> Cincinnati Times-Star: So far this is one of the most quiet campaigns ever known in this State. No one seems excited over the prospects, not even the candidates themselves. All this probably means that when the fight fairly opens up in September, the fight will be a spirited one, on the "short, sharp and decisive principle."

> Members of the Corn and Flour Exchange in Baltimore cheered the striking telegraphers as they filed out of their building Thursday, though the strike could not fail to prove of great inconvenience to business. In New York and other cities the people on the streets made similar demonstrations as the strikers came out of the telegraph buildings, Philadelphia Record: There is one feature of the telegraphers' strike not theretofore noticed. A strike of all the Brotherhood operators would deprive them of their means of instaneous com--munication with each other. TENEX MEET, APPOINT COMMIT-TEES AND PREPARE FOR BUSINESS.

Accessions to the Ranks--Capturing Imported Operators--Proceeding Systematically but Orderly to Business-What the Telegraph Managers Say.

NEW YORK, July 21.-The meeting of the Executive Committee of Tele-graphers Brotherhood held this morning, Minor M Davis was elected Chairman, A. A. Orfuth, Secretary. After a canvass of the subject from all its standpoints it was decided to prepare some systematic and regular method of procedure and to this end the following committees were appointed:

On Finance and Relief, A. H. Seymour, late manager of the Mutual Un-ion, R. J. Morrison, J. A. Coleman, Al-fred Dillou, Wm. Taylor, of W. U. Co.; On Intelligence, C. A. Stimpson, Chas M. Jansen, A. J. Voyer, also of W. U. On law and order, Chas. Matthias, Frank Reynolds, of W. U.

The Skirmishing committee as ap-pointed consists of E. T. Barberia and E T. Welch, of the W. U., and P. J. Smith, of Fire Alarm service. After defining the duties of the several committees collectively and individually they repaired to the Caledonian Hall where at 11 o'clock there were nearly 1200 strikers asssembled. The duty of the finance and relief Committee will be to receive all subscriptions, investi gate all applications for relief and credit the accounts of all sub-committees. The commissioner on intelligence will attend to the transmission and reception of all telegraphic communications which will continue in ciper. The duty of the skirmishers will consist of personally visiting the operators now at work and trying to induce them to join the secret order of the Brotherhood No dishonorable means, it is promised, will be employed to this end. The striking telegraph operators met to day, they numbered about 700 of whom 60 were ladies. The linemen who had been brought into the city last night by the W. U. Co., from Scranton, Pa., and New Jersey districts and had been captured by the skirmishing committee of the strikers were initia-

A petition was received from the distributing clerks of the Western Union Company asking to be received into the the strikers. They will be initiated to-day. They numbered about 40, fifteen boys and the rest girls. They receive from $15 to $20 a month and their work requires more than ordinary skill and knowledge.

It was said that letters had been received from many out of town opera-tors asking to be enrolled among the strikers. It was also said that Rev Mr Aligworth, a minister of the Methodist church at Pamrapo, N J, who was once in the employ of the company, had re-turned, and was now at a desk in the Western Union office.

To-day the men formed in line and paraded from their kall on the west side to a new and larger hall on the east side of the city. There a meeting was held at which it was stated that encouraging news had been received from all over the country. It was said joined the ranks of the strikers yester-day. The situation in the Western Union office is apparently unchanged. Over 200 operators were at work and none of them seemed to be idle. General Superintendent Merrihew said everything was encouraging and in only a few cases was any delay in busi-ness reported. It was stated positively ness reported. It was stated positively that there was not a single dummy in the room. About 25 young women were there this morning waiting to be tested and it was said that name were engaged unless they were competent to do the work. As a general rule Mr Merrihew said the new hands were much better operators than they expected to be able to obtain, and the ranks were filling up rapidly. To day some of the new hands who are not required at the main office are to be sent out of town to man some of the offices left vacant by the strike. Only one operator left yesterday, he said, and three old hands returned. One female operator returned to day and none of those who were on duty yesterday had left.

all race wires were O K. no delay in receiving matter. Chief Gray says: "All wires south are in good shape and no delay in business except in the case of New Orleans, where we are one hour behind." The superintendent of the behind." The superintendent of the Wheatstone department says there is no delay there. Chief Fenn reports no delay in Cincinnati, Cleveland and St. Louis circuits and reports business well up. Chief Landy says there is considerable delay all over New Jersey on railway wires, but most of this was small business. One of the officers of Western Union company said that the outlook was all that they could desire, no matter what statements were made to the contrary. All exchanges feel to the contrary. All exchanges feel more or less the effects of the strike. The most bitter complaint comes from the cotton exchange, where it was said that 19 messages were behind. Two since the 19th inst.

The officials here talk of entering into eontract with the Baltimore and Ohio company, unless the affairs of the Western Union company resume their wonted course is a day or two.

