An order has been issued to the effect that the day trains on the Air Line, are not to be put back on the road, on the 13th instant, as was agreed upon a couple of weeks ago. The reason assigned for the delay is that the time was too short and they could not get the trains ready by the 13th. The delay will be only for two weeks, if that long, when the trains will surely be put on We'll stake our faith on that, even if it does seem a rash thing to do.

Withdraws by Request from the Contest for Mayoralty.

We publish below the appeal of number of prominent gentlemen to Capt. DeWolfe to withdraw from the contest for the mayoralty and also the answer to the appeal by Capt. DeWolfe yielding to the earnest request of the gentlemen who addressed him.

CHARLOTTE, N. C. May 4, 1883. Capt. F. B. De Wolfe, Charlotte, N. C.: DEAR SIR-Your many friends have witnessed with much pleasure your very successful administration of the affairs of this city. You have good reason to congratulate yourself that you have been enabled to accomplish so much of permanent good for the people who elected you.

Believing that your faithful services to the city entitled you to a re-election

if you desired it, the undersigned would gladly have supported you in an effort to secure the nomination of the Democratic Convention, but were led to believe from your own letter and statements that you would not be a candidate for the office of mayor. The party to which both you and we acknowledge obedience has through its convention nominated a worthy gentleman, and whatever may be our personal regard for you, there is but one course open to us. We shall greatly regret it, if you shall feel obliged to oppose the election of Mr. Maxwell, and being your friends, we feel that we have a right to ask that you will withdraw from the race, in order that no harm may come to the party through any action of yours, and that friends who have heretofore cordially supported you, may be spared the disagreeable necessity of opposing you now. The course which we ask you to pursue seems to us the plain path of your duty to your party and your friends. Had you announced in advance of the call for a convention that you would stand for re-election the contest, if any, would have had no political significance, but you yourself, as we think, by declining to stand, made a convention necessary to ascertain the wishes of the Democratic voters, and now your personal and party friends do earnestly ask that you will not oppose the nominee of a convention called under such circumstances.

GENTLEMEN: I have just received your communication urging me to withdraw from the race for mayor, on party and personal considerations. If I were actuated by other motives and feelings than I am, I could not wholly disregard your wishes and views so datteringly and feelingly expressed. The contest between Mr. Maxwell and myself is a repetition of what has occurred many times before without detriment to the Democratic party, and I had no thought of this contest degen-which the public well understand. The city government, in my opinion should not be run in the interests of party, and from the course pursued, this seems to have been the prevailing opinion heretofore.

Getting a Wife by Advertising. Col. C. J. Carraway, a citizen of Polkton, this State, put an advertisement in the Baltimore Sun a few weeks ago wanting a wife. A day or two after the advertisement appeared, Col Carraway received a letter from a Baltimore lady, enclosing her photograph, with a description of herself, and he was so well pleased with it all that he concluded to go to Baltimore and see the lady in person. He went last week and when he returned he brought the lady home with him, having married her a few days after he first saw her in Baltimore.

Pulling Down the Church Steeple.

The steeple of the First Presbyterian church disappeared yesterday. It was sawn off in two sections, the first about 30 feet from the top, and the sections were pulled over and down by a rope. The disappearance of the steeple gives that portion of the city an odd look. The second section of the steeple was pulled down late in the afternoon and a perfect swarm of people gathered around the church yard to witness its downfall. The rope, reaching way out across Trade street, was drawn taut by a long string of colored men, who pulled for half an hour before the tall mass toppled over and came to the ground with a thundering crash. The church officers have not decided upon the height or style of the steeple that is to be erected instead of the old one.

A Lecture by Mr. Foley.

Mr. Foley, of the New Orleans bar, arrived in the city yesterday, and one evening next week, will entertain our people in one of his celebrated lectures. He has distinguished himself in the lecture field, and we know our people will be glad of the opportunity to hear him. The following criticism of Mr. Foley's lecture from the pen of ex-Attorney General Youmans, himself a distinguished scholar and brilliant orator, is a good recommendation of Mr. Foley to our people: "The lecture of Mr Foley on 'The Forensic Orators of the Old World' was something out of the commonplace line of lectures. Eighteen hundred years ago Horace suid 'difficile est propriæ communia dicere.' This difficulty Mr Foley met and vanquished. He treated his audience not only to the morceaux of great orators as the old world, but to the most exquisite comments on the different styles of oratory which have prevailed from Demosthenese down to Curran. The charm which he gave in the graceful language which he used was immeasurably enhanced by the individual oratory which he displayed Leaving aside, in this brief criticism what he said about the great orators of antiquity, no one who heard him will ever forget his resume of the brightest efferts of Erskine and Curran, which brought to the mind Byron's famous pathway of the past. One thing Mr Foley ought to do and that is to complete his work by delivering a lecture of the forensic orators of the New World. Why cannot the same accomplished pen and the same sonorous voice which have chanted the praises of Cicero and Sheridan say something of Pinckney and Choate, of Prentiss, Grimes, McDuffle and Preston?"

