G. A. Group Has Meeting

The Junior G. A. of Elkin Valley Baptist Church met last Wednesday evening at the home of Margaret Anne Fletcher with 13 members present.

Jean Konkle, president, called the meeting to order and it was opened with a prayer led by Phyllis Anne Lowe. Mary Anne Long conducted the rest of the devotional service.

Margaret Anne Fletcher presented a very interesting program on the topic "Christ The Answer To Godless Ideas."

A business session was held following the program and various reports were given. The girls decided to exchange letters with G. A. girls in Japan.

The meeting was closed with a prayer led by Mrs. Tom Shore, G. A. leader.

The hostess served delicious refreshments to the group at the conclusion of the business meeting.

MRS. NOBLE HOWARD VAUGHN, JR. (PHOTO BY BELL)

In a ceremony of dignity and beauty solemnized Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the First Baptist Church in Jonesville, Miss Mary Cornelia Lineberry of Winston-Salem, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Lineberry of Jonesville, became the bride of Noble Howard Vaughn, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Noble Howard Vaughn, Sr., of Walkertown. The Rev. R. J. Hogan, pastor of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The wedding musicians were Mrs. Ivy Johnson, organist, Leon Martin and Mrs. Johnny Sprinkle, sister of the bride, soloists. During

October Bride-Elect Honored

Miss Peggy Lineberry, who is to wed Graham C. Johnson on October 15, has been honored on several occasions during the past week.

Mrs. William T. Roth and Mrs. Harvey Baker were hostesses at a coffee Saturday morning at the Roth home on West Main Street.

Miss Lineberry was presented a corsage of rosebuds and a crystal flower bowl.

A prettily appointed refreshment course was served by the hostesses. On each of the plates there was a miniature white aster corsage tied with white satin ribbon.

Bingo was played with the prizes going to Miss Gene Click and Miss Pauline Masten.

The mantle in the living room of the home was banked with clematis and centered with red roses. Roses and asters were used as decorations throughout the home.

Approximately 30 guests called during the receiving hour.

Miss Lineberry and Mr. Johnson were honored on Saturday evening with a dinner party by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilfong at their home on West Main Street.

Miss Lineberry was presented a corsage of red rosebuds and a gift of china.

Mixed Fall flowers were used throughout the home, furnishing a pretty party setting.

In addition to Miss Lineberry and Mr. Johnson, covers were laid for Miss Ruth Masten, Miss Beulah Yates, Carl Powers and Errol Hayes, Jr.

Miss Casey, Mr. Collins, To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Casey of Elkin, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mildred Ruth, to Eugene Willie Collins of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Collins.

The wedding will take place on December 23 at the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church.

the ceremony Mrs. Johnson played "To An Evening Star" and as the benediction, Mr. Martin sang "The Lord's Prayer" (Malotte).

The vows were spoken before the altar which was arranged with Oregon fern and white gladioli. The nuptial setting was softly lighted by tapers in branched candelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of candelight satin fashioned with a wide fold of chantilly lace forming a bertha, fitted bodice and voluminous skirt extending into a short train. Her full length veil of illusion was caught with pearlized orange blossoms to her Queen of Scots bonnet. She carried a prayer book surmounted with a white orchid showered with satin ribbons and tuberoses.

Mrs. Joseph W. Craft, sister of the bride was matron of honor. She wore a decollete dress of ciel blue tissue faille fashioned with short puffed sleeves, fitted bodice and full three tiered skirt. Her headdress was a halo of starched lace in a shade to match her dress. She carried a shepherd's crook entwined with tuberoses and English ivy held with loops of blue satin ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Miss Norma Vaughn of Walkertown, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Grier Daniel of Newport News, Va., sister of the bride; Mrs. Wayne T. Harris of Elkin and Miss Ruth Fulk of Winston-Salem. Their dresses were designed identically to that of the honor attendant and each wore a matching halo of starched lace. Two gowns were of ciel blue and the other two were orchid. Each carried a shepherd's crook entwined with tuberoses and ivy tied with ribbons to match their dress.

Anita Helton, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Her frock of orchid tissue faille was made like those of the other attendants. She carried an old-fashioned nosegay of mixed flowers.

Ring bearers were Terry Lynn Sprinkle and Tommy Daniels, niece and nephew of the bride. Both were dressed in all white and carried the rings on white satin pillows.

Harold Wicker of Walkertown was best man. Groomsmen were Leonard Lineberry of Jonesville and Neal Lineberry of Newport News, Va., both brothers of the bride; Spencer Pegram and Edward Wagoner, both of Walkertown.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn greeted guests in the vestibule of the church. Later they left for a wedding trip to unannounced points. Upon their arrival they will be at home at the Twin Castle Apartments in Winston-Salem.

The bride was educated at the Jonesville schools and Draughn's Business College in Winston-Salem. She holds a position in the office of the Hanes Hosiery Mills.

The bridegroom was graduated from Walkertown High school and attended Oak Ridge Military Institute. He also holds a position with Hanes Hosiery.

Fred: "I fainted. They brought me to. So I fainted again."
Jean: "Why?"
Fred: "Well, they brought me two more."

Miss Leeper Is Hostess At Tea

Honoring Mrs. Richard C. Mayberry, Mrs. Owen Gwyn, recent brides, and Miss Peggy Lineberry, bride-elect of October, Miss Mabel Cathy Leeper entertained at a tea at her home on Circle Court, Friday afternoon.

Open face sandwiches, individually decorated cakes, nuts and coffee were served from the dining room table which was centered with an artistic arrangement of yellow rosebuds. Mrs. E. F. Harris served the cake and Mrs. E. G. Click poured coffee.

Each of the honorees was presented a corsage and a gift of china in her chosen wedding pattern.

Approximately 35 guests, friends of the honorees, called during the receiving hours from 5 until 6 o'clock.

Church Group Holds Picnic

Twelve members of the Intermediate class of the First Baptist Church met at the home of Mrs. Jake Brown, Winston-Road, for a picnic supper, Monday evening. Following the supper, the group enjoyed out-door games.

The native habitat of the canary bird is the islands of Canary, Cape Verde and Madeira.

Miss Harrell Is Honored Thursday

A shower of miscellaneous gifts was presented Miss Mary Ellen Harrell at the "farewell" party given in her honor Thursday evening by Mrs. Robert G. Tuttle at her home on Market Street.

Miss Harrell left Tuesday for Salisbury where she will assume the duties as religious education director of the First Methodist Church.

During the evening, games and contests were enjoyed.

The hostess, assisted by her daughters, Betty and Kitty, served a tempting salad course.

Beautiful arrangements of yellow chrysanthemums and dahlias were used in the receiving rooms of the home.

Teachers Are Feted Friday

Superintendent of city schools, N. H. Carpenter and Mrs. Carpenter, entertained members of the faculties of the Elkin schools, their husbands and wives, school board members and their wives at a breakfast stew, Friday evening at Newes Park.
