In his letter to Gen Martin Dorsey is thought to have referred to Senator Logan when he spoke of the "ambitious hypocrite."

A son of Clement C Valandingham is one of the leaders of the young Democracy of Ohio, and is said to be a man of much ability.

He must be an Oscar Wilde sort of a chap who bosses the letter carriers in Chicago. He has issued an order that they wear knee-breeches which they are protesting against as a breach of their prerogatives in the matter of breeches, etc.

Referring to the extravagance in the Department of Justice at Washington and the outcome of the Star Reute trials the New York Sun remarks, "Mr Brewster has furnished the Democrats with a campaign document that will be difficult to confront."

The effort to introduce knee-breeches reform among the letter carriers has not panned out well, though we are told that a number of society men will appear thus arrayed in the fall. Should the knee breeches take there will be a boom in the false calf business.

Philadelphia Record, (Ind.): The Republican party has been a useful party and a great party and a strong party and a respectable party in this country; but, for all this, it must not imagine that when its trusted chiefs and lieutenants are hauled up in court day after day to be tried for criminal offenses against the laws of the country that the party itself is not also upon trial. It is; and the people so under-

Convention at Columbus---After an Animated Contest George C. Hoadley is Nominated by Acclamation.

COLUMBUS, OHIO, June 21.-The Democratic State Convention convened at ten o'clock this morning. There is a larger crowd here than was ever seen before on any similar occasion, and the The weather is sultry and rainy. The contest between Ward and Hoadley for Governor waged flercely during the morning hours. The convention was called to order by Clark Irvine, chairman of the central committee. All preliminary organization was dispensed with. Hon. John McSweeney, of Wooster, was introduced as permanent chairman. As no committees were ready to report, the convention proceeded to nominations. Efforts were made to proceed to balloting without names, but after a long wait, Senator Thurman crowded on the stage amid the wildest enthusiasm. T. E. Powell nominated Gen. Durbin Ward, and in seconding Powell, Thurman made an able plea for the recognition of the services of Gen. Ward. He warned the convention against tying themselves to any one ssue and announced that the party had always been arranged against sumptu-ary legislation, and should continue in that way.

The names of Messrs Hoadley and Giddes were then presented in order. Trouble was reached on the first ballot when Butler county was called. This county had a divided delegation, and the result was a call of counties to do away with the unit rule, which was carried amid great confusion, showing the strength of the leading candidates to be about even. The ballot was not completed until 1:30 o'clock, and resulted as follows: Hoadley 290, Ward 261, Giddes 77, and Dilver 4.

The second ballot proceeded until Butler county was reached, when the same trouble again ensued. After the call had been concluded, some changes began for Hoadley, and the greatest ex-citement prevailed, the delegates climbing over each other and storming the platform. Before the result of the bal-lot could be announced, a motion to nominate Hoadley by acclamation was carried. He had in the neighborhood of 350 votes, 319 being necessary to a Judge Hoadley soon appeared and accepted the nomination in a brief address, during which he reviewed his connection with the party and said that, although he had wandered at one time with the Republicans to fight the bat-tles of the colored race, Democracy was broad enough to receive him again. He esteemed it a great compliment to be nominated over more worthy candidates, and believed that the convention would place men on the platform whose leading principles were personal liberty, self control in temperance matters, and a license system. The convention then proceeded to the nomination of Lieutenant Governor, and Jno. G. Warwick, of Stark county, was selected by accla-mation. Before the ballot was concluded Dewitt Coalman, of Portage county, the other candidate, was with-

THE RIVERS RISE.

The Lowlands Overflowed and Much

Damage Already Done. by Louis, June 21.—The river has risen about three inches since last night. Advices from the north and west note heavy rains along both the Upper Missouri and Mississippi rivers and it is now feared that another rise of a foot or two will come. Should this be the case there will be great destruction of crops and farm property along all the streams in the State. Already a great amount of bottom land on the Missouri river has been overflowed and crops are ruined. Farmers have been forced to abandon their homes for higher ground. The farms opposite Hermann are reported to have suffered damage to the extent of over $60,000, and other bottom lands in the same county sustained like losses. Still greater damage is apprehended.

Meeting of Stockholders-- Discussing the Building of a Road from Wilson

Wilmington, June 21.—A special meeting of the stockholders of the Wilmington and Weidon Railroad Company was held here to-day to consider the question of a new railroad from a point near Wilson on the Wilmington and Weidon Road to Florence on the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Road. After discussion the matter was manimously referred to the board of lirectors with full authority to act. The proposed road is what is known as the hort out as its construction would borten the time between points named bout two hours. The whole of the makes already been surveyed and the ight of way purchased and the opinion general here that the road will be utilit.

