There can be no better medium of advertising than through our columns, as our paper goes daily into the hands of its many readers, thus keeping them ever reminded of our advertising merchants; and as the chief reason for constant advertising is to have the advertisement read as often as possible, the advantage of advertising in THE DAILY ARGUS is at once evident, as our patrons will have their advertisements read almost every day. Rates furnished on application.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

OYSTERS have commenced coming in freely.
THE "Fair Rebel" at the Messenger Opera House to-night.
THE Tarboro Fair and the Weldon Fair both open to-day.
MISS LOLLIE LEWIS is visiting relatives in Tarboro.
THE next session of the North Carolina Presbyterian Synod will be held in Raleigh.
THE health of Goldsboro was never better than at this time. No sickness of any account is reported.
If any person in this city has failed to register it is their own fault. They have been fully warned by THE ARGUS.
His many friends here were glad to see in the city yesterday Mr. J. A. Bonitz, of Wilmington, who spent the day here on business.

Mrs. W. H. Lyon left yesterday for the Northern markets to purchase her second stock of Fall and Winter goods.

GOLDSBORO is the favorite cotton market of all this section. Every day is a thronged day on our streets with the fleecy staple.

TO DAY week is election. It will be a great day of victory for Democrats in this county if they all turn out to the polls and vote.

A SHOWER of hail visited the Stony Creek section Sunday afternoon, but it was not sufficient to cause much damage to the matured crops.

It is a pleasure to us to chronicle the improvement of Mr. M. J. Ham, who has been confined to his home, in Stony Creek township, for the past ten days by fever. His physician thinks he will be able to be out and going again in a few days.

THERE will be a grand Democratic rally at Creech's store, Fifth Ward, to-morrow night at 7:30 o'clock. The meeting will be addressed by Mr. Hiram J. Ham, Democratic candidate for the House, Sheriff Jas. H. Grant, Col. E. A. Wright, and others. The public are cordially invited.

SENATOR M. W. RANSON speaks at several points in this section this week; Wednesday in Kinston, Thursday in Beaufort, Friday in Newbern, and Saturday in this city. He is an eloquent orator, a plain expounder of Democratic principles, and is doing great service for his party. A large crowd should turn out to hear him.

WITH the cold wave that has descended to this genial climate, the "festive oyster" has arrived. The return of the luscious bivalve will be celebrated at the Sunday School Room of the Baptist church to-night. The festival under the auspices of the Baptist ladies to-night will be the choicest of the season. A pleasant social time is promised to all. Don't fail to come.

THE aforesaid McKinley and his party for him are frightened by impending danger of his defeat. Much money and eloquence are emptied in shining musical currents into his district and the Republicans are already "demanding a fair count." This uniformly means the old Chandler-Florida-Hayes visiting statesman process by which the presidency was stolen from Hayes and more recently Venable's seat in Congress for a negro.

TYPICAL AMERICANS.

That the South bravely fought, as became Americans and by Americans was bravely overpowered, is the sentiment of the progressive present, in every portion of the Union. Politicians alone fire the dying embers of sectional feeling and fraternal hate.

Editor Macfarland, of the Philadelphia Record, declares the two finest tributes ever paid to an American were to Robt. E. Lee, and that no American better deserved them. One of the tributes was the climax of Ben Hill's oration—"Lee was like Caesar without his ambition, Napoleon without his selfishness, and Washington without his reward." The other was the close of a panegyric on Lee by Dick Wintersmith, of Kentucky, when he said of Lee, "going to Heaven he relieved Washington of his eternal loneliness."

But there is another tribute to an American of our own day that is equally as beautiful, and, perhaps, more certainly true. It is the tribute of Channay Depew to Grover Cleveland, at the recent New York Soldiers' Banquet. He said:

"If I am to name the typical American, the man who loves and believes in his country beyond everything else, the man who, determining once in what direction his duty leads, cannot be swerved from the path—the man who is doggedly persistent in what he believes to be right—the man who thinks not of self, but of the country and its needs, I would name Grover Cleveland. What he has accomplished is the very highest attribute to the possibilities of American citizenship. A country lawyer in the city of Buffalo, he shed luster upon the high profession which he had chosen. As the mayor of his native city, he presented as his record a clean and economical administration. Coming into the highest position in the land without previous experience and without scarcely a precedent to guide him in the conditions which surrounded him, he won the affection of his party and commanded the respect and admiration of his opponents. I find myself in one of the proudest positions of my life in being permitted to present to you Grover Cleveland as the typical American."

