CROKER IN PLACE OF KELLY

CLEVELAND STILL IN THE LEAD' Ex--Secretary Fairchild Is Not Afraid of

Tammany-The Boles Men Figure, Argue and Work-The Picture of Grand Old Hendricks-The Gray Men Modest and Cautious. CHICAGO, Ill., June 17 .- Save for the fact that more booms are under way and that the men who love Cleveland for the enemies he has made, are not particulary numerous, the ante-convention situation very closely resembles that which prevailed in the days preceding the assembling of the representatives of the Democracy of the national convention in

In the Expositon building on the lake front, within a stone's throw of the wigwam within which the coming covention will assemble, the convention met which resulted in the nomination of Grover Cleveland, and subsequently in his triumphant election. Then, as now, the anti-Cleveland element of New York Democracy forced hostilities from the moment of its arrival; then, as to-day, it asseverated that he could not unite the Democracy of the Empire State and carry It in November: then, as now, it had but one battle cry: "Anybody to beat Cleve-

One conspicuous figure in the opposition of that year—John Kelly—is' miss-ing, but his place is ably filled by Richard Croker with Lieutenant Governor Sheehan and Edward Murphy, Jr., as staunch and capable lieutenants. Whether the parallel will continue until the end of the convention the developments of the coming week alone can de termine. The statement of the anti-Clevelandites from New York that Cleveland was not the choice of New York and was too weak to carry the State is characterized by ex-Secretary of the Treasury Fairchild, who may be regarded as one of the principal mouthpieces of the Cleveland element, as nothing more than the regular stereo-typed Tammany kick, and which is now regarded as a concomitant of every national Democratic convention. They took the same course, he says, sixteen years ago, when they antagonized the prevail-ing sentiment for Tilden and loudly proclaimed that he was not the choice of New York. On that occasion their opposition was kept up after the campaign, but, notwithstanding this fact, and the numerous speeches made by John Kelly against the sage of Grammercy Park, the latter carried his State by a majority of over 30.000,

"Eight years ago," said Mr. Fairchild. 'Tammany was in the front rank of the opponents of Grover Cleveland, notwithstanding which he was both nomi nated and elected. Tammany was fa vorable to Cleveland four years he was defeated, just as was their favorite son in 1880."

mmany The ex-Secretary is therefore its bitter antagonism, whether to Grover Cleveland or to any other candidate, as a good omen. In fact, he is perfectly willing that Croker and his following should keep up their antagonism to the end, just as did John Kelly in 1884, when he marched out of the Exposition building with his dogged features shrouded in gloom and the declartion on his lips that he was through trying to prevent the national Democracy from making fools of themselves. The interposition of the Great Reaper enabled him to keep his

Nothing will be done by the Cleveland following in the direction of making a reply to the Tammany declaration until the arrival of the "anti-snap" delega-tion. Ex-Secretary Fairchild, however, is already at work on such a document, and which will be submitted to his colleagues as soon as they get in, which will probably not be until Sunday afternoon. It is promised that this rejoinder will be just as strong as the declaration, and a good deal more clear and convincing; it will take the ground that, Tammany to the contrary notwithstanding, Grover Cleveland is in New York to-day by far the strongest of all the candidates whose names are likely to go before next week's convention. coming campaign will be fought out solely on the issue of tariff reform, of which Grover Cleveland is the high priest, and in New York, which must be of necessity the principal battle ground, the large independent vote can be secured only by this issue. This vote, it will be declared, is in all earnestness and sincerity for Grover Cleveland.

Mr. Fairchild expects to be joined soon by ex-Mayor Grace, E. Ellery Anderson and two or three other of the advance-guard of 'Cleveland's lieutenants. He is anxieus for a preliminary conference to outline a plan of action for ascertaining the exact Cleveland sentiment in the various delegations. this has been accomplished the leaders will know just how much missionary work remains to be done and where it is most needed. It is likely that a leaf will be taken out of the book of plans and policies which was used to such good effect by the Harrison brigade at Minneapolis, and that the now famous Market Hall caucus will be duplicated here in Chicago. Mean while, so far as enthusiasm, ergy and sincerity are concerned, the Boies boom is "flourishing like a green bay tree." More activity is displayed at than at any of the others that have been opened. The lowans are making a clean canvass, attacking none of the other candidates, but putting in their best efforts toward whooping up their own favorite son. They say that they have nothing against Cleveland beyond the fact that he has once led his party to defeat, and he has seriously hurt himself in the West by his silver question. Apart from New York, they say, he is not nearly so strong in the political affections of the great masses of Democratic voters as he was either in '84 or '88 and his selection for a third term would be something more than mistake. Governor Boies, on the other hand, they say, has been steadily grow-ing in strength in the West of late years, and the only logical outcome of the pres ent situation is the selection of a Western man. They believe that Boies will not only carry lows but the entire Northwestern tier of Republican States and upon this belief and claim they will into the convention. So far, only the twenty-six votes of lows and the twenty-six votes of Iowa and the sixteen of Nebraska have been conceded to Boies. State Senator Shields, however, insists that the Iowa man will go into the convention with nearly one hundred votes and that he has scores of telegrams and letters from delegates who have volun-

