GOLDSBORO, N. C., AUG. 3, 1892.

THE ARGUS seeks to be a reliable paper for the people and the family Democrat, and to discuss no issue wherein the people's rights are at stake. Progressive, honest of age, we shall always endeavor to keep our editorial and local columns up to the day and hour. Our circulation is rapidly increasing, and we hope to soon have the largest circulation of any paper in Eastern North Carolina.

"If I am to name the typical American, the man who loves and believes in his country beyond everything else; the man who, determined once in what direction his duty leads, cannot be swerved from the path—the man who is doggedly persistent in what he believes to be right—the man who thinks not of self, but of his country and its needs, I would name Grover Cleveland."—Channey M. Depew.

The Democratic National Committee has chosen good officers for the coming campaign. Chairman Harvity, of Pennsylvania, has proved his efficiency by making that high-protection State Democratic; Secretary Sheerin, of Indiana, is a capable official, and Treasurer Roosevelt, of New York, is a welcome change.

Since Mr. Gladstone's victory Queen Victoria has set up a body-guard, professing to fear that "Irish despair and resentment, on finding that Home Rule is beyond reach, may find expression in violence against the wearer of the crown." As the wearer of the crown has never been troubled in that way during over fifty years of famine, oppression and coercion, the fear is as unnecessary as insulting. Irishmen do not wage war on women. If they did, this selfish and heartless ruler might not have slept so soundly during the past half century, nor lived to such an advanced age.

The New York Recorder finds fault with Hugh O'Donnell because he owns a home worth $3,000, "with a piano in the parlor." Hugh O'Donnell, it says, "should save that home" by returning submissively to his work. Come to think of it, it is hardly fair that Mr.

O'Donnell should be dwelling in a $3,000 palace while poor Andrew Carnegie contented himself with a million dollar cottage in America and a plain little in Scotland. The same in Ireland supports them both, and its proceeds would be divided more equally if justice ruled instead of law.

"Old Windsor," who has faith to move mountains, writes to the Springfield Republican to say that the electoral contest in 1894 was settled, not by Baruch nor by the electoral college, but by a friend of his, "Elias Randall," who intensely prayed for Cleveland's victory and so gained her object. "Why," he asks, "did those millions all vote for Cleveland in that earlier campaign? The reply is—a woman did it; not by her vote, for she had none. Nor did she organize an 'influence club.' She did more. She organized for herself a campaign of prayer." We are glad to learn that she is "doing her special work as earnestly and loyally in this campaign as she did it eight years ago"; but the harrowing question arises, what was she doing four years ago!

General Francis A. Walker, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, delivered a remarkable address at the tercentenary celebration of Trinity College, Dublin, on July 18. Trinity College is very to the marrow, but General Walker, proud of his own glorious nation, took it for granted that every Irishman must be equally proud of his own. So his speech was a glowing but just eulogy of Irish valor, patriotism and civic virtue as displayed by Ireland's sons in America. He told, as only a gallant soldier could, of how well the two Irish brigades in his army corps had fought and bled for the Union; he recalled with pride how he wore the badge of that corps, the shamrock, throughout the campaign; in a word, he spoke of Irish worth in words that should be welcome to every Irish ear. If Trinity College did not appreciate the compliment so much the worse for Trinity; it does not know "Sir Hubert Stanley" when it sees him.

suppressing Anarchy.
The District Attorney of New York has decided to take legal measures for the suppression of the several Anarchist journals published in that city and for the punishment of those connected with them. That is a step in the right direction, and it should be taken in every city where these lawless aliens abide.

Philadelphia, as was shown in these columns a few days ago, has a small contingent of Anarchists. The wholesome surveillance of the police as inaugurated against them by Director Stokely, has prevented them from erupting their revolutionary ideas upon the public; but the fact that they are here, is notice to the authorities to lay a strong hand upon them.

