JULY CROP REPORT.

Abundant Rains, in Some Sections to Much Grass, but, on the Whole, Sat-

The rains were general up to the 15th or 20th of June, and local showers have been frequent since. There has been an excess of moisture interfering with the cultivation and promoting the growth of grass. Clean fields are found only in favored districts, and on the lands of prompt and pushing cultivators. Since June 20th the growth has been rapid. The recent distribution of moisture has been quite unequal. Adams county. Mississippi, has had showers daily for five weeks, and Pike county for six to eight weeks. The general average of the condition has advanced from 86 to the three thousandth national bank 90. Last July there was an improve-ment of three points, from 80 to 92. The returns of July since 1870 have in-dicated a higher condition than in June, except in 1871,1873 and 1879. The spring weather was too variable in tempera weather was too variable in tempera-ture and moisture, as it usually has been in former years, for the highest condition of the plant. The only retro-grade is reported for Arkansas, where the loss of three points is made from excessive rain, cool nights and injuries from chinch bugs, red ants and rust. There is promise of improvement dur-ing July. A gain of ten points has been made in the northern zone, North Carolina and Tennessee; seven in Georgia; six in South Carolina; four in Texas; three in Mississippi; two in Virginia and one in Florida; Alabama and Louisiana stand as in June. There has been some improvement in winter wheat in Connecticut, New York, Virginia, South Carolina, Texas, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas and California, which adcondition from 75 to 79. The spring wheat average has advanced from 98 to 100. The indications of July point to the winter wheat crop of fully three hundred million bushels and the product of about one hundred and twenty-

-Our present board of aldermen is composed of a lot of good fellows who are never disposed to turn a deaf ear to suggestions for improvements, and with their aid, by and by, the JOURNAL OB-SERVER will have the town in good order. That piece of bad pavement is to be remedied as soon as the stone layers reach the square, which will be within the course of the next few days. Two Deaths in Statesville.

Statesville has lately been called upon to mourn the loss of several of her prominent and respected citizens, and on last Monday two others were added to the death list, and a gloom has been cast over the people of that town by the loss, in the same day, of Sheriff Themas Watts and Major Lanier. The latter had been very ill for several weeks, but the death of the former was more sudden and unexpected. Both were good men and influential citizens, and their loss is deeply felt in Statesville. The two bodies were buried yesterday.

The leg was amputated Monday afternoon, and the unfortunate colored man survived the shock just twenty four hours. Affre ALEXANDRIA, July 16.—It is said that Bey Khandeel who was prefect of Alexandris at the time of the riots and massacres here last year has been found guilty of the charge of failing to perform his duties, and of conniving at the riots and has been sentenced to seven est in his case from first to last and its sad termination is felt with feelings of real regret. The case is a sad one, and is made doubly so from the fact that the poor darkey was opposed to having the operation performed, but finally yielded to the persuasions of his friends. The doctors state that Alfred would have withstood the operation all right but for the fact that he had been an immoderate drinker, and his system was too much enfeebled to sustain vitality. Doctor Post was unaware of Alfred's drinking propensity until after the first operation was performed. The funeral will take place this afternoon THE CITY'S REVENUE.

If the seeker after cool, mountain breezes, and pure health-giving water, is in cool earnest, he can find few spots on this terrestrial ball that will compare favorably with the White Sulphur Springs, just west of Waynesville, the county seat of Haywood county. The springs proper are situated in one of the most romantic spots to be found in Western North Carolina, justly called the "Switzerland of America," and surrounded as they are by the blue peaks one involuntarily exclaims: "Methinks, in all God's glorious world, there's scarce a loveller sight. Than this sweet Haywood valley rare, bethed in the softened light; And sure if there's a spot on earth nearest to Heaven's gate. Heaven's gate, It must be this Utopian vale in our fair Southe State" of the Balsam and other mountains.

But this is not all; the mind can readily conjecture that it was here that Dr Johnson located his hero in his world renowned Rasselas, and as we glance up at the verdant sides of the overtowering mountains, listening to the purling, murmuring of the Rich land Creek, fanned by the most refresh ing breezes, and drinking the most delicious of waters, we can read again the story of the Abyssinian prince who was ocked up in the spacious valley in the kingdom of Ambara.

The springs are a short mile from Waynesville, which is only twelve miles west of Pigeon River station, on the Ducktown branch of the Western North Carolina railroad, and at present are al troupes. Stealing Cotton From the Platform. A series of depredations have lately been made on the cotton platform by thieves, and several bales of cotton have been stolen. Night before last a bale belonging to R. M. Miller & Sons, was stolen from the platform and carried some distance off by the thieves, to a vacant lot, where they unhooped it, divided the cotton out among themselves and departed with it. They took the bagging also, but left, the hoops lying on the ground. Constable Orr was put to work on the case and pretty soon found cotton hid away in several negro cabins. Several arrests were made but the parties were released for want of evidence. Late in the evening Cor ble Ore arrested a colored man named John Weeks and locked him up in jail. Weeks stole the cotton and sold it to Mr. John Millersham, mattress maker. Weeks will be tried before Justice Mc-Ninch to-day.

