Still in Abeyance.

The court house matter is still in abeyance. As mentioned in yesterday's OBSERVER several of the architects got offended and withdrew their plans, among the number Mr. Normann, of Atlanta, and Mr. Wilson, of Lynchburg. Mr. Normann favored open competition, not a private seance with each architect.

The plans have all been gone through with, and the architects dismissed, with the promise that they will be communicated with at a very early day next week. The contest, it was generally understood yesterday, is between Richmond and Atlanta.
