LOSING THEIR PIE.

MANY FUSIONISTS FINDING OUT THAT FUSION WAS A FAILURE.

Their Pie is Slipping From Them Every Day and the End is not Yet. One Hundred and Thirty Thousand Dollars Excess. That is the Record of the "Refarmers". Other Items of Interest.

ARGUS BUREAU,
RALEIGH, March 16, 1895.

Still the undoing of the Fusionists continues. Every day brings to light more shortcomings which mean that more Fusionists who expected it will not reach the pie counter. It now turns out that in the election of directors of the Agricultural and Mechanical college from the State at large, there were only 53 votes cast for them. Eighty-six votes are required to elect, and so these gentlemen do not reach the counter. This means that there will be no change in the management of the agricultural department. I saw Mr. Bruner this morning. He said he had known the fact that there were not enough votes cast all along but that he had said nothing about it. The matter, he said, would probably be contested in the courts.

The News & Observer this morning points some startling facts about the late Legislature. The "Refarmers" spent $130,000 more than did the last Democratic legislature.

That force of a committee to investigate the Arrington case is still here and it is very doubtful if they will get away for months. They are not the kind to give up $7.00 a day without a protest.

The rumor that there is to be a strike of Seaboard Air Line engineers is unfounded on fact, say a number of them. Another cut was made by that road in fare rates to-day. One can travel from here to Atlanta for eight dollars.

This morning a member of the Seaboard Air Line officials arrived here for the purpose of being present at the ceremony of presenting a handsome silver service to Major Winder, who for many years was vice president of the system. The presentation addresses were made by Messrs. T. B. Meares and B. R. Lacy, on behalf of the traffic and mechanic departments. A number of prominent people were present at the ceremony which took place at the residence of Major Winder at 5 o'clock this afternoon. Superintendent Scarborough says that the new book law will create havoc among the schools. He denounces it as a very bad law. It will cost the people throughout the State over $200,000. Tom Bailey who was local editor of the "busted" Daily Caucasian is now with the Ginn Company.

Capt. R. B. Peebles gives it as his opinion that the Legislature had no right to appoint a Railroad Commissioner, but that it is the Governor's right to appoint. This would be all right, were it not for the fact that a Democratic Legislature appointed commissioners. Otho is safe.

Fusionists here are loud in their denunciations of the members who run away when their pay stopped and left things the last few days in the hands of the Democrats. They undoubtedly kept many of their friends from getting to the "pie counter," but pay had stopped.

Governor Carr is greatly praised at the way he conducted himself during the session of the Legislature. His foresight and judgment as to when to act served in great measure to enable the Democrats to save what they did from the wreck.

Some time ago Mr. George B. Moore was thrown by a dog which ran between his legs. His hip was dislocated and he was carried to Rex hospital. He has steadily become worse and he is now not expected to live through the night.

One Republican in town spent the whole two months in the Legislature for the express purpose of stealing bills," said another Republican this morning. He gave the man's name, too.

Supervisor of roads McMackin, has ordered five carloads of stone from Greystone. The stone there is particularly fine for road making purposes. There will soon be one stretch of 5 miles of smoothly macadamized roads from the city.

The President Had a Pleasant Hunt

NORFOLK, Va., March 15.—It was exactly 1:05 o'clock when the Violet made fast to the buoy wharf in Portsmouth. President Cleveland was standing on the upper deck. A light mackintosh which he wore protected him from a disagreeable rain which was falling. In a small row boat on the off side of the Violet was a Virginian reporter. When asked about his health he replied: "I am feeling well; in fact, I never felt better. The report of an accident to me originated in the mind of some newspaper man. We killed fifty brant, three geese and fourteen snipe. I went away on pleasure and I have certainly enjoyed myself. I like the route we have been over."

The Violet discharged a lot of empty oil cans and after taking on coal left for Washington at 2 o'clock. An officer of the Violet told the Virginian reporter that if the weather was clear the party would arrive in Washington about daybreak to-morrow morning, but it was possible they would anchor in the Potomac for several hours, reaching Washington about 10 or 12 o'clock to-morrow.

Senator Butler to Sit Among the Republicans.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The disappearance of eighteen Senators will make an entire change in the appearance in the Senate floor when that body meets again. Instead of a majority of the desks being on the Democratic side they now appear on the Republican side, and in this connection it is interesting to know that at the request of Senator Marion Butler, of North Carolina, his desk has been placed on the Republican side. Senator Butler is the Populist elected by the fusion Legislature that at the same time gave the two year term to Senator Pritchard, Republican. The fact that Senator Butler has asked to be seated on the Republican side is taken as an indication that he will act with the Republicans in matters pertaining to the organization and other questions that are not inconsistent with his views on peculiar subjects. Senator Ransom, whom he succeeds, prophesied that Senator Butler would at all times be found acting harmony with the party in the Senate that was antagonistic to the Democrats.

The Smallpox Epidemic.

