There can be no better medium of advertising than through our columns, as our paper goes daily into the hands of its many readers, thus keeping them ever reminded of our advertising merchants; and as the chief reason for constant advertising is to have the advertisements read as often as possible, the advantage of advertising in THE DAILY ARGUS is at once evident, as our patrons will have their advertisements read almost every day. LOCAL BRIEFS.

THE work of filling up the old cisterns of the city goes forward with dispatch.

THE Rifles will hold their regular weekly drill meeting to-night. Let there be a full attendance.

THE first train load of water-melons from the South this season passed through this city yesterday.

THE public are cordially invited to attend the series of services now in vogue at the Presbyterian church in this city.

THE Democratic party, however much individuals may object, owes it to Hon. Spier Whitaker to recognize his fealty and long and efficient party service.

THE new city ordinances are in the hands of our job printer and will be published in a few days. Read the "statutes" and govern yourself accordingly.

THOUSANDS of Goldsboro's manufacturing enterprises is not yet. In fact, the beginning has hardly begun. With the knitting factory now under way, the discussion of a canning factory is waxing, and with assuring indications that it will materialize before another season rolls round.

TAX listing is now in order, and if you do not attend to it this month you will find yourself involved in the labyrinthian meshes of the law—and that would be just awful. It always is. So you had better list forthwith, immediately, without delay.

OUR County Superintendent of Public Instruction, Capt. D. J. Broadhurst, has in his possession a limited number of Teachers' Assembly membership tickets which he will issue to those entitled to them on application. Teachers should bear this in mind and act accordingly.

IN the absence of Lord Mayor Forester, who is attending Wake Forest College commencement, Capt. W. T. Hollowell, of the Board of Aldermen, is presiding over the destinies of "Tribulation Hall," and he is making its votaries "tribulate," too. He poises the scales of justice with steady hand and impartial edicts.

A VERY fine "bouquet" parlor car arrived in the city yesterday for service on the A. & N. C. R. R. during the Summer season. It will be run every day and a full bill-of-fare, of elaborate dimensions, will be always in vogue for the comfort and refreshment of passengers. The A. & N. C. R. R. was never run with more of satisfaction to the traveling public than has marked the present excellent administration.

WHEN Mr. Allen Moore went home to dinner yesterday he found a large yellow moccasin ambling about the premises, while a crowd of excited children were rousing the natives of that neighborhood over the hair-raising presence of his snake-ship on their domain. Mr. Moore and Mr. Jerro Harris dispatched the reptile; but at this writing the wanted quiet and feeling of security of that neighborhood are not yet restored.

purpose of the ladies to make the opening an event of peculiar interest and lavish refreshment, thereby foreshadowing the "linked sweetness long drawn out" that is in store for the patrons of the Bazaar during the season. It will open at noon to-day, and will be in full blast at the conclusion of Rev. Mr. Dixon's lecture to-night.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Dr. Adam Klutz, of Chapel Hill, is visiting friends in this city.

"Col." A. I. Plaisted is on a business trip to Fredericksburg, Va.

Miss Caddie Fulghum left yesterday morning for New York to study art during the Summer season.

Mr. W. W. West, of our city police, is "on duty" again, after a pleasant visit of a week to his father and relatives in Harnett.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Humphrey left yesterday afternoon for Asheville, where they anticipate spending some weeks.

Miss Mattie Lee, to the pleasure of her hosts of friends here, returned home yesterday from Chapel Hill and Raleigh.

Mrs. B. B. Witherington, of Faison's, was in the city yesterday to attend the marriage of her friend Miss Margaret Hillyar.

Mr. Gaston Battle, of Rocky Mount, on his way home from the University, is spending a few days in the city, the guest of his friend Mr. Hugh Miller.

Miss Kate Galloway returned home yesterday evening from Boston, where she has been spending several months in special study of art. We are all glad to welcome her home again.

Miss Annie Crawford arrived home yesterday afternoon from Statesville Female College, from which institution she graduated on Monday with highest honors. Her wide circle of friends here are glad to welcome her home.

Misses Mary Ashley and Sudie Kirby, who are of the faculty of Statesville Female Seminary, arrived home yesterday for vacation and their coming is a great pleasure to their many friends here, who are glad indeed to have them home again.

Craton-Hillyar.

Our citizens have seldom manifested greater and more widespread interest in the linking of the lives of two of Goldsboro's young people together in matrimony than they displayed yesterday on the occasion of the marriage of our esteemed young townsman Mr. Richard Washington Craton to Miss Margaret Anne Hillyar, the aimable daughter of Rev. J. M. Hillyar, Rector of this Episcopal parish, which was solemnized in St. Stephen's Church yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, Rt. Rev. A. A. Watson, D. D., Bishop of the diocese, officiating.

The attendants were—the four sisters of the bride, and Misses Laura Hartsell, Anna Privett, Daisy and Corinne Washington, Leulie Miller, Marianna Cobb, and Louisa and Minnie B. Hill. The ushers were Messrs. Charles Miller, Joseph Rosenthal and Dr. W. H. Cobb, Jr.

Previous to the ceremony the immediate relatives and attendants were entertained at breakfast at the Rectory, where were displayed a bewildering galaxy of beautiful and valuable bridal gifts, which though silent were yet more eloquent than words in their testimony of the good will and wishes of the many friends of the contracting young couple.

