To the friends and acquaintances of this old established house living all over the country there is no need of introduction, but we deem it only proper to call the attention of the people who are so situated living miles and miles away from us, that we are now in a position to offer facilities to purchasers of Dry Goods, etc., that are not equalled outside of New York.

After many months of patient waiting and anxiety the large corps of artisans and mechanics that have been employed are about to vacate, leaving behind them everything so perfect in all appointments and requirements for the transaction of an immense business that on entering this Mart of Fashion one can immediately observe that every detail that experience could desire or tasts could suggest has been attended to. Everything that in any way could add to the comfort and convenience of customers has been zealously looked after and provided for. The premises have been enlarged to more than four times its former capacity, while several new departments have been added, all of which are entirely new features, and supplying a want that has long been felt in this section. All these vast improvements, provided at an immense outlay of capital, must necessarily have a telling effect on the business interests of this growing and beautiful city. For

The board of justices for Mecklen burg county met in the court house yesterday morning, to elect officers of the Inferior court for this county, and to attend to such other business as might be brought to their consideration. The Measrs Thomas Gluyas and H D Stowe were, therappon declared elected. Judge Hilton had refused to enter the contest, as his business affairs are such as to require his attention at home, leaving him no time to aftend to the duties of the position and he therefore desired not to be re-slected. Notwithstanding his request to his friends not to vote for him, he received a very complimentary ballot. The election of a solicitor was the next thing to occupy the attention of the board. Measure Calvin E Grier and E K P Osborne were put in pemination and the first ballot resulted in 39 votes for Grier and 14 for Osborne. Capt Grier was declared duly elected. He has held the position for a number of years and has always discharged his duties faithfully and with atility, and the action of the board yesterday was a fitting recognition of his services to the county.

Barlow says he has assigned all his property to the bank for the benefit of depositors, and that his failure is due to the unsuccessful result of his attempt to sell the South Eastern Railroad to the Canadian Pacific R. R. Co. Its line extends from Montreal to New Port, Vt., a distance of a little over 100 miles, and has branches to various points in the province which make up a total of 300 miles of road in operation. The suspension of the Bank was totally unexpected, and is likely to have a serious effect upon numbers who have been endorsers upon Barlow's paper, but the real state of affairs in this respeet is not yet fully known. It is un-derstood that Barlow had invested about one million in the Southeastern Railroa

Another Star-Router Arrested.

MONTGOMERY, ALA, August 3.-For some time Mr. D. L. James, one of the heaviest Star route contractors in the South, has been under suspicion. Charges were made that the names signed to his bonds were of parties unknown to the locality in which they were alleged to live, and even some of them who were identified affected surprise and sought the aid of counsel. The matter was put in the hands of Detec-tive Booth, of the postoffice detective force, and he soon obtained evidence that warranted him in charging James with the wholesale forgery of names and certificates to his bids and contracts, the sums running up into very high figures. Booth at once placed the suspected man under arrest and will probably take him to Atlanta. James has contracts for $200,000 a year, and as the detective alleges that almost all his bonds are forged, the amount involved may be imagined. In ferreting out the irregularities the chief inspector found it necessary to take into confidence some one in the locality. He selected Postmaster Bassett, at Ten Broeck, De Kalb County. He stated to him the nature of his business, and called upon him for assistance. It subsequently transpired that at the first opportunity Bassett betrayed the confidence of the bourne. There has been some angr correspondence between Earl Spence and prominent officials on the subject. The Observer to-day says it is rumored that Kavanaugh has been murdered also.

Mr L M McAllister moved that Gen Jno A Young, the present incumbent be re-elected by acclamation. The motion was carried. All the elections were then made unanimeus. The result of the balloting was generally commented on with satisfaction and it goes without saying that our Inferior court is officered with good material, from clerk to judges.

