UNQUENCHABLE
 BY DR. CHARLES MACKAY.

My love is like the dewy rose
 She wears upon her breast.
 Her breath is like the wind that blows
 Balm laden from the west;
 Her smiles are like the sunlight shed
 On waves that as they roll,
 And like the blue sky overhead
 Her purity of soul.

Her generous thoughts are like the rain
 That falls on high and low;
 Her kindly gifts to age and pain
 None but the wretched know.
 Her sympathies are broad as Day
 And stormy as the Night.
 And when there's darkness on the way
 Her presence sheds a light!

Such were my thoughts when Love was young.
 But now, when Love is old,
 Each fancy of my pen or tongue
 Is silver turned to gold.
 I would her in the Morn of life,
 Ere yet by sorrow tried,
 But now I cherish her as wife—
 More than I loved as bride.

FRESH FUN.
 The Sharp and Witty Sayings of the Press Men

The two old friends met accidentally for the first time in ten or fifteen years.

"Well," he said, "you are still Lucy Benderby, are you?"

"Yes," she replied, "still Lucy Benderby."

"It isn't your fault, I know," he rejoined, meaning something complimentary. "That is," he added, nervously, feeling that he had not expressed himself exactly in the way he had intended, "I mean that you're not to blame, you know. You couldn't help it—er—that is, it was the fault of the young man. They, you know," he went on, breaking out in a profuse perspiration, "couldn't be expected—h'm! ha!—to—er—well, I must be going. Ever so glad to have met you!"—Chicago Tribune.

Sunday school teacher—"And when the wicked children continued mocking the good prophet, two she bears came out of the mountain and ate up over forty of the wicked children. Now, boys, what lesson does this teach us?"

Jimpey Primrose—"I know."

Teacher—"Well, Jimpey!"

Jimpey Primrose—"It teaches us how many children a she bear can hold."—Boston Courier.

A colored domestic in one of the families of this city is a wonder of obedience and good nature. She was up stairs and her mistress called to her:

"Aunt Mary, come here; I want you to hurry, too."

Aunt Mary started with more effort at haste than actual success. She had left a bit of soap on one of the higher steps, and it sent her bumping down the stairs in a most startling manner. When she struck the hall floor she picked herself up and answered all the excited inquiries as to her condition with the mere remark, accompanied by a grin:

"I reckon yer told me ter hurry down, didn't yer!"—Washington Post.

"But before I can admit of your paying your addresses to my daughter," said the father, "I must know the extent of your debts. Come, now, tell me what you owe?"

"In that case, sir," said the suitor, "will you kindly permit me to take a chair?"—Philadelphia Times.

Young Mother—Do you think baby looks most like me or his papa?" Nurse—Like you, m'm.

Mr. Jenkins is a mighty handsome man. Advertisement—Wanted—A competent and civil nurse—Texas Siftings.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria. Traveler.

Advice to Mothers.
 Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

GA'ARRH CAN'T BE CURED
 with LOCAL APPLICATION, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you have to take internal medicine. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surface. Hall's Catarrh Cure is no quick medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best ingredients now known, combined with the best blood purifier, acting directly on the mucous surface. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials, free.

"The use of 'Castoria' is so universal and its merits so well known that it seems a work of supererogation to endorse it. Few are the intelligent families who do not keep Castoria within easy reach." CARLOS MASTY, D. D., New York City. Late Pastor Bloomingdale Reformed Church.