There is no place in this free land for the idle, vicious murderous Anarchist, and his presence in any community is the breath of pestilence. They are aliens to our free government, aliens to our liberty of law and aliens to every attribute of American citizenship; and they should be withered in the blossom before their deadly fruits are upon us.

The time has come when the free people of the noblest government of the world must not only suppress the Anarchists in our midst, but drive them from our homes. The nation should take the lead in making provision for banishing them from the country, and every State should make the residence of the disturber of peace, safety, property and life impossible within its borders.

STATE NEWS
Rocky Mount Argonaut: The crop prospect is improving every day and except cotton the outlook is for one of the finest crops ever grown in this section.

Windsor Ledger: News reached here Monday that Mr. Monroe Butler, who lived about three miles from town, committed suicide early that morning by shooting himself in the head with a pistol. He had been sick for some time and it is supposed that he became despondent over that and the bad crop prospect. Mr. Butler was about 62 years of age.

Asheville Gazette: J. C. Moore, dealer in general merchandise, on North Main street, made an assignment. Liabilities about $10,000. Quite a still was created last night in street railway circles by the arrest of two of the conductors on the line for the embezzling of fares. The arrests were ordered by President Martin. The men's names are Kingmore and Whittaker.

Charlotte Observer: W. S. Orr is suffering from rather a peculiar accident. While working with the big gun down at camp he struck his hand on the stub of a stiff weed, and in a short time the hand commenced swelling and paining him. Yesterday it was greatly swollen and very much inflamed, the pain extending to the shoulder. Mr. Orr fears erysipelas from it.

Scotland Neck Democrat: M. W. T. Fenner is continuing at River View Dairy with increased interest and success. He is shipping butter to all the neighboring towns and says that he has more demand for it than he can supply. We saw a lot of butter at the depot to be shipped to Raleigh, Tuesday. He makes about fifty or sixty pounds of butter weekly.

Fayetteville Observer: The largest tomato seen this season was brought to this office on Saturday, July 23rd. It was the Ponderosa variety and was raised on Haymount, near town, by Elijah Adams, colored. In the early morning when first picked it weighed 2 1/2 pounds. At half-past nine that night it was weighed at Mr. Horne's drug store and Mr. Ray's grocery store, the weights being then 2 pounds 5 1/2 ounces.

Henderson Gold Leaf: Assistant Postmaster W. E. Moss, has invented a machine by which he can ride around the office and serve the people in a most comfortable and pleasant manner. The contrivance consists of a post running parallel with the ceiling and a large round table to which is attached a seat somewhat on the order of a dentist or barber's chair, enabling him to wait on the general delivery and then wheel back to the stamp window without dismounting.

Newbern Journal: One week from Monday the Newbern Colored Fair will open. It will last five days. The two annual exhibitions already held have possessed decided merit and neither of them was worked for harder or more widely than the coming one has been. The time is short that every exhibitor should be seeing that what he intends having at the fair is all in readiness. It will be opened by Mayor Manly and Hon. F. M. Simmons, Rev. J. O. Price and Congressman Obenham will be the orators of the occasion.

DR. BOYKIN'S
WORM - KILLER

"The Best Selling Vermifuge in the Market."
THE MOST RELIABLE WORM DESTROYER IN USE.

Recipe furnished to any regular physician when requested.
Read the following from one of the most prominent and best known physicians and farmers in South Carolina. He writes "that a negro girl ten years old near him took three doses of the Worm-Killer and passed 266 worms."

Dated, Ridgeway, S. C., May 25, 1884.
R. H. EDMUNDS, M. D.
Mr. H. M. McDonald, of LaGrange, N. C., says: "Dr. Boykin's Worm Killer brought over 100 worms from one child in this neighborhood, and it gives universal satisfaction." He sells more of it than all other worm medicines.

LaGrange, N. C., July, '87
Mr. J. P. Joyner—I gave my child one dose of Boykin's Worm Killer, purchased of you. It brought 266 worms. I consider it the best worm medicine made.
Respectfully,
J. W. THOMAS.
Any N. D. can prescribe it and many do.
