THE ARGUS. DAILY AND WEEKLY

There can be no better medium of advertising than through our columns, as our paper goes daily into the hands of its many readers, thus keeping them ever reminded of our advertising merchants; and as the chief reason for constant advertising is to have the advertisements read as often as possible; the advantage of advertising in THE DAILY ARGUS is at once evident, as our patrons will have their advertisements read afresh every day. Rates furnished on application.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

EASTER Sunday.
"He has risen, as He said," Alleluia!

The city was full of traders yesterday from the country.

The trains from the South, North and West continue to be late in their arrivals here.

SERVICES at St. Paul's church today at 10 a. m., by the Bright Jewels called the "Easter Cross." At 11 a. m. an Easter sermon by the pastor. At 7:30 p. m., preaching—subject, "Inglorious Security." Sunday school at 3 p. m. The public are cordially invited to all these services.

OWING to the continued bad weather during the year, thus far, the farmers of this section—and, in fact, all over the country, are exceedingly backward in their farming operations. It is to be devoutly hoped that in the long run, however, all will be well and abundant crops housed when the harvesting time rolls round.

THERE are few of us, perhaps, who appreciate as we ought, the beauty of our surroundings. We are often surprised when some chance obstruction stops us in the middle of the crossings of some of our streets. As we look up them and let our eyes for a moment rest upon the beauty of the scene: long lines of shade trees, gently rising hills, and well-kept streets and sidewalks, extending, it may be, away into the country beyond the reach of our vision, or perhaps terminated by a house surrounded by a stately grove. It is a pretty picture, and well worth looking at much oftener than we do.

LOCAL sentiment as to the most available candidate for President seems somewhat divided. Cleveland and Hill seem to be the only two who have materialized, and as between them it seems that Cleveland has the majority with him. There is a grandeur about Cleveland's character, a daring about his public utterances, and a magnificent sweep to his intellectual horizon that excites the admiration and wins the adherence of those who love clean politics and demand the heroic in public affairs; notwithstanding the fact that he is out of sympathy with our people on the silver question. But to the practical party man there is a variety about Hill's party principles, and an appropriateness about his public utterances and acts that is irresistible, especially to those of the younger generation. Hill is a hustler and so are his supporters.

SERVICES at St. Stephen's church today, Easter Sunday, will be appropriate to this great festival of the church. The musical programme will be especially good. Every selection is from the best church music composers, and the choir will render them in good style. The following is the programme for the morning service: Processional—"The Christian Soldier's Easter Hymn," by H. G. Gilmer; Anthem—"Christ Our Passover," by Chapple; Te Deum, in E flat, by Lloyd; Jubilate Deo, chant; Introit—"He is Risen"; Hymn—"The Day of Resurrection"; Kyrie, by Elvey; Gloria Tibi, Anon; Offertory—"Holy Offerings, by Hodges; Sanctus and Trisagion, by Danks; Communion Hymn, by Hodges; Gloria in Excelsis, old chant. An offertory solo will be sung by one of the most accomplished and gifted of our vocalists. The text of the rector's sermon will be, "Awake! Awake! Utter a Song!" Seats all free. All are invited to unite with the church in keeping this great festival. Evening prayer and sermon, with an excellent musical programme at 7:30 p. m. Children's Easter service at 4 p. m.

The Puzzle About Easter.

