THE ARGUS.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Messrs. M. L. Lee and E. G. Porter are at home again from the inaugural.

The pea fields around and about the city are showing up green and promising.

Mrs. Maj. W. T. Hollowell and Mrs. R. W. Taylor have returned from their visit to Baltimore.

Mrs. Will Wooten, of Portsmouth, Va., is in the city on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gulick.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Caster are off for the north to make purchases of spring goods for their extensive trade.

Mr. Leslie Southerland, of the popular N. Y. Bargain Store, is now at the North making purchases of Spring goods.

His many friends here were glad to see in the city yesterday that congenial gentleman Mr. Matt Manly, Mayor of the hospitable city of Newbern.

ALREADY the tenth of March is here, and with it Spring time seems to have concluded to let her benign presence and smiling countenance abide with us.

Mr. L. J. Moore, a well-known stock raiser of Brogden township, killed a porker Monday, 4 years old, that weighed, after being dressed, 710 pounds. Next.

GROUND has been broken for the erection of a residence for Dr. Thos. Hill, on his property adjacent to the home of his brother Mr. Jno. H. Hill. Mr. L. G. Waddell has the contract.

A FORCE of hands and carts were set to work yesterday on West centre street, between Chestnut and Walnut, digging up and hauling off, preparatory to putting down the stone paving. We go forward.

Mrs. S. I. Griffin, the milliner, who is now at the North making purchases of spring goods, will add a new feature to her business in this city the present season—that of a professional dressmaker, whom she will bring with her on her return next week.

We regret to announce the death of our venerable friend and countryman Mr. Barna Daniel, which occurred at his home in New Hope township, last Saturday, in the 76 year of his age. He was a highly esteemed citizen and will be greatly missed and sincerely lamented. He leaves a wife and two children.

DR. J. A. George, of Armenia, who so charmed his hearers last Sunday night, will to-night deliver his popular lecture entitled "Hopes From the old World" in the Sunday school room of the First Baptist church. Dr. George is versatile, witty, impressive and always entertaining. The lecture will be delivered in Oriental costume. Be sure to hear him. Admission, adults 25 cts., children 15 cts.

DR. Geo. L. Kirby returned yesterday from attending the regular annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the N. C. Insane Asylum, now known as the Central Hospital, at Raleigh. We are glad to be able to announce in this connection that our talented young friend and townsman Dr. W. H. Cobb, Jr., was unanimously reelected as assistant physician at this institution at a well-merited increase of salary.

The Union Bible Study Association is an organization, with headquarters at Dallas, Tex., the object of which is the stimulation of the study of the "Scriptures." This it endeavors to do by organizing local union Bible classes throughout the land and by preparing practical outline studies for use in these classes. Some weeks ago a class was started in Goldsboro and weekly meetings have since been held with gratifying results. The studies received each week from the home Association have been exceedingly instructive. The local class, which is strictly non-sectarian, meet for one hour's study, each Friday at 7:30 o'clock at the residence of Mr. F. J. Hage, and a cordial invitation to join is extended to those who may desire to do so.

LEGISLATIVE ACTION.

Some Laws Of General Importance.

Among the acts of the Legislature of 1893 the act dividing the crime of murder into two degrees is of the first importance. Prior to this the law made no distinction between a homicide with a deadly weapon, upon slight provocation and in anger, and a deliberate and premeditated killing from ambush; but punished both with death. Under this construction of the law many who deserved punishment escaped, because jurors were unwilling to hang the prisoner and had to choose between hanging him and turning him loose. The new act does not disturb the law of man-slaughter, but divides the crime of murder into two degrees, making deliberate and premeditated murders and murders committed while attempting to commit burglary and other felonies, murder in the first degree and punishable with death, and other murders, murder in the second degree and punishable with imprisonment in the penitentiary for not less than five nor more than thirty years.

A kindred piece of legislation is the bill to prevent lynching, which requires the Solicitor of the district when persons have been taken from jail and lynched to go at once to the place and investigate, with power to summon witnesses etc., and with authority to bind over the accused to the Superior Court of an adjoining county for trial. This bill also makes it the duty of any county commissioner, when a lynching is threatened, and upon application, to authorize the employment of a sufficient guard by the sheriff; and upon failure to do so the county is liable for any injury to the prisoner.

Another law worthy of consideration is one regulating assignments. The frequency of frauds in assignments has injured our credit abroad and has done much to damage the reputation of our people. The new law does not interfere with the right to prefer a creditor, but undertakes to throw obstacles in the way of fraudulent practices.

A merchant who intends to commit a fraud usually buys a large stock on sixty, ninety and one hundred and twenty days time, comes home and begins to sell for cash. Before his debts become due he assigns, generally to an insolvent person, and within ten days, before the creditors can assemble, the assignee has sold the stock, paid out the money and settled the trust.

The new law provides that upon the registration of a deed of assignment all debts of the maker shall become due at once; that the assignee shall not sell the property in bulk, except such as is perishable, within less than ten days; that the assignee shall file with the clerk a sworn inventory and quarterly and annual accounts; that the maker of the deed shall file with the clerk a sworn statement that the debts secured in the deed are due; that the assignee shall not pay any amount to any creditor until such creditor shall first file with the clerk a sworn statement of his claim; that the clerk, upon the sworn complaint of any creditor, alleging the insolvency of an assignee, shall, upon being satisfied that he is insolvent, require him to give bond, and in default of bond shall remove him and appoint some suitable person who shall give bond. Sufficient penalties are attached to secure obedience to the law.

