

ELKIN TO HOLD
CLEAN-UP WEEK
UNDER JAYCEES

Extermination of Flies Will Be Emphasized
HEADED BY JIM SHORE
Mayor Garland Johnson Issues Proclamation In Town's Cooperation
FROM APRIL 18TH-23RD

Clean-up week in Elkin has been proclaimed for next week by Mayor Garland Johnson. The campaign, under the sponsorship of the Elkin Junior Chamber of Commerce will emphasize the extermination of flies and ridding the town of fly breeding places.

James Shore, chairman of the drive, urged Elkin residents to commence early to kill flies and clean garbage traps where flies most likely will breed. He explained that one fly killed now may mean the riddance of thousands later in the year.

Mr. Shore said residents would have the cooperation of both the town and the Jaycees in making the week successful.

Mayor Johnson's proclamation is as follows:

"The Elkin Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring clean-up week in Elkin from April 18 through April 23.

"When spring comes, we all have spring house cleaning—washing windows, cleaning our yards, cutting our grass, doing a little painting, and trying to give everything around our homes a fresh, clean appearance. It is so fitting that at this time our city should be given this same fresh, clean appearance.

"The Junior Chamber of Commerce has always encouraged civic programs to help our city. It has taken the initiative and we should all give its clean-up week program our whole-hearted support.

"The officials and employees of the Town of Elkin are going to support this program in every possible respect. When the Jaycees call, we will respond and do everything we can to make this campaign a success.

"Therefore, as Mayor of The Town of Elkin, it is with great pleasure that I proclaim the week of April 18th-23rd clean-up week in The Town of Elkin."

—Garland Johnson, Mayor

'Womanless Wedding'
Tonight In Yadkin

A repeat performance of the "Womanless Wedding," featuring Luke Mason as the "bride" will be presented in the Yadkinville High School auditorium at 7:30 p.m. tonight (Thursday). Proceeds will be applied to the Methodist Church program. The play is sponsored by members of the church.

Mrs. Walter Zachary, in charge of the performance, said the supporting cast would consist of about 20 characters. Lon H. West, Yadkin County Clerk of Court, will play the part of the minister. Bobby Castevens, ninth grade student at Yadkinville will play the part of the jilted lover.

Tardy Surry Registrants Showing Up

About one-third of the Surry County draft registrants reported tardy in returning questionnaires or unable to be reached by the board, reported their changes of addresses last week after an attempt was made by county newspapers to locate them.

Mrs. A. D. Folger, secretary of the board, said yesterday she expected others to follow soon and believed it would not be necessary to take further action in the matter if the registrants were prompt in reporting.

However, during the classification of registrants born in 1927, Mrs. Folger listed five who could not be reached. They were as follows: Turner Lee Durham and William Kyle March, Elkin and Paul G. Barber, Fonzoo Lee Boyd and Gideon Franklin Simmons, Mount Airy.

She urged that should friends or relatives know the whereabouts of these men to report it to the draft board immediately in the interest of the registrant.

Bill Stevenson
Named To Head
Elkin Jaycees

BILL STEVENSON

Bill Stevenson was elected Monday night to head the Elkin Junior Chamber of Commerce for the following year.

Active in the veteran organizations of Elkin, Mr. Stevenson has also been an officer and director in the Jaycees for several years. He succeeds Dr. Vernon Taylor, Jr., as president.

Mr. Stevenson's election came in a regular meeting of the Jaycees at the Gilvin Roth Y.M.C.A. in which a list of new officers and directors was decided in a two-hour program.

Herbert Graham was elected first vice-president and Clyde Cothren, second vice-president. John Cloninger was elected secretary and Ed Royall was chosen treasurer.

Directors named were Joe Gwyn Bivins, Bill Cox, Walter Jones, Charles Neaves and Fred Norman. With the exception of Mr. Norman, the directors will serve for two years.

Herbert Graham was named state representative and Bill Cox and Bob Isbell were named to edit the Jaycee bulletin.