Farman University-Eloquent Sermon -A Clever Recuter-The Young Men Who Distinguished Themselves.

Correspondence Journal-Observer. Commencement week this year has brought a larger number of strangers and former graduates to our city than any similar occurrence for several years. So far everything has passed off very pleasantly, and the large crowds attending every exercise of a public nature evinces the deep interest feit in all our educational institutions, not only by those whose sons and daugh-ters are students and pupils but by the great mass of our citizens, male and

On Sunday morning last the com-mencement sermon before the students of Furman University was delivered by Rev Heary Holcombe Tucker of Georgia, at the Baptist church. The congregation was immense, every part of the large audience room being crowded. The music was very superior, Prof DeCamps presiding at the organ. The well trained choir rendered the various hymns in excellent style. The sermon was from Acts iv, 13. "Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men they marveled; and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus." The central truth presented by the disguished and elequent preacher was "The knowledge of Jesus promotive of moral courage and mental power." The sermon was listened to with breathless nterest, and was one of the most intellectual and masterly efforts of Dr

On Monday morning the commence-ment exercises of the Greenville Mili-tary Institute took place at the Butler Guards armory. This magnificent hall, one the largest in the State, was densely crowded. Captain Patrick believes in encouraging the little fellows by giving them a chance with the older and larger scholars and thus stimulate them to constant effort to excel. The exercises consisted of declamations, recitations and dialogues by the smaller boys and debates and oratories by the larger ones. All did well, but conspicuous and well meriting special mention was the recitation of The Raven by cadet D C Durham, a young North Carolinian, now a resident of Green-ville. The recitation was faultless and given with such just appreciation of the weird mystery of the poem as to clothe it with additional interest.

Mr. Durham was also the orator of the Caliopean Society, and delivered a very fine oration, his subject being, "Good wine needs no bush" An avceedingly interesting debate took place by members of the society, the question being resolved, "That woman has a greater power over man than riches and rulers combined." The discussion was participated in by four young cadets, all of whom merited the applause which they liberally received

On Monday night the Philosophian

Society of Furman University held their thirty-first anniversity. Mr A H Dean, of Spartanburg, is president of the society. The exercises consisted of a debate upon the question, resolved, "That education should be made a qualification for suffrage." The question was ably argued by W H Davis, of Oconee, and Louis P Whatley, of Edgefield, in the affirmative and G L Knight of Laurens, and D C Hardin, of Green ville, in the negative. The limits of than to remark that the arguments o the young gentlemen showed much study and thought, and their ideas were clothed in beautiful and eloquent language,and were delivered with much elocutionary ability. The decision was a difficult one, as both sides of the question were so ably presented, but the judges, after mature deliberation, de-cided in the negative.

Munson's fine orchestral band furnished the music on both occasions. Furman University Commencement occurs to-day. RENWICK.

Too Much Beer.

Recent statistics, based on the last census, show that in Milwaukee, where there is more beer made and drank than in any other city of equal size in the United States, there are twice as many suicides as in any other city of like population. This fact leads the Staats-Zeitung to discuss the subject. It assumes that in all the cities of the country the Germans are, in proportion to their numbers, twice as well repre-sented among the suicides as any other people, and the excessive use of beer is assigned as the cause. "There is no doubt," says the Staats-Zeitung, that doubt," says the Staats-Zeitung, that "the moderate use of beer brightens up and cheers men, but there is also no doubt that too much beer stupefies and demoralizes the drinker, and, if its use is persisted in, makes him melancholy and weak minded. It is apt to result in certain attacks of melancholis, which come upon the beer toper, and in which he bewails himself and his fate, pities himself as a wretched being and finally lets his heavy head and his weeping eyes sink languidly on the table." eyes sink languidly on the table."
Nevertheless, it considers beer a beverage of exceeding virtue in comparison with spirituous liquors, which, it contends, "transforms man into a blood-thirsty wild beast and a violator of the laws."

South Atlantic and Gulf States, part-ly cloudy weather and local rains in northern portions, southerly to westerly winds, nearly stationary temperature and pressure.

LOCAL RIPPLES.

- The Knights of Honor will have a called meeting to-night.

 If not ruled out of order we might remark that it is getting caloric again. -Heaven help us! Willoughby Reade and a hot wave are both coming towards Charlotte.

- Capt. R. P. Waring leaves for Pine ville to-day, where he delivers the closing address before Prof Reid's academy at that place to-night.