The floral decorations both at the Rectory and at the church were lavish and beautiful beyond description, and the ceremony, which was most impressive in every utterance, was witnessed by a crowded congregation. The organ was presided over by Miss Hattie Dewey, which means that the beautiful wedding march was perfectly rendered.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy young couple, amid the concurrence of many friends at the depot, who showered them with congratulations and good wishes, took the North bound train for a trip to the Metropolitan City and other leading centres of interest.

THE ARGUS joins with the entire community in wishing them all happiness and prosperity—and long to live in the enjoyment thereof.

REV. THOMAS DIXON, JR. His Lecture in the Messenger Opera House To-Night.

THE ARGUS does not need to say more than simply announce the fact that Rev. Thos. Dixon, Jr., will lecture in this city to-night. He is at home in Goldsboro, and is not without merit among our people. It will be a pleasure to his many friends here, however, to read the following notice of him from the Boston Home Journal on his lectures in that city:

"Mr. Dixon himself as a public speaker next claims our attention.

"First: His individuality is distinct. He stands alone as one of those natural men whom other natural men have not infected to make him imitative. He has a full round nature of his own, uncontaminated by convention. If he is not one of the immortals, he is one of the incomparables. If you wish to see a native man, go look at him. He is a notable man in a world of shaped men.

Second: He is an orator. He is so, 1st, through his genius. Probably he has been dropping crudities as he has gone on, but I think he must have sprung full grown out of the head of divinity. 2d, Through a grasping intellect for what will serve his purpose. What some scholars study fourteen hours of the twenty-four to make their own, he snaps in as the pike in a shiner. 3d, Through that rare gift of impulsive speech which expresses itself in outburst without rant. It is the expression of a genuine life within the man, which when analyzed reveals the moral elements of sincerity, earnestness, love, and the intellectual elements of judgment, reason, and imagination. Emotional thinking is the trait. He is alive, soul and body; and he communicates his life to his hearers. He has the power of sustaining them in their character as hearers. He has that gift of the orator, the power of holding the attention of an audience beyond twenty minutes. The twenty minute minute limit would be as unendurable to him as a high, old-fashioned pulpit. He would make it as unendurable to his hearer. The gladdened hearer says to the impulsive speaker, 'Go on.'"

Tickets are on sale at Robinson Bros. drug store.

THE COTTON CROP.

Reports From the Department of Agriculture.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The statistical returns for June to the Department of Agriculture show an increased acreage in cotton in nearly every State. The area, as compared with acreage of 1889, is reported in this preliminary investigation as follows: Virginia 98, North Carolina 102, South Carolina 103, Georgia 102, Florida 103, Alabama 102, Mississippi 102, Louisiana 95, Texas 105, Arkansas 99, Tennessee 100—average 102. Average condition 88.8. The percentage of Virginia is 90, North Carolina 98, South Carolina 97, Georgia 94, Florida 82, Alabama 93, Mississippi 85, Louisiana 84, Texas 82, Arkansas 85, Tennessee 87.

The fair price prevailing with the low prices for other products, stimulates the extension of planting. The overflows in Arkansas and Louisiana delayed planting in those States, and prevented an increase which would otherwise have been made.

There are locations where re-planting to perfect stands, injured by cold nights, are still continued, and will be in extreme cases to the 15th of June. The stand is very good in the Carolinas with exceptions in the low areas, where frost or cool nights destroyed the plant.

In the Mississippi Valley and in Texas heavy rains, local floods and inundations have caused an unusual amount of replanting, and on the Mississippi and other great rivers there is delay in planting until the waters recede. In such cases the seed have been chopped in the mud and the plants have appeared promptly, sometimes in four days from the planting.

Except on the Atlantic coast excess of rain has retarded chopping out and cultivation, leaving the crop somewhat grassy, though the recent fine weather has done much to secure clean cultivation. In the more Southern latitudes the plants are beginning to bloom, while the entire breadth, as a rule, is late; the plants are healthy and growing rapidly.

AN ELECTION LAW.

Result of the Republican Representatives' Caucus—A New Measure to be Framed.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—For the fourth time the Republican Representatives were in caucus to-night upon the subject of a national election law. The attendance was small, and as it was understood that a vote was not to be taken before 10 o'clock to decide as between the Lodge and Powell bills, two hours were devoted to a discussion which served but to accentuate the preference of Southern Republicans for the Lodge plan. A feature of the discussion was a speech in favor of that measure by Representative Cheatham, the colored member from North Carolina. The result of the talk was that when Speaker Reed pointed out how differences between adherents of the two bills could be adjusted, by a combination of features or principles of each which were unobjectioned, his proposition was unanimously accepted, and Mr. Rowell and Mr. Lodge were instructed to formulate a compromise bill.

Its features will be an enlargement of the supervisory system, so that supervisors shall participate in registration, voting and canvassing. To carry out fully the national idea supervisors' returns are to be prima facie evidence of the right of a member to his seat, and are to prevail in making up the roll of the House. In cases of conflicting returns certificates of State canvassers may be used to allow the House to form its judgment of the qualifications of the contestant.

As soon as the proposition is reduced to form, it is expected that another caucus will be called to formally adopt the measure and provide for its speedy consideration by the House.
