

HOUSE SUSTAINS THE SPEAKER IN RULING AGAINST MR. WILLIAMS

Vote On the Matter With Two Exceptions Was Strictly Along Party Lines.

NO BREACH SAYS WILLIAMS

Washington, April 20.—With the exception of Cooper and Nelson, of Wisconsin, Republicans, the House of Representatives today, by a strict party vote, declared that the action of Speaker Cannon last Saturday in summarily adjourning the House was not "a breach of the privilege of the House affecting its safety, dignity and the integrity of its proceedings."

The declaration was made when a resolution by Mr. Williams holding such a breach to have been committed was tabled, 146 to 110. The vote was preceded by statements by both Mr. Williams and the Speaker. After disclaiming that as a result of the episode there was a breach between him and the Speaker, Mr. Williams maintained that the action was an unprecedented parliamentary act. On the other hand, Speaker Cannon called attention to the dilatory tactics of the minority leader for the past two weeks, and said it was the Speaker's privilege and his duty to sweep aside a dilatory demand and declare the House adjourned.

The Republicans put through an amendment to the rules making any day "suspension day," and substituting a majority for a two-thirds vote to pass any measure. Messrs. Williams and De Armond bitterly opposed the rule. Mr. Dalzell, its author, notified the Democrats that they could trust to their imaginations for any legislation they would get this session.

Following the adoption of the rule one or two passed bills were passed. The Democrats forced repeated rollcalls during the day.

At 5:13 p. m. the House took a recess until 11:30 a. m. tomorrow.

CLAIMED MARRIAGE WAS JOKE; IS ARRESTED IN SALISBURY

Salisbury, N. C., April 20.—Ed Wilkinson, alias Watson, a well-dressed young man for whom the Charlotte authorities have been searching for the past week, was arrested early this morning by Chief of Police Julian.

About four days ago Wilkinson went through the ceremony in which he pretended to have married a Miss McCall, of Charlotte. He stated afterward that it was a mock ceremony and skipped out of Charlotte. The young lady had a certificate which purported to be genuine, and when Wilkinson abandoned her her brother caused a warrant to be issued for him for making false representations.

When the chief located Wilkinson he was in the telephone booth, communicating with Charlotte. He pretended that he was the wrong man when arrested, but the officer started with him to the courthouse. Wilkinson begged hard that the officer permit him to walk along without restraint. His request was granted, and when he reached a point a block from the jail he made a dash for liberty. He ran nearly a block before he was overtaken. The Charlotte officers were notified of Wilkinson's arrest.

Union here. Later he will attend the dinner of the Missouri Society of New York. Wednesday evening he will be a guest at the joint banquet of the Associated Press and American Newspaper Publishers' Association. His lecture at Cooper Union will have no bearing on political affairs.

Aside from a few lecture engagements in Nebraska, Mr. Bryan said tonight he had nothing scheduled until May 13, when he is to attend the conference to be held at Washington to further the "Conservation of Our Natural Resources."

Wouldn't Talk State Politics.

With interviewers today Mr. Bryan persistently avoided discussion of the political situation in this state. Mr. Bryan talked freely on other matters, however.

One interviewer suggested that the Nebraska, having been credited with an earning capacity of from $50,000 to $75,000 a year, might be exposed to the charge by opponents that he was no longer representative of the laboring class, but a full-fledged plutocrat. To this Mr. Bryan replied:

"My income is derived from my lecturing with some addition from articles written for other publications, and something from my own paper, but the amount has been very much exaggerated. I make more speeches for nothing than for pay, and devote more time to public work than private gain. The income that I have received has come from the people who attend my lectures and who read what I write and, therefore, my obligation is to the whole people rather than to any special class. The best test of the effect of my income is to be found in the things that I advocate.

"My views have not changed upon public questions. I am contending for the same things now that I did then, and I think no one will deny that I could make more by siding with the corporate interests that I have opposed than I have made out of lecturing.

"My political prominence has been an advantage in that it has given me a larger reading circle and a larger audience, but I could have used the prominence in other ways to greater pecuniary advantage. For instance, I was offered $25,000 a year as counsel for a corporation, but it would have taken me out of the political field. By lecturing and writing I can make what I need in half the time and have the rest for public work. President Cleveland found his law income larger after he was in the White House than before. So did President Harrison. This was the experience of Speaker Reed after his service in Congress. Secretary Shaw found his services more valuable after he had been in the cabinet.

Prominence an Asset.

"Political prominence is an asset in any kind of business. I could not have turned my attention to anything where it would not have been an advantage, and had I used all of my time lecturing and writing I could have made twice as much as I have. The question is not whether I have made more than I did before I was nominated, but whether I have made it in a legitimate way, and I think no one will deny that my income has been derived from a legitimate source.

"The next question is whether the increase in my earning power has changed my views on public questions. No, no, I think, will contend that it has."

Among the questions which Mr. Bryan did not answer was the one put by a reporter, as follows:

"Do you expect to be nominated for the presidency?"

"Well, this is refreshing," said Mr. Bryan, with a smile. "I presume you have read Caesar, young man, and will remember that the books read 'all Gaul is divided into three parts.' If Julius Caesar had known you before he wrote that book he probably would have struck out two of the parts."