Another law of general importance relates to land titles. There are many cases in which a person is in possession of a tract of land, and some other person who has no valid title sets up a claim to it. The party claiming it will not bring an action to try the title, but by his claim throws a cloud over the title and thereby depreciates the value of the land and prevents the person in possession from borrowing money on the land or selling it.

The old law provided no remedy for this case, because the party was in possession of the land and could not bring his action to recover the possession. The new law provides that in such case the party in possession may bring his action to establish his title, but provides that if the party against whom the action is brought files no answer and makes no defense, he shall not be required to pay any costs.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

The Mad, Mad Rush For Office.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The period of perfunctory visiting has passed, and the greater number of politicians who called on President Cleveland to-day were bent on business. Each had his axe to grind, either for himself or for some constituent, and applications for office were filed by the score. The President was up betimes, and when he entered his private office there were numbers of cards on his table, with the names they bore waiting expectantly in the Cabinet Room. Mr. Cleveland saw nearly all who came, and devoted a few minutes to each. Those who were in a hurry saw Private Secretary Thurber, and he soon had his hands full attending to their wants. Cleveland was too busy up-stairs in the forenoon receiving the more distinguished visitors to see the general public, and the East Room contingent went away disappointed. The Virginia delegation, consisting of Senator Hunton and Representatives Wise and Meredith presented the name of Judge John Goode, of Virginia, for the Solicitor Generalship. Goode was Solicitor General under the first Cleveland Administration, and after Cleveland's election last November his name was prominently mentioned in connection with the Attorney Generalship in the Cabinet.

Shortly after 12 o'clock the President went down stairs and shook hands with a crowd of people in the East Room, about 400 in number.

Secretary Carlisle to-day accepted the proposition of the exchanging house of Denver, Col., to exchange one million of Treasury notes of the issue of 1890, for one million in gold. This will increase the free gold in the Treasury to $2,125,000. Mr. Carlisle has taken no steps to issue bonds and has not indicated what policy he will pursue.

The members of the Democratic Caucus Committee were in session to-day six and a half hours, without making up the committee lists. The next meeting will be held subject to the call of Mr. Gorman, and it is not unlikely that if the session of the Senate to-morrow is short, the committee may get together again in the afternoon. Some headway was made, but the committee has only begun to see its way clear to the successful performance of the work that is before it. One thing that can be stated with positiveness is that nothing has yet been done in the matter of the elective officers of the Senate, and it is doubtful if anything of this kind will be taken up for many days. It is understood that while the precedents of the Senate will be adhered to in many respects, the chairmanships will not go in every case to the ranking Senator of the Democratic membership of the committee as in the last Senate. The geographical location of the members is being considered in the distribution of the favored places, and an innovation is being suggested in the shape of a scheme which will put Senators at the head of the recent minority list, but who, by reason of their qualifications, are fitted to do the work that will come before those committees. It is also not unlikely that one or more minority committees of the Senate may be wiped out, and if this is done, it will reduce the number of chairmanships the Republicans will have. Nothing definite, however, has been accomplished in any direction. A prominent member of the caucus committee said this afternoon that until the Senate was organized, at least so far as the committees were concerned, there would be no action upon any nominations the President might send in. For this reason it was imperative that the caucus committee should do its work as fast as possible. If the President should send in any nominations to-morrow they will be compelled to lay over under this construction, until the complete committees have been agreed upon. The session of the Senate, therefore, will be brief unless the body sees fit to take up resolutions that were introduced Monday at the opening session. This may precipitate discussion relative to the legality of such legislation in an extra session, called for the purpose of confirming Presidential nominations.

The Republicans were resting on their oars, simply awaiting final action by the Democrats. After they have been made acquainted with the intentions of the majority, Mr. Allison's committee will resume its labors and endeavor to provide for those Republicans who are entitled to minority chairmanships.

Assistant Secretary Solney of the Navy tendered his resignation to Secretary Herbert to-day. Solney's resignation, it is understood, is to take effect immediately. His successor, it is stated, will be named to-morrow, and from present indications there is little doubt that he will be ex-Representative McAdoo, of New Jersey.

One of the earliest callers this morning was Rev. Dr. O'Gorman, Professor of Ecclesiastical History at the Catholic university of America, who presented to Private Secretary Thurber a letter from Archbishop Satolli, Papal Legate to America, congratulating Mr. Cleveland on his accession to the Presidency, "particularly in the name of his Holiness, the Pope." The letter was written in English on the official letter head of the Catholic University.

Senator Lindsay of Kentucky, came with T. C. Allen, of his State and asked Mr. Cleveland to appoint the latter Assistant Postmaster-General.

Chief Justice Bennett, of Kentucky, who came with Congressman Stone, merely paid his respects to Cleveland. Judge Bennett's claims will probably be presented for the Circuit Judgeship left vacant by the promotion of Judge Jackson to the Supreme Bench.

Some of the Illinois Congressional delegation came with ex-Congressman Scott Wike, who wants to be Comptroller of the Currency.

Secretary Carlisle has accepted the resignation of Col. J. R. Weber, Commissioner of Immigration at New York. He is the only prominent official who has formally resigned, though several in the Treasury Department building have placed their resignations at the disposal of Secretary Carlisle.

From an early hour this morning until lunch time Secretary Gresham was engaged at the State Department receiving visitors.

Earthquake.

LONG ISLAND CITY., March 8.—All Long Islanders seem to have felt what is now supposed to have been an earthquake, at 12:30 o'clock this morning. At Long Island City the shock was especially severe in many instances shaking pictures from the walls and creating havoc among china-ware and bric-a-brac. At many points people fled in terror from their houses settling or falling. Most of these persons say a dull boom and strongly marked simultaneous trembling of the earth were perceptible. The seismic disturbances lasted several seconds, and then passed away in a southerly direction.