CONTEST GETS GOOD RESPONSE

Nominations For Elkin's 'Mother of Year' Must Be In By April 20
ONE WEEK REMAINING

A good response was reported this week to Elkin's "Mother of the Year" contest, being sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club.

However, only one week remains in the contest. All nominations must be received by the committee on or before midnight, April 20.

Those wishing to submit nominations need not sign their names—only the name of the nominee. Ballots may be mailed to "Mother of the Year" Box 666, Elkin.

Mrs. Ed Snyder, chairman of the committee, said that the more nominations one mother gets, the more consideration in the judging will be given.

The mother chosen by local judges will be presented an orchid on Mothers' Day by the Junior Woman's Club.

Some persons can speak, see, and hear while sleep-walking, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

MRS. SEWELL'S HONORS LISTED

Indiana Woman Will Be Featured Speaker At Elkin's Spring Festival

Many unusual honors have come to Mrs. Charles Sewell, Otterbein, Ind., who will be the featured speaker at the annual Surry, Yadkin, Wilkes Spring Festival for farm women here today.

In 1921, she was the only woman delegate to address the National Agricultural Conference called by President Harding. That year she was appointed state chairman of the Home and Community department of the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation. In 1927, she was elected second vice-president and a member of the board of directors of that organization.

In 1934, the American Farm Bureau Federation organized its women's affiliate, The Associated Women of the American Farm Bureau Federation, which numbers in its membership not only the wives of Farm Bureau mem-

Rites To Be Held Saturday

T/5 ROBERT B. SALE

The body of T/5 Robert B. Sale, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Sale of Ronda will arrive at Hayes-Speas Funeral Home Friday. He was killed in action in Europe in World War II.

Sale entered service in November of 1942 and went overseas in 1944 with the famed Tenth Armored Division of General Patton's army. He was killed in Belgium in December, 1944.

Funeral service will be held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Maple Springs Methodist Church. The Reverend Dewey Smith will officiate and burial will be in the church cemetery.

Surviving are one sister, Mrs. Billy Sparks of Ronda and two brothers, Eugene and Howard Sale of Ronda.

The body will remain at Hayes-Speas Funeral Home until the hour of the funeral.

NETHERLANDS CUT OPPOSED

Chatham, Elkin Congressmen, Voices Against Excluding Dutch Aid

Joining in a successful floor fight against an amendment that would have eliminated the Netherlands from further aid in the Marshall plan continuation bill, Representative Thurmond Chatham of Elkin, said Monday that the Dutch simply blocked a Russian fifth-column attempt to take over the Indonesian Republic.

"If Indonesia should be conquered by Communist fifth columns," Chatham warned, "the balance of power in the world-wide struggle might tip to the Russian side."

The anti-Dutch amendment was, in general, similar to a Senate amendment (to the Economic Co-operation Administration extension bill), which was defeated largely because of the strong opposition voiced in a report by Senator Frank P. Graham of North Carolina.

Pointing out that Minister of War Sjarifudin of the Indonesian Republic admitted he was a Communist—after he had signed the Renville agreement in the Dutch-Indonesian dispute, Chatham asked:

"Do you blame the Dutch for resisting them, for trying to clear them out of the so-called Republic?"

The anti-Dutch amendment was defeated by an overwhelming vote, without a roll call.

Bank, Merchants To Close Monday

Elkin merchants, the Bank of Elkin and Elkin schools will be closed Easter Monday.

Stores will be closed as usual Wednesday Mrs. Willie Mae Stanley, secretary of the Merchants' Association, said yesterday.

Elkin schools will close at noon tomorrow (Friday) and classes will be resumed Tuesday morning.

Cancer Leaders Think
Town To Go Over Quota

About $300 had been collected on the Cancer Drive in Elkin up to yesterday morning, David Brown, local chairman, reported.

However, Mr. Brown announced that the town would probably go over its $1200 unofficial quota before the campaign ends April 30.

A broadcast was made last night (Wednesday) on Radio Station WKBC here by Dr. Vernon Taylor, Jr., E. E. Shore, Jr., and David Brown appealing to those in this section to contribute to the fund.