The election being through with Esquire R D Whitley stated to the board that the duty of fixing the compensation of the chairman of the board of county commissioners devolved upon the present meeting of the magistrates, and after a little debate, it was decided that the pay of the chairman of our board of commissioners should hereafter be $4 per day. A resolution was adopted requesting the commissioners to have printed for distribution among the road overseens of the county, 1,000 copies of the road law as now in operation, and the board then adjourned. The meeting was an unusually full one. Out of the sixty-four magistrates in the county, fifty-nine were present. ------

A Blind Man's Life.

The old blind man who has made his appearance on our streets with a eart, in which is packed a collection of dirty rage, battered tin ware and other arti cles going to make up his store of household goods, is a slow coach, but a sure one. Two years ago he entered the bounds of North Carolina from Virginia and has since been working his way through to South Carolina. He left Concord on the 6th of last July and has consequently been on the road from that place to Charlotte, a distance of 21 miles, one month. He tumbled off the bridge into Rocky River and when a traveler came along the blind man was seen up to his armpits in water feeling about with a long stick for his cart. The old fellow takes the middle of the road, hitched to the cart by a line over his shoulders and being a most ungainly object himself, to say nothing of the looks of his cart, he has strung the roads with runaway wrecks all the way from here to Virginia. Of course he can never see the mischief he does, but ever and anon as he trudges along, he hears somebody in front suddenly shout: "whoa, whoa!" followed by the wild trampling of a horse's feet and the rattle of buggy wheels, and then he knows that the road is clear ahead of him.

At one time or another in his life he must have served as a sailor. At all events he is proficient in the art of swearing. One of our citizens yesterday out of sympathy for the "poor blind man" gave him ten cents for two cigars. The eigars were packed down in the bottom of his cart and seeing the trouble the old fellow was going to to get at them, the citizen told him to never mind, but let the cigars alone and keep the money. Thereat the poor blind man let loose his vials of wrath and fairly inundated the citizen with oaths for having put him to the trouble of

The morning was spent righteously in church going, but in the afternoon when the shadows commenced lengthening, the real enjoyment of the party was ushered it. Parties of our citizens gathered them up in carriages, and after showing them about the city, drove out to the suburbs and showed them the gold mines and the surrounding farme. The entire party drew up at Wadsworth's model farm, late in the evening. and after gazing with admiration upon the broad, level, grass-covered acres, the waving fields of corn and the neatly trimmed orchards, were conducted to the vineyard, the freedom of which was extended them. From the vineyard they were escorted to the wine cellars, and their admiration of our country and our people continued to increase. Biddle Institute was also visited, and nightfall closed a delightful day for the excursionists. The party stopped at the Buford House, and were capitally cared for by Mr. Scoville.

Yesterday morning they resumed their car, and under charge of Mr. Patrick and Mr. K. S. Finch, who went along to point out the country to them. left for Shelby. They will remain in that section until Wednesday, when they will return through Charlotte on their way home.

Boys Running Off to Texas.

Yesterday morning five lads from Monroe, aged from 15 to 18 years, made their appearance in the city, and announced that they were on their way to Texas. They had ran away from their parents and seemed fearful that they would be overtaken and carried back home. They remained about town, however, for an hour or two, when three of the party changed their minds and concluded to return to their homes in Monroe, which they did. The other two remained firm in their determination to continue their journey and the last seen of them they were going towards the Air Line depot. They stated that they would first go to Atlanta from which place they would work their way out to Texas. The flight of these two youngsters was hastened from the city by the report that their parents were in town looking for them.

Mr. Zeb Vance's Condition.

Dr Gibbon who was summoned to Asheville last week to attend Mr Zeb Vance, was returning home yesterday morning, having left his patient in an improved coudition, but at Old Fort he was stopped by a telegram recalling him to Asheville, Mr Vance becoming worse. The wound which gives the most alarm is that on the thigh, where the knife of Cromwell penetrated to the bone. Dr Gibbon was first summoned to open the wound, clean and dress it. which he did, and up to the time Dr Gibbon left, Mr Vance was steadily improving. The telegram which recalled Dr Gibbon merely stated that Mr Vance was worse. Pymmia is feared.
