THE DAILY ARGUS.

GOLDSBORO N. C. NOV. 23, 1892.

DREAMER OR DRUNKARD.

O thou, who'ner hast loved,
Thy life is as the dreamer's, unaroused
He wanders thro' peaceful dales,
Nor knows the height or depths of hope
Intensity of feeling is not his, deep Griefs consume him not nor doth he know
The altitude of joy. Yet if he once aspire
And taste the tree, whereon there grows
Knowledge of good and evil, he henceforth
Would not return, 'e'en if he could,
To calmer scenes of ignorance and bliss.
His is the drunkard's life thereafter,
Not the dreamer's. No more easy sleep,
And slow, smooth days. He craves the drink,
The wine of gods, and the ambrosial
fruit
That in Heaven's gardens grows,
And evermore his life is spent
In feverish desires and scant fulfill-ments.
Nor till the final rest,
When death's chill finger stills his eager heart
Shall he attain, or even hope to know,
Peace and the joys it brings.
—Minnie C. Ballard.

FRESH FUN.

THE SHARP AND WITTY SAYINGS OF THE PRESS MEN.

The man was ugly, but the city editor of the Western Wind stirred him up in two minutes.
Is this the newspaper office inquired the caller.
It is, replied the man at the desk.
Didn't this paper say I was a liar? and he began prancing.
It did not.
Didn't it say I was a thief?
It did not.
Didn't it say I was a scoundrel?
It did not.
Well, some paper said it.
Possibly it was our contemporary down the street, suggested the editor, as he caressed a paper weight. This paper publishes only what is news.—Detroit Free Press.

Willie, what are you writing there, any way? asked a Bellefontaine mother of her youthful son.
Oh, nothin'.
Yes you are; tell me at once what it is. Is it your lesson for tomorrow?
No, indeed!
Then what is it?
Well, if you must know, it's a white cap warning.
A white cap warning! Why, who to?
To my teacher, that's who.
Why, how does it come you are doing such a dreadful thing as that?
'Cause she took my top an' knife 'way from me yesterday. I'm just goin' to tell her that if she don't give the boys all the things back what she took from them that the white cappers will get her the first time they catch her out.

Marriage is the strictest tie of perpetual friendship, and there can be no friendship without confidence, and no confidence without integrity; and he must expect to be wretched who pays to beauty, riches or politeness that regard which only virtue and piety can claim—Ex.

Willie, how many times have I told you not to play with that naughty little boy I just saw you playing with? asked a Bellefontaine mother.
Don't know—never counted.
Well, remember that I've told you for the last time.
Well, I'm mighty glad; 'cause I got six engagements ahead with that fellow.

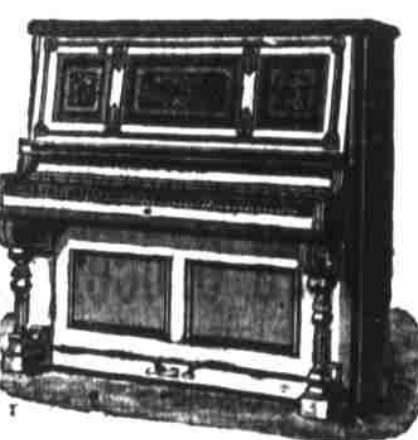

It is, to say the least, wrong for anybody to go to church or public meeting and disturb the preacher or orator coughing. Use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup at once.