No one person in ten can tell you why it is that Christmas, the day celebrated as our Saviour's birth, always falls on the same day of the month, while Easter, the day upon which we celebrate His resurrection, changes every year. In giving a solution of this riddle, the first point to be considered is this: Christ was crucified on Friday, the 14th day of the Jewish month Nisan, and rose from the grave on the following Sunday. The 14th day of Nisan was the Jewish "Passover," the day observed by them in commemoration of the sprinkling of their door-posts with the blood of the paschal lamb on the night when the "destroying Angel" passed over the dwellings of the Israelites, but spote the first-born of the Egyptian. As the year of the Jews is a lunar year, and the 14th of Nisan is always a full-moon day, the Christian church, regarding the observance of the crucifixion of Christ as a substitute for the old "Passover" of the Jews, determined Easter by the rules for reckoning the Jewish ecclesiastical year. Christmas, intended to commemorate the birth of Christ, had no connection with the ritual of the old church, and like dozens of other immovable feast days, of the Church of Rome, many of them birthdays of saints, it was finally settled that it should be observed on a given day of the common calendar. Coming down to the word itself, "Easter" is from the German "Ostern" (rising). The English name is probably derived from "Eastre," the Teutonic goddess of Spring, whose festival occurred at about the same time as the Jewish "Passover." The time for celebrating Easter was a subject which gave rise to many heated discussions during the early days of Christianity. The question was fully considered and finally settled by the Council of Nice, in the year 325, by adopting the rule which makes Easter day the first Sunday after the first full moon after March 21. By this arrangement of things Easter may come as early as March 22, or as late as April 25.

Overtaxed Strength.

It may seem strange to those who look only to one side of life that it should be necessary to warn the age against too much work. Those who consider themselves and the rest of mankind mere beasts of burden, with no other object in life but the accumulation of wealth, will hardly agree with us, but they who know what the best hopes and aims of men are must soon find that one of the great needs of this age is rest. Of course, it cannot be denied that among some there is too much idleness and sloth; but this does not make it right to drive the industrious to death. "By the sweat of thy brow thou shalt eat bread," does not mean that bread may not be eaten unless the brow be then beaded with sweat; and yet how many there are in all professions, trades and employments who cannot lay aside labor long enough to eat what is necessary for health and life. Many a time the man is driven by that harshest of overseers—necessity, who lashes his slaves often to despair and death. These are the things laid upon an already sore back: "The ease with which the toiler's place can be filled." "Reduction of wages if less work be done." "The suffering of those dependent on him."

Too often physical endurance is the only limit to the task. The words of Him who sympathized most with mankind: "The night cometh when no man can work," are set at naught; and the tradesmen, laborer and professional man are finding that the service of the night is heavy and burdensome. That day called "The Day of Rest" is too often the day of labor. "Even Sunday share no Sabbath to him."

The result of all this must bring a terrible reaction. The man who works fifteen hours a day gladly joins a union that has for its object the lessening of his burden. The overseer who makes one man do the work of two, for the wages of one is a robber, and when he thereby takes away the life of his servant he is a murderer.

The man who has no master, but who tries to do the work of half a dozen men, and thereby shortens his life, is not only a fool but a suicide. It is not now "the cry of the children," but "the cry of mankind." Let the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals take hold of this matter, since man is more than a brute. And let not the laziness of some be the standard by which judgment is to be given against all.

"What means ye that ye beat my people in pieces and grind the faces of the poor?" That government which could each day give an hour's more rest to the people under it would do more to promote the happiness and good of mankind than if it undertook to feed and clothe them. For in the one case it would promote liberty; in the other it would encourage slavishness. This question is a great moral one. The man who tries to use it for his own selfish advancement is contemptible, but he who labors for the relief of his fellowmen, whether he succeed or fail, shall win a place for himself among the heroes of the earth.

From Washington City.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The Four and a half per cent. loan, of which little more than fifty millions is now outstanding, will mature September 1st next. Treasury officials say there will be no trouble whatever in meeting it, and that it was regarded as a matter of so little concern that it was not thought necessary to bring it to the attention of Congress. The department stands ready now to redeem these bonds with interest to maturity, and the small amount presented each day is taken as an indication that holders are in no particular hurry to dispose of them.

A prominent official said this afternoon that the department will be able to redeem them all on date of maturity if they shall be presented, but that the history of all government loans indicates that there is no probability of any such result; it will be found that a large amount of these bonds will not be presented for redemption for many months after the interest has ceased to run. While the available cash balance in the Treasury is now thirteen millions of dollars, the Government has about thirty millions additional deposits in National banks, which can be utilized in case of necessity.

