THE WIRE WOKERS. A Delegation Representing the Operators Call upon the Superintendent and

Present Their Demands.

NEW YORK, July 16 .- At 1:80 o'clock this afternoon the committee represent ing the league of American Telegraph Operators visited the Western Union building and was received by General Eckert, acting president. The commit-tee numbered seven and included mem bers from New Orleans, Louisville, St. Louis, Pittsburg and Chicago. It is said that no representative from New York (but there is said to be 700 of them in the city) was to be found on the com mittee. After being cordially received by Gen Eckert, the chairman stated the object of their mission and presented briefly a written address to the officers of the company signed by the members of the committee. In it they ask that the company to grant the operators throughout the country a general increase of 15 per cent for their work. They also ask for reduction in the hours of their work. The petition closes with the request that a reply be given at the earliest possible moment. Eckert then requested the committee to furnish him with a full list of operators they represented and in whose be-half they appear. This the committee agreed to do and shortly afterwards

No remarks were interchanged be-tween the officials of the Western Union Company and the committee, be wond these incident to presentation of petition referred to. It is understood that some time will be required by Gen Eckert. It is further stated that there Eckert. It is further stated that there is not the slightest likelihood of the demand of 15 per cent being complied with. Whether either side will be prepared to compromise has not yet been determined. Meanwhile the entire force of operators in this city continue at work and reports from all parts of the country indicate a simiall parts of the country indicate a similar condition of affairs in all the other cities. Eckert and various officers of the Company held a conference imme diately after the visit of the committee but representatives of the press were un able to secure an audience with any of the numerous officials of the company, who were understood to be discussing the course of action regarding the demand of the operators.

SOMETHING FOR ENGLAND.

Reports of the Highhanded Doings of the French at Tamatave Confirmed.

London, July 16.—A dispatch from Durban to the Times says a protestant bardment of Tamatave. Much misery exists among the British subjects residing there. The Governor of Mauritius has a steamer to bring away the refugees. The French admiral lowered the consular flags and forbade their rehoisting until foreign representatives had been accredited. The captain of the English war vessel, the Dryad, has offended the French by landing a guard of marines at the British consulate and placing his boats at the disposal of the fugitives.

A dispatch to the Standard from Tamatave dated June 21 confirms the report of the arrest of an English mis-sionary by the French. Three other English residents were placed under temporary arrest. Communication with the British men of war was forbidden. The French refugees from the capital who it had been feared had been mur-dered at Tamatave arrived in safety having been well treated in the interior

The Baltimore Telegraphers Demand

BALTIMORE, July 16.—A committee of three, representing the Telegraphers Brotherhood, called to-day at the office of the Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph Company and were received by Mr. Stewart, superintendent of the company. The committee presented to Mr. Stewart a paper or address similar to that presented to Gen. Eckert of the Western Union Company in New York to-day, asking an increase of pay and a reduction in the hours of work, &c. The address was afterwards handed to Geo P Frick, General Manager of the Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph Company, and the committee were informed that the matter would be given deliberate and respectful consideration and an answer returned.

The Statue of the Republic.

Paris, July 16.—Many of the flags displayed yesterday in honor of the National fete were draped with crape for Louise Michel. After the unveiling of the statue of the Republic two an-archists stuck a black flag upon the statue. The people surrounding the statue immediately seized the flag and tore it to pieces. One arrest was made. Black flags were displayed in some of the obscure streets of the city. The unfavorable weather somewhat dampened the enthusiasm of the people during the day but at night the festivities were of surpassing brilliancy.

The Stolen Ledger Found. NASHVILLE, July 16—The missing ledger, in which the balances of the deposits were kept, which was stolen from the State Treasurer's office last week, was found this morning on the steps of the Artisan office. It was enclosed in a paper wrapper addressed to the editor of the Artisan with anonymous instruction to turn it over to the proper authorities and make his own terms about the reward. The book upon examination was found to be intact without mutilations or erasures in any part.

Accepts the Compromise-Big Transactions in Lard.

CHICAGO, July 16.—Every creditor of the late suspended firm of McGeoch. Everingham & Co has, it is said, signed the 5 per cent compromise, and $450,000 cash to pay the unsecured creditors is to be sent here Tuesday. It is expected that the firm will be reorganized and resume business in about a month. Its commission business before the failure was worth $300,000 a year. It is stated that within the last four weeks 120,600 tierces of lard, worth over $3,000,000, have been shipped from this

Carrying Out the Sunday Law. JEFFERSON CITY, Mo, July 16.—In observance of the Sunday law all saloons here were closed yesterday and all business was suspended except in botels and drug stores. Dealers were not allowed to sell newspapers. Saloon men took initiative in compelling a general suspension of business.