- A sudden thunder storm came up on the city last night about 9 o'clock, and a steady fall of rain followed up to 2 o'clock this morning. - The boiler of an engine that was running athresher near Greenville, exploded last Wedneslay, killing three colored men and seriously scalding four others. - The fourth annual commencement of Mt. St. Joseph's College, at Hickory, is to take place on July 2nd. Our thanks to Miss M. M. Healy for an invitation to attend. - Gov. Jarvis attended Davidso through the city in the afternoon on his way to Cleaveland Springs. He will spend to-morrow in Charlotte. - The proprietors of the Evening Critic announce that in view of some changes they propose making in the paper, the Critic will stand suspended commencement yesterday and passed for a week, at which time we trust it will re-appear on a strong pair of legs. -Over 150 preachers are attending the Baptist Sunday school convention now in session at Shelby, besides a very large number of visitors. So far no important business has been transacted. but we will give a full report of the convention in Sunday's paper. -The McSmith band have arranged to give an entertainment to the Wachovia band, on its arrival from Davidson College. Captain McSmith has prepared a fine lay out in the room over his music store, where the valve workers may eat, drink and be merry.

-If there is a good colored male cook in the the city who wants a good situation, and two or three young colored men who would like places in a large establishment as assistants about the kitchen, laundry, &c., they will please leave their names at this office and get information.

- Hamp Davidson, a colored man, got drunk and sat down on a barrel, on Church stree; yesterday. The "barl" rolled about and got Hamp so tangled up, that it required the services of Policemen Farrington and Hill to extricate him. He was given more comfortable quarters in the guard house.

-An effort has been made to get Col. Jones to run an extra train on Sundays from Charlotte to Shelby, to give our people an opportunity of running up to Cleaveland Springs to, spend the dayand return to the city at night. The train would pay, but Col. Jones is opposed to Sunday traffic and will have none of it on his road.

- The Board of Trustees of Davidson College have appointed a Property Improvement Committee, Geo. Allen Esq., Newbern, N. C., chairman; also an Aggressive Committee, Col John L Brown, of this city, chairman. Our readers may expect in a few days some interesting reading on the new measures of the board from the pen of the secretary himself.

Home from the Unveiling. The Charlotte party who attended the unveiling of the Confederate monument at Camden, returned home yesterday morning. They report that the crowd present was almost equal to that at the late Yorktown celebration. Four young ladies, daughters of Confederate soldiers who fell in battle, unveiled the monument, and their names are Misses Deby, Conely, Nelson and Richardson the two Misses Kirkland. Senator Hampton's speech was a remarkably fine one and gave general satisfaction to the crowd. Close of the Pineville Academy. The spring session of Pineville Academy will close to-night with appropriate exercises in the way of an exhibition by the pupils. This school is under the control of H. K. Reid, Esq., assisted by Mr. J. Pressley Reid. The former is an instructor of known reputation, having been a very successful teacher for many years. The latter is a young Steel Creek man, of fine natural ability, supplemented by a thorough literary training, hence they are maintaining a fine school at that point. A splendid feature of to-night's entertainment will be an address by Capt. R. P. Waring, of this city, and, from his wide reputation as a speaker, the visitors are looking forward to something eloquent, interesting and instructive. The examination of pupils was in progress yester-day, and will continue to-day, and will be very rigid.

TWENTY SHEEPSKINS. GRADUATION DAY IN DAVIDSON

COLLEGE, Orations of the Graduates -- Prizes Presented and Dogrees Conferred-Gov. Jarvis Addresses the Assemblage. Yesterday was graduation day in Da vidson College. The sands of a scholastic year have again been heavily grained with gold by an event unsurpassed in the history of this venerated institution. Not a single unfavorable circumstance attended the elements that go to make commencement day in June a success. A somewhat hazy sky and a good breeze dispensed in a measure with the artificial means of "keeping cool" and the dust was not greatly disposed to cloud the air. The crowd of visitors that had gathered to hear the annual oration and contests in oratory on Wednesday was, in course, splendidly augmented by a rush of the fair maidens of Carolina, accompanied by brothers, cousins and sweethearts; to greet the gushing young graduates of the class of '88. As the day began to advance, vehicles of every description rolled in on the highways that radiate from the town, trains from Statesville and Charlotte arrived at the depot and before 11 o'clock the village was alive with people. By the train from Statesville came the private car of Col. A. B. Andrews, of Raleigh, N.C., with Gov. Jarvis, Judge Haskell, of South Carolina, and its distinguished owner, aboard. To the regret of all, Col. Bennett H. Young with his party had left early in the morning for his home in Louisville.