Purchases of silver at local mints during the current month to date amount to 319,411 ounces. The Director of the Mint to-day announced that the Treasury Department having purchased the full amount of silver authorized by law, no further purchases will be made until Wednesday, April 1st.

Bishop Ryan, one of the prelates of the Catholic Church, is lying dangerously ill at Providence Hospital in this city, where he was taken from the Catholic University two weeks ago. A telegram received in this city this morning, says that Vicar-General Gleason and Father Cronin have decided to come to Washington to be with Bishop Ryan, for his friends, in view of his age and weak condition, are alarmed. In the Kincaid trial to-day, the defence began by recalling and cross-examining ex-Doorkeeper Donelsons for the purpose of discrediting him as a witness, and also providing by him that Taulbee had made threats against Kincaid's life. The testimony of other witnesses was directed to showing that Taulbee had made threats against Kincaid, and that Kincaid was "weak, feeble and nervous" at the time of the tragedy.

DUFFY'S CROUP SYRUP

Receipte of the late Dr. Walter Duffy.

DIRECTIONS:

Give for a child two or three years old, one teaspoonful; for a child three months old, ten drops; for a child six months old, twenty drops; for one twelve months old, nearly half a teaspoonful; repeating these doses frequently if necessary until relief is procured.

This is to certify that I have used Duffy's Croup Syrup in my family for over six months and I believe it to be a most excellent remedy for croup in children, especially as a preventive. Our youngest child had a severe attack of croup about a year ago, inasmuch that we felt at times about its recovery, but was successfully treated by our physician, but thinking it probable that other attacks might follow we frequently used Duffy's Croup Syrup and the child has had no marked symptoms of croup since, and I believe it is due to the use of the Croup Syrup and we now keep a bottle of it at our house at all times and I cheerfully recommend it to all. H. H. BARBER, Also very effectual in relieving coughs and colds. PREPARED AND SOLD BY R. N. DUFFY, New Bern, N. C. Wholesale Agents—McKesson & Robbins, 91 Fulton street; Wm. H. Schiefelin & Co., 170 William street, New York City. For Sale by J. H. Hill & Son, Goldsboro, N. C.

COUGH - - MIXTURE

A Prompt and Efficient Remedy for

Coughs, Colds, Croup,

Bronchitis, Sore

Throat, Diphtheria, Ca-

tarrh, Etc.

One of the most effectual remedies I have ever known for a cough or cold is DUFFY'S COUGH MIXTURE. It is not only a rare combination of valuable medicines; arresting at once the progress of a cold and beginning to soothe and heal. I think all other cough medicines there is no narcotic or any other unpleasant effect experienced in taking it. I am more than pleased to be able to recommend to my friends here and the public at large every where, a safe, pleasant and effectual cure for one of the most prevalent complaints to which human flesh is heir.

THOMAS GATES.

R. N. DUFFY, Proprietor.

Mr. R. N. Duffy has called upon me to say something for his COUGH MIXTURE, now being advertised. The least I can say is that it is a certain cure for Cough, Sore Throat and Croup. I recognize the mixture as being identical with a prescription I have used in my family with unfailing success, written by one of the most distinguished physicians of North Carolina. I am opposed to patent nostrums, but cheerfully recommend this on account of its scientific origin, and the happy results obtained from it in repeated trials in my family.

Mrs. J. K. WILLIS.

R. N. DUFFY, Proprietor.

I have tried DUFFY'S COUGH MIXTURE and take pleasure in recommending it because I believe it will do all that is claimed for it by Mr. Duffy, the proprietor, who is a druggist of long experience and a gentleman of highest integrity. I do not believe he would advertise anything that was not exceptionally good. This remedy has certainly answered the purpose in my case. It cured a cold, an obstinate cough I had, after I had tried a number of the principal cough remedies without benefit.

W. G. BRISSON.

R. N. DUFFY, Proprietor.

DEAR SIR—It affords me great pleasure to testify to the merits of your COUGH MIXTURE. I have used it in my family for some time and have found it the best of remedies for Coughs and Colds. Yours truly, F. W. LLOYD.

R. N. DUFFY, Proprietor.