although gaudily decorated headquar-ters have been opened at the Palmer House for the Indiana delegation. A big consignment of lithographs, of the ex-Governor were delivered at the rooms by an express company this morning, but they will not be put out yet awhile and the only picture that decorates the rallying-ground is one of the late Thos. A. Hendricks. Whether or not Governor Gray's name shall be formally pre-sented to the convention will not be determined until the full meeting on Sunday. If the decision is in the affirmative, however, Senator Voorhees will be assigned to do the oratorical honors. Under the instructions adopted by the recent State convention the delegation is to present an Indiana candidate only in the event of the sentiment drifting in favor of a Western man, otherwise it is to stand by Cleveland as the logical candi-

It is noticeable that there is more talking of Gray for the second place on the ticket than for the first, and delegate-atlarge Samuel I. Morse, of Indianapolis, who is at the head of the Cleveland sentiment in the "Horsier State," has already nailed up the colors of Cleveland and

Gray. Whether or not the name of Senator John M. Palmer will go before the convention is so far an undecided question. That venerable Democrat has many friends in the various delegations, but his possible candidacy is hampered by the failure of the Illinois State convention to instruct in his favor. Gen. Palmer himself is an out-and-out supporter of Cleveland, and is anxious that his friends should not hamper the prospects of the ex-President. The Illinois delegation will meet to-morrow and the indi-cations are that it will decide to give the entire forty-eight votes to Grover Cleveland so long as the latter is in the race. The Cleveland leaders received strong reinforcements this morning in the arrival of Charles J. Canda, treasurer of the national committee, Edward B. Whitney and Reginald B. Wood, all three delegates from the Syracuse convention: Col. R. G. Munro, secretary of the State committee appointed at Syracuse, and Miles Ross, national committeeman from New Jersey, together with Frederick A. Fuller, of Jamestown, N. Y., a member of the Democratic State committee. Immediately upon their arrival they held a brief conference with ex-Secretary Fairchild and General Tracey, at which a plan of action for reaching the Southern delegations as fast as they arrived was discussed. The declarations of Edward was also talked over. Subsequently Mr. Whitney said: "According to Mr. Murphy the rank and file of the Democratic party are prepared to vote against the most popular Democrat in the country for the presidency because they fear his election would please the Syracuse delegation. To this we say that if Mr. Murphy be lieves what he says, then he regards his own followers as Mugwumps rather than Democrata. His interview is all in the "There are two men prominent in the Hill organization who are regarded with suspicion by the Democracy in general. These men are Murphy himself and Lieutenant Gov. Shehan. There is a general mpression in the State of New York that they were treacherous to the national ticket in 1888, and I think it not unlikey that they will be so again this year if they do not happen to be pleased with the nominations made. But they will not be able to carry with them as many Democrats as they did before, and I have yet to find any evidence that they will be supported in their treachery by Tammany Hall, or the Kings county organizations. I entirely agree with Murphy regarding the inadvisability of the campaign which the Mugwumps made in 1888 against Governor Hill. But no man knows better than Murphy that their opposition was open and above-board. The man who, pretending to be a friend, sticks a stiletto into your back, is a man who is known only among Murphy's own followers. But his power for evil is minimized this year by the new ballot reform act. He is a man who will be treacherous to anybody and there is no use trying to humor him in the nomination simply because he will not decide until tion day whether he will be true or false. Every other Democrat in the State of New York will vote for Mr. Cleveland if nominated, and he can hold an independent and Republican vote of a size never before known in a national campaign. Mobody else can do this nor come any where near it. For that reason, although there are many Democrats whom I would have personally preferred to Cleveland for the presidential nomination, I have no doubt he is the most available candidate fer the State of New York." GOVERNMENT Aiding WORLD'S FAIR. The Columbian Half Dollars to be Coine with Devices to Be Stamped.

