There can be no better medium of advertising than through our columns, as our paper goes daily into the hands of its many readers, thus keeping them ever reminded of our advertising merchants; and as the chief reason for constant advertising is to have the advertisements read as often as possible; the advantage of advertising in THE DAILY ARGUS is at once evident, as our patrons will have their advertisements read fresh every day. LOCAL BRIEFS.

MISS FERABE DEWEY, of Raleigh, is visiting Mrs. W. F. Kornegay.

The planting of peas is now all the go among our local truckers.

The "Old Folks Concert" is being arranged for on an elaborate scale.

MESSES. JOE AND GEORGE PERRY, of Princeton, were in the city yesterday.

MISS HATTIE HOWARD, who has been visiting Miss Matie Lee, left yesterday for her home in Tarboro.

We regret to chronicle that Mrs. Joe Carroll is quite sick with pneumonia at her home on William street.

EVERYBODY should bear in mind and not fail to visit the supper of the ladies of St. Paul's church tomorrow evening.

THE return of Dr. W. J. Jones from New York, bringing the news of their son Will's improved condition is very gratifying to their host of friends in this community.

OUR good friend Mr. Jethro Howell, of Fork township, thinks he has beaten the record, and is stepping high in consequence. He killed a two-year old porker last week that tipped the beam at 440 pounds.

THE bill before the General Assembly providing for the establishment of a State Normal and Industrial school for girls is creating considerable discussion pro and con. that is waxing warm and interesting.

It is indeed glorious that the infamous "Force Bill" has been again thwarted. The "Rads" are not equal, even in the brute force of numbers, to the superior intelligence of their Democratic opponents—the people's champions.

It would perhaps be well for the Board of County Commissioners at their coming monthly meeting, to take into consideration the unstable condition of our county jail. The remedy will suggest itself upon due inspection of the premises.

Now is a good time for some of our public spirited, progressive business men to come together and take steps for the erection of a large tobacco warehouse in Goldsboro. This is one of Goldsboro's greatest needs, and we can have it. Why not?

OLD Sim Holloway, the well known colored driver of the fine span of mules of the Goldsboro Oil Mills, in which the old darkey always took so much pride, is dead. He died yesterday of pneumonia. He was a quiet and faithful servant.

CAPTAIN W. T. Dorich, of the Goldsboro Rifles, went to Raleigh yesterday to interview His Excellency Governor Fowle in regard to securing one of those Gatling guns for the command here which the State is expected to receive soon from the U. S. Government. Goldsboro being a great railroad centre, from which a speedy move could be made in any direction in case of emergency, should have one of the guns by all means.

FIFTY-FIRST CONGRESS.

The Elections Bill and the Closure Resolution Defeated in the Senate by the Adoption of a Motion to take up the Apportionment Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—[SENATE.]—The Senate met at noon in continuation of the legislative day of Thursday last, the pending question being the resolution to amend the rules by providing a method of closing debate. Mr. Morgan resumed the floor and continued the argument begun Saturday in opposition to the proposed rule and to the Election law bill, both of which measures he claimed, on the authority of the New York Times, to be for advancement of Harrison's project for re-election. At 1:20 Mr. Wolcott asked Mr. Morgan to yield the floor to him so that he might move to take up the Apportionment bill.

Mr. Morgan said he would do so, although he was at a very interesting point in his speech, which he trusted he would never have the opportunity to resume.

Mr. Wolcott then made that motion, and Mr. Dolph moved to lay it on the table.

The point of order against the latter motion was made on the Democratic side, but the Presiding Officer (Platt) overruled it and held that the motion was in order.

The vote was proceeded with amid great excitement, and there was much confusion and some ill-feeling in relation to pairs. Mr. Daniel said that he had been paired with Mr. Squire, but as he was informed by the Senator from Nevada (Mr. Stewart) that the Senator from California (Stanford), was in favor of proceeding with business, he would transfer Mr. Squire's pair to Mr. Stanford and would himself vote. Mr. Aldrich himself objected to the proposed transfer, and insisted that there was no authority for it. Mr. Stewart admitted that he had no direct authority to pair Mr. Stanford with a Senator in favor of the proposed rule, but said that Mr. Stanford told him before leaving the city for New York that he was in favor of taking up the Apportionment bill.

Mr. Aldrich asserted, on the contrary, that Mr. Stanford had told him distinctly that he was in favor of the pending resolution, and he (Aldrich) intimated that the proposed transfer would be taking unfair advantage of Mr. Stanford's absence.

The controversy developed some acrimonious feeling on both sides, but the matter was settled by Mr. Daniel saying that if there was any doubt or dispute about it he would let his pair with Mr. Squire stand—and that was the upshot of it. The same question also arose as to the pairs of Messrs. Shoup and Moody, but the final result was that pairs stood as follows: Messrs. Pierce and Brown, Plumb and Gibson, Pettigrew and Pasco, Squire and Daniel, Shoup and Colquitt, Sanders and Lugala, Chandler and Blodgett, Moody and Hearst, Higgins and Voorhees. Mr. Stanford stands as absent, not paired.