The weekly reports of 24 towns, which are issued once a week, came out as usual yesterday. Fifteen of the interi-or ones had to be estimated, which caused much bitter complaint. At the produce exchange it was said that but few quotations were received and scarcely any to day. It was thought here that at least 100 messages were behind. The Postal telegraph company has run wires into the produce exchange, over which most of their reports were received. Some action may be taken by the board the first of next week unless the difficulty is settled. A member of the stock exchange said that the loss and inconvenience to brokers and members was much greater than they would acknowledge. He thoughs the exchange would quietly await results and take no action unless the Western Union company did not do something to end the strike.

The strike is not felt at the New York Mining Stock and National Petroleum exchanges, as nearly all their quotations are received over private wires. At the Maritime exchange, Philadelphia, the wire is working all ight, but nothing is coming from Balmore or Washington and is the cause of much trouble in their commercial business. In all the exchanges sympathy is expressed for the strikers and hopes for their success are heard on

THE POSITION OF THE BALTIMORE AND OHIO COMPANY.

BALTIMBRE, July 21.—The Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph Company to-day stated their position in regard to the strike of the telegraph operators as fol-

They are willing and ready at an moment to hear and treat with the men in their own employ, and to con-cede most liberal terms, but they positively decline, and under no circum-stances will they treat with the committee of the Brotherhood, nor any person not in their employment. This statement is made on the authority of the officials of the Telegraph Company. Mr Stewart, superintendent of the com-pany, states that they 18 operators at tables in the main office to-day of whom six are accomplished and efficient men, and the others can handle messages satisfactorily; that the force in Chicago, Cincinnati has been increased to-day at each office, and their business is being handled efficiently. A public meeting to discuss the telegraph strike has been called by a committee of the Brother-hood of Telegraphers at Ford's opera house to-night. Prominent speakers will address the meeting. So far the men who have gone out in this city have conducted themselves in the most orderly and quiet manner, and unquestionably have the sympathy of the

The reports that come from Brooklyn, Y, Charleston, S C, Chicago, Illa Providence, R I, represent the strike as spreading, and but few men at work, picked up outside of the Brotherhood. The reports from Brooklyn represent the wires in a terrible condition. In Chicago the reporters for the stock ex-change have joined the strikers, and hence no market reports from that point. The sympathies of the people and stock exchange are with the strikers, who are determined and prepared for a long strike, unless conces oins are made by the companies.

The Fire Flend in Newberry--Improve ment in the Palmetto State.

The whole town of Newberry narrowly escaped destruction by fire on Thursday night, the conflagration beginning and continuing almost simultaneously with the one in Greenville, which destroyed an entire block of stores in that place. The flames raged from 11 until 3 o'clock Friday morning. and though Newberry's recently organ ized fire department acted most nobly the flames seemed to threaten the entire town for awhile. Mallohon row was completely destroyed. The total loss by actual estimate is $50,600, covered by insurance to the amount of $43,450. The origin of the fire is not known.

Telegraphers in the service of the South Carolina railroad company who refused to transmit commercial messages were given the alternative of full duty or dismissal. They considered and tumbled to terms.

TO A STRANGER'S EYES.

THE DAILY CHARLOTTE JOURNAL, AND THE DAILY CHARLOTTE OBSERVER, CONSOLIDATED MARCH 27, 1988.

How Charlotte Looks to Outsiders-A Visitor's Impressions. Mr R M Stokes, editor of the Union

(SC) Times, recently paid our city a visit and on his return home wrote the following, for the insertion of which in our columns we will ask no apology from any reader. Mr Stokes says: "The City of Charlotte is fast looming up among the largest and most important business marts in the South. Its merchants show more enterprise and business tact than any we know of. Their agents are found continually on the roads and offer advantages in prices, variety and qualities of goods equal to any wholesale dealers this side of Baltimore. It would surprise many of the oldest merchants of the older cities to see the enormous stocks carried by a number of the firms in Charlotte and the amount of business they do. When in that city a few weeks ago, we made free to ask a member of one of the leading firms what the wholesale sales of the house amounted to annually, and he replied that last year they 'went over $500,000.' This house does a very large wholesale business all through Western North Carolina and below Columbia in South Carolina, along the lines of rail-roads. So rapidly is their business increasing that they find their present extensive store room altogether too small and they are adding to it the two adjoining two-story building. In some lines of popular check goods and cassi-meres they control the whole product of the mills, amounting to hundreds of thousands of dollars annually. We learn that there are other houses in that city, doing equally as large business, and we only speak of this one because it was the only one we enquired of. All branches of business appear to be flourishing in Charlotte. At this time contracts are signed for new buildings amounting to $75,000, and estimates for as much more will be called for soon, The business for Charlotte has increased steadily and surely every year for the past ten years, and the enterprising spirit of her merchants and citizens never flags, but grows with the prosperity of the city. It has as many, if not more, retired wealthy citizens within her corporate limits than any city of double its population in the South; at the same time its business men are active, shrewd and persevering, and transact every minutia of their business operations upon true business principles. From early morn to late at night there is life in the streets and life in the stores of Charlotte, and the whir of the spindles, the ring of the trowel, the sound of the saw and hammer and the shrill whistle of the engine sound in your ears unceas-

Catastrophe at a Railroad Crossing.