Murphy, on behalf of the Hill forces,

THE FEARFUL WESTERN CYCLONE. The Loss of Life and Property Worse Than

First Telegraphed. MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 17 .- News of the cyclone which devastated south-ern Minnesota Wednesday evening is very hard to get. Telegraph wires are down for miles and the railroads which penetrate the stricken sections are practically at a standstill. All the information obtainable comes from isolated survivors of the storm and the facts have to be gathered from widely separated points. From all the reports at hand so far the loss of life will probably reach fifty, and the list of the injured will run in the hundreds. No estimate of the property loss can be made and all that can be said of it is that it will undoubtedly run into seven figures. The town of Wells, in Faribault county, seems to have suffered most severely from the storm. It is reported that fifty people were killed in that village alone, but these reports are probably exaggerated. The storm is described by an eye witness as a cloud of midnight blackness and was a boiling, seething mass, going in an easterly direction. It was in Faribault county that the loss of life principally occurred. The afternoon had been sultry and dense over-hanging clouds seemed almost to touch the ground while not a breath of air stirred. Later a heavy down pour of rain set intand at about 2.30 o'clock preceded by wind from the northwest a huge funnel-shaped cloud was noticed by people living west of Wells. It advanced rapidly with a loud, roaring, grinding sound and first touched the earth near Juckson, two miles west of Sherburne. The Silver Thorn school house, four miles north of Sherburne, was torn to pieces by the cyclone. Miss Maggie O'Hara, the teacher and all the scholars, sixteen in number, were seriously, and some six, thought to be fatally injured. Wherever a building was destroyed i was so totally and utterly demolished that not a vestige of it is left. Trees and telegraph poles were broken off or twisted out of shape, wires along the Northwestern road were all down dur ing the night. At one place where the cyclone struck, eight houses in succession were destroyed and at anchor the place was so completely washed off the face of the earth that n trace of it or its occupants could be found, though search was made.

The path of the storm was strewn with machinery, clothing, pieces of furniture, wagon wheels, ears of corn, and every imaginable thing .. This is only a sample of the storm, as it was probably forty miles in extent and is being followed by heavy rains.

Ten men are reported killed in the neighborhood of Mapleton and twenty injured.

THE HOUSE WITHOUT ITS QUORUM.

The Sibley Tent Bill Turned Down-The Mr. Watson, Antauch, di veorgis, tantou for the regular order, the consideration of the Sibley tent bill. Mr. Shiveley, Democrat, of Indiana, raised the question of consideration against this, as he desired to proceed with the tin plate The House voted, however, to proceed with the Sibley bill. Mr. Blanchard then submitted a resolution asking that the House insist on its disagreements to the river and harbor bill, requesting a further conference.

The Sibley bill was next in order and Mr. Group, Republican, of Vermont, moved to lay it on the table. This was carried, yeas 86, nays 82.

Mr. O'Ferrall, Democrat, of Virginia, moved to consider the vote laying the bill on the table and pending that he moved to postpone the measure until the first Friday in July.

Mr. Moses, Democrat, of Georgia, moved to adjurn. No quorum. Mr. Holman, Democrat, of Indiana, moved a call of the House. On a viva voce vote a division was demanded. No quorum voted and Mr. McMillin, Democrat, of Tennessee, asked unanimous consent that the House take a recess until o'clock, which was finally carried.

At the night session pension matters were discussed but no action taken on any bill and at 10:30 the House adjourned.

THE RICHMOND & DANVILLE R. R. What the Officers of the Company Have to Say.

NEW YORK, June 17 .- The officers of the Richmond & Danville decline to say anything beyond the fact that having been served with the order of Judge Bond that they have turned over the entire property of the Richmond & Danville Company and its leased and controlled lines to the receivers, Messrs Huidekoper and Foster, who have taken possession of the same as ordered by the court. Receiver Foster arrived at the New York office to-day, and at once took possession. He said that as he had just taken charge he could make no statement except that they should proceed to manage the property under the orders of the court for the benefit of all interests concorned, and that practically all the present operating officers would be reappointed by the receivers. The parties who brought the suit under which the receivers were appointed had nothing further to add to the state ments made in the complaints. The order appointing the receivers authorizes them to pay unpaid vouchers, pay rolls and operating expenses and makes no statement in regard to the interest due on July 1, amounting to $700,000 and permission will have to be obtained from the court before this is paid.

