Wade; Sheriff Sam Patterson (back to camera); Marlon Allen, attorney for Seagle; and Seagle.

DEFER DATE OF LEAF OPENING

Old Belt Markets Will Not Open Until September 23,
Middle Belt Sept. 16

DUE TO CONGESTION
Opening date of the old belt flue-cured tobacco markets has been deferred to September 23.

The postponement came about as the result of a five-day sales holiday, beginning today and continuing until the morning of September 5. A 15-man committee, composed of five growers, five warehousemen, and five buyers, determined on this action because of congestion now existing in many of the redrying plants of buying companies, Royster said.

FARMERS WILL PLAN MEETINGS

To Meet At North Elkin School To Discuss Regular Monthly Meetings

ARE SAID DESIRABLE
Farmers of the North Elkin community are to meet at 8 p. m. Friday, September 6, at the North Elkin school, according to County Agent Neill M. Smith, and at that time will determine if it is feasible for them to establish regular monthly farm group meetings for the community.

Mr. Smith has said that such meetings seem desirable for this section, and if decided upon will provide farmers of the area an opportunity to hear from outstanding agriculturists in the state. It will also, he said, serve to stimulate interest in agriculture in Elkin, one of the county's most heavily populated areas.

The county agent is to send a letter to each of the farmers in North Elkin district, inviting them to attend the first meeting and to come prepared to set a date and time for succeeding meetings. Residents of this city, who express an interest in agriculture, whether landowners or not, are asked to attend as well. A large gathering is expected.

It is hoped that during the year enough interest will be manifested by the farmers and others in the city area to make it possible to secure speakers and top leaders from all branches of agriculture. Listed as possible sources of instruction and information are: the extension services, soil conservation service, the production and marketing agency, the state department of agriculture, representatives of state experiment stations, representatives of cattle breeders associations, state department of vocational education, farm magazines, and outstanding sponsors of 4-H club activities.

Many farmers may also wish to conduct a demonstration of their own and it is suggested that the demonstration be on oats since average yields of this crop are much lower than they should be in most areas.

Follow the regular plan of growing oats on one plot as to time of planting, seedling, soil preparation, fertilization, and the like. Then, on the other plot, follow the suggestions given below. Disc the soil 4 to 6 weeks before seeding. Disc, smooth, and firm the soil just prior to seeding. Use high germinating seed and treat with one-half ounce of New Improved Ceresan per bushel, using one of the varieties recommended by your county agent.

Seed at the rate of 2 bushels per acre: in the Piedmont, October 1 to 10; Coastal Plain, October 10 to 20; and Mountains, September 20 to October 10, or March 15 to April 15.

If the oats do not follow a well fertilized crop, use 300 pounds of good fertilizer per acre. Drill the crop parallel to that used as a check.

Topdress with 200 pounds of quick acting nitrogen material per acre between February 20 and March 10. Use a grain drill for applying the topdresser to give uniform application.

Follow all regular plans on the check plot, which may vary in a large number of ways. The idea is not to check any one factor in small grain production but to learn how to produce more oats per acre.

Young English Bride Likes Her New Home

Wife of Local Veteran Now
Living Here

(By ROGER MARSHALL)

As seen through the eyes of an attractive young British bride, recently arrived here, Elkin is a pleasant, hospitable town. Mrs. Eugene Motsinger, of 124 Hawthorne Road, has expressed herself well pleased with her new home.

Mrs. Motsinger is the wife of Eugene Motsinger, who holds a position with the Chatham Manufacturing Company. She arrived in the United States from England May 16, of this year, landing at New York. After a stay in Winston-Salem and a visit to California, Mrs. Motsinger came here with her husband about a month ago, to make her home.

"I like it here already," she said when interviewed by a Tribune reporter early this week. "I like the people here very much."

She stated that the country here is very much like that part of England from which she came, hilly and well wooded.

Mrs. Motsinger is a native of Gerrards Cross, Buckinghamshire, located about 20 miles from London, where her father is headmaster of a well-known British school.

"My friends in England," she said "told me that I would miss the greenery over here. But I find this country quite as green as my home."

People here, according to her, are easier to become acquainted with than are those in England. It is not that they are particularly more friendly, she said, but they seem less reserved and more spontaneous in their friendship.

Herself speaking with a pleasant British accent, she stated that she was particularly fond of the way people here talk, although she had some difficulty adjusting her ear to the many American colloquialisms.

"The expression, 'over yonder,' she said, "seemed peculiar at first."

She listed several other expres-

Paul Martin, 19, and Seck Phillips, 35, of the Richmond Hill section of North Yadkin county, are in Yadkin jail on default of bonds of $7,500.00 each on charges of a crime against nature, allegedly committed August 18.

Surviving are the parents; Mrs. Nicholson, the former Miss Margie Paw, to whom he was married in 1945; and one son, Robert Edward Nicholson.

WELL DRILLER ELECTROCUTED

Edward Nicholson, of Hickory, Dies When Derrick
Strikes Live Wire

ANOTHER MAN INJURED
Edward Nicholson, 29, of Hickory, was instantly killed about 3:30 Tuesday afternoon at Hamp-tonville when the derrick of a well drilling outfit came in contact with a high tension wire.

Nicholson was accompanied by Bill Gentry, of this city, who was also injured, and by Cecil Lindsay, of Shelby. The three men were attempting to move the truck bearing the equipment to a spot where the drilling was to take place, when the accident occurred.

The truck had been parked at the home of Gilvin Angel.

Nicholson was held in the grip of the high voltage which entered the derrick, and the current had to be cut off before his body could be removed. Efforts to revive him proved futile.

Nicholson served as a staff sergeant in the army, having been discharged in October, 1945. He has resided at Hickory since January. His parents reside in Norfolk, Va.

Surviving are the parents; Mrs. Nicholson, the former Miss Margie Paw, to whom he was married in 1945; and one son, Robert Edward Nicholson.

Sherriff Sam Patterson was summoned as Solicitor Ralph E. Scott. A coroner's inquest was held at about 2:30 Sunday afternoon at a local funeral establishment, under the direction of Dr. H. L. Johnson, of the Elkin hospital. Dr. Johnson reported to the jury that he found evidence of a recent abortion, from which internal injuries had resulted, causing death by excessive bleeding over a prolonged period.

The couple occupied rooms 302 and 304 at the Elkin hotel. Mrs. Anderson's body was found in 304 and her belongings in 302. Blood stains were in evidence in both rooms, as well as in the connecting bath.

Seagle is said to be separated from his wife, who resides in Newton, and is the father of several children.

Mrs. Anderson was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Clotts of Mocksville. She was also employed by the Southern Railway in Charlotte.

Her father arrived here Sunday soon after being notified of his daughter's death. The body has been returned to Mocksville.

Police Decline To Talk About Shore Case
