In a ceremony marked by beauty and simplicity, Miss Geraldine Couch of Hampton, Va., daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lester Clay Couch of this city, became the bride of John P. Mayer of Hampton, Va., son of Mr. and Mrs. Prosper A. Mayer of Binghamton, N. Y., on Saturday, July 30 at 4:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents.

Rev. Howard J. Ford, pastor of the First Baptist Church, heard the vows.

A prelude of wedding music was presented by Mrs. J. H. Beeson, pianist, who played "Andante Cantabile" (Tchaikovsky), "Liebestraume" (Liszt) and during the ceremony, "O Perfect Love" (Barby).

The vows were spoken before an improvised altar formed of Oregon fern, palms, white gladioli and candles in branched candelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white rayon faille styled with a wide lace ruffle, fitted bodice, long sleeves ending in ruffles over the hands, a full skirt ending in a short train. Her fingertip veil of illusion cascaded from a lace coronet. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds and gypsophila.

Miss Ethelda McArver of Hampton, Va., was maid of honor and the bride's only attendant. She wore a gown of orchid, dotted swiss, styled with a low neckline, fitted bodice, and full skirt. She wore a bandeau of purple asters in her hair and carried an arm bouquet of purple asters tied with pink ribbon.

Prosper A. Mayer of Binghamton, N. Y., acted as best man for his son, Coney Couch, brother of the bride, who was an usher.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained at an informal reception. Assisting in receiving and serving were Mrs. J. D. Brendle, Mrs. Joe Gwyn Bivins and Mrs. Harold Brendle, all of this city; Mrs. L.

C. Couch, Jr., of Chapel Hill and Miss May Meadows, Hampton, Va.

After the reception the bridal couple left on an unannounced wedding trip. For travel the bride changed to a navy two-piece ensemble with pink accessories.

Mrs. Mayer, a graduate of Meredith College, Raleigh, has done graduate work in mathematics at the University of Michigan. At present she is a mathematician with the National Advisory committee for Aeronautics, Langley Air Force Base, Va.
