A BAD SHAKE UP.

Unaccountable Accident on the Air Line Road - Engineer, Fireman and Route Agents Injured.

The accident that occurred on the Air Line road Thursday evening, mention of which was made in this paper yesterday morning, was a much more serious accident than was at first reported, and resulted in painful injuries to the engineer, fireman and route agents. John Pettus was the engineer in charge and at the time the accident occurred, he was moving slowly along, at the rate of about twenty miles per hour. The track was in perfect order and the two shining lines of steel rails could be seen for miles ahead of the engine, presenting the appearance of a perfectly clear track.

On the train were about fifty South Carolina editors, en route to Asheville, to join the North Carolina Press Association. They came through the city at midnight, and Mr Eccles had fifty lunches ready for the famished crowd.

The Concord Times notes that "Mr Ed McDonald and family have gone to Charlotte to live." Mr McDonald moved to our city so as to get the benefits of the graded school for his children.

On the other hand, the railroad officials are certain that they have bagged the game. They declare that the case was carefully worked, and that when the trial comes up there will be an abundance of evidence to secure a conviction.