Interest from the Palmetto State. The Columbia correspondent of the Charleston News and Courier noting the progress made on the great canal along the Congree, says: It may not be known to some, but the fact is that this same Columbia Canal is in some respects or rather will be when completed, the largest canal in the world. It will be two and seven eights of a mile in length, extending from a few hun-dred yards below Congaree Bridge to Smith's Branch, or Bull Sluice as it is sometimes called; its width at top will be two hundred and twenty-three feet be two hundred and twenty-three feet, the banks gradually sloping to a bot-tom of one hundred and ten feet (thirty five feet broader at bottom than the great Suez Canal) with a depth in its shallowest part of fifteen feet, and in some places double that depth. The outer or river bank will be thirty-one feet on top and five feet above the highest water ever known in the Congaree, which was the famous '52 freshet, and this bank will be riprapped on the outer side to strengthen it against any possible breakage or giving away. One hundred and seventy convicts are now engaged in the work, each hand removes about thirteen cubic yards per day and the good work goes steadily on to completion.

Baseful Advertisements Discussed from the Pulpit-Boliness and Virtue and Charity in Business--- Men Who Advertise Stories -- "Holfness Unte the Lord" on Every Printing Press

"In that day shall there be upon the bells of the horses, Holiness unto the Lord; and the pots in the Lord's house shall be like the bowls before the altar. Yea, every pot in Jerusalem and in Judah shall be holiness unto the Lord of Hosts: and they that sacrifice shall come and see therein: and in that day there shall be no more the Canaanite in the house of the Lord of Hosts."—Zachariah xiv: 20 and 21.

From this text Rev. Neander M. Woods delivered an interesting discourse in the Second Presbyterian church last Sunday, in the course of which he adverted to some of the evils of journalism of the present day, both in the secular and religious press. In his introduction, Mr Woods referred to the universal belief of Christians respecting a blessed period, yet future, when all nations shall be converted to Christ, and when the Church delivered from her enemies and purified from all her sins and defilements, and shall enjoy a long season of peace and holiness second only in the final rest of heaven itself. To this blessed period the prophet refers in the text-'in that day,' shall all men be so devoted to the service of God, and so zealously intent on doing His will that the present distinctions between 'holy and profane' shall be abolished and all avocations and pleasures shall be as pure and sacred and acceptable to God as our best acts of religious worship now are. The motto, "Holiness unto the Lord," which formerly was inscribed only upon the sacred mitre of the High Priest, shall be written on every bank, counting room, factory, shop, and place of amusement in the world-upon all classes and ranks of men-upon all the days of the week, because a loyal regard to God and holiness and virtue and charity shall thus characterize all pursuits and hallow all, even the commonest concerns of everyday life. Mr Woods then undertook to point out in detail a few of the more important changes certain to occur in the social and religious affairs of men as the holiness, virtue and love. The first notable result mentioned was, that all of the various callings and avocations of men whereby money is made, would be so planned and conducted as to be as the most devout acts of religious worship, "Holiness unto the Lord" would then be inscribed upon everything connected with getting gain indicative of the integrity, unselfishness and modesty then to characterize business of every kind. Under this head he showed for one thing that men would not have any disreputable callings or trades but only such as were honorable and pure and suited to benefit and bless and ennoble all in any way connected there with. For another thing the callings and trades and trades and professions that are honorable, would all be pursued and conducted only in the use of holy means. All those practices and devices which now disgrace honorable callings would disappear and be condemned as mean and hateful and unworthy. For instance, he referred to the prevalent customs of most business men all over the world to-day in respect to advertising their wares and commodities for sale. He noted the fact, which no well informed man can deny, that the great majority of the advertisements we now see in newspapers all over the world | fell from a tree and received a severe are full of falsehood and immodest boasting. This was characterized as one of the corrupt and corrupting features of modern civilization which is largely facilitated by the printing presses of the world. The idea of putting into newspapers only such assertions about one's business, stock in trade, &c, as could be sworn to as true, and only such as were modest and respectful and unselfish seems never to enter the heads of the majority of advertisers. What would be esteemed barefaced lying or gross bragging in a parlor among a few friends is counted as smartness and business enterprise in the advertising columns of the papers.

He called special attention to the fact that the religious papers were equally with secular papers guilty of allowing advertisers to say in their columns what the editors and proprietors well knew was utterly false or unseemly in regard to the various articles advertised for sale. You can hardly pick up a religious paper even without having flaunted in your face some great brazen-faced lie about some patent medicine warranted to cure everything. These things would not be so bad if all the readers of the papers were well-informed and discriminating. Many of you know that an advertisement, as a rule, is not to be trusted as a truthful representation of matters, but many ignorant people will spend their money and give their confidence to sham enterprises or commodities simply because they rely upon the pious editor of the paper in which they are puffed. "In that day" we may count upon it that the newspapers, both secular and religious will contain no misleading advertisements. because upon every printing press and the Lord."

THE MeSMITHS DOWNED.

The Statesville Boys Come Along and Carry Off the Belt-Interesting Game of Baseball.