At the Mint street crossing of the Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta Rail road yesterday, an absent minded col ored man driving a blind mule, tried to run over a freight train with disastrous results. The darkey was driving along humming to himsif, with his thoughts perhaps a thousand miles away, neither noticing the sightless mule, or the train that was passing the street just ahead The first he knew of any thing unusua himself spinning around in the street with pieces of broken harness and wagon shafts falling about his head. The unsuspecting mule had walked square against the moving train and the effect was astonishing both to the mule and driver. The mule was knocked around and utterly surprised. For ten minutes after the accident it kept bobbing its head and dodging about and the driver, who by the way, had hardly recovered his senses, had to exergise a great deal of caution in catching it. After an hour spent in tying up the harness and patching up the wagon the colored man pursued his journey, and it is safe to say that he will keep a sharp lookout for railroad crossings hereafter.

PROGRESS OF THE STRIKE.

The Charlotte Office Opened by Two Operators from Richmond--- A Big Stampede in New York-Gen. Eckert Close to the Wall--- A Notice Berved by Charlotte Cotton Merchants --- The Brotherhood Still on Top.

A new, but anticipated turn in the elegraphers' strike took place in this city yesterday afternoon, when the doors of the Western Union office were opened by two operators sent here from lirginia, who at once reported to Gen. Eckert that they were ready for business. Their names are Wm. Walstrum, night chief of the Richmond office, and R. C. Thompson, who comes from Old Point, Va. The two men arrived on the two o'clock train, and, after dining at the Buford House, went direct to the office, where they found manager Dennis waiting for them. Mr. Dennis turned the office over to them, and, pulling off their coats, they went at once to work. They were not interfered with in the least, but a good deal of indignation was expressed by our citizens when it was found that the office had been opened by imported men. Shortly after they had commenced work an indignant young man stepped into the office bent on giving them a piece of his mind, and possibly a small fight, but was prevented by the striking operators who were present. The young man indulged in some pretty strong language, and told the two operators that he could whip them both, d-n 'em." The interference of our home operators no doubt prevented a scrimmage. This was the only bit of unpleasantness the new operators experienced, and it was forgotten in a short time. Though Charlotte is now in telegraphic communication with some points, and feels a partial relief from the strike, all is by no means lovely for the Western Union. and matters are daily growing more serious for Mr. Eckert. Yesterday there was a big stampede in New York, and the strikers gained considerable ground. as the following dispatch from Richmond, sent to parties in this city by the Brotherhood agency indicates:

"One thousand messenger boysstruck in New York at noon to-day. The stock reporters in New York and Chicago joined therein. Business is paralyzed. Three old men in Washington is all that is left to-day. Thirty-five men left in Baltimore. It is rumored that the Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph Company effected a compromise with their operators. We are everywhere gaining every hour, and the chief operators are now joining us. Gen. Eckert says the situaion is not so favorable to-day."

The Charlotte cotton merchants yes terday served notice on the Western Union Company, through its two operators here, that they did not desire to continue taking the daily commercial reports furnished by them, and would ne longer have them. The company was notified to cease sending the reports. The sympathy of the community is strongly with "the boys," and the hope is almost unanimously expressed that they will succeed in whipping out the company.

Shooting Burglars at Matthews. Mr. J. M. Agerton's store was broken open Friday night, and $22.75 stolen out of his money drawer, all the money he had taken in Friday except 70 cents, which he had in his pocket. Mr. Ager ton sleeps in the store room, and was awake at twelve o'clock and talked with the night watchman, at which time everything was all right. Thursday night a burglar tried to enter a dwelling house, but the watchman came up before he succeeded in making his entrance and emptied the contents of his faithful old musket in the burglar. but did not kill him. The whole load took effect in the burglar's body, and blood marks made by the retreating rascal were numerous. He was evidently very badly hurt, and it is not thought that he was the same who perpetrated the robbery Friday night. Capt. Switt the watchman, was in the suburbs of town watching the movement of some suspicious looking character. He regrets very much that he did not have a chance of giving the coroner some work, having prepared his gun Friday for business. The good people of Matthews have been greatly annoyed of late by incendiaries and burglars, and for their own protection have had the town closely guarded at night. The nightly watch kept by Capt. Switt has had the effect to lessen the raids, and by the time he plugs a few more of the band the troubles will cease. One of the CONVENIENT FOR FARMER. band, a most desperate fellow, and one whose stubborn fight in resisting arrest has not yet been forgotten by the people of Matthews, is now in our county jail, and it is to be hoped that he will soon have plenty of company.

Mr H C Eccles returned yesterday from a trip to the mountains of this State and gives us a few points that will be of interest as they show how our home resorts are growing in popularity and improving their accommods tions accordingly. There is positively not a better kept place in the whole South than the Warm Springs, under the management of Mr H A Gudger Mr Eccles, who is a good judge of such things, says that the dining room is not surpassed anywhere. The room itself is a new addition to the building and everything in it, including tables. chairs, table ware and linens, is perfectly new.
