The following from the Washington Critic reflects our sentiments: Is it not about time for the Louisville Courier-Journal and the New York Sun to cease for a season pouring out whole pailfuls of slop about the "eminent services of :Sammy Tilden" to his country. Hunting for Friends at Cassimicciola.

LONDON, August 1.-Latest advices from Cassimicciola says that a number of English and Americans have arrived there in search of friends and relatives who are supposed to have been victims of the calamity. It is stated that there are a thousand dead at Lacco, a thousand at Force and 2500 at Cassimicciola, and damage to property very great. Five shocks of earthquake have been felt at Weishaden. LOUISVILLE, August 1.—To day is a great public holiday, there being no business done whatever. With the first streak of daylight crowds of people began pouring into the city from every point of the compass. Trains were doubled up. By 9 o'clock the main streets were so full that it was difficult to pass along the sidewalks. The President rested well and was ready by 11 o'clock this morning to take his part in the exercises of the day. The presidential party left the Galt House in carriages escorted by a body of police and military organizations, and moved by the most direct route to the exhibition There was a perfect overture the entire distance, thousands of people cheering as the distinguished visitors passed them. The great main building, capa-ble of holding twenty thousand people, was filled completely and the crowd was too thick for comfort. President Dupont, of the exposition, welcomed the President. President Arthur gracefully responded and concluded by starting the vist machinery and pronouncing the exposition open. crowd was wild with enthusiasm. The presidential party leaves for Chicago to-night. The managers of the exposi-tion were most agreeably surprised at the unlooked for crowds on the first Fatal Collision Caused by a Bungling Telegraph Operator.

TROY, Aug., 1-Two Troy & Boston freight trains collided this morning at Parnal, Vt. The locomotives and trains were wrecked. Six men were killed, employees of the road. Two were engineers of the two locomotives, one was a conductor and one was a telegraph operator in the employ of the Troy and Greenfield Railroad. The night operator at Petersburg junction is blamed for the collision. He had been given orders to hold one train at the junction and neglected to transfer his instruction to the day operator, who in his ignorance allowed the train to pass.

Our Water Power.

The great mass of people have but little conception of the amount of unused water power at the South, partic ularly on the rivers of the South Atlantic States. The water power of North Carolina for instance, is simply tremendous. The main streams of this State have an aggregate length of 3,300 miles, with an average fall of ten feet per mile, giving a horse power which Prof. Kerr estimates at 3,300,000. The numerous tributaries and small streams are not included in this estimate, and Prof. Kerr says that the wasted water power of North Carolina rivals the estimated steam power, both stationary and locomotive, employed in Great Britain.

The One Great Issue.

New York World, There is no tariff issue in the campaign. The live and real issue is the issue between the continuance in power or the banishment from power of a party honeycombed with dishonesty and extravagance and unable to punish even its most notorious thieves. Public attention will not be diverted from this issue by the shallow pretense that one branch of Congress, if it should be ever so willing to "smash the tariff" could do so while the other branch of Congress and the executive veto block

Another Big Shoe Failure.

Who is Mrs. Winslew?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female physician and nurse, principally among children, the has especially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing byrup, for children teething. In our report of the closing exercises in Huntersville High School a few days ago, we inadvertently allowed the name of Miss Lillle Helper to be written where it should have been Miss Minnie Helper. REPORTS FROM THE STRIKE.

The Western Union Weakening-Its Condition Reported Worse Than at any Time Since the Strike Began. Yesterday closed the thirteenth day of the strike and the Brotherhood claim that they are really getting the best of the monopoly. Yesterday at noon, all the operators in the Richmond office, including Mr Walstrum, who came here a day or two after the strike commenced, quit work and left old man Tree, the manager, holding the fort. In New York City forty operators walked out of the office and joined the strikers. Letters received by the Brotherhood in this city yesterday, from all points, including Wilmington, Richmond, Augusta, Charleston, Atlanta, Chattanooga, Louisville, Cincinnati, Washington, Baltimore, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Toledo, Chicago, Omaha, Detroit, report all solid: Men confident, Western Union disgustingly incompetent, whining and lying; bribing and bulldozing, but it don't win.

In Atlanta a grand concert and ball was given last night for the benefit of the striking operators, and the grocerymen of that city have made an offer to board all the strikers for the next three months, if necessary. The situation in New York City and vicinity is very encouraging. The company is demoralized. They are offering bribes, and trying in every conceivable manner to break the ranks. It is their last desperate effort to prop a falling cause. The following report is from a Brotherhood detective:

"Called upon one of present force of Western Union office yesterday, in response to postal, writing me to call and exchange views. He is a non-member, one of the best men in the office, and thoroughly reliable. He says, only about six first-class men in the office. There is no law, order or discipline. There is about twenty-five per cent. of business doing. There is no system of reliefs. If a man is tired, all he has got to do is to say so, bang up his business and skip home. If it is impossible to send by wire, it is mailed."