Precisely at the hour of eleven, the Trustees, Faculty and students were in line facing the Old Chapel, as usual on such occasions, ready to move to the Commencement Hall. The procession was lead by the Salem Cornet Band as on Wednesday. Mr. Shepard Nash, the efficient chief marshal of the occasion. supported by an able corps of assistants was present to direct the line of march and escort to the speaker's stage, Gov. Jarvis, who had consented to deliver the prizes in Mathematics, Latin, Greek and Oratory. In a few moments the spacious hall was crowded to its utmost capacity and a sea of upturned faces greeted the speaker's stage with an appreciation that was only stirred and heightened when the band burst into an elegant rendering of "Joyce's 71st Regiment Quickstep." After the exercises had been opened with prayer by Rev. - and a piece of sacred music by the band, the following programme was faithfully carried out: Salutatory Oration-The Well Balanced Mind, William Mack, Columbia, Oration-Lord Bryon, Richard Culbertson, Woodleaf, N. C. Oration-The Philosophy of Work. Henry H Leovy, New Orleans, La. Oration-The Manufacturing South Leonard W Dick, Sumter, S. C.

Philosopphical Oration-The Planet Mars, Willie N Mebane, Greensboro. N. C. The Presentation of Prizes. Degree

Conferred. Valedictory Oration-The Tendencies of Modern Physical Science, John W Lafferty, Davidson College, N. C.

One new feature on the face of the programme is worthy of mention. Heretofore it has been customary to allow ten of the graduating class to deliver orations on the day of graduation, but this year only six out of a class of twenty were assigned to the stage. This new departure seems to meet with unqualified approval inasmuch as the more gifted appear and the less number shortens the exercises. If the comfort and listening capacity of public assemblies in warm weather were more carefully studied by college faculties there would be less complaint from the public of the unentertaining nature of the average commencement. Davidson is in the van of improvement here as in other particulars.

All of the speakers did well. The hearty applause of the audience and the floral centributions, some of which were most elaborate in character and embraced the most beautiful and artisticadesigns known to the florist's art, attest the high appreciation in the ladies especially. The oration on "The Manufacturing South," by Mr Leonard W Dick, evoxed much earnest applause and would have done great credit to a much older head. His selection was a happy one and his treatment of it revealed a source of happiness to the people of the South. At the conclusion of the philosophical oration Gov. Jarvis. having been introduced by President Hepburn, arose amid great applause and presented

He said that he had always desired to attend a commencement at Davidson, and that he always felt better concerning the work before him after attendance on an occasion of that kind; that he saw so much of the material which is to shape the destily of the country, he could not b hope when he saw it, prepared as it is, in this institution. Turning to the graduating class he congratulated them on one feature of their exercises—their hopeful view of human nature and the complexion cast on their orations from the light and beauty around them. If they would only be good, pure and true in their life work, the people would bid them welcome and the great popular heart would beat in sympathy with their successes. To the successful contestants he spoke of personal fitness for certain kinds of work and the lamentable failures that result from a disregard of it, saying that he could imagine no greater failure than himsel as an artist. He then laid down the rule of success in the word "work" and racefully delivered the prizes as fol-

As the Statesville bound train pulled out from the depot in this city yesterday afternoon, Mr Will Pharr mounted his bicycle and started off with it. Bicycle and train started at the same time, and for the first few miles the race varied, first one and then the other being in the lead. The last heard from the race was when a gentleman coming to the city passed the train and bicycle spinning along breat to breast at a point just eight miles from the city, where the country road runs parallel to the railroad. How the race finally ended we could not learn, but it is reasonable to suppose that Mr Pharr gave the train a close race to Davidson College.

Capture of a Crasy Woman. A crazy colored weman, who was being brought through the city yesterday from the upper part of the county, on her way to the county insane asylum, scaped from her guards and raised a preeze about the court house. She held young babe in her arms, and defied anybedy to come near her. A large crowd gathered around, listening to her wild, idiotic speeches, when deputy sheriff Griffith, after considerable manœvring, slipped up behind her and closed his sinewy arms around her form-She was then marched to the jail and locked up for safe keeping. Grif. says that it was a tough job, and he felt like he would rather hug a bear, but when duty calls he always obeys, and would have gripped with her if she had been a saw mill set to split hickory logs.

