LOCAL BRIEFS.

RIFLES' festival to-night.

The Blue Front millinery store on East Centre street is being remodeled.

"Baron Jewels" in "Ship Building" at the Messenger Opera House to-night.

BEANS are still keeping up to profitable prices on the Northern market, and shipments continue large from this section.

The competitive drill between the first and second platoons of the Goldsboro Rifles, in the Armory Hall to-night, during the festivities, will be worth seeing.

WHEN last seen Mr. F. W. Hilker, the public-spirited, popular and efficient foreman of the Eclipse Steam Fire Engine Company, was armed with two fishing poles. Mr. Hilker has a very good reputation for truth in the community, hence he may be relied upon to report "correct" returns.

SOME of the fine specimens of squash, cucumbers and beets as are seen in the midst of the season were sent in to this office yesterday by Mrs. L. G. Waddell, from her garden in this city. Many who saw and admired them did not believe they were raised in Goldsboro, they were so fine; but they were, all the same, as Mrs. Waddell's garden will prove to any who visit it.

We are in receipt of an invitation to attend the commencement exercises of Peace Institute, Raleigh, among the graduating class of which we notice the name of one of Goldsboro's most talented and popular young ladies, Miss Margaret Smith, who is honored with the "Valedictory." This high distinction, which is always the reward of merit, is very gratifying to Miss Smith's hosts of friends here.

Here is a pointer for Goldsboro. Says the Newbern Journal: "The live and pushing men of LaGrange want a cotton factory and they have started about it in earnest. The capital stock has been placed at $100,000, and already 150 shares of stock have been subscribed, each stockholder announcing that if necessary he would double his number of shares. That is the kind of talk we like to hear. It has a true business ring about it."

EVERYTHING is in readiness for the Rifles' supper and festival in the second story of the Weil Building to-night. The ladies have not been idle and their generosity has known no bounds, consequently a lavish abundance of good things in the way of substantial and palatable eatables and tempting and delicious delicacies will greet all visitors to the rooms to-night. Every one should go. No one can afford to miss it. The competitive drill of the two platoons of the Rifles will be an interesting feature.

THE "Bright Jewels" Missionary Society of St. Paul's congregation will give an interesting Missionary Ship Building entertainment at the Opera House to-night, at 8 o'clock. Admission 35 and 15 cents. They will get through by 8:15 o'clock, so that all who favor them with their presence will have plenty of time to patronize the festival for the benefit of the Rifles, after the performance. We bespeak for the "Bright Jewels," a large audience, as the object of their entertainment is the worthiest on earth. Be in time. And let everybody go.

WELL, who is going to be the next to write an article on the "Cotton factory?" Don't let the question rest. Agitation is the secret of the success of all such measures for the public weal. Everybody concedes readily that Goldsboro needs, is well calculated to support handsomely, and should have, a cotton factory. Then why not have one? Certainly where our people are so unanimously agreed upon a matter of public achievement success is assured if we but act. The knitting mill is a settled fact, the stock has all been taken and the thing will soon materialize and start operations. So, as we have said before, if you have any public spirit and enterprise that you want to exert in behalf of Goldsboro's greater and growing prosperity let them out on the cotton factory movement. Agitate it.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. J. R. Griffin is making Baltimore his headquarters for the present.

Mr. Luby Harper, ex-sheriff of Greene county, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. Jno. H. Powell and his son Master Emmet, are taking in the celebration at Charlotte.

Mr. Theo. Edwards, of the Snow Hill bar, was on a professional visit to this city yesterday.

Hon. J. E. Peterson, our worthy lord Mayor, is off for Wilmington to-day, on public business.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Bizzell, of this city, are both confined to their homes by sickness, we are sorry to know.

Mr. "Johnnie W." Nelson is off to Florence, S. C., on a call for water works. We all want him to stay "right here."

Judge Spier Whitaker was in the city for several hours yesterday en route for Raleigh, returning from holding court in the Eastern section of the State.

Mr. J. B. Dawson, of Jevoir, one of the cleverest and most popular of traveling salesmen, is in the city interviewing our merchants, among whom he has many friends, as well as in social circles.

Another Nomination.

