DROP IN SMOKING LEAF

The lowest average prices of the season for the majority of grades, plus lower quality and continued light volume, highlighted the eighth week of sales on the Old Belt flue-cured tobacco markets.

The United States, North Carolina, and Virginia Departments of Agriculture, report the declines ranged from 50c to $9.00 per hundred below last week. Most decreases, however, were from $1.00 to $4.00. The greatest losses were for smoking leaf, medium and low lugs, and primings.

Quality of offerings followed the price trend and was considerably lower. There were more common and low leaf nondescript and less good and fine qualities. The percentage of wet and damaged tobacco was also greater.

Volume of sales was extremely light, especially during the middle of the week. Only 15,658,545 pounds were marketed for a season low average of $45.57 per hundred. This average was $3.20 below last week and $8.43 per

It Was The Chicago Tribune With The Red Face, Not This Newspaper

Up in Chicago, a paper called the Tribune, a staunch Republican supporter, got on the ball before Mr. Dewey's chickens were hatched (they never were) and burst forth on the Loop with a banner "Dewey Defeats Truman." But down in Elkin, North Carolina, another Tribune (no relative mind you), a rather conservative newspaper when it comes to counting a brood which is still wrapped in egg shells, waited until the votes were counted before crowing. Fact is, they waited until a complete county return came in before going to press.

But on the busy streets of Elkin and throughout the community, busy minds got to working and hatched up and incubated a tale that the Tribune, of the Elkin Tribune family, had been caught with their chickens down, and had... yes, you guessed it, run a banner, "Dewey Defeats Truman." "That's gratitude for you," a Tribune man would tell you. The entire Tribune staff worked overtime two consecutive nights so that readers would get complete returns of the county and state, and a reasonable result of the national outcome.

They succeeded, even though a little late, in getting out such an edition. And the first and only front page which the Tribune ran off, led with bold words, "Truman Victory Is Conceded By Dewey." Now the bigger but less accurate Tribune might have got its wires crossed when it made its mistake, and caused people to think we made the error, but the Elkin version of the Tribune doesn't appreciate such unkind rumors. Our eggs are not cold storage.