Girl Scouts made the greatest single contribution Saturday when they canvassed the downtown area in a "tag day" campaign. They netted $100.96.

Mr. Brown said that solicitors in the drive had not yet turned in their proceeds and that he expected this amount to increase the total considerably.

Meanwhile, publicity work and further canvassing continues. Miss Mary Ellen Harrell and a group

SCOUT COURSE IS COMPLETED

Ten Students Finish First Phase of Scoutmaster's Training
ADVANCE COURSE LATER

The first phase of a basic scoutmaster's training course was completed last week in which 10 students participated. Courses were given by Jim Crowe, Odell Couch, Tom Roth, Guy Fisher and Paul Price.

The second portion of the course will be an outdoor session which will consist of two hikes by one party under Tom Roth and an overnight camp May 21 and 22.

Advance courses will be given later. The one just completed was the first in this area in three years.

Those completing the first session were Herman Burcham, Fred Harris, Claude Harris, Lin Hendren, Jesse Hutchinson, Fred Davis, Clifton Nixon, Davis Reece, Wayne Phillips and Fred Norman.

GUEST SPEAKERS — Each playing a prominent part in their own fields toward helping the farm women of North Carolina, the two persons above will speak to women of three counties here today in the third annual Spring Festival. Left is Dr. Ellen Winston, commissioner of the State Board of Public Welfare, and John H. Harris, horticultural extension specialist.

Permit Granted
For FM Radio Station Here

The Communications Commission at Washington has issued a construction permit here to Albert Hinshaw, of Elkin, for an FM broadcasting station, under the company name of Yadkin Valley Broadcasting Co.

Mr. Hinshaw said yesterday that plans are now being made for the building and equipment of the FM station, which will be located at West End, in West Elkin, and that he hopes to have Elkin's first radio station on the air within three or four months from the present date.

The station will operate on a frequency of 100.9 mc., channel 265.

Under present plans, both the studio, transmitter and antenna will be located at the same spot.

The firm is individually owned by Mr. Hinshaw, who is also the owner of Hinshaw Radio Sales & Service, on West Main Street here.

AREA OBSERVES CONCERT WEEK

Purpose Is To Accept Renewal Memberships From Past Subscribers
ENROLL NEW MEMBERS

Community Concert Week is being observed in Elkin and the surrounding area, according to an announcement made this week by Mrs. Robert L. Kirkman, Jr., president of the Surry-Yadkin Community Concert Association. The purpose of the week is to accept renewal memberships from past subscribers and to enroll new members.

Last season the Surry-Yadkin Concert Association presented such attractions as Carolyn Long, lyric soprano, the Columbia Concert Trio and Zadel Skolovsky, pianist.

Attendance to the concert is by membership only. While a canvass will be made both in Elkin and in the surrounding area, a representative of the association will be at Hayes and Speas Furniture Company to accept membership on Tuesday, April 19.

Interest in the concert has been widespread throughout Surry and Yadkin counties and has insured in the past season, a near capacity audience.

The drive will be launched Monday evening at a meeting at the Gilvin Roth Y.M.C.A. to which a group of volunteer workers is invited. A representative of the nationwide Community Concert Service will be guest speaker. In addition, a twenty-minute sound film, "A Carnegie Hall In Every Town," will be shown.

The campaign will close on Saturday, April 23, after which no new memberships can be accepted until next season. The artists to appear in the coming season will be chosen at the close of the drive.

WILKES CANCER CLINIC MAPPED

Center Would Serve As Cancer Detection Only; Free To General Public
AT NORTH WILKESBORO

Plans for a cancer detection clinic for northwestern North Carolina were made last week in North Wilkesboro.

The Wilkes Medical Society at its April meeting formulated a plan whereby four doctors will devote two hours weekly to the clinic, which will be open free to all. The clinic will confine its efforts to the detection and diagnosis of cancer and will offer no treatment. Those found to have cancer will be referred to the family physicians. Those who have no family physicians will be referred to the diagnostic and treatment center at the Baptist hospital in Winston-Salem.