LITTLE ROCK, March 15.—Dr. Rule, hospital surgeon for the Gould railway system, has been in Hot Springs the last fortnight. He has been detailed to investigate the smallpox. He says the disease is on the decline. Chief McMahon has doubled the force on duty for the purpose of enforcing the quarantine regulations in this city. It is now practically impossible for persons in the infected districts to enter Little Rock. The cordon of sentinels has strict instructions to arrest invaders. Conway and Plummerville yesterday quarantined against all infected places. One case of smallpox has appeared at Buckner. Last night the health authorities of Columbia instituted a quarantine. No stranger will be allowed to enter the town during the prevalence of smallpox anywhere in the State.

Efforts to Break a Will Fail.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 15.—The effort to break the will of the late George Washington Dye, of Elbert county, has failed in the lower court. Dye left an estate worth $100,000 to his negro housekeeper and her six children whose father he was. His relatives attempted to break the will, but the jury rendered a verdict to-day sustaining it. This is in accordance with the decisions of the State Supreme Court. After Dye died, $40,000 in cash was found packed in an old trunk. He owned 7,000 acres of land in one body, and was known in his county as "Governor" Dye.

SANCTIFICATION.

A Synopsis of the Sermon on Sanctification Preached by Rev. E. W. Oakes, in This City Sunday March 4th.

We are indebted to Mrs. F. D. Swindell for the following comprehensive short hand report of the splendid sermon preached by Evangelist Oakes in this city on Sunday, March 4th, which we are sure will be read with interest and profit by our many readers this morning:

Text, Romans, 12, 1-2, Cognate Passage, 1st Thes, 4-5.

Sanctification is different from the baptism of the Holy Ghost. We will discuss first what Sanctification is; then what it is.

It is not the eradication of the flesh or sinless perfection. That would place us beyond the flesh. Cleansing is not a point in life, but a line, and the same is true of faith. Fellowship with Christ is one of the highest experiences of the believer.—1 John, 1-7.

While in England I noticed the clear beautiful eyes of the colliers brighter than the eyes of others. The reason of this is, that in their work in the mine the particles of coal and dust would often get into the eye and the lachrymal gland continually poured out its tears to wash the foreign substance away and this constant bathing of the eye made it so bright and clear.

We are the apple of the Father's eye and Jesus Christ is the lachrymal gland. His blood cleanses, etc. Having sin and sinning are different. To be sinless, is to be deathless, and Christ was the only deathless man. He did not die on the cross, He gave up his life there. The sting of death is sin. The day is coming when we will have absolute victory.

Sanctification is the perfected self. The Adamite state. In the game of boals as played in England the ball hits the mark, but it is not the ball that directs itself, but the hand that threw it. We cannot sanctify ourselves, Christ does the work. It is not sanctification—I thank God I am not like other men. I do not do this or that and wear this or that. It is not a special gift for finding fault with God's children. It is not freedom from temptation.

The Christian through temptation gets the flukes of his anchor around the throne of God and shortens the cable.

Not freedom from the Christian warfare, but a preparation for meeting the conflict. The higher we get the more fearful the temptation.

Paul never discussed this doctrine by itself. Sanctification is a gift obtained in Christ and attained as an experience. It is both positive and progressive. Absolute in that Christ is made unto righteousness and sanctification. Progressive in that Christ rules in us and guides us. It is made real by surrender and obedience.

Absolute sanctification includes death of the flesh. Progressive sanctification is the development of the fruits of the Holy Ghost in us. One is purity, the other in maturity. One the seedling, the other the harvest. We must have a life in which sanctification is inherent. We grow in, not into sanctification. Spiritual adjustment is the work of a moment, growth, the work of life. Satisfaction is fatal to progress. We grow by yielding to Christ, and in the exercise of the graces, and it brings us into larger experiences. To illustrate—while my boy is at school some one makes him a gift of ten thousand dollars, not knowing its worth, he says "Papa, haven't I enough money to get me a bicycle?" Yes, my son, and so I got him the bicycle. After a while he says, "I want an education, haven't I enough money to educate me?" Yes, my son, and so he goes to college. When he is graduated, he asks, "Haven't I enough money to buy me a house?" Yes my son. "Oh my father, I am beginning to see what my ten thousand dollars will do!"

So it is with the young Christian, the small request is met, the larger is met, until he realizes that Jesus Christ meets every need.

Progressive sanctification is the exercising of faith. The more we grow in sanctification the more we cover other people's faults. "Love vaunteth not itself." If we get into sanctification we will not tell people their faults. As we grow in sanctification we grow in love. Love never faileth.

Progressive sanctification is humility. Sometimes, though, our humility is our pride turned inside out. One of the secrets of a sanctified life is, some one finds it out before we do. Sanctification is Christ living with us. When we get down to the place of humility, we will not care what is said about us. A man once asked Mr. Wesley what was sanctification? Mr. Wesley replied, "No man should think too highly of himself." And in reply to the same question again, Mr. Wesley said "Sanctification is humility."