The President must have been glad to get back to the most beautiful city in the country at its lovilest season. The Capitol grounds are now among the most charming sights in Washington. The broad slopes of the hill on which it is placed are now covered with long grass, with violets lavishly planted amidst it. All the squares and gardens in Washington have the effect of natural as well as artificial beauty. The flowers about the Capitol are not protected by wire fences, and grim warnings of $5 fine for treading on the grass or plucking the flowers are rare. Then plants and flowers are so plentiful that people have come to think them necessaries instead of luxuries.

A telegram is received from "Washington" (from what official is not stated) and the "Collector" wishes general information given of the fact, whereupon each deputy collector is notified officially and said deputy importunes each claimant to endorse on his claim authority to the outgoing Commissioner to collect it, he promising that his terms shall be "reasonable!"

Can anything be clearer than the fact that the department is thus lending itself to the enrichment of the ex-Comitself to the enrichment of the ex-Com-missioner by a trick prepared whilst in office? In nine cases out of ten per-sons will be disposed to believe that the authority to Mr. Raum is a neces-sary preliminary to the collection of what is due them, and will sign it as a matter of course. When it is consid-ered that the amount of these rebates will reach anywhere from ten to twenty will reach anywhere from ten to twenty millions of dollars it will be seen at a glance what the "reasonable" compensation of Mr. Raum would be.

I feel it my duty to warn the manufacturers of and dealers in tobacco in North Carolina, that if they do this their money will mostly be a present to Mr. Raum. In nineteen cases out of twenty no attended to the second of the second o twenty no attorney or agent whatso-

FROM SALISBUY. Democratic Municipal Convention-Ticket Nominated .- The Gold Valley Mine.

SALISBURY, May 4.—The Democratic convention met in Merony's hall last evening. Mr Theo F Klutzz, chairman of the executive committee, called the convention to order. Upon motion of Mr J J Bruner Mr Kluttz was elected chairman of the convention. Mr J F Moser was elected secretary. The chairman then briefly explained the object of the convention in his own feli-citous style, and then declared the convention ready for busifiess. On motion the convention proceeded to vote for a the convention proceeded to vote for a nominee for mayor without any nomination. The first ballot resulted in no choice. All the names being dropped except the two highest, Mr J F Ross received a majority of all the votes cast, and was duly declared the nominee for mayor. On motion the wards retired to different parts of the hall and proceeded to recommend nominees for proceeded to recommend nominees for commissioners. They recommended the following and after being ratified by the entire convention they were de-clared to be the nominees of the party for commissioners. The following is the ticket the Democrats present to the voters of Salisbury: John F Ross.

Mesers Theo F Kluttz, Wm Smithdeal and C F Bernhardt were duly ap-Committee for the ensuing year. After appointing a committee After appointing a committee to retire and request Mr. Ross to address the convention, they adjourned to meet in the public square, where Mr. Ross appeared and made a capital speech, pledging himself to devote his best energy and time to the duties of the office if elected. He invited the hearty support of all good citizens and urged every man present to buckle on the full armor of Democracy, and go forth to the contest determined upon succeeding. The convention then dispersed. Probably it will not be amiss for us to say that this was one of the largest, most representative and harmonious conventions ever assembled in Salisbury. They have nominated a good ticket and if the party does its duty at the polls Monday next, it will be triumbartly elected. Mr. Theo. F. Kluttz, the owner of the Barringer or Gold Vailey Mine, is hav-ing it more thoroughly developed. They have found the yein to be much richer than it was at first supposed to be. The superintendent states that at every point where the yein has been struck it point where the vein has been struck it is remarkably fine. Your correspondent was shown several specimens of ore from this mine and he was utterly surprised to see such fine specimens in this country. The free gold is deposited in a calcite formation and many pieces weighing several pennyweights each can be readily obtained from most any of the calcite. The assays of the any of the calcite. The assays of the poorest specimens of this ore are remarkably fine, while those of the best specimers are simply fabulous in value

A Wilmington (Del) man went home the other night and found the house locked up. After infinite trouble he managed to gain entrance through a back window, and then discovered on the parlor table a note from his wife, reading: "I've gone out; you'll find the key on the side of the step."

Dr. S. F. Newcomer, Grandald, O., says: "In the cases of several aged men, who complained of forgetfulness 'end diamelination to think, move or be spoken to, or harrassed in any way, they told me it imparted new tife and view."
