THE BURDENS OF THE PRESI-DENCY.

President Arthur since his return from Florida and other places has taken up his quarters at the Soldier's Home, that beautiful park overlooking Washington. In a little while he will go to Newport, and when that fashionable resort becomes fatiguing, he will sail over to the Isle of Shoals, and fish awhile. Then he will go to Bar Harbor and "joy hisself" for some time, and then after doing the White Mountains he will, in company with Senator Frye, bury himself deep in the Maine woods and contemplate the nothingness of human life, from the butt end of a fishing pole. After this season of anxiety and labor he will, in September, take up his weary march to the grand solitudes of Yellowstone Park.

"It is this sort of thing," says the Philadelphia Times, "which makes the burden of the Presidential office so hard to bear. Many men stronger and less troubled than the President now is have been completely broken down in an effort to do all the summer resorts in the country in a single season. Such people, however, were not missed as the President would be. It is well enough that Mr Arthur should not further jeopardize his health by any extraordinary effort to fulfill the duties of his office."

Major Wasson, the Paymaster of the United States Army, wholied about the funds in his hands, saying he had been robbed, and afterwards confessed that he had stolen the money, is said to indulge the hope that he will be acquitted and retain his place in the army, because his bondsmen have paid the deficit, and settled his accounts. It is said that strong social and political influences have been brought to bear in his behalf. The only evidence offered by him before the Court Martial which tried him was in regard to his previous good character, and that was not denied. If an officer who betrayed his trust, and lied, and embezzled public moneys can remain an officer in the United States Army the service has reached a greater depth of degradadation than it has ever attained before, and Congress ought to take steps to prevent it from degenerating into a a national disgrace.

CROOK VICTORIOUS.

He Surrounds the Apaches, Whips Them Out and Bags His Game.

TUCSON, ARIZONA, June 12 .- A courier brings in the latest reports from eGes. Crook. In conversing with the congrer he stated that the hostiles had plenty of money. One old squaw who was, in the possession of three bills made it quiry as to the value of her posessions, upon being informed that the sates were worth five dollars each. she greated and decided not to negotiate and pointed with her skinny finger to the naught after the figure five un each note. Qhite a number of bucks had silver stars and other ornaments beaten out of Mexican dollars on their head war while several had American double eagles made into a necklace. A rough estimate of the amount of wealth among them is fully $5,000 and probably more. The troops stated that the place where the capture occurred is the prettiest spot on earth and the road leading to it rougher than mortal man ever trod. Large numbers of the hos tiles seemed pleased with the situation evidently expecting an immediate re-turn to the San Carlos reservation. The only complaint was from squaws who e bucks were among those who made their escape. The officers of the expedition stated that Gen Crook had surrounded the Indians before they were aware of his presence, and that if he had not done so it would have taken six months and all the men in Arizona to have captured them. As the situation of Gen Crook's forces and the total absence of fuss and feathers in his make up it may be stated that although the fight and capture occurred on the 17th of last month he leisurely retraced his steps to Camp Supply at Silver Creek, not sending couriers ahead to signal his movements. The first inti mation had of Crook's return was the arrival of a Lieutenant at Col. Biddle's headquarters at 8 a.m. Sunday with dispatches from Camp Bowie, the nearest army telegraph station open making inquiry concerning the General who was supposed to be 100 miles distant in the Sierra Madres. Imagine the surprise that awaited the camp when informed that Gen Crook was only two hours behind with the cap tured Apaches. About 10 o'clock the General rode into camp with an escort and greeted Col Biddle with "nice morning, Colonel," and straightway struck out for a wash basin which he had spied and was soon engaged in per-forming his ablutions, after which he threw himself into a camp stool and engaged in conversation about his cam paign in an off hand way as if hunting hercest and most cruel foe on the conti nent in the wildest and most inaccess ble country to be found was a matter of every day occurrence. It is reported that the loss to the Indians in the fight was seven bucks. A lieutenant whose name is unknown was the only person wounded in Gen Crook's command and he was but slightly injured.

A Courteons Retort.

A good story is told of the wife of an-American diplomist, who is fond of cal-ling upon the celebrities in every place which she visits. Being in Florence some time ago, she expressed her inten-tion of calling upon "Ouida," the well known novelist. Her friends attempt ed to dissuade her, saying that "Ouida" ed to dissuade her, saying that "Ouida" had a violent prejudice against Americans. Undeterred, the female diplomatist called at the novelist's house and was met by 'Ouida," who said: "I must tell you that I exceedingly dislike Americans." "I am very much surprised to hear that," was the reply, "for they are the only people who read nasty books."