CRAIG'S MANAGER SEEMS PLEASED WITH OUTLOOK

Asheville, N. C., April 20.—J. P. Kerr, who is managing Locke Craig's campaign with headquarters at Raleigh, is in the city for a stay of two or three days. Mr. Kerr said today in speaking of the political situation as it relates to the contest for the Democratic nomination for governor of North Carolina, that he was greatly pleased with the outlook and that he was certain of Mr. Craig's nomination. Mr. Kerr believes from a careful survey of the political field that the Buncombe man will win the nomination on the first ballot. The returns from primaries and conventions held in Swain, McDowell, Burke, Wilkes and Alexander counties show that Mr. Craig is gaining and that he now has a total of seventy-eight votes out of a possible eighty-four from counties which have already held primaries or conventions. While Mr. Craig's vote in Wilkes was not so large as that received by Mr. Kitchin it is claimed by Mr. Craig's friends that it was all they hoped for. In Burke county Craig received all but one-half vote.

Miller, of the State Federation, declared officially that there would be no political action taken by labor unions as an organization, and that if any local unions took action as to any candidate it would be without the sanction of the State Federation. Now comes this Salisbury call, published in the official organ at Greensboro, for the state convention to take "political action."

SCHOOL AND ROAD TAX ELECTIONS IN RALEIGH TODAY

Raleigh, N. C., April 20.—Tomorrow is the day for the election in Raleigh on the dual proposition of special school tax for nine instead of six months' school, and on issuing $50,000 bonds for the improvement of Raleigh township roads. Raleigh has had nine months' school all along, but it is said that the next session will have to be curtailed to six months unless the special tax is voted, on account of the loss of the half-cent dispensary revenue. The result as to both elections is much in doubt.

COMMERCE COMMISSION SETTLES RATE ON CUT STONE

Washington, April 20.—Several cases were decided by the interstate commerce commission in the case of the Georgia Rough and Cut Stone Company against the Georgia Railroad Company and others, the opinion being handed down by Commissioner Clark. A lower rate on stone paving blocks was made to permit shippers to compete with producers in other states, upon the condition, expressed in the tariff, that the minimum weight should be the marked capacity of the car. The commission decided that, in the circumstances, the regulation making the minimum carload weight the marked capacity of the car was not unjust or unreasonable. The commission did not award reparation in the case, leaving that matter to the complainant and defendant, but indicated that if an agreement was not reached the facts might be brought later to the attention of the commission for a definite order.

J. B. Jones, pastor, at the parsonage of Central Methodist church. The groom denied that there was any "run away," stating that he and his bride just wanted to accord their friends a pleasant surprise. They were met here by Mr. Sanders and Edward Gay, business men of this city, who made all the arrangements for the ceremony so that the couple, within the hour they had, were married and were ready to take the fast Seaboard Air Line for Jacksonville. The bride is a daughter of W. B. Boole, of Portsmouth.

NAVAL APPROPRIATION BILL IS REPORTED TO SENATE BY COMMITTEE

Measure Carries an Increase Over House Estimates of $7,579,031.

NO CHANGE IN BATTLESHIPS

Washington, April 20.—After consideration of more than two hours the Senate committee on naval affairs today reported the naval appropriation bill to the Senate. It carries $111,546,549, an increase of $7,579,031 over the amount of the bill as it was passed by the House.

On the battleship construction program the Senate committee adopted the policy of the House, making no change in the provision for two vessels. The President's message advocating the construction of four battleships was not considered, as it was known that the committee was unanimously opposed to that program.

Concerning the construction of colliers, a provision was incorporated in the bill that one should be built on the Pacific coast, which means Mare Island navy-yard. An appropriation of $1,800,000 was made for the purchase of three colliers constructed by the Fore River Shipbuilding Company. Other important amendments were made as follows:

An increase of 20 per cent in the pay of officers of the navy and civilian professors and instructors at the naval academy and 10 per cent in the pay of the enlisted force, $3,553,069; an increase of the pay of professors of mathematics, constructors corps and civil engineer corps to equal that of officers of the same rank in the medical and pay corps, $16,450.

For public works, additional appropriations were made as follows: Portsmouth, N. H., $90,000; Norfolk, Va., $200,000; Puget Sound, $140,000; Pearl Harbor, Hawaiian Islands, for naval station and dry dock, $1,000,000; Charleston, $32,000; marine corps, $65,000. The appropriations for the marine corps, exclusive of public works, aggregate $621,148.

Several matters of general legislation were recommended by the committee, as follows:

Giving the staff corps the rank and title as now established for the staff corps of the navy, but providing that in no case shall this carry command.

Providing for the establishment of a women's nurse corps in the navy.

Providing that naval bands shall not receive remuneration for music furnished in competition with civilian bands.

The provisions for the increase of the marine corps is as follows:

One major-general commandant in place of present brigadier-general commandant; one lieutenant-colonel, two majors, eighteen captains, seven first lieutenants and fourteen second lieutenants in the line. One lieutenant-colonel assistant adjutant inspector and one lieutenant-colonel assistant quartermaster, one major assistant quartermaster, three captains assistant quartermasters. One major and two captains assistant paymasters, two sergeant-majors, fifteen quartermaster sergeants, twenty first sergeants, fifty sergeants, 125 corporals, ten drummers, ten trumpeters and 918 privates.

