Burckhardt tells of a strange mode of curing a vicious horse. He has seen he says, vicious horses in Egypt cured of a habit of biting by presenting to them, while in the act of doing so, a leg of mutton just taken from the fire. The pain which the horse feels in biting through the hot meat causes it to abandon the practice. People who have vicious, biting horses should always carry a red hot leg of mutton around with them.

The Chicago Lard Break.

'CHICAGO, June 18.—The story in re-gard to the great break in lard appears to have been very completely told. This morning on change it was looked for-ward to with considerable fear that the market might take another downward turn, but it proved otherwise, and at 11 o'clock July option which closed at 9.77½ Saturday had risen to 995, and the feeling was comparatively firm. Beyond the firms reported in these dispatches Saturday none others have sucpatches Saturday none others have suc-cumbed, and the firm of Ellis & Lightner who are among those reported as crippled have transferred their deals and in this manner have tided over The associated press estimate of losses putting them at two and a half millions is as nearly accurate as can now be made. Some published accounts swell these figures to three millions but this is largely based on conjecture. The firm of McGeoch, Erringham & Co., decline to furnish any additional data at this time and can make no statement until some days have elapsed.

Judge Krum Returns and Hears Some Surprising News About Humself. St. LouiseJune 18.—Judge Chester H Krum, whose unexplained absence from home has caused so much comment for several weeks past, returned to this city on Saturday night and held a conference with his father and some friends. Nearly all the statements which had been published about him were news to him and excited his surprise. He would not be interviewed but said he would prepare a statement for publication in a day or so and give all the information concerning himself which the public was entitled to. There appears to be no doubt but that the estate of William Robertson, dry goods merchant, whose assignee Judge Krum was by appointment of the Circuit Court, was properly administered and that all or nearly all the creditors were pa'd as far as the money in his hands would satisfy them.

A Toy Vender Bolted the Door. . SUNDERLAND, June 18.—Several of the children who left the exhibition before the accident occurred state that they saw a man just before the rush partially close the door on the landing where the disaster took place. It will be proved at the inquest that a man bolted the door sjar, in order to facilitate the distribution of toys to the children as they were leaving the premises. A box containing these toys is still standing near the door. The total number of deaths among the children was 186.

Rerdell Withdraws His Plea of Guilty and a Noi Pros is Entered .- The Case of Kellogg and Brady Called and Saturday Fixed for Hearing Argument.

WASHINGTON, June 18 .- In the Criminal Court this morning Montford C. Rerdell appeared, accompanied by Merrick and Ker. After a short consultation with the counsel, Judge Wylie asked Rerdell if he desired to withdraw his plea of guilty of conspiracy in the Star Route case. Rerdell answered in the affirmative. "Under the circum-stances," said Judge Wylie, "the court has no hesitation in allowing that to be done. One man cannot be guilty of conspiracy. The jury has acquitted the others, and that is enough."

Merrick said: "The government enters a noile pros for him."

