JUST RECEIVED.
MILLER & SHANNON.

Atlanta, Ga., June 2d
My six-year-old son has had a terrible sloughing scrofula ulcer of the neck for three years, attended with blindness; loss of hair, great emaciation, and general prostration.

J. W. Messer, Howell's Cross Roads, Oberoke county, Ga., writes: "I was afflicted with chronic sores nine years, and had tried many medicines and they did me no good. I then tried E. B. B., and eight bottles cured me sound and well."

THE DAILY ARGUS.
GOLDSBORO N. C., AUG. 23, 1892.

SMART HUNGER.
We let them be just for a little while,
We cannot bear to put them yet
away.
The recent high chair of a little child,
The torn hat but worn the other day,
Or the low stool beneath our dear one's feet
Had rested, or the father's easy chair,
That never more will hold the weary form—
We let them stand, the room would look too bare.

Wagons out in the waning, fading light,
The books and music mock us in the room:
Our hearts are with that new-made
grave in the night,
All dark and shadow haunted in the gloom.
God pity those who wait in vain to hear
The sound of feet that ne'er will tread
again,
Or long to kiss white faces hid away,
In their deep beds beneath the snow and rain.

The wind from out the harp of nature
chants
A dirge above them as it passes by;
The dead leaves, tears of autumn, sadly fall
Upon our sleeping ones as still they lie,
Oh, ye who never o'er dead loved ones
wept,
Who ne'er kissed cold hands and
faces white,
And held out empty arms and hearts to God,
Can never know the want we feel tonight,
—San Francisco Examiner.

FRESH FUN.
The Sharp and Witty Sayings of the Famous Men.
First Girl—I like a man with a past. A man with a past is always interesting.
Second Girl—That's true; but I don't think he's nearly so interesting as the man with a future.
Third Girl—The man who interests men is the man with a present;
and the more expensive the present the more interest I take in it.—Judy.

'You need not deny it. I know that he kissed you while you were sitting on the steps last night.'
'Yes, mamma, eight or ten times,
I guess.'
'Eight or ten times! Why—I—
you—'
'Yes, mamma dear. I told him the first time if he did it again I wouldn't speak to him, and after that I could not tell him to stop without breaking my word. And I knew you would not want your daughter to tell a fib.'—Indianapolis Journal.

Johnny (who has just been scolded)—Am I really so bad mamma?
Mamma—Yes, Johnny you are very bad.
Johnny (reflectively)—Well, anyhow, you ought to be glad I'm not twins.—Life.

Miss Croft—This little cup and spoon were given me on my first birthday.
Miss Pussley—O, I must show them to mamma; she has a perfect rage for old silver.—Puck.

Paul (from the hammocks)— Hattie, the boys are teaching your parrot to swear horribly.
Hattie—Please bring him to my room at once, dear; I have broken my suspender.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Father—So you had your collar bone and three ribs broken playing foot ball? I thought you had more sense.
Son—Well, whose fault was it?
I didn't want to go to college
did I?—San Francisco Wasp.

'Wy, Chamley, old fellow, what's the matter?'
Chamley—Why, Miss Von Boodles broke off with me last week. I pursued the diamond ring and now she writes for me to come back.—
Judge.