The bill also appropriates the unexpended balance for the construction of a Bascule bridge, New York, and provides that the limit cost of the dry dock at the New York navy-yard shall be $1,500,000.

DEATH OF A STUDENT AT WAKE FOREST COLLEGE

Wake Forest, N. C., April 20.—Sadness prevails over the college with the dawn of Easter in the unexpected death of one of the merry student number, Charles Archie Boyette, of Murfreesboro, which occurred Saturday night at twelve o'clock. The father and mother arrived at 1:30 Sunday morning. The funeral services were conducted from the Wingate Memorial hall at eleven o'clock yesterday. CLERKS IN LAND OFFICE CONFESS UNDER PROMISE OF IMMUNITY.

Washington, April 20.—Testimony of a sensational character was given today by two former land office clerks in the Hyde-Dimond-Benson-Schneider land fraud case before Justice Stafford in Criminal Court.

These witnesses were Woodford D. Harlan and William E. Valk. Both testified to having been paid large sums of money, the latter about $2,000, for expediting land deals and for divulging information about boundaries of proposed forest reserves.

The testimony marked the first chapter of evidence procured through the "immunity" process. It is said that Harlan and Valk were granted immunity to testify as to essential facts in the alleged scheme to acquire lands in California and Oregon.

She is suing for the recovery of the Myatt home place in this county on the ground that a deed to it was wrongfully obtained by W. A. Myatt from her husband without her signature, and while her husband was under the influence of liquor. There are other complicated features of the suit. Mrs. Myatt is a daughter of the Rev. Mr. Jones, a well-known Baptist minister of this county. The case is sharply contested. In the examination of Mrs. Myatt, counsel for the plaintiff objected to efforts to drag out "family skeletons," and opposing counsel declared there would be a "procession of ghosts" before the trial was over.

TO PROBE PAPER TARIFF QUESTION

Cannon's Resolution Calling for Investigation Is Introduced in the House.

Washington, D. C., April 20.—A definite step was taken today toward a solution of the wood pulp and newspaper cost question in the introduction by Speaker Cannon of a resolution for the selection of six members to investigate, "and obtain all possible information" as to the reasons for the increased price of white paper, to the end that needful legislation may be enacted. The resolution was referred to the committee on rules, of which the Speaker is chairman.

Following is the resolution in part: "Whereas, it is alleged by the American Newspaper Publishers' Association that the cost of paper is at least $60,000,000 a year greater than it was two years ago; that the cost of news print paper will, under the price now asked, be $55,000,000 greater for the current year than heretofore; that the price of print paper has increased from 35 to 50 per cent during the past few months; that the alleged increased price of paper is in part the result of a combination and conspiracy on the part of wood pulp and paper manufacturers and dealers to monopolize and restrain interstate and foreign commerce and trade in the manufacture and sale of paper; that the International Paper Company and other paper manufacturers and dealers have advanced the price of print paper $22 per ton during the last few months; that this great advance is made possible by the duty of six dollars per ton on print paper; and whereas it is claimed, on the contrary, that the price of print paper is in nowise affected by the tariff; that the increase in price of recent date has not been excessive and is not the result either of tariff import duty or of any combination or conspiracy in restraint of trade or otherwise; but is the result wholly of the increase in the cost of the raw materials and the increase in the wages and the shortening of the hours of labor per day; that judgment was entered in the Circuit Court for the district of Minnesota, dissolving the General Paper Company as a combination in restraint of trade; that the increase in the price of paper has occurred notwithstanding the dissolution of the said General Paper Company, or paper trust; that the department of justice reports that it has obtained no evidence sufficient to justify the institution of legal proceedings, either civil or criminal, against the alleged combination, and that it is declared that the House of Representatives shall fully be informed as to all of the facts in the case and as to whether there does exist beyond the reach of the existing power of the department of justice and the courts to prevent combination or conspiracy among the manufacturers or dealers or others to so increase the prices to control the character of the paper manufactured, or to regulate the output of wood pulp or the paper mills, in restraint of trade among the several states or with any foreign country, to the end that needful legislation may be enacted;

"Now, therefore, resolved, that the Speaker shall appoint a select committee of six members to investigate and inquire into the said alleged facts, and to obtain all possible information in regard to the same and to inquire into the elements and conditions involved in the production and supply of wood pulp and print paper, in so far as the same are or may be affected by any combination or conspiracy to control or restrain interstate or foreign commerce and trade in wood pulp or paper of any kind, and also to inquire whether the present prices of print and other paper are controlled in whole or in part by any combination of persons or corporations, and methods and practices of such corporations or persons.

"Said committee, or any subcommittee thereof, shall be authorized to sit in Washington or elsewhere during the sessions of the House and during the recess of Congress, and shall have power to subpoena and examine witnesses under oath and to send for records, papers and all other evidence that may be necessary to make the investigation full and complete."