Miss Fannie Gillette.

Miss Fannie Gillette who is specially engaged for three years by Mr. Edward R. Mawson, to play the part of Clairette Monteith, the heroine of "A Fair Rebel" is a beautiful young American woman, intensely emotional, possessing a melodious and sympathetic voice. There are few young actresses on the American or European stage who have achieved such triumphs in the dramatic art, as Miss Gillette.

At the commencement of her student days she took the art of painting, which she followed studiously for several years, but being an ardent admirer of Shakespeare and other classical authors, her mind was suddenly made up to adopt the stage as a permanent profession. Her family, one of the oldest in America, seeing that her accomplishments went in the direction of the art which she most loved, were pleased to encourage her in her endeavors, and consequently she pursued her dramatic studies with a strong will and a determination to reach the front ranks.

Night after night she watched the performers of Bernhardi; Modjeska and other queens of the stage. No point was missed by her; every glance and movement of the great actresses were noted, and after any great performance she would retire to her study and for hours would weave out her own special conceptions of the part she had witnessed played.

It is by such close study that actresses become prominent in their profession, for never has setting proven itself so worthy of being called an art as at the present time. Miss Gillette has justly earned the lavish praise which the critics of her country have seen fit to bestow upon her. She appears in the Messenger

Opera House to-night, and deserves to be greeted by the largest possible audience. Reserved seats at Robinson Bros.

Superintendent's Report.

To the Board of Trustees:—
GENTLEMEN—The following is my report for the first school month of the session of 1890-91:

Total enrollment in white schools, 543
" " " colored " " " " 118
" " " schools for both races 664
Per cent of attendance of white schools, 98 1/2

The small enrollment in the colored schools is due to the great demand for cotton pickers.

In the white schools, the 6th grade wins the honor of the best attendance. Respectfully submitted,
J. Y. JOYNER,
Superintendent.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

"We are the Republican party," say the negroes, and it is emphatically so in Wayne. They ran and controlled the late convention in this county, and put out a ticket that no man of any decency, Democrat or Republican, can support.

They nominated two old-line Republicans, in the persons of James H. Edgerton and Geo. H. Grantham, and after they had been nominated by acclamation, a negro preacher, who wasn't even a delegate, suggested that they had made a mistake, and thereupon a negro delegate moved to reconsider the nominations, which was done, and Jas. H. Edgerton and Geo. H. Grantham were taken off the ticket.

The convention then appointed a committee to see if it could find some disgruntled, office-seeking Democrat to take a place on the ticket upon which they nominated the negro Baker.

The preacher had told them in his speech that there were a great many Democrats who could be counted on to help elect such a legislative ticket composed of traitors to the Democratic party, and the convention believed him and acted on his suggestion.

But where are the Democrats who were counted on?

They seem at this writing to be as scarce as hens' teeth, and they ought to be; for what Democrat is there who wants to declare to the people of Wayne that the negro preacher was his spokesman?

If there be such a Democrat, in the name of common decency let him reflect upon the position in which he places himself in voting for Parks and Broadhurst.

Further, we venture the assertion here, that the colored preacher in question, who, as published in the report of that convention in these columns at the time, is none other than Rev. C. Dillard, pastor of Shiloh Presbyterian church of this city, is not himself going to vote for Parks and Broadhurst. He cannot afford to do so, for they represent no principle of politics—no political party—no code of ethics. He is acquainted with these men, and he knows them to be unworthy of his vote; and yet, at his suggestion, two straight moral, life-time Republicans, good men, both of them, were taken down from the ticket, after being nominated, to make place for this duet of maudling independents.

The decent darkies of the city and county are not going to vote for Parks and Broadhurst, against Ham and Bryan. How, then, can any decent white man—and above all a decent Democrat—vote for them?

The fact of the matter is, Parks and Broadhurst are doomed.

The Radical ticket of the county—Grady, Baker, Dobson & Co.—is doomed; for it is a "house divided against itself"; and you all know the fate of such a house.

Broadhurst and Parks, Grady, nigger Baker, Dobson & Co.—good-bye!