HILL TO GO AFTER FIRST BALLOT. A Congressman's Inside Information to the Plans of New York,

Washington Special, 16th, to Philadelph

A member of the House to-day received from New York information, which he regards as entirely reliable, that the New York delegation to Chicago will not sup port Senator Hill after the first ballot this decision seems to have been an outcome of the conferences which have been going on in New York between the Tammany and other leaders in the past few These conferences made it appadays. rent that the feeling in Tammany against standing by Hill indefinitely without hope of securing his nomination was very strong, and also that considerable sentiment existed in favor of Cleveland. A LITTLE DROP FOR HARMONY. In view of this state of affairs the leadprevent Cleveland's nomination, and as the most likely way to harmonize things, the best course will be to allow Hill to drop after one ballot and unite on a Western man. Who this Western man will be the information of the member of the county of the member of the member of the county of the cou ers seem to have decided that, in order to will be the information of the member of Congress did not indicate. Boies, Palmer, Gray, Morrison, Campbell and Vilas have been discussed, but a final decision will not be reached until Friday night at Chicago, when a caucus of New York anti-Cleveland leaders will be held.

A CANDIDATE FOR VICE PRESIDENT. Having waived the claims to the presidency, New York will be given the vice presidency, for which place the name of Robert B. Roosevelt will, it is said, be presented. Mr. Roosevelt is an ex-member of Congress, very wealthy and a Tammany man.

The member who gave this information out said it came from a man who was on the inside in New York; one who could be relied on as correct. He had no doubt of its correctness himsels.

THE PROTEST AGAINST HOME RULE. The Great Ulster Convention-Will Live and Die in the Queen's Empire.

Belvast, June 17.—The great Ulster convention to protest against home rule for Ireland, many thousands being in attendance, met here to-day. The Duke of Abercorn presided. The convention opened at noon with prayer by the Most Reverend Robert Knox, a Protestant archbishop of Armagh and Primate of Ireland, who offered up an earnest supplication for the success of the convenion. The audience then joined in sing-ng the forty-sixth psalm. The Duke of Abercorn announced that he had received over a hundred messages of sympathy, coming from all over the world. One was from the Grand Orange Lodge of Massachusetts. The Duke, in his opening address, declared by love of their country, of their families, their homes and their religion. They were determined to live and die a poor disclaimed any idea of holding out a H. Williamson and Casifee Coston that the loyalists of Ulster were actuated disclaimed any threat or menace.

Resolutions were proposed to the fect that Ulster proposed to remain a part of the British empire, and not to be subject to an Irish Parliament. The resolutions also predict that home rule would result in civil strife in Ireland.

A BULL FIGHT CULMINATES IN A TRAGEDY. Raid on the Mayor in the Spanish Ring

-Enraged Citizens Bring Trouble on MADRID, June 17-While a bull fight was in progress yesterday at Linares, the audience became enraged at the refusal of the mayor to increase the number of horses in the arena. The mayor was as sailed with stones and other missiles; and the ring was invaded by the crowd. The bull-fighters became frightened and fied, leaving the bull unguarded. The animal, maddened by the presence of the people, plunged into the crowd, and tossed people right and left. One man was so badly gored that he expired almost immediately. Many others were severely injured, some by the bull's horns and others by being crushed in the panic which ensued. The bull-fighters finally returned and got the bull under control. The mayor and meanwhile ordered the gendarines to drive the crowd out of the arena, but they refused to face the danger. mayor, who was in danger of being killed by the mob, fled, followed by the angry citizens, who nearly wrecked the prefecture in which he had taken refuge. He finally managed to reach the barracks, where he was protected until the crowd dispersed.

OMAHA, June 16 .- Mr. V. O. Strickler who has been deputized for the present in the place of H. E. Taubenecker, president of the national executive committee of the People's party is preparing for the convention to be held hereJuly 24. He said: The people of Omaha must do some ac tive hustling in the next three weeks, or there is grief in store for us. We have secured accommodations for a little over 6,000 people, and there will be 10,000 here from this State alone. "Every State will send big delegations and Kansas and Iowa will pour immense crowds in upon us. Mr. Wilkins, chairman of the State committee, says that they will have ninety-two delegates, and will bring an army of sightseers. want to arrange for a small hotel for their exclusive use.

"Indiana is in the same fix. A gentle man was here last week from Jerry Simp son's district in Kansas, and engaged fifty rooms at the hotels for visitors from that congressional district alone. This convention will bring from 80,000 to 50, 000 people to Omaha, and they must be provided for."

Alexander Stronach, Esq., a prominent young lawyer of Raleigh, has more to Philadelphia with evidence to sentre the snug sum of $20,000 which is in the yaults of the Girard Trust and Annuity Company. In 1739 his mother's great grandfather, Col. James Payne, deposited $1,300 there, and they left for Virginia. Alleged heirs applied for the money, but Mr. Stronach found a leaf in an old Bible and this led to further evidence which is entirely satisfactory, it appears.
