How the Grave and Reverend Senator Took the Reading of the Farewell Address Editor W. W. Scott, Jr., Writing from Washington to His Paper, the Lenoir Topic-

sas, took his stand beside the Vice President and began to read Washington's farewell address. It is pretty long, as you know, and it took him nearly an hour and a half to read it. The Senator is not a particularly good reader and I am sure I heard not over a dozen sentences. My attention was directed to studying the 30 Senators who paid Senator Martin the compliment of remaining to hear his reading, which was not a part of the senatorial proceedings. I was greatly entertained by the sight of these old school boys trying to "keep still" for an hour and a half. They did not sucvery prim and demure at first. Soon Coke began to caress his long white beard, to lean back and swing his legs and then he furtively reached over to his deak, stole a letter and began to read it. the extract from a sermon of the world-renowned prescher, the Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, as very appropriate in furthering the cause of their bank, and there fore submit it hereby as their ad. Says Mr. Talmage: "But you know and I know many who have competent in comes, and could provide somewhat for the future, who live up to every dollar, and when they die their children go to the poor house or on the street. By the time the wife gets the husband buried, she is in debt to the undertaker and grave-digger for that which she can never pay While the man lived he had his wine parties and fairly stunk with tobacco, and then expired, leaving his family upon the charities of the world Do not send for me to come and conduc-FULL LINE OF the obsequies and read over such a car Eagle bicycles with Aluminum cass the beautiful liturgy, 'Blessed are the rims and the new Palmer tire. dead who die in the Lord,' for, instead of that, I will turn over the leaves of the Bible to 1 Timothy 5:18 where it says: anteed. See our dandy little 'If any provide not for his own, and es-Syracuse. Call and see our line | pecially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel,' or I will turn to Jeremiah 28 19, where it says, 'He shall be buried with the burial of an ass, drawn and cast forth beyond the gates of Jerusalem." "I cannot imagine any more unfair or meaner thing than for a man to get his sins pardoned at the last minute, and then go to heaven, and live in a mansion. and go riding about in a golden chariot over the golden streets, while his wife and children, whom he might have pro-vided for, are begging for cold vict-uals at the basement door of an earthly city. It seems to me there ought to be a poor house somewhere en the outskirts of heaven, where those guilty of such improvidence should be kept for awhile on thin soup and gristle instead of sitting down at the King's banquet. are enabled to break the fetstumbling blocks in our way to either drop out or sullenly grow into submission. Our efforts from the beginning have been directed against the galling yoke of high prices, and to open up, in its stead, a business based on dollars, the influence The management of this bank think of which will eventually free the citizens of Charlotte, of Mecklenburg county, and of North Carolina from the terrors of a system of credit, which is grinding out their financial lives Already many hundreds have been liberated from this demon credit, while thousands more are marching out from under the yoke of oppression. You see by the power of interest of the consumer people come to us from everywhere, and to-day the trade of harlotte is about double what it was a few years ago. Cross road competition is a thing of the past, and our city is fast coming to the front as the great trading center of the Carolinas. Now as we enter the bright spring season of business, pomit us to say our greatest of all offerings will go out to the public at the lowest possible prices we can give. Our immense stock has not been gathered by idle hands nor slothful feet and listless brain, but at every turn it has been the best dilligence, pluck, opportunity that dollars could bring. We have just bought the entire line Mens's Sample Hats, from one of the best manufacturers in the land. The lot includes all the latest styles grades and shapes, and as we bought these hats at a heavy discount we intend to sell them