The result was announced—yeas 34, nays 35—so the motion to lay on the table was rejected. The announcement was greeted with applause on the Democratic side and in the galleries. This was resented by Mr. Edmunds, who insisted that the Chair should enforce the rules of the Senate, and that if there was any repetition of the disturbances the galleries should be cleared.

The following is the vote in detail: Yeas—Messrs. Aldrich, Allen, Allison, Blair, Carey, Callahan, Davis, Eaves, Dixon, Dolph, Edmunds, Everts, Farwell, Frye, Hall, Hawley, Hiscock, Hoar, McConnell, McMillan, Mendenhall, Mitchell, Morrill, Paddock, Platt, Power, Quay, Sawyer, Sherman, Spooner, Stockbridge, Warren, Wilson of Iowa—34.

Nays—Messrs. Barbour, Bates, Berry, Blackburn, Butler, Call, Cameron, Carlisle, Cockrell, Coke, Eustis, Faulkner, George, Gorman, Gray, Hampton, Harris, Jones of Arkansas, Jones of Nevada, Kerma, McPherson, Morgan, Payne, Pugh, Ransom, Reagan, Stewart, Teller, Turpie, Vance, Vest, Walthall, Washburn, Wilson of Maryland, Walcott—35.

A vote was then taken on Mr. Walcott's motion to take up the Apportionment bill and it was carried by a like vote—yeas 35 nays 34—the only difference being that Mr. Pettigrew's pair was transferred from Mr. Pasco to Mr. Call. There was no distinct outbreak of applause at the final success of the movement against the Elections bill and the proposed rule, but the feeling of jubilation was not less great on the Democratic side, and Mr. Blair interposed the remark that when a man was down that was the time to get up, and so now this was the time to take up and pass the Education bill. [Call of "order" from the Democratic side.]

The resolution for the amendment of the rules having been thus disposed and relegated to the calendar (as the Elections bill had previously been) the Senate proceeded to consideration of the Apportionment bill.

Female Normal School.

At noon on Monday the House of Representatives of the Legislature took up the bill to establish a Normal and Industrial school for white girls. Great interest was felt in this measure, and the galleries were entirely filled with ladies. The bill provides that the school shall be located at some point which may make a subscription.

Mr. Gilmer, chairman of the committee on Education, said that committee had made a unanimous report in favor of the bill. He then proceeded to speak of the bill and its merits, and called upon the members to support the measure. He felt sure every member was in favor of a movement along the line of public education. No man who was not in favor of such an advance could have come to this session of Legislature.

Mr. Henry opposed the bill, saying he did not think it met the demands of the situation. He desired to know why the University should not be thrown open to the girls. He said the bill was an outrage upon the women, because it required those who studied at the school to repay the State for their tuition by teaching in the public schools. He took up the present school system which costs $718,000 annually, of which $650,000 goes to teachers, and the remainder to officers. He said this bill provided for giving away $14,000 of the people's money. The bill, he thought, was prepared to create some fat offices. He could see no justification for this bill. He attacked the University and said the rich people and not the poor got the benefits of it. The result as regards this school would be the same as at Chapel Hill. The University with 168 students, costs the State $30,000 a year. He thought three-fourths of the scholarships there should be given to females, and the latter should not be required to pay by teaching for their tuition, but put upon the same footing as the young men. He said if a school of this character was established for the whites, one must, under the constitution, be established for the negroes.

Mr. Bryan, of Wayne, said he felt a deep interest in this measure. He said the relation of the teachers to the State was different from that of other professions. To the women who make the best teachers, the State looks for the great majority of its instructors. Such an institution as is proposed will prove a godsend to the poor girls of North Carolina. He was sure the poor people of North Carolina would applaud his action in supporting this bill, which will encourage the poor girls of the State. He thanked God that his people were not a niggardly people and would rejoice in a bill which opens the doors to the young women.

Mr. Skinner spoke warmly in support of the bill as of great moment and interest to the whole people of the State. He had in this measure the interest of a father magnified into a patriot. No man knows what a day may bring forth and when girls may need a helping hand. He wanted the light of education thrown upon the girls as it is upon the boys. He pleaded for this equality, and justice for all the people of North Carolina.

Mr. Ray followed Mr. Skinner and spoke bitterly against the bill attacking chiefly the section which requires women taught at the schools to become public school teachers. He opposed the entire bill, however, even if this proviso was eliminated.

Mr. Morton made a capital speech in advocacy of the bill, saying it was due to the women of the State that this provision should be made. Petitions for this school had come from thousands of women.

Messrs. Peebles and Pritchard had quite a sharp spat in regard to the bill, and at the end of this the House adjourned leaving the bill as unfinished business. The debate was to be resumed yesterday. The bill will probably pass by a good majority, though the opposition is earnest.
