

Give Business a Rest.

The business of the country needs rest from political disturbance. The long strain of the last season, extending from December to October, and the convulsions caused by the monumental folly of the McKinley tariff, were grave obstacles to business trust; and, now that the worst is known from the multiplication of wanton taxes on industry, and no remedy in immediate prospect, the great hope of business tranquility is in eight months' relief from Congress.

Both parties seem to realize the peril of precipitating an extra session of Congress, and the leaders are mutually anxious to avoid responsibility for such a calamity. They understand that the business interests of the country want rest, and the lesson of the last election makes leaders of all sides disinclined to trifle with public opinion.

The country well understands that tariff agitation must come as soon as the new Congress meets; and it is known that a clear majority of both branches of the new Congress will be in opposition to the McKinley tariff; but all feel that the subject can be much more wisely considered and disposed of after December than in the coming spring months. Even the perturbed political elements which upset all party calculations last fall, need rest to crystallize in judicial channels of reform.

Work on the Fair Buildings Suspended.

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—The work of grading in Jackson Park in preparation for the World's fair is at a standstill. Late yesterday afternoon a lot of idle workmen, finding that they were unable to induce the Italians, who were at work, to strike for an advance in wages, attacked them and drove them out of the park with kicks and cuffs. This morning a crowd of idlers gathered in the park to the number of 700 or more and maintained such threatening attitude towards the Italians that the contractors thought it best not to attempt to resume operations. Some union carpenters, engaged in building offices and stables, were not molested. The contractors say they will wait till they secure telephone connections with the police department when they will resume work, and, if interfered with, will demand protection.

A committee has been appointed by a joint commission, representing all of the organizations of union labor in Chicago to confer with the management of the World's fair with a view to securing recognition of union labor in the work to be done on the fair buildings. If their claims are not recognized they threaten to turn the antagonism of the solid labor element against the enterprise.

Gen. Sherman's Condition Improved.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—There is no doubt that Gen. Sherman's condition is greatly improved this morning. He passed a quiet night and there was no repetition of those skinning spells which have so often drawn the members of the family about his bedside and made them fear the end was near. The last bad time he had was at an early hour in the evening. At 9 o'clock no official bulletin had been prepared, but from his private secretary, Mr. Barrett, was learned that the General had had a night of rest. Secretary Barrett, in speaking of the improvement in the General's condition, said that it had been noticeable since 12 o'clock last night. He had regularly taken his nourishment, which consisted of milk and whiskey, and the watchers found no difficulty in rousing him at times. Where his chances were one in one thousand yesterday, said the secretary, they are now one in ten and we have reasons now to entertain some hope.

Dr. Alexander issued the following bulletin at 9 o'clock: After consultation this morning, the physicians find that the General has lost nothing during the night.

Admiral Porter Died Suddenly.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Admiral Porter died suddenly at 8:15 o'clock this morning at his residence, No. 714 H street. His death resulted from fatty degeneration of the heart, which relentless disease asserted its fatal clutch upon him at Newport, R. I., last summer when, contrary to persistent advice of his physician, he overtaxed his strength by taking violent exercise and was stricken down with a complication of diseases, including degeneration of the lungs and dropsy. As soon as he could be moved with safety he was brought to his home in Washington and all the means known to science and medicine were resorted to for his benefit. Despite them, however, there was a slight but unmistakable symptom of approaching dissolution. Mental disturbances were added to his other troubles and the patient failed to realize the seriousness of his condition.