Dates for the hours of the clinic will be set later.

CHATHAM GIVEN HOUSE HONOR

Presides Over House 45 Minutes Saturday In Absence of Rayburn
FIRST 81ST FRESHMAN

Elkin's Thurmond Chatham, Congressional representative of the Fifth District, presided over the House for 45 minutes Saturday afternoon during the debate on the European Co-operation Administration bill.

He was tapped for this signal honor by Speaker Sam Rayburn, who, following tradition, presented Chatham with the gavel used while the Tar Heel was in the chair.

Rayburn often calls upon his colleagues to take over the chair while he goes out to conduct business in the cloakrooms or in his special speaker's office nearby. It is not frequent, however, that he motions to a House newcomer to take the gavel.

Representative Chatham was the first new member of the 81st Congress to be called upon to preside over the House and this recognition was regarded as a distinct honor.

Spring Fest
To Feature
Home Experts

Approximately 700 members of Home Demonstration clubs, of Surry, Wilkes and Yadkin counties will assemble in Elkin today for the third annual Spring Festival.

Mrs. Charles Sewell, Otterbein, Ind., who is administrative director of the women's affiliate, American Farm Bureau Federation, will be the featured speaker. Others include Dr. Ellen Winston, commissioner of the State Board of Public Welfare, and John H. Harris, horticultural extension specialist.

Mrs. P. N. Taylor, White Plains, chairman, will preside over the program which will begin at 10 a.m., at the Gilvin Roth Y.M.C.A. Clifton Leary, president of the Elkin Kiwanis Club, sponsors of the event, will call the meeting to order. Garland Johnson, Elkin mayor, will also take part in the event.

The Festival is made possible by contributions from Elkin business and professional men.

The program, under the joint planning of home demonstration agents of three counties, was mapped by Mrs. Grace Pope Brown, Surry; Mrs. Annie H. Greene, Wilkes; and Miss Irene Brown, Yadkin.

The program will follow this order:

Call to order by Clifton Leary, president of Kiwanis; song, "America the Beautiful"; devotions, Mrs. E. G. Key; welcome, Garland Johnson, mayor; song, "We Believe in Our State"; district report, Mrs. Irvin Key; introduction of speaker, Mrs. Irby Sewell; appointment of committees; invocation, Clifton Leary.

The luncheon session will be held from 12 noon to 1 p.m.

The afternoon program will continue: Song, "Smiles"; introduction of speaker, Hubert Willis; address, Dr. Ellen Winston; song, "Easter Parade"; landscaping, John H. Harris; song, "John Brown's Baby"; minutes, Mrs. N. D. White; song, "Boola Song."

Mrs. Gaston Christian will be the song director.

Raven Knob Park Is Incorporated

Certificate of incorporation of Raven Knob Park was awarded this week with capital stock at $100,000, Secretary of State Thad Eure reported yesterday.

The certificate was awarded J. Herman Coe and Charlotte F. Coe, Dobson, and Sherman D. Simpson and Ethel M. Simpson, Mount Airy.

Sound waves have been perceived at a distance of 3,000 miles.

Hen Obliges
Easter Season
With Egg Oddity

Fitting enough, a freak egg— which some hen tried very admirably to make into an Easter egg—made its appearance last week on the farm of Clyde Lyon, Traphill.

Friday morning, Mr. Lyon stepped into his chicken shelter and beheld the peculiar oval lying in a corner of the shed.

He picked it up, shook his head and stuffed it into his pocket. "Nobody will believe it isn't a frame-up," he thought.

Then, on second thought, he decided to confide in someone. He hopped into his car and brought the funny creation to Elkin and to the office of the Tribune's freak editor. Here's how the freak editor described it:

"A perfectly normal egg in shape and size, but the color only two-thirds normal. At the larger end of the shell a brown coloring extends evenly up one-third the oval and stops abruptly. At the point where the brown ends and the egg-shell coloring takes over is even as though it were encircled by a compass line."

The egg is still on display in the freak editor's office.