The art exhibition made this year by the pupils of the school was magnificent and far surpassed anything of previous years, not only in the abundance of the work displayed, but also in designs. The interior of the art room was a scene that fairly entranced the beholder, every foot of the walls being hung with elegent crayon drawings, fine water color pictures, exquisite oil paintings, and numberless plagues, vases, panels, etc, all worked by the skillful brushes of the pupils. Miss Savage, the teacher, could well afford to look upon the scene with feelings ed leave of absence and has gone out to of the deepest satisfaction, for no display to compare with it has ever been in this State, and indeed we doubt if it has been equalled by any school in the South. It would take one gifted with greater descriptive powers than this will be absent about three weeks, and bumble scribe to do justice to the exhibit. It was grand, it was beautiful, it was great. Surrounded by all these handsome works of art, one scarce. ly knows whose collection to take Mr E G Spilsbury, superintendent of up first, but a panel of strikingly beauthe Haile gold mine, yesterday exhibit. Hful Chrysanthemums, painted from nature, arranged in a group of paintings, crayons, plaques and vases catches our eye and gives us a starting point. It is the collection of Miss Alice Springs, and is the admiration of all eyes. The paintings evidence the work of a true artist's hand. The Swiss scene, "Springstein," "A Girl I Know," Peacock, on gilt plaque, the Little Fortune Teller, Terra Cotta Plaque, Yellow Jesmine, Study of Apple Blossoms, Ebonized Panel, Water Lilles, and Barbotine Vase, Roses, were particularly fine works of art.

Master Ralis Flemming, the youngest contributor' to the exhibition, showed two creditable works, a book of drawings and outline studies. Mrs W W Flemming's decorated mantel was a magnificent work of art and was greatand wooden plaques, table tops and paintings. Miss Mary La Monte's exhibit of landscapes, flowers, etc; was very fine. A life-size crayon portrait tion, as did also Miss De Wolfe's entire collection of paintings. Miss Lou Evans exhibited a sketch book, panels, plaques, table top, landscapes and vases. Miss Minnie Cochrane made a creditable display of landscapes, studies from objects, drawing book and plaques. Miss Marjory McQueen's crayon landscapes and rabbits were excellently executed while her paintings, flowers in pencil, flowers in oil, rural scenes, sea view, and other works of art were beautiful. Miss Louis Morehead's mirror with dog-wood, gourd, basjo, tambourine, palette, flowers in grayon and papier mache plaques, roses, and orioles, were snewproductions and fleeted credit upon the artist who wrought them. Miss Maggle McDouof dog, head of cat and flowers in cray-on, all good works. A very pretty sketch book and outline studies were shown by Miss Ellen McRae. Miss Carrie McIlwaine made a large and handsome display of photo-crayons, plaques, roses, panels, tiles, and paintings. Miss Addie Neisler's collection of crayons, plaques, and studies from objects and cast was a fine one, and the same can be said of Miss Fannie Nisbet's collection. Miss Lalla Oates showed a sketch book and studies in pencil, yery creditable. Miss Cadie Phifer made an excellent display of exquisite paintings and decorations. Miss Bleeker Springs' sketch book and landscape were good. Miss Lola Spencer was behind no one in the variety and excellence of her display, and Miss Addie Yates' exhibit of ebonized panels, flowers, cactus, periwinkles, etc. was matchless. Miss Emma Woods, Miss Ida Withers, Miss Laura Patterson, and Miss Lidie Fountain, made very excellent exhibits. Miss Sallie Anderson's collection was very large and beautiful. Miss Adie Avery's sea view and screen were much admired, and Master Christopher Atkinson did himself credit in a book of drawings and outline studies. Master dene Bidez made a creditable show of drawings. Miss Carrie Burroughs, Miss Florence Brem. Mrs Dr Barringer, and Miss Anna Crosland each had choice collections of crayons, paintings, panels and beautiful works of decorative art. This closed the exhibition, than which a finer, or more successful one has never been made in the South. It was not only a credit to Miss Savage and her pupils, but it should be a matter of pride and gratification to our people to know that such things can be done here. The study of art is a noble and refining one and should ever be fostered and encouraged in our midst, and no where is

The Excursion Picnic To-morrow.