The court directed the clerk to enter noile pros, and Rerdell left the room. After the organization of the juries for the June term, Ker called up the case against Wm Pitt Kellogg, charged with receiving money in connection with a mail contract while in the United States Senate. Ker said he understood that Keilogg was under bail. A messenger was sent for Keilogg, and, pending the latter's arrival, Ker called up the case against Thos J Brady, charging him with receiving money while Second Assistant Postmaster General in consideration for increasing certain mail service. Ker said that ball had not been furnished in these cases, and asked for a process to bring Brady into court. Judge Wylie replied that Ker could have a process if he wanted it, and the court would make it returnable tomorrow. Wilson, counsel for Kellogg, came into court and said Kellogg would waive the reading of the indictment in his case, and proposed to file certain pleas in abatement. Judge Wylie re-plied that Kellogg must waive the reading of the indictment in person. Kellogg soon appeared and did this. Wil son then presented his pleas. One o them attacks the construction of the grand jury that found the indictment Another plea raises the point that the orders of the court were disregarded by the failure to return an indictment corresponding with the presentment. Others complain of Ker's presence in the grand jury room, and his participa-tion in the deliberations of the grand jury. "The whole thing is to the effect that we packed the jury," said Ker to a reporter. At his request Judge Wylie fixed Saturday next for hearing argument upon the pleas. A B Williams, for Brady, asked that the warrants or Wilcox: Gen. Crook telegraphs from Wilcox that between four and five hundred Indian prisoners, requiring to be fed, should be here in four or five days. The presence of renegade bucks on the reservation will dissatisfy the friendly Indians, excite fear and distrust among the white settlers in Arizona and New Mexico, and in my opinion will result in adding to their past bloody history a new list of murders, rapes, child steal ing and robbery. I earnestly protest against so dangerous an experiment. In answer to this Secretary Teller reiterated his instructions to the agent to refuse to receive the Indians mentioned in the dispatch and stated that he need not fear an attempt by the military authorities to place Indians upon the reservation against his will.

Flood in the Missouri.

KANSAS CITY, June 18.—The blockade on the railroads east and north was almost complete last night, no trains being able to get out except on the Missouri Pacific. Chicago and Alton was able to take its passengers by transferring at the washout near this city. On the roads west of Burlington and Missouri River business is abandoned. The others are not interrupted. The River here is 20.6-10 feet above low water. At midnight last night reports were received stating that a large portion of the bottom land below here was overflowed and that serious damage had been done which will be very greatly increased by any further rise in the River. The June rise is about due and if it comes now at the present stage of water the loss will be very heavy. The water now encroaches upon Hasleny, opposite this city.

The Threatening Flood in the Missouri

St. Louis, June 18.—Advices from Western Missouri and Kansas say the heavy rains for the past few days have raised nearly all the rivers and small streams in that section and the indications are for unusually high water in the Missouri River. The town of Coming, four miles north of St. Joseph, on the Missouri River, is inundated and several houses are entirely swept away. About four miles of the railroad are under water. All the railroads in Western and Central Missouri, with the exception of the Missouri Pacific are badly washed and trains are generally abandoned.

Belmont's Libel Suit.

New York, June 18 .- The jury in the libel suit of August Belmont against John Devoy, editor of the Irish Nation, who in April, 1882, charged Belmont in his paper with having misappropriated the funds belonging to an Irish Society returned a verdict of guilty, but re-commended the defendant to the extreme clemency of the court. Belmont stated that he joined in the recommendation as his only object in prosecuting the suit was the vindication of his character. Sentence was suspended until to-morrow morning.

The penalty for this offense is $10 for each instance, and though these violators of the cemetery ordinances may get off light this time, their purses will te drawn on hereafter. If anybody wants to pay ten dollars apiece for flowers, let them go ahead and do

Railroad Suit in Chambers Court. An important railroad action is to be tried in the city to-day, before Judge Shipp, at chambers court. It is an action brought to make the Western North Carolina Railroad party to a case of Young vs Rollins, the original suit being to compel Rollins, late president of the road, to surrender the assets to the receiver. Judge Schenck arrived in the city vesterday and will appear in the suit for the Western North Carolina road. Mr. J. M. McCorkle will appear for Mr. B. F. Long, receiver.

nother Railroad Invention. Mr. Chas. Adams, the junior clerk of the Central Hotel, whose scientific turn of mind recently led him to invent a patent toothpick distributor, has turned his mind to a railroad invention, and has modeled a first rate thing. It is a danger signal to place at road and which throws out a placard with the warning word "stop," on the approach of a train at a road crossing. The invention is remarkable for its simplicity. It can be set so that the signal will be threwn out 200, 300 or 500 yards before the approaching train. Mr. Adams has shown the invention to several practical railroad men, who say that it is one of the best and most perfect acting danger signals they have ever seen. The wheels of the engine pring the signal, and also throw it down after the train has passed. The dever inventor has applied for a patent, and says that none of his poor friends hall be forgotten when he retires from otive hotel service, and has a private ce car of his own,

Death of Mrs. Woods.

