarily with the bride's parents.

Mrs. Laster Feted At Party Thursday

Mrs. Velna Weaver and Mrs. Alden Hunt of Brooks Cross Roads and Mrs. Fred P. Poole of Mayodan were hostesses at a lovely party Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Weaver, to honor Mrs. Cleo Laster, daughter of Mrs. Weaver and a bride of the early spring.

Bridal decorations of green and white were carried out in detail. A miniature altar, complete with a bridal couple, was used in the dining room, and regal lilies were used elsewhere in the home. Eight tables were placed for rook and bridge. The place of the honoree was marked with a corsage of gardenias.

In the games the high score prize for bridge went to Mrs. Clifford Shore of Boonville and in rook to Mrs. Clifton Wallace of Hamptonville. The hostesses presented Mrs. Laster with a Chatham blanket and silver in her wedding pattern.

A dessert course, in which the bridal motif was accentuated, was served. The guest list included a number of friends from Elkin, Yadkinville, Jonesville, Boonville and Hamptonville.

PEACHES

Because of lack of interest in the recent referendum, the proposed peach marketing agreement in the Carolinas will not be put into effect by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

STORAGE

Federal farm officials are appealing to farmers to make arrangements for more grain storage facilities on their farms due to restrictions on shipment of grains to terminal warehouses.

Junior Woman's Club Organized

A Junior Woman's Club was organized Wednesday evening of last week at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. James Booher, vice-president of the sixth district of the North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs, at her home in Westover Park.

Officers elected for the group are as follows: President, Miss Lucille Ogburn; vice-president, Miss Idella Benson; secretary, Mrs. Robert H. Harris; and treasurer, Mrs. William Dixon. Mrs. Booher is sponsor for the group from the senior Woman's Club.

Installation of officers is planned for July 7, and prominent state and district club women are expected to be present for the induction ceremony.

Committees were appointed at the meeting Wednesday to carry out the functions of the club in civic and war work. The club is pledged to buy a bond each month and to cooperate in other phases of war work. The membership of the club is limited to twenty-five. Meetings of the group will be held the first Tuesday evening of each month at a dinner session at the Gilvin Roth Y. M. C. A.

Twenty members attended the organization meeting.

Mrs. Neal Speaks To Mission Group

Mrs. W. H. Neal of Winston-Salem, a personal friend of Madame Chiang Kai-Shek of China, was guest speaker at the meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church at the church Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Neal, in whose home Madame Chiang Kai-Shek has frequently visited, told of her life in American schools, where she received a part of her education. She spoke of her brilliant mind, her simplicity and humility and of her devotion of China and to Christianity. She also told of her courtship and marriage and of the uplift movement which she and her husband were sponsoring in China at the outbreak of the war. In describing this work she said that it incorporated the best in Chinese heritage plus Christian religion. She also told of Madame Chiang Kai-Shek's firm faith in ultimate military victory and the moral and spiritual victory which would follow.

Mrs. George Royall, president, presided over the meeting and Mrs. Max Boyles conducted the devotionals. Mrs. Neal was introduced by Mrs. Clyde Long. A duet by Misses Lena Sale and Peggy Royall, and a solo by Mrs. Roscoe Poplin, were enjoyed.

At the close of the program an offering was taken for China War Relief.