The excursion picnic to Statesville to-morrow will be a large affair. Six coaches have been secured and others are accessible if found necessary, so that notwithstanding the big crowd, there will be no scrouging on the train. The train leaves the Air Line depot at 720 o'clock in the morning. At S'at sville, the excursionists will be met by the Statesville brass hand. Mc Smith's band will also be along and there will be plenty of music. Among the interesting features of the day wil be a race between the Charlotte and Statesville bicyclists, and a match game of base ball between the McSmith nine and the Statesville club. The management of the excursion insures an orderly, well behaved crewd, and an enjoyable time for all.

Election of a New Chief -- Resolutions of the Fire Companies.

A meeting of the different fire companies was held night before last to take action on the resignation of Chief Harrison, and after passing the appended series of resolutions, the meeting proceeded to the election of a new chief. Mr. J. M. Kendrick was unanimously elected. He is an enthusiastic fireman and will make a capable and most acceptable officer.

The following paper was drawn up and signed by the firemen: Whereas Our chief, Capt. Chas. F. Harrison, has been elected to the position of Chief of Police, of the city of Charlotte, and finds that he cannot, in justice to the interests confided to him continue at the head of the Fire Depart-

Bioghampron (N. Y.) News. That Ottman scandal in Washington smells louder and louder the more it is stirred up. It now turns out that the "compromise," by which out of the $1,-000frecovered from Ottman only $12,000 found its way into the Treasurr, was made without authority of law, and by officials who had no right to make it even had it been the law. Congress will undoubtly take the subject up and somebody is going to get hurt. The one and great question, what became of the rest of the money? George Bliss swears he got none of it. Who did?

A Senator's Close Call.

It was learned from a private letter received in this city that Senator Geo. G. Vest, who is now sojourning at Hot Springs had a very sarrow escape from death, the other day. The Senator was taking a bath alone, when he suddenly became insensible from some unknown cause, and when the attendant chanced to arrive a few minutes later he found Colonel Vest lying in an unconscious state. A physician was summoned ininstantly and the Missouri Senator was at length restored to consciousness, and has now almost entirely recovered.

PARIS, June 12.—The trial was begun PARIS, June 12.—The trial was begun to-day of the Marquis DeRoys and seventeen other persons, who are charged with manslaughter, fraud and infringement of public companies and emigration laws. In July, 1877, Marquis DeRoys advertised land for sale in the Island of Port Breton, in Oceanics, and inaugurated a scheme for emigration thereto. The Legitimist papers interested themselves in the anterprise, and five million francs were subscribed to further it. Of this sum the Marquis DeRoys pocketed two million francs. further it. Of this sum the Marquis DeRoys pocketed two million francs. It is stated that 700,000 hectars of land were sold, although the Island only contains 7,000 hectars. The Marquis had maps of the Island published, in which were indicated imaginary houses, churches and roads. He also instituted militia and gendarmerie forces and necessary forces. Finally he dispatched to the Island four old sailing ships with a number of emigrants, the majority of whom perished under the most miserable circumstances. On one most miserable circumstances. On one vessel thirty emigrants died during the passage, 250 more died from hunger and disease after touching Port Breton, and five others were continued and out and out of the continued and o five others were captured and eaten by the natives of the Island. Only one hundred of the unfortunate people suc-ceeded in reaching a friendly country.

Under the reapportionment bill, just signed, whichever party carries New York State will have a majority of the Congress delegation. This is as it should be. by always keeping the Regulator in the House!
For, whatever the silment may be, a thoroughly safe purghtive, alterative and tonic can never be out of place. The remedy is harmless and does not interfere with business or

IT IS PURELY VEGETABLE. A Governor's Testimony.

Simmons Liver Regulator has been in use in my family for some time, and I am satisfied it is a valuable addition to the medical science.

J. Gill Shorth, Governor of Ala.

Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, of Ga., inys: Have derived some benefit from the use of Simmons Liver Regulator, and wish to give it a further trial.

"The only Thing that never fails to Relieve."—I have used many remedies for Dyspepsia, Liver Affection and Debility, but never have found anything to benefit me to the extent Simmons Liver Regulator han. I sent from Minnesota to Georgia for it, and would send further for such a medicine, and would advise all who are similarly affected to give it a trial as it seems the only thing that never fails to relieve.

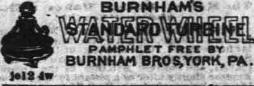

P. M. Jamury, Minneapolis, Minn.

Dr. T. W. Mason says: From actual ex-perience in the use of Simmons Liver Regulator in my practice I have been and am satisfied to use and prescribe it as a purgative medicine. Bay Take only the Genuine, which always has on the Wrapper the red Z Trade-Mark and Mgmature of J. H. EMILIN & CO.
