Daily Journal-Observer

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Having effected other business arrangements, I have disposed of my interest in the CHARLOTTE JOURNAL. OBSERVER to my associates, Messrs, R. H. and H. W. Harris. On retiring, I have no valedictory to make, but desire simply to state that our relations have been pleasant, and to cordially commend the JOURNAL-OBSERVER to all my friends, and bespeak for it that support-which I would have wished had I remained connected with it. My successors are square, earnest Democrats, and I am confident will leave nothing undone to merit the support of the Democrats of Western North Carolina, whose outspoken representative it has been, and will continue to be under the new management. To them and to the patrons of the paper I wish every bless-

By the terms of this sale the Messra Harris release me from all liabilities as a member of the Journal Publishing Company or of the JOURNAL OBSERVER Publishing Company. Respectfully.

A. M. WADDELL. Cuarlotte, N. C., June 27th, 1883.

In parting with Col. Waddell the present management of the Journal. OBSERVER take pleasure in reciprocating his kindly sentiments, and in wishing him unbounded success in whatever he may undertake. It shall be our aim to keep the JOURNAL OB-SERVER up to that high rank in journalism which it attained under his gifted pen, and we are happy to state that never in its career were its promises more flattering or its prospects brighter.

No celebrity ever passed from this mortal stage to whom more dying words were attributed than to Charley Backus, the negro minstrel. This however, which he is said to have uttered in addressing his wife is the best, and the one that Charley would most likely prefer to go on record, "My soul is God's, but my heart is yours."

Disappointed Highwaymen.

HELENA, MONT. June 26 .- At 1 o'clock Saturday morning while the coach from Deer Lodge for Helena was crossing the main range of the Rocky Mountains, 18 miles west of this city, 2 men with handkerchiefs tied across the lower part of their faces stepped from the brush and ordered the driver to halt. Jno McCormick, post trader at Fort Missouls, was on the box with the driver, and drawing a six shooter opened fire on the highwaymen. One was badly hurt and crawled back into the brush, the other returned McCormack's are seriously wounding one of the wheel horses. The team took fright and ran and was soon out of the robber's range. Three other passengers were on board, but were unharmed Treasurer Cox was on the coach follow-ing the one attacked.

Japanese Schools.

With a view of training young men for special professions there are also schools and colleges in connection with various departments, as also a school of foreign languages, medicine, translation, etc. Seperate institutions are established for the education of girls and are meeting with good success.

UNCLESAM'S REVENUE.

Statement of Receipts from Custom and Internal Revenue.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The customs receipts to-day were over one million dollars and the receipts from this source have recently been very heavy owing to the withdrawal from bond of ugar, opium and other articles upon which increased duties go into effect

July 1st.

The internal revenue receipts during the month of May, 1888, were $346,818 greater during the same month of 1882. There was an increase of $231,729 from spirits, an increase of $220.527 from tobacco, an increase of $167,363 from beer, a decrease of $18,490 from banks and bankers and an increase of $118,752 from miscellaneous sources during the first eleven months of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1882, and 1883, shows as follows: Total receipts from spirits 1882 $64,514,092, 1883 $68,852,655, an increase of $4,338,568; from tobacco 1882 $43,450,981, 1883 $38,762,075, a decrease of $3,688,906; from fermented liquors 1882 $14,419,644, 1883 $15,051,498, an increase of $631,854; from banks and bankers 1882 $3,888,721, 1883 $3,748,561. decrease of $140,160; miscellaneous 1882 $7,334,571, 1883 $7,249,969, a decrease $84,602; total receipts in 1882 $188,608,009, 1888 $134,664,758, an inrease of $1,056,749.

Crook Explains How the Hostiles Got Upon the Reservation.

Washington, June 27.—Secretary Lincoln to day received the following dispatch from Gen. Crook, dated Whip ple Barracks yesterday: "The report that the Chirahuahuas have been forced upon the San Carlos reservation is incorrect. The facts in the case are that those who had surrendered were sent forward under a guard of four com-panies of cavalry and Iadian scouts, my instructions to Capt. Crawford being that the Chirchahuas should be kept with the scouts until other arrangements could be made. The Chirchushuas who went after their families told me that they would join the column at the Line, or should we have gone too fast then they would follow along the mountains and come in at San Carlos. We have no means of communicating with them until they come in at the agency, and if the first arrivals find that those who started back with us are not with the scouts we destroy all chances of ever reducing them to a state of peace. The Indiana on the San Carlos are in no danger of being contaminated by contact with the Chirchuahuas. As a matter of humanity I am anxious to get in the last of this band so as to leave nothing undone for the recover of the captive boy.'

Col. A. M. Waddell.