OUR ASTRETICAL POLICEMEN.

Bound to Look Stunning and Twirl Their Waxen Musiache With White Gloved Fingers---Also to Keep Their Eyes Open and Their Feet in Circula-tion-The New Regime.

There is to be quite a new order of things in police circles under the provisions of Alderman Robertson's ordinance, passed by the board at the meeting last Monday night, and it is a debateable question whether or not the Charlotte policeman's lot will in the future be quite so happy as it has been. The wielders of the billy will have to spruce up and dress like it's Sunday for them all the time. The only fear will be that some of our summer showers will spoil them, and they will have to go through the laundry and be "done up" again after each rain. Under the new regime they are required to patrol the streets singly, and not allowed to go in a bar room except to make an arrest, or on call of the proprietor, yet they are required to promptly report every case of unlawful retailing that comes to their knowledge. They are not permitted to go into a private house or enclosure except in direct pursuit of felon, or unless they know a felony is being committed on such premises, or by request of the proprietor. They are not permitted to stand about the street corners, nor to loaf on the streets, at the hotels, depots or other places, on penalty of a fine of one dollar for each offence. This regulation will be apt to go hard with the policemen for a time, as for years past, through constant evening practice, they have kept a polish on the four lamp posts in Independence Square.

The regulation that will strike joy to the hearts of the barbers, and cause a rise in the quotations for "Mason's Challenge," is the one requiring the policemen to appear on duty each day cleanly shaved and with their brogans polished. In the way of uniforms, the winter and a summer suit. During summer the chief of police will wear a dark blue cutaway coat, with rolling pants and a white straw hat complete his uniform. His official badge must be changed for a black felt, with cord and acorn and appropriate insignia. The members of the police force are to wear dark blue sack coats with police buttons, dark blue pants and white hat in summer, and in winter their sack coat is to be changed for a dark blue straight breasted frock coat, and the regulation police hat is to take the place of the white straw. They will be required to wear white gloves every day, except in rainy weather, and to wear their belt and billy either over or under their coats. For each violation of these provisions they will be fined one dollar. The chief and policemen are required to buy these uniforms out of their own funds.

Opera House Last Night. Last night marked the first appearance before the public of the Charlotte Opera Company in "Pinafore," under the management of Dr A Bidez. The play is familiar to most of our people, who have seen it often before, but never with more real enjoyment, perhaps, than last night. The company have been in preparation for the . play under Dr Bidez's management for about two months past, and the success scored by each individual actor in the play last night must have been s source of pride and gratification to the patient and persevering Dr Bidez.

There were thirty-two voices on the stage, and the choruses were well brought out, the voices being full, clear and in perfect accord. Ralph Rackstraw's (F Smith) falsetto was admirable and fairly charmed the house. F L Simmons impersonated Capt Corcoran in a most excellent manner, and Mr L Perdue, as Sir Joseph Porter was first rate, but perhaps the most perfect character, the one best sustained and most successfully carried out, was that of Dick Deadeye, by Mr Jimmie Newcombe. Miss M Frazier made a charming Little Buttercup, while Miss C Frazier made a Josephine second to none that have been seen here in professionsweet and winsome as Cousin Hebe. Mr W Bradshaw as Boatswain, and Mr B Bernstein as Boatswain's Mate, and each fine in their several parts.

Between the two acts Prof. Lasne treated the audience to a flute solo vociferously encored. Prof. Lasne's performances on the flute are nothing short of grand and his equal is hard to to find. The play may be set down as a rare success, and one that was enjoyed with genuine pleasure by a large house A matinee performance will be given this afternoon, commencing at three e'clock.

A Cow Thiel Almost Caught.

Early yesterday morning a negro man named John Alexander approached Mr Will Robinion, leading a fine cow which he offered to sell Mr Robinson for $25. To push the trade, he finally came down to $10, when Mr Robinson, feeling satisfied that the cow had been stolen, told the negro to wait there until he went up town to get the money to pay for the cow. Shortly after he left, the negro evidently became uneasy and got the idea into his head that trouble was coming. So when Mr Robinson, accompanied by policeman Hunter, returned, he found that the negro had fled. Policeman Hunter gave chase, but the darkey finally escaped him. The cow was subsequently claimed by a lady who lives out near the smelting works.

Southern Cultivator for July. The midsummer issue of the Southern Cultivator is promptly on our table and in its varied and extensive array of entertaining reading, presents an attraction for all people interested in agriculture that can hardly be surpassed. We find in it a neat compliment from an exchange (published in South Carolina) which we fully endorse; "An examination of this excellent publication for sometime past shows it to be the foremost journal of its kind in the South, and for this section is unapproached by any agricultural paper of which we have any knowledge." Among the many interesting articles of this number are Dr. Jones' "Thoughts for the Month," and the "Inquiry Department" conducted by him, the latter a most admirable feature of the paper and one which we find in no other paper anything like as extensive as in the Cultivator; editorials on various subjects, including cotton, the grasses etc, a full discussion of Jute culture, Poultry, Stock, Grange and Fashion Departments, further discussion of "Dirt Roads," "The Family Circle," "Children's Department," and much else which we have not space to men-