Mrs. Alice B. Woods, wife of Rev. Neander M. Woods, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of this city. died yesterday morning at 10:45 o'clock. Mrs. Woods was in her 38th year, and for two years past she had been suffering from that dreaded malady, consumption. She was a lovely christian lady, and her death will be mourned by a large circle of friends, not only in this city, but in her former home. She leaves a devoted husband and three small children.

The funeral services will be conducted from the Second Presbyterian church this evening, at 5:36 o'clock, by Dr. A. W. Miller and Rev. Wm. R. Atkinson.

Suicide of a Prominent Citrzen of Lin-

Mr A C Lucky, a well known and prominent citizen of Lincoln county, committed suicide last Saturday, in the woods near his home at Triangle, by shooting himself twice, once through the head and once through the breast His family missed him from home during the day and on searching for him. he was found dead in the woods with two bullet holes in his body and his pistol lying on the ground near his side. Mr Lucky was crazy, and his case was sad one. Some weeks ago he invested in a lot of machinery to run a mill, cane evaporator, etc., and put it up on his place. He very soon became uneasy about his investment, and the fear that he would lose by it preyed so heavily on his mind as to finally drive him crazy. His family knew for a week past that his reason had fled, but hoped it was only a temporary affliction, and had no thought of him doing himself any harm. He leaves a wife and three grown children.

A $100 Challenge for a Bicycle Race. A gentleman of this city last night deposited $100 with the Journal on the morning of Wednesday, the 20th, OBSERVER as a challenge for any bicyclist in Charlotte or in North Carolina, to run a race with Mr. Will Pharr. one of the members of the Charlotte bicycle club. The race is to be run any time within the next two weeks, and the hundred dollars deposited with road man has been eminently successthis office may be covered any time ful, and Davidson may be justly proud within the next seven days. The challenge is open to any and all competitors who may be residents of North Carolina. In other words, Mr. Pharr's friends back him against any bicyclist In North Carolina and put up $100 as a challenge. The race will be run on the Providence road to Mr. Dick Hunter's, a distance of five miles and return, making the whole distance ten miles. The road is a good one and affords a fine spin. There is no crawfishing about this challenge, and if it is eccepted, the championship of the State will no doubt be settled by this race. Here's a chance for some other bicyclist to show his spunk.

The Opera House Improvements.

Messrs. Wadsworth and Sanders, the wners of the opera house are arranging to make vast improvements about the building and will have a perfect gem of house ready for the opening of next season, which will be the last week in August, when Armstrong Bros. minstrels, with forty men, and new and original stage setting will give the initial performance of the season. The improvements to the opera house will be begun next week. The dressing room will be taken from behind the stage and the stage will be set back, giving about ten feet more space in the house for seats. Instead of the dressing room being behind the stage, it will be built at the side of the house, over the store adjoining the opera house and entrance to the stage will be made by side doors. Two flights of steps, one in front and one in the rear, will lead to the dressing room. The chairs which during the past season, gave so much trouble by the way in which they stuck to people's clothes, are now being painted by Mr. Arthur Butt and will be warranted not to stick. and a person will hereafter be able to rise from his seat without the least danger of parting with portions of his apparel. The whole interior of the house is to be brightened up and when the improvements are all complete we will have an opera house worthy of spirited, progressive Charlotte. Mr Nat Gray, theatrical agent, tells us that next season will be a brilliant one, some of the finest troupes in the country having already made engagements. and among them, several troupes that have never before been South.