Statesville, and the McSmiths, of Charlotte, resulted in a signal victory for the former club, who came out the winners by a score of 12 to 4. This is just returning the compliment the McSmiths paid to the Osceolas in Statesville on June 14th, when the latter were defeated by a score of 30 to 13. The game yesterday was a splendid one and was witnessed by a large crowd. The Osceolas started out splendidly, making four runs the first inning, two the second and four the fourth. The Ma-Smiths made half of all their runs on the first inning. Some bad playing was done by the latter club almost at the start and was kept up more or less throughout the game, but it was not all bad. Brockenborough, on the first base did some splendid work. Garrett in the field and as pitcher did some fine playing, one of his fly catches being particularly well done. Tom Stewart, second base also played well. The Osceolas played finely, even surprisingly well, and not a man blundered. Peele's catching behind the bat was something that got away with the McSmith boys. The game was played on the professional order and the baseball of to-day is quite a different thing to what it used to be, most of the work now depending on the catcher, whose eye must be sharp and his aim well trained. The game lasted one hour and thirty-eight minutes. Matters now stand even between these two clubs, but the third and decisive game is soon to be played. It is understood that the McSmith nine will challenge the Oscehlas for the third game, which will be played at Davidson College, at some time yet to be decided upon. The following is the Sad Death.

Young Edith, daughter of Mr. Wm. H. About three weeks ago the young girl contusion on the head, back of the ear From this hurt she soon suffered the most excruciating pain, and though closely attended by a physician she continued to grow worse. A few days ago the depression in her skull was discovered and was found to be softening. The softening continued until Sunday afternoon when the young sufferer died. Rev. Neander M. Woods conducted the funeral services from the residence yesterday morning, after which the body was escorted to Elmwood cemetery for interment. The deceased was aged nine years and eight mouths. The afflicted family are deeply and truly sympathized with by our entire community.

Mineral Water, Gold and Copper the Gas Works.

Mr. Linton, superintendent of the as works, is unearthing wonders since the excavation for the new gas holder was commenced, and now has on the gas works premises a mineral spring, a gold mine, a copper lode and a rock quarry. The excavation for the big gas holder is about twenty-five feet deep and for the most part is through a bed of solid rock, to dislodge which the frequent blasts of dynamite have shaken up the town. The mineral spring was first discovered, and a well has been dug into which the water, which is strongly iron, is turned and saved. Next the gold vein was struck and next came the copper. The vein of the latter is a large one and the ore is rich. The excavation is not yet com-plete and Supt. Linton is anxiously awaiting to see what will turn up next.

The baseball fever is now in full blast and next Friday evening the boss game of the season is to be played by the Oleomagarine nine on the Graded School grounds, against any nine that will hazard a game with 'em. Ned Glavin, the captain of the club, as pitcher will put the balls in hot and Dr.

Another Match Came of Baseball,

A Spiteful Negro Cuts Up a Lot of Har-

A colored man named Milton Forney, was yesterday sent to jail for cutting to pieces a saddle and lot of harness belonging to Mr Allen Cruse, in whose impley the negro formerly worked as a drayman. This piece of vandalism was wrought by the negro out of simple spite. About a week ago he was arrested by the police for some violation of the laws and was duly fined by the mayor. Not being able to pay the fine. Forney was put to work breaking rocks for the streets. He applied to Mr Cruse for money to pay his fine, but Mr Cruse declined giving it to him, and the negro worked until his fine was paid, gaining his liberty Saturday. That night he went to Mr Cruse's stables and with a sharp knife cut to pieces a saddle and six sets of harness, one a double set, new and fine. One set of harness destroyed belonged to the mail wagon. After doing this diabolical work, the negro went home to his wife and in the presence of two witnesses remarked that he had just "played h-l down to old Cruse's stable." Officer Geo Far rington had Forney arrested and locked up by 12 o'clock Saturday night. The negro was yesterday arraigned before the mayor, who put him under a bond of $100 for his appearance for trial by the Inferior court. Forney could not give bail and was locked up. The harness were almost completely rained

The attention of our readers is called to the advertisement in this morning's paper of this well known institution of learning. This school was first opened in 1842, and its doors have never since been closed, and now a new college building is to take the place of the old. Mr. Samuel Sloan, the distinguished architect of Philadelphia, who has designed some of the finest public buildings in the country, has completed the plan for the new building. It is to be of gothic design, two stories in height. The lower floor will be divided into class rooms for the preparatory departments and a spacious calisthenic room. Culbreth The day school has outgrown its present accommodations, being larger new than ed to give the little ones large sunny rooms, looking southeast and southwest, with all the modern convenience for thorough work. The upper story of the building will contain, besides other rooms, a very beautiful studio. Its dimensions will be sixty-four by twenty six feet. The ceiling will be open, and finished in oiled woods. By means of four skylights and side windows, furnished with panel shutters, the light will be perfectly regulated for all purposes of art. They will be so arranged that the whole can be converted into a gallery not surpassed by any in the South. The present teacher of art, who has achieved an enviable reputation during the two years she has been at St. Mary's, will remain in charge of the department. Its growth-during the past year has made the new studio a necessity. Ground is to be broken at once, and the whole building will be in thorough working order before cold