GRANTHAM'S STORE, N. C.,
May 19, 1890.
Editor Argus: We are not so "modest" and while admiring the modesty of our unknown friend Mr. "Whizzer," we cannot but feel that he misrepresented the political feeling of a very large element of the farmers of Grantham township. Mr. C. G. Smith is a man of undoubted ability, but we are not all for him over here. Our candidate is a young man, a farmer, who is not wholly unknown to the people of Wayne county, as he performed the duties of Deputy Sheriff of this county for some months with ability and efficiency, and is fully competent to attend to the arduous duties of the office of Superior Court Clerk. The gentleman to whom we refer is Mr. J. R. Kennedy, and is a son of Dr. J. B. Kennedy, and a grandson of our "old Roman," the greatest of them all, Col. J. T. Kennedy, who always spent time and money for the Democratic party.

We think he is the most popular man that could be nominated by the Democratic convention of Wayne county.

With such candidates as Charley Aycock and "Dick" Kennedy, Democracy is invincible. FARMER.

The Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., May 20.—The 115th anniversary of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence was celebrated here to-day. Senator Vance was the orator of the day. In his speech he said every aggrieved class seeking redress should be careful not to let redress be turned into revenge. Governor Fowle and State Auditor Sanderlin also spoke.

The finest trades parade ever seen in this city was made by the local merchants, assisted by four military companies and nine fire companies.

There were four entries for the military prize drill: The Raleigh Governor's Guard, Wilmington Light Infantry, Monroe Light Infantry, and the Charlotte Hornets' Nest Riflemen. The Wilmington company won the first prize of $200, Charlotte the second of $100, and Monroe the third of $25.

THE PRESBYTERIANS.

Southern General Assembly at Asheville—Report of the Committee on Temperance—An Argument Against Interference of the Church in Matters of Social Government.

ASHEVILLE, May 20.—The fifth day's session of the Presbyterian General Assembly opened with prayer by Rev. J. R. Ruple, D. D., of Salisbury, N. C.

The reading of the report of the Committee on Temperance, appointed in 1888, had been made the special order for to-day. It was immediately taken up, and required nearly one hour for its reading. It fully covered the entire question. The report consisted of papers written by Dr. William Brown, of Florida, chairman of the Temperance Committee, accompanied by papers from Dr. Hodge, of Princeton, and Dr. Thornwall, of South Carolina (both of whom are now deceased), taking substantially the same view of the question as that advanced by Dr. Brown, who argued against interference of the Church in matters of social government. By conceding the right of the Church to legislate on such questions there was no telling where it would lead to. In fact it would ultimately resolve itself into Church and State despotism, and was therefore inimical to individual liberty and rights of conscience. As to the scriptural interpretation as to temperance, it was held to consist in the moderate use of both food and drink. Wines of Scripture were of an intoxicating character, but were regarded as blessings in their proper and moderate use. The modern dogma that Greek and Hebrew translations, signifying unfermented wines as he wines in use was clearly refuted by overwhelming authority, many passages of Scripture being cited. The question as to whether the use of and dealing in intoxicating liquors debar from communion in the Presbyterian Church was the main point in the paper of Dr. Hodge. He held that it was a matter of expedience, and cited illustration of that principle in the teaching of the Apostles; notably that referring to the essence. So the sum of the purport of the address and accompanying papers was the recommendation that the Church declare neither for prohibition nor for license.

The Assembly listened with interest, but the conclusion arrived at by the authors of the papers did not seem to meet with full approval.

From votes on the motions as to the disposal of the report and amendments thereto, it was clearly indicated that the Commissioners were not agreed on the question.

At the conclusion of the reading Rev. W. Lawrence moved that the report be placed on the docket until the next Assembly, and that the report be published and sent to the different Presbyteries in order that they might be prepared to discuss it at the session of 1891. Adopted.

During the discussion it was proposed to print the report, which did not recommend total abstinence, and circulate it among the Presbyteries. The Commission inquired who will pay for the printing? Another responded, "The whiskey men will pay the bill."

Dr. Wilson read a telegram from the Assembly at Saratoga, in reply to the greeting sent Saturday. It reads:

"The General Assembly in session at Saratoga Springs responds cordially to your fraternal message, and invokes upon you grace, mercy and peace from the triune God." Signed, Wm. E. Moore, Moderator, and W. H. Roberts, Stated Clerk.
