LOCAL BRIEFS.

The Board of City Aldermen will meet in regular monthly session tonight.

The Womens Musical will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. Hattie Dewey.

EVERYWHERE throughout the county the farmers are busy making early preparations for the coming crops.

The turpentine and Texas oxdus among the colored people of this section seems to be about spent. Many have gone, but plenty remain.

The city schools opened again yesterday, after the Christmas vacation. There were 553 children in attendance at the white schools.

The Royal Arcanum Lodge No. 500 of this city, yesterday paid the policy taken out by its late lamented member Rev. J. P. Harris for $3,000.

The Board of County Commissioners and the County Board of Education were in session in this city yesterday. The proceedings of both bodies will be officially reported in these columns.

To-day Epiphany, there will be service at St. Stephen's Church at 11 a. m. The service and instruction which was to have taken place last night has been postponed to Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

All members and friends of the Young Men's Christian Association are cordially invited to attend a social at the rooms of the Association Friday night. A musical programme and refreshments will be features of the evening.

There was quite a discussion before the Board of County Commissioners yesterday upon the subject of township fences in the "no fence" territory, which was engaged in pro and con by representatives from the several townships interested.

Oh, yes! Goldsboro is all right. And she is going to do a larger trade this Spring than ever before. And, moreover, there is going to be some mighty upheavals in the way of internal improvements and widening progress. Mark the prediction!

The Legislature convenes tomorrow, and the members from the East are already moving upon Raleigh. Quite a number of Senators and Representatives passed through this city yesterday en route, and others will pass through to-day. The Democratic caucus will be held to-night. Of course all will be well. It could not be otherwise with such an overwhelming Democratic majority.

An aged and demented colored man, whose mania was wild, rapid, incoherent, wildly gesticulative preaching, occupied the campaign rostrum on the court house square for several hours yesterday morning, and preached, with open Bible, but no text, for all he was worth, but did not succeed in getting an audience. He is harmless, but old and penniless, and seems to have tramped through several States of this preaching errand.

It has been truly said that law can not cure the thief; for that other methods—affirmative methods, constructive methods, moral and physical methods—must be employed. Temperance law leaves the appetite in the drinker and tries to put a wall between the appetite and its gratification. Law can not keep men from conceiving and working out their work of ruin. This is not the fault of any particular form of law; it is because law does not and can not deal with the sources and causes of moral evil.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. W. F. Korneyay went down to Newbern yesterday on a business visit.

Mrs. Alice Caldwell, of Salisbury, who has been spending the holidays very pleasantly in this city with Miss Rylie Hill, left yesterday for home.

Mr. R. J. Barkhead, of the State Treasurers office, Raleigh, in the city on a brief business trip and his hosts of friends here are glad to see him.

Misses May Gay and Fannie Green, who have been spending several days with Misses Hattie and Minnie Slocumb in this city, returned to Wilson yesterday.

Mr. Gaston Lewis, who has been engaged in marine survey in South Carolina for a year or more, is on a vacation, but so his home in this city. His friends are all glad to see "Jack."

Dr. Will Crawford, a Wayne county boy of talent and push, who is now located in the Western part of the State and prospering at his profession, was in the city yesterday, and his many friends here were glad to see him again.

Friends' Bible School Conference.

By THE ARGUS Special.
GUILDFORD COLLEGE, N. C.,
January 2, 1891.

Mr. Editor.—According to our promise to "ye editor" we will proceed to give a sketch of the Bible School Conference of North Carolina, which closed here on New Year's day. It was called to order Wednesday at 10 a. m. by Jas. R. Parker, general Superintendent.

Joseph Potts read the 8th chapter of Nehemiah, after which prayer was offered by Revs. David Sampson and David Farlow.

Rev. James R. Jones, formerly editor of "Prohibition Leader" was elected chairman by acclamation and Miss Sue Farlow Secretary.

Calling of the roll came next, to which the following delegates from Wayne county responded: Rev. John S. Moore and wife, W. R. Hollowell, Mrs. Katie Moore, Mr. Jesse T. Hollowell and A. R. Edgerton.

Delegates were present from every quarter of the State.

The address of welcome was delivered by Prof. Perkins in his most happy and eloquent style, and was responded to by Prof. Robert Beat of South Carolina. The welcome was commented on during Conference by Dr. Mendenhall and other able men.

Prof. Perkins said he thought there was a better word than "reformation" and that was "formation."

A very soul stirring song. A work for both of us by the choir, opened the Conference.

Just here it will be well to say that it was very gratifying to notice that out of five young ladies in the choir, three were from Wayne county. Misses Minnie and Rena Hollowell and Annie Edgerton.

Prof. L. L. Hobbs read a paper, "Importance of Bible Study, and how to study," but left off "How to study" for discussion.

The afternoon session was taken up by Mary Woody, whose subject was "Misdeeds of Angels." Mrs. Mary Cardland, "Need of Uniform Temperance teaching;" Herman Woody, "Principles of Peace in Connection with the S. School;" and "Science and the Bible" by Dr. Mendenhall.