Improvements to the Tryon Street The committee on the improvement of Tryon Street Methodist church held meeting night before last and decided to have the proposed improvements made and that, too, at ence. A plan designed by Mr. Jo Asbury was adopted. The present tower is to be torn down, and in its stead two towers, one on each front corner, are to be erected. The tower on the north corner will be considerably taller than that on the south corner. The entire front of the church will, of course, be remodeled and the interior is to be re-arranged. The total cost of the improvements will reach $4,000, and very nearly this amount is already in the hands of the building committee. The contract is now ready to let out, and as soon as it has been awarded, the work will com-

Sulphurets have long been a source of trouble to the gold miners of this section, and perhaps the only mine in the country where the presence of this mineral is not unwelcome is at the 150 foot level an immense vein of sulphuret, pure and unadulterated, is now being worked, and the mineral is being taken out in great quantities. The vein is four feet thick, and the sulphuret is as rich as any sulphuret can be. It is shipped in car loads to the furnaces at Newark, New Jersey, the only place in this country where it can be treated. On account of its rich quality high prices are paid for it, and the ewners are making about as much out of their trade in sulphurets as they are out of their gold ores. These works at New-ark, and a similar establishment in England, are the only two places in the world where the sulphuret can be world where the sulphuret can be treated It is worked up into sulphuric soid and blue vitriol, and the gold and copper which is extracted from it makes it a very valuable mineral to

Rev. G. D. Bernheim, D. D., of this city, a clergyman who is well known throughout the State, has received a call to Grace church, at Phillipsburg, N. J. and will leave with Mrs Bernheim for that place next week. He has not formally accepted the call, but it is understood that he will do so. His daughter, Miss Lisette Bernheim, who so successfully edits the At Home and Abroad Magazine, will remain bere, at least for a time, we are glad to learn. The Greenville Seducer Fled.

L W Floyd, the Greenville merchant who seduced Miss Kay, and who was shot one day last week by the ruined girl's father, has fled to parts unknown. He left his betel stealthily, and his friends refuse to reveal his whereabouts. The News says that he is probably gone permanently. It is not at all unlikely that another effort would have been made to kill him if he had remained here, although the News has no authority for saying so, except a general Knewledge of the state of public feeling and the disposition of the persons most deeply injured by the alleged crime of the refugee.

Why the Court Failed.

JudgeBond arrived in the city from Raleigh yesterday in a special car over the Carolina Central Railroad, and find ing that he was too late to hold Federal Court, that body having adjourned on Monday of last week, he boarded his car in the afternoon and went on to the mountain country. The Judge says that he sent a telegram to the United States Marshal at this place, last week in regard to holding the court over, but the messenger boy after hunting around town brought the message back to the office with the endorsement that Mr U S Marshal could not be found and that furthermore there was no man by that name living in the city. But for this circumstance we might have had a sessien of the Federal Court this week.

The Press Convention.

Our brethren of the press are anticipating a truly immense time at the meeting of the press association this the 3rd of July. The brethren after doing the mountains will turn their faces eastward and take in the pleasures of the seashore. Fain would we lay down our pencil and join in with the boys for a few day's recreation on the occasion, but our ticket on this journalistic train is a through one and permits of no lay over stops. To hear the pretty poems and glowing eloquence that the occasion will call forth, to watch the handsome members of the craft flirting with the girls and to witness the superiority of the body as a total abstinence society, are pleasures which we must per force forego. The South Carolina press association which meets at Gaffney's City, on the 3rd, will join their North Carolina brethren at Asheville.

The July Century. The striking portrait of John Brown in the July Century, and "Recollection of John Brown's Raid," by ex-Congressman Boteler, of Virginia, who was a spectator of the skirmish at Harper's Ferry expresses the Southern attitude toward Brown; and Frank B. Sanborn's "Comments of a Radical Aboli-Lionists" on the foregoing, lend unusual interest to the number. Both articles contain new and important information This portrait shows John Brown in the prime of life before grew his patrichal beard: it is after Woodman's painting and is engraved by Cole. The widow of John Brown, and John G. Whittier have expressed their satisfaction with the original portrait in notes which are printed in "Open Letters" of the same number. Another important contribution to the history of the John Brown era is General Stone's paper on "Washington on the Eve of the War." This officer, now better known as Stone Pasha of the Egyptian Army, was a colonel in the United States Army in 1861, and organized the District of Columbia militia for the defense of the Capital. He writes out of his special knowledge of the dangers that threatened the Capital in the few weeks preceding Lincoln's inauguration. The overthrow of the Philadelphia Ring by "The Philadelphia Committee of "One Hundred" affords E. V. Smalley a topic for a short essay on municipal reform. The literary features of the number are especially noteworthy. Joel Chandler Harris contributes a new batch of his fameus negro stories under the title, "Nights with Uncle Remus." They will be followed by others in subsequent numbers, the whole being selections from a new Uncle Remus
