MEXICAN MISSION Muddle.

It Would Seem That It Makes the Case Worse for Minister Ransom—If Means Were Approved.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—It would seem that the recent decision of Comptroller Bowles makes the case worse for Minister Ransom than it thought yesterday. The Comptroller of the Treasury in the case of Messrs. Springer and Kilgore, appointed Indian Territory judges, reviving an act of 1863, decided that they could not draw any salary before the Senate had confirmed their appointments.

If this decision applies to Minister Ransom he will not only be without salary until newly appointed but he will not be entitled to salary at all until confirmed. This will be a very hard indeed as it is not supposed the President would call an extra session of the Senate for the purpose of confirming these appointments.

The comar and diplomatic act under which the Mexican mission was raised from the second to the first-class salary of $12,000 a year, was increased from $12,000 to $17,500.

North Carolina to-day if Mr. Ryan, Minister Ransom's predecessor, had not been affected just as General Ransom was, the case would be a very different one. The facts are these: Mr. Ryan was not a member of the Fifty-first Congress, but was a member of the Fifty-second.

He therefore was not subject to the constitutional objection. It appears that the appointment was put upon the constitution which could obviate its plain meaning. Of course there is a general feeling of difficulty about the appointment was not foreseen by somebody in time to have provided a way around. But every one who glances at the subject, without being troubled by technical objections, constitutional or otherwise, had Senator Edmunds been about, the old formalist would have pointed out what a mistake it was to appoint a man who had not been elected until just after 12 o'clock on March 4th and made the recess appointment.

Persons say the President will take no notice of the matter at all; that he may regard the appointment as only an error of the clock, and will place after the final adjournment of Congress.

LATER—Section 1761, Revised Statutes, provides no money shall be paid out of the Treasury as salary to any person appointed during recess of the Senate to fill a vacancy in an existing office, unless the person so appointed was in session and was by law to be filled by and with the advice of the Senate. The best opinion is that the appointment dates from the confirmation and not from the recess appointment. General Ransom will ultimately be paid for his services as a prominent North Carolinian to-night, will appropriate enough to pay the salary in full. It is believed the law of the United States is looking up precedents to-night.

Mr. Henderson was not an applicant for the Daves Indian commissioner's office. Mr. Woodard cross-examined one of the two witnesses examined yesterday before a notary to-day and asked that part of his testimony to be taken here. Mr. Woodard recommends the establishment of a postoffice at the Falls of Roanoke, five miles above Weldon. The town has cotton mills there with the subsidiary grist and lumber mills will make Weldon one of the best places in the State.

One of the new company interested in the famous writer, Amelia River Chandler, who is reputed to be one of the best quarters for operatives, Mr. Woodard says, of any Southern factory plant.

The Comptroller announces William J. Cook, cashier of the National Bank of Asheville, vice Lawrence P. Dennis.

THE STORY WITHOUT FOUNDATION. Hanson Qualified After His Term as Senator Expired and His Service and Pay Date from Then.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Careful inquiry concerning the report that ex-Senator Ransom, minister to Mexico, is not eligible to fill the place to which he was recently appointed on account of a constitutional provision, finds the story without foundation. Senator Ransom did not qualify until his term of office as Senator expired and his service and pay date from the time he qualified. Senator Ransom's service as minister began when he took the oath of office and this was not until after his term of office as Senator had expired.

IN CASE OF INDEBTED RETURNS. Commissioner Miller Issues an Additional Circular to Revenue Collectors.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Commissioner Miller late this afternoon issued an additional circular to internal revenue collectors, in which he says: "In cases of incorrect income tax returns now filed in your office, you will notify the persons who filed such returns, and advise them to appear at a reasonable time, specifying the date and place for appearance, and correct or explain such returns, and that you will assure to appear and make such corrections, you will correct and return the amount of such returns, and explain the particular corrections which shall be made and the amounts by which said returns will be increased."

Where persons and corporations liable for income tax returns, and who have refused to make returns, and wherein your opinion of false or fraudulent returns have been filed, you will give no credit for such returns, and to those who made such false or fraudulent returns to appear and show cause why penalties shall not be assessed against them.

Mr. L. D. Hays, yesterday received a letter from Mr. W. D. Martin, of Brooklyn, in which he says Mr. Martin is very much better. He has been all day here, resting himself, and is now able to get up.

Mr. E. L. Cobb, who was threatened with lock-up by running the prong of a fork in his foot, is recovering.

Mr. J. M. Smith, who has been quite sick for several days, was better yesterday.

The Treaty May Be Signed To-day. LONDON, April 16.—A dispatch from Tokio to the Central News says the native newspapers have been concluding that the treaty will probably be signed to-morrow. The terms of the treaty are not definitely known, but it is understood that they are in great degree similar to those already published. This information is apparently reliable, though it is not official.

COLORADO SILVER CAMPAIGN.

THEY ADDRESS AN IMMENSE MEETING IN DENVER—A HIT AT THE PRESIDENT—STEWART'S NAME CHEERED—SENATOR JONES PRESENT BY HEART DISEASE FROM JOINING THE CAMPAIGN.

DENVER, April 16.—The open air mass meeting held from the steps of the capitol this afternoon in honor of the silver question, General Warner of New York, and ex-Congressman Sibley of Pennsylvania, was one of the largest that Denver has ever seen. On the program were the following: General Warner, ex-Congressman Sibley, and ex-Congressman Kilgore, appointed Indian Territory judges, reviving an act of 1863, decided that they could not draw any salary before the Senate had confirmed their appointments.

THE WHISKEY TRUST SWINDLE.

THE FILING OF THE BALANCE SHEET.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 16.—Of the many sensations furnished by the whiskey trust since Joseph S. Green's resignation, the most startling is the filing of the balance sheet of the trust, which was done this afternoon.

The balance sheet of the trust, which was done this afternoon, shows a net profit of $1,000,000. The trust is a corporation organized in 1882, and has since that time been engaged in the business of distilling and selling whiskey.