Important City Ordinances. For the information of the public we publish several sections of chapter II of the city ordinances, and we have been requested by the city authorities to say that these regulations will be rigidly enforced:

"Be it ordained, That any person or persons who shall deposit in any of the streets any rubbish, refuse or filth of any kind whatever, to remain, shall forfeit and pay for each and every offense the sum of five dollars; and any person or persons who shall suffer his, her, or their chips, wood, boxes, hogs-heads, bales, or anything (material for building excepted) calculated to obstruct the free passage of the streets. side lks, or water in the gutters' longer than 48 hours, shall forfeit and pay for each and every offense the sum of two dollars, and one dollar for every day that said obstructions remain.

"That no goods, wares, merchandise bundles, hogsheads, or any article of trade, shall be allowed to remain on the sidewalks, so as to obstruct the free passage of said walks, and any person or persons offending against this ordinance shall forfeit and pay five dollars for each offense.

"That no wagon, cart, or other vehicle shall be allowed to remain on the pubic street at night, under a fine of twenty-five dollars for each offense."

The foregoing are important provisions, and have been heretofore flagrantly disregarded, but we understand that the police have been ordered to report all offenders, and we may therefore hope hereafter to see the law in this particular at least promptly and strictly administered.

Davidson's Annual Orator. Col. Bennett H. Young, of Louisville,

Ky, who has been chosen to deliver the annual oration before the Literary Societies of Davidson College at 11 o'clock comes to us, not only with the highest recommendations as an orator, but his sterling worth and integrity as a man of business have been recognized and admired far beyond the bounds of the Blue Grass State. His career as a railof having a man to grace her com mencement occasion whose very name is a power not only among business men, but also in the leading literary circles of the section from which he hails. He will come en a special car from Louisville, accompanied by a few friends among whom will be a special reporter for the Louisville Courier Journal. Though no special trains will be run from Charlotte to Davidson until Thursday, ample accommodations can be had at Davidson for all those who go up from Charlotte Tuesday evening, and it is understood that arrangements are being made with Mr. J. W. Wadsworth to have transportation ready for any who may wish to leave Charlotte on Wednesday morning. No extra trains will run to the College on Tuesday and Wednesday, but on Thursday, commencement day, two trips will be made. The first train will leave Charlotte early in the morning and returning will leave the College at 3:30 p. m. The second train will leave Charlotte at 6 p. m., and will leave the College about midnight.

Western N. C. Insane Asylum.

We learn that the Insane Asylum at Morganton is now under way and working smoothly. Dr. Murphy, the superintendent, and Dr. Hilliard, the assistant physician, are rather young men, but they are good managers, and discharge their duties faithfully and promptly and energetically, just like P Snyder, C F Shindel, W S Lloyd, good working men can do when they Philadelphia; James Vass, Virginia; J try. The way patients crowd around Dr. Murphy and Dr. Hilliard, when they enter the wards of the asylum, shows that the treatment has been kind and sympathizing, and that the unfortunate men and women appreciate it.

Only six months ago the asylum building was not completed, many of the doors not even having locks on them, and the windows without proper guards; but now there are about 125 nationts within its walls, receiving kind and tender treatment, and all their wants properly attended to. The board of directors, the physicians, and other officers of the institution, have worked steadily and earnestly to get it under way, and afford as much accommodation to the unfortunates of the State as possible, and all concerned claim that they have done everything they could to discharge their duties and meet pub-lie expectation. No one will be received into the asylum without first making the proper arrangements with Dr. Murphy, the superintendent. This is important, and the attention of the public is called to it. Patients will be received as fast as possible, but they must come in order and according to law. The directors and superintendent are anxious to do all they can to accommodate the unfortunates of our State, but they must be governed by law, rule and regulation. There are new in the asylum thirteen of whom, except one or two, were removed from the asylum at Raleigh, and patients from each of the surrounding counties. Patients will be received as fast as accommodations will justify, preference being given to new cases or such as patients from Mecklenburg county, all seem susceptible of cure. All will be relieved as soon as it is possible to These statements are made up from a conversation with a gentleman who recently visited a patient in the asylum at Morganton, and we think the informition will be gratifying to all interested in one of the charitable institu tions of the State.