Railroad Points.

Another big railroad flutter will soon be heard, if the Augusta Evening News has not been misled. We copy what it black ripe ones. Besides what grapes says as a "pointer" for holders of stock: The next anticipated rise, the knowing ones say, is in the stock of the Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta Road. This is explained by the new combination, the increased business and the recent issue of $3,000,000 of bonds for paying the debt of the road and bettering the road itself. We shall see what we shall see."

Speaking of the Richmond & Danville, the recent advance in its stock does not appear altogether the result of a change in ownership, but also a legitimate result of increased earnings. From reliable authority we learn that the following were the earnings of the Richmond & Danville system from January 1 to July 1: Gross, 1883, 83,401,074; 1882, $3,087,131. Net, 1883, $1,370,411; 1882, $770,090. This wonderful showing makes a net increase of a little more than ninety per cent. This looks like business, and would seem to argue that the new owners of the system have made a good bargain.

Among the arrivals at the Buford yesterday were: G G Well, T C Grower, Greenville, S C; Col Frank Arnold, Atlanta; Miss Alice Lee, Lynchburg; H Reinhart and family, Savannah; Ed. E Britton, Charleston; J W Harrison, T McAden and lady, Lowell, N C.

Richmond; T T Bobbitt, Baltimore; B Mr Levi Scoville, of the Kimball House, Atlanta, and Buford House, Charlotte, was in the city yesterday.

MRS. STONEWALL JACKSON.

Her Brilliant Reception at Morehead City--Honors to Stonewall's Widow and Daughter.

Last night marked the gayest evening of the season at Morehead City, when a grand reception and ball were given to Mrs. Stonewall Jackson and her daughter, Miss Julia, who arrived at the Atlantic Hotel last Monday morning. The large ball room was brillianly lighted and two bands of music were playing. Mr. James A. Bryan stood by Mrs. Jackson and her daughter and introduced the people to them, and fully two hundred and fifty walked up and touched the hands of the distinguished lady and her daughter. After the ceremony of introduction was over, Mr. George D. Thomas in behalf of Mrs. Jackson and Miss Julia, made a brief address to the brilliant throng, in which he most feelingly returned their thanks for the honor shown tham. Mr. Thomas is a prominent lawyer of Georgia. At the conclusion of Mr. Thomas speech, the two bands struck up a lively air and instantly the floor was filled with merry dancers. The ball was the most brilliant ever given at the Atlantic Hotel, and a special dispatch to the JOURNAL OBSERVER says that there was never before such a crowd in the ball room.

The crowd at Morehead has thinned out considerably during the past week and all can now be provided with comfortable quarters. The weather, boating and fishing are all said to be delightful at this season. Mrs. Jackson and daughter will spend a week or two at Morehead, after which they will protably make a brief visit to their many friends in this city.

The Model Farmer as a Grape Grower

Wadsworth's celebrated farm, attractive at all seasons of the year, is particularly so at present and it is not surprising how many people want to drive out that way these pleasant summer afternoons. The attraction now is his large and excellent vineyard, covering five or six acres of land, and it is a sight worth seeing. The hundreds of vines are drawn down by their loads of grapes in all stages of growth, from the little green fellows up to the large he will want for his own use and to sell, Mr Wadsworth will have enough to make a few neighborly jugs of wine. Iced tea is now in season for suppe and at lunch. If you wish to have it perfect, and without the least trace of bitter, put the tea in cold water hours before it is to be used; the delicate flavor of the tea and abundant strength will be extracted, and there will not be a trace—if one's taste is the judge—of the tannic acid that makes tea so often disagreeable and undrinkable. You need not use more than the usual quantity of tea. If it is to be served at a 1 o'clock meal, put it in water soon after breakfast and ice a few minutes before serving. The best way is to have the ice broken in a pitcher, and put one lump in each glass.

Scaator Brown on Schools of Technology.

The Atlanta correspondent of the Macon Telegraph, has had a long inter-view with Senator Brown on schools of view with Senator Brown on schools of technology. Among other things the correspondent reports:

The Senator stated that we must change our policy in the South, and dignify labor more than has ever been done in the past. The learned professions are now crowded to overflowing. Hundreds of very bright boys are not known to be bright because they have had no chance to show their brightness. He thinks that the very best thing to be done is to establish, in connection with the university, a school of technology where these bright boys could be trained in all the mechanic arts. We need not only engineers, but we need men ed in all the mechanic arts. We need not only engineers, but we need men who know how to make engines and cars, and all the implements of husbandry that are used in our fields. We need men who know how to build factories and how to run them.

And while the Senator would not dis-parage the learned professions, for they are of immense use, he said, he would rank the mechanic arts alongside of them and their usefulness and that they ought to command all the means necesought to command all the means necessary from the State treasury for the development of the minds of the youth who are to be engaged in them. No one can over estimate the importance of these things, in his opinion, and he very cordially favors any plan that the Legislature may adopt that will accomplish this object.