As will be seen by announcement elsewhere, Col. A. M. Waddell, late editor in chief of this paper, has sold out his interest and retires from the editorial chair. Colonel Waddell and family left last evening for the Warm Springs, where they expect to spend the summer. In parting with col. Waddell, we take occasion to say that a polished gentleman, and an urbane, genial and warm hearted man, has bidden us adieu. Pleasant in his every association, with a kind word for all with whom he was thrown in daily contact, our feelings cannot be other than that of regret at the severance of the ties that have bound us so pleasantly. Col. Waddell has other aims in view and we trust his services will find recognition more pleasantly and profitably than could fall to his lot in journalistic fields.

Yesterday was a bad day for shifting cars in the train yard of the Richmon & Danville Railroad. Early in the forenoon a great crash was heard down by the cotton platform, and a crowd rushed there to find a big freight engine in trouble on the bridge over Fourth street. A misplaced switch threw the engine from one track almost on to another, knocking up cross-ties and dirt in a lively manner. The fact of the down the high embankment. It was a bad wreck, and it required a hard days work to get the engine on the rails again. The front trucks were considerably damaged, and the engine was slightly injured otherwise. Down the track, about fifty yards ahead of this wreck, the big shifting engine of the Richmond & Danville road was seen to be in trouble. It bounced a switch and every wheel left the track. A squad of men were at work for several hours with levers and jack screws before it was righted. The two wrecking squads were in hearing distance of each other, and they say that if all their "horse talk" could be strung on a telegraph wire it would reach from here to Dan-

A VERY GRAVE CHARGE. Arrest of Two Young Men on the Charge of Robbing the Rails--Exammation Waived and Bail Allowed in the Sum of $600--Charges Brought by the Postoffice Inspector.

All day yesterday Mr. Henry B. Gil lespie, late postmaster at Davidson College, and Mr. James F. Gamble, his late assistant in office, were confined in a room at the Buford House, in charge of a United States marshal. At five o'clock in the afternoon, the three men accompanied by Mr. L. B. Lamson postoffice inspector, left on the train for Davidson College, where an investiga-tion of the affairs of the office at that place are to be made to-day. An investigation of a little stealing affair in which Mr. Gillespie and Mr. Gamble were said to be concerned had already been made. Gillespie was arrested in this city last Tuesday, but as a publication of the matter at that time would probably have defeated the ends of justice and prevented the capture of his accomplice, we refrained from making mention of it. Tuesday evening Mr. Lamson left for Davidson College, taking Gilleapie with him, and yesterday morning he returned to the city, bringing Gillespie and Gamble together. They were taken before U. S. Commissioner Waring for trial on the charge of robbing the mail, but waived examina tion and each was put under bond of $600. Being under charge of Mr. Lamson, they did not give bond. Mr. Lamson is not through with them yet, as besides the robberg there are alleged irregularities in the Davidson College postoffice to investigate, and he wants their presence there until the investigation shall have been made, after which he will bring them back to this city, when they may either mails of $290, and the money, the original bills, were found in Gillespie's pocket when he was arrested in this city Tuesday morning. The circumstances of the robbery are about these About four weeks ago, Gillespie was turned out of the postoffice at D. C. and Mr. Jas. H. Gouger was in in his stead. Gamble, who was assistant to Gillespie, remained in the office as assistant to the new postmaster, and himself and Gillespie had free access to the office. On the 18th of June, Mr. Gouger put $290 of the surplus office funds in a registered package and forwarded it to the department at Richmond. The package came to Charlotte, where it was put in one of the special through pouches and forwarded direct to Washington City, thence to Richmond, without having come in contact with the hands of the route agents These special through pouches are provided with a dial, or disk, that changes a number every time the pouch is opened, and it is beyond the power of any man to open the pouch without it being discovered. The pouch had not been opened when it arrived at Richmond. The registered package of the Davidson College postmaster was found in the pouch, but on the package being opened, it was found to be empty. It was clear that the robbery had been done in the Davidson College office or while it was en route to the Charlotte office. On the 19th day of June, Gillespie, through Mr. Gouger, forwarded a registered package to the Raleigh office containing $115, the balance due the Government by Gillespie. This package arrived at Raleigh minus its contents. Last Monday morning the case was put

Mr. Lamson's charge is that Gillespie and Gamble robbed the $290 package, and on the next day, Gillespie gave the postmaster $115 of this money to forward to Raleigh to cover his indebtedness to the office, and then stole the $115 back again before it left the Davidson Cellege office.

Mr. Lamson states that Gillespie and Gamble were just on the eve of leaving the State, and Gamble, on being arrest ed, admitted that his trunk was packed and he was getting ready to go West-The $290 was all in $20 bills except one $10, and was all new, crisp greenbacks. On being asked where he got the money Gillespie stated that he made it in the revenue business. Neither of the two would make any statement whatever in regard to the affair. They will be tried for embezziement in addition to robbery of the mails.

