HACKETT STANDS IN SHADOW OF DEFEAT

The Card Published by Hackett Yesterday Has No Substantial Basis and Is Intended to Bolster His Cause in This Election.

The letter published below from Chairman Reynolds, of the Eighth district, is in reference to a card published yesterday by Mr. Hackett in the Charlotte Observer.

North Wilkesboro, N. C., Nov. 2. Editor Industrial News, Greensboro, N. C.

In today's Charlotte Observer appears a card signed by R. N. Hackett making charges which he cannot substantiate.

He attempts to use the last issue of that paper before the election to give utterance to allegations which the shortness of the time will not permit to be answered.

BRYAN ENDS CAMPAIGN DECLARING THAT HE HAS AIDED HONEST POLITICS

Says He Has Helped to Create a Sentiment in Favor of Honest Reform.

Mr. Bryan spoke in part as follows: "Ladies and gentlemen, I am now forty-eight years old. It is eighteen years since I began my political career for Congress.

"I have tried to help make this government a government of the people, by the people and for the people. "For eighteen years you have had a

FAKE ELECTORAL TICKETS IN USE BY DEMOCRATS

Positive Information Received to This Effect at Republican Headquarters Last Night.

LOOK FOR SETTLE'S NAME AT HEAD OF EACH TICKET

Judge Adams Says That North Carolina Will Elect Three Republican Congressmen and Possibly Six—Queer Position of Simmons and Kitchin.

Definite information was received last night at Republican state headquarters to the effect that electoral tickets bearing the name of Leumar W. C. Blalock at the head are being circulated throughout the state, and especially in the rural districts, the purpose being to have these tickets used in the place of those bearing at the head the name of Thomas Settle, candidate for elector-at-large on the Republican ticket.

In commenting on this matter last night, Spencer B. Adams, chairman of the Republican committee, said: "The Republicans will carry North Carolina at tomorrow's election, provided they can get a fair count, and this they propose to have, so the use of these fake tickets will be without avail to the Democrats."

Going into the details of the campaign, Judge Adams instanced the fact that Senator Simmons and Mr. Kitchin, together with others of lesser light, have made a canvass of the state and have not had very large audiences. "Mr. Kitchin realizes the fact," said the judge, "that he has denounced Senator Simmons in the past, while Senator Simmons realizes that he has denounced Mr. Kitchin. Of course, everyone realizes that whether Mr. Kitchin is elected or not, Senator Simmons is on the outside of the breastworks."

"After his speech at Asheville, we have nothing more from him until he reaches Lumberton, Robeson county. He there tells the people that the campaign I have been making is one of misrepresentation. Possibly the senator had a talk with Neill Archy McLean before he made that speech. Mr. McLean has shown up the villainy of the officeholders of that county and could give the senator some important information."

"Senator Simmons is in this predicament: Had the Democrats anyone to oppose him two years ago he would have been defeated. If he were the candidate this time, there is no telling what the Republican majority would be. If the Republicans carry North Carolina, and this is extremely probable, of course Senator Simmons is at an end politically. If Mr. Kitchin is elected governor, Senator Simmons is inevitably lost. He

It took seven hours and fifteen minutes for the army to pass before the reviewing stand. It is variously estimated that there were from 50,000 to 60,000 men in line.

TAFT AND BRYAN NOW AWAIT LAST WORD OF VOTERS

Fair Weather and a Heavy Vote If Innocated in All Parts of the Union—Returns From New York State Will Probably Give Earliest Information As to the Result.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—With election day at hand, with fair weather and a heavy vote indicated through the United States, the rival managers of the Republican and Democratic national campaigns closed their desks at headquarters tonight, declared respectively that Taft and Bryan would win and then hurried away on later trains to cast their ballots.

For Mr. Hitchcock the end of the campaign means a rest for the first time since he was sent out to round up Taft delegates to the Republican national convention last spring. Mr. Mack gives up his reelection work with the satisfaction, his associates say, of having brought the Democratic party into greater unity than for many years past.

Mr. Hitchcock will return tomorrow afternoon to receive the returns. Mr. Mack left for Buffalo shortly before ten o'clock and will also be back in the city tomorrow night.

The polls in New York City will open at six o'clock tomorrow morning, and close at five p. m. The same rule holds throughout practically every part of the state, and the indications are that the New York state vote will be the first to be flashed over the wires tomorrow night, as giving an indication as to how the election is to go.

The end of the campaign tonight found Mr. Taft and Mr. Bryan still on the go, and if apathy should be apparent in the volume of the vote throughout the country, it will be no want of theirs. They have both traveled many thousands of miles and have spoken in more than a score of states.

What effect the Independence party, organized by William R. Hearst and in the national field for the first time this year, will have upon either of the old parties is a matter of conjecture.

The Socialist leaders, basing their claims upon the receptions given to Eugene V. Debs, are confident they will poll a greater vote than ever before.

Republican Chairman Hitchcock declared today that late reports received from national committeemen and state chairmen strengthened his faith in the estimate of 325 electoral votes for Mr. Taft made on Friday night.

"I believe this contest is won," he said, "it has been worked out as systematically as it is possible to apply a system to a national campaign."

Before leaving for Buffalo tonight, Democratic Chairman Mack gave out a final statement claiming victory for Bryan and Kern. He asserted that Ohio and Indiana would surely go Democratic. He declared that the party would carry most of the doubtful states and in addition would carry some states they have not claimed.

"All that is needed to win," said Mr. Mack, "is to poll our full vote and see that it is honestly counted."

The chairman announced that a reward of $1,000 would be paid by the national committee for the detection and conviction of any person engaged in election frauds.

Secretary Loudenslager, of the Republican congressional committee closed his headquarters here at noon today. He said he was confident that the returns would verify his prediction as to the next Congress. This forecast given out last week is: Republican, 227; Democrats, 164.

NEW YORK STATE SITUATION STILL A QUESTION WITH TWO ANSWERS

BROOKS MAKES ANSWER TO POLITICAL ACCUSERS

Admits That He Took Fees Too High and Fees Too Low, But Does Not Explain Why He Had No System.

In introducing A. I. Brooks at the Democratic speaking at the opera-house last night, E. J. Justice said that one might find that Mr. Brooks has made mistakes in his accounting department, but that he did his duty in prosecuting violators of the law. Along the same line Mr. Brooks said that he had taken fees that were too high and fees that were too low, and in some cases he had taken no fees at all.