The last named paper was from the pen of a man who was fully competent to handle his subject. We believe that Dr. Mendenhall is one of the ablest and best informed men in the State. One man told me that the Dr. never hears an address but that he can tell whether its author is guilty of plagiarism. Herman Woody's address was excellent indeed for an eighteen year-old boy. He recommended among other books, the reading of Charles Sumner's,

"The True Grandeur of Nations," which is an excellent oration.

The programme for the forenoon session on New Year's Day was "Heroes of the Bible," by Prof. Dixon; "Heroines of the Bible," by Miss Gertrude Mendenhall; "Difference Between an Abundant Entrance and Being Saved so," as by "Kare," by Joseph Potts, corresponding editor of "Friends Review." "The Prophecies Concerning Christ and their fulfillment," by Prof. Woody.

We enjoyed Prof. Dixon's "Heroes of the Bible" as well as anything during the proceedings. He spoke mostly of lay heroes, mentioning Moses, David, Jonathan, Daniel and others. He concluded by saying, it required heroism to eat, to drink, to buy and sell, and last but not least, to vote.

The afternoon and closing session convened at 2 p. m., when there were many more in attendance than usual.

The exercises consisted of a paper, "The principles of Missions," by Mary A. Peel; "Infant Class," by Mary Dixon; "Question Box" by Miss Julia White. It seems to us that the climax was reached when Mrs. Mary Hobbs delivered her "How shall we turn our boys and girls into happy men and women?" She literally held her audience spellbound; she is able, fearless and outspoken in her convictions, and is ever on the alert to fight for the right and condemn the wrong. She is the daughter of Dr. Mendenhall, and sister to Mrs. Geo. S. Moore, of Wayne county.

The closing address was delivered by Mr. Jabez Mendenhall, an earnest and zealous worker in the S. S. cause.

The proceedings of the Conference will be published in the "Christian Worker" and the "Friends Review;" which will be more complete and concise than our little sketch in these columns.

Well, the Conference is over, and we truly feel that it was "good for us to be here."

We do not exaggerate when we assert that it was the ablest body of men and women that we have ever seen assembled anywhere.

One man from Indiana rose up in the final session and said, that he had attended Conferences in the Northwest and in many States, but he had never yet attended one in which there had been so much "concentrated wisdom and expressed so tersely." He said, it seemed like "words of gold in pictures of silver."

The preachers and delegates all go home to-day.

Guilford College opens January 6th, prospects bid fair for a full school. Vale! Vale! Sed non Semper.

Respectfully,
A. R. EDGERTON.

WASHINGTON NEWS.
Interesting Items for Argus Readers.
Especially Prepared by Our Regular.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 3, '91.—"Same to you and many happy returns." That's the phrase that greeted one at every turn last Thursday, and now the fun has begun of robbing out 1890, and making it '91.

Washington, like every other large city throughout the country, opened her many thousands of homes on New Year's, and received all comers with charming greetings.

The President's reception lasted from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m., and although the weather was anything else but inviting, the programme at the White House was carried out successfully, and many were the hands that shook the hand that belongs to the man that wears the hat that his grandfather wore.

The President and Mrs. Harrison were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Morton, and the ladies of the Cabinet. Much enjoyment was added to the occasion by the rendition of some ten or twelve selections, from Wagner, Happy Planquette, and others, by the Marine Band. Everything moved along smoothly until about one o'clock, when the fire department was called out to put out a fire in the elegant mansion of Hon. J. G. Blake, out at Dupont circle. After it was extinguished it was found that the house alone, for which Mr. Blake paid one hundred thousand dollars some ten years ago and for which he receives eleven thousand five hundred a year rent, was damaged to the extent of fifteen thousand dollars.

National Legislation has been extremely slow for the past two weeks owing to the holidays.

Hon. Henry M. Brown of Detroit, the new Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, arrived in the city to-day, and is now ready to take the oath of office.

Sen. Harrison's brief visit to Massachusetts. On his return it is expected that the fight over the election bill will be more vigorous than ever, as he has expressed himself that the outlook is more favorable than it has been since its introduction in the House last year. That opinion, of course, is from a Republican standpoint; but to judge from general opinions as expressed here, the election bill will never pass the Senate.

The President last week signed a bill appropriating twenty five thousand dollars to be expended in erecting a public building at Reidsville, N. C.

Messrs. C. M. Busbee and W. A. Parker, of Raleigh, arrived in the city last week.

The Richmond & Danville R. R. sent out this morning the finest vestibule train that has ever been sent to the South; it will run between Washington and Atlanta, and makes the time four hours shorter than it ever has been made before.

Eupuppy.
This is what you ought to have, in fact you must have it, to fully enjoy life. Thousands are searching for it daily, and mourning because they find it not. It costs upon thousands of dollars and spent annually by our people in the hope that they may attain this boon. And yet it may be had by all. We guarantee that Electric Bitters, if used according to directions and the use persisted in, will bring you Good Digestion and out the demon Dyspepsia and install instead Eupuppy. We recommend Electric Bitters for Dyspepsia and all diseases of Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. Sold at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle by J. H. Hill & Son, Druggist.

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved.
From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up saying I could live but a short time. I gave my self up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friend on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles; it has cured me and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at J. H. Hill & Son's drug store, regular size, 50c and $1.00.