Both the young men whose names are thus unfortunately brought before the public, come from most respectable parentage. Gillespie's father is wellknown in this county, is a man of considerable means, and a man who enjoys the esteem and respect of all, and there is not a better man in the county than young Gamble's father. It is one of these unfortunate cases that the newspapers are once in a while called upon to report.

During the past five months, Mr. Lamson has hunted down and captured seventeen postoffice embezzlers and mail robbers, two of whom are now in the Chester, Illinois, penitentiary, one in Albany penitentiary, and the others in jails, either under or awaiting sentence. He has never failed in a single effort at tracing up a case, and has never let a man escape.

on the 28d instant, arrested at Patterson, in Caldwell county, J Harrison Pennell, on a charge of "raising" a gov. ernment check from $5 to $500. Pennell is a contractor on several mail routes in this State: is a prominent citizen of Caldwell, closly connected with some of the best families in this State, and has hitherto borne a good character, though having become recently involved in financial troubles. When first arrested he denied all knowledge of the check in question, but afterwards stated that he had had a similar one, which he said he had lost. Sometime in May the check was presented at Cranberry, in Mitchell county, and sold to a mercantile firm there, Bryan & Lewis, for $400 in cash, balance "in goods and on time," by a person claiming to be "J H Purlear." On its arrival in Washington, and the discovery made that it had been tampered with, orders were issued for the arrest of the party selling it; and Deputy Marshal Davis had been for two weeks in Wilkes, Alexander and Caldwell on the lookout for "Purlear." Returning home through Patterson on the 28d he accidently met Mr Pennell in the road, recognizing in him the party filling the description of the alleged swindler. Pennell denying all knowledge of the matter, tried to prove an "alibi," but failed. His house was searched, and the peculiar clothing he had on at the time of passing the check was found and identified by being torn and darneda patched place in coat, pants and boots' A colored finger nail also led to his identification. After his arrest the prisoner offered his horse and $50 to the Marshal to release him; failing in this he made an attempt at flight, but was caught and taken on to Bakersville jail. Great regrets are expressed in Caldwell county at the occurrence and much sympathy manifested there for Pennell's wife and family.

AN ACCIDENTAL SUICIDE.

Sad Pate of a Little Daughter of Mr. L. C. Johnston-Hanged by the Neck in a Halter and Found Cold in Death by her Parents. The sad and distressing death of a little six year old daughter of Mr. Lawrence C. Johnston, of Huntersville, this county, was reported in the city yesterday morning by a neighbor who came in to get a burial casket for the body of the unfortunate little girl. Mr. Johnston had been away from home Tuesday, and, when he returned in the afternoon, he was horrified, on going to the stable, to find the lifeless body of his little child dangling from a halter that was fastened to a hinge in the door. From the surrounding indications it appears that the little child had been standing on a trough with her head in the halter, when her feet slipped, and the halter, drawing around her chin, held her suspended until life was extinct. One end of the halter had been thrown over a hinge at the top of the door, and was tied below in a manner forming a loop, and as the little girl fell the loop caught under her chin, drawing her head back against the door facing, holding it tightly in that position. Her neck was broken by the fall. When her father left that morning the little girl was playing about the barn door, and it is supposed that she must have begun playing with the halter and the sad accident happened shortly after he left. No suspicions of foul play are entertained, as the circumstances clearly indicate that the unfortunate little girl met her death in the manner above de-

The Asheville Creaker,

The Ashaville Citizen waves its tomahawk threateningly at our scalp this week, all because we invade its territory for locals. A railroad man, who was there at the time, told us that a trestle between Alexander's and Warm Springs was washed away last Sunday. Yesterday he reiterated his assertion. and told us that the trestle had really been washed away. If the citizen will interview the road master and he says we are mistaken, then-why, we will take it back. It was given to us on good reliable authority, such as we had no reason in the world to doubt, and as an item of news it went into type. When we get an item of news, and one which we have reason to believe to be true, our tongue must cleave to the roof of our mouth and both our hands must be palsied to prevent it going into print. Who it may hurt is a matter that never concerns the news editor.

SHELBY DOTS.

SHELBY, June 27.-Our town is extremely lonesome since the Baptist Sunday School Convention. Our streets wore the appearance of a city during the convention, but now they almost look like the streets of a backwoods country town. Nothing but the convention has been spozen of scarcely since; however, every one seems to have been greatly refreshed by the presence of the delegates, and nothing but the greatest enjoyment is expressed as having been experienced by our citizens, and the wish of every one seems to be: "Send us many more such."

Refreshing rains have visited us within the past few days, and in the immediate vicinity around our town. They were greatly needed, and, of course, are greatly enjoyed. Our county, however, has not suffered for rain in any portion that we know of, in fact, from some parts we hear the cry of "too much rain."