If we grow in this grace we grow tender, gentle, perfect. Sanctification is power to forgive an injury. It is sincerity. We can lie with a handshake. Sanctification, when it comes means separation of body and life from the world. Separation from questionable things, the theatre, cards, dances, etc.

Once a woman died in a theatre, and oh! there was so much consternation: "How dreadful," the people said "to die in a theatre!" It was not a good place to die in. It was not a good place to be in.

Oh, young man, young woman, never be found in a place which is not fit for you to die in.

Sanctification keeps us in the place from whence we are willing to go into God's presence. Sanctification is a pure speech, to keep unspotted from the world. "This visiting the poor and needy, the widow and orphan, the sick and the imprisoned."

Go and do this, and thus be ready for the greeting of the Lord, Pure speech such a man is good but, oh! his but! He don't fill in your little paper pattern.

Jesus Christ is too big for a paper pattern. These little but are like flies in the ointment. So live as to see only the good in any one.

My brother is my looking glass, in which I see myself.

We see what we look for.

We get what we give, and we get what we looked for.

A lumber merchant went to Remo, passed all through the great city, and when asked what he saw? said he never saw anything. "Why? said he," there was not a lumber mill in that whole city! Never saw anything because there was no lumber mill there.

We give love, we get love, an atmosphere of love begets the same.

Sanctification is the ability to bear the infirmities of the weak. Not to sit in judgment upon others.

I have seen churches broken to pieces because of some of their people who professed sanctification.

Sanctification shows christian dignity. Let our speech be in moderation.

Absolute sanctification is Christ in the heart.

Progressive sanctification is Christ in the eye, Christ in the feet and Christ in the hands.

A man was converted, and would be baptized in his new suit, watch and pocket-book. Said "No, I will not take them off, I want all I have to be baptized." Through consecration of all.

A poor man was under the influence of that happiness and soul destroying monster strong drink. He was down in the ditch. The people, as they went by said "Oh! that is only drunken Dick."

The samaritan man, one with sanctification in his soul, came and helped him up, and told him that Christ loved him. And lifted up his voice and, heart in prayer and cried out God for Christ's sake save this poor man. But for Thy mercy and Thy grace, it would be me.

And the drunken man asked "are you the Jesus Christ of Bethesda?"

Why should we be sanctified? First, sanctification is your purchased right. Jesus suffered that we might be sanctified. Second, sanctification is a means of service. Sanctification is not to make us happy, but to make us useful. The Priest had the blood mark on the ear, the thumb and the toe.

Lord Jesus seal with Thy blood-mark on ear, thumb and feet.

Dare you take the blood and trample upon it!

Never let your ear, your hands, your feet, dishonor the blood of Jesus Christ.

To be sanctified is the will of God. It is Christ in us. It is the surrender to Jesus the hearts blood flowing in living harmony with that of God. Separated soul and spirit for the waiting of the King.

The Arrington Investigation.

The precedent established by the Legislature, of authorizing legislative committees to investigate alleged acts of wrong-doing by the bench and bar, is a most pernicious one. The courts are established for litigants, and if they are presided over by incompetent or bad men, or if the law is defective, legislation ought to be enacted. But to authorize a committee, without limit as to time or expense, to review the Supreme or Superior court, is a piece of supreme folly of which no sensible Legislature could be guilty.

But, since the Legislature determined to establish a new method of procedure, it is a matter for regret that it did not select sober and honest men, who had some knowledge of law and had some regard for their reputation, to conduct the investigation. Neither of the members charged with the duty is capable of performing it, and as they are notoriously incompetent, the proceeding will be nothing more than a farce.

Mrs. Arrington believes she has been wronged. If so, and the Legislature deemed her wrongs so unusual as to require a new method of ascertaining and righting them, they owed it to her themselves, and her accusers to appoint a committee of sober men to undertake the work. She makes grave charges against prominent gentlemen. They will be glad of an opportunity to judicially answer the charges. The public like to see them and Mrs. Arrington have justice. She has at last obtained a tribunal to hear her complaints. It is a gross wrong to her that those appointed are unworthy and incompetent to perform the work assigned to them.—Raleigh News and Observer.

LEADING GROCERS.

OPINIONS

Of Some Prominent Grocers

See what some of the largest houses in this country say about the Aurora brand of butter:

The largest retail grocery in the State of Ohio, says: We have handled this butter for nine years and it has given universal satisfaction.

The largest retail dealers in Chicago say: We have handled this butter almost without a break for sixteen years and have found it a very superior article.

A leading house in New Orleans which has used it for 11 years says: It always gives the most perfect satisfaction.

The leading retailer in Louisville, Ky., says: I have found this butter gives general satisfaction and suits my trade better than any I have handled.

From the leading grocers in Cincinnati: We think it the finest we ever saw.

The Proprietors of the finest store in Detroit say: We have been selling this butter for some time with the greatest satisfaction to ourselves and customers.

The best house in Buffalo says: We have used your butter continuously for the past four years and have been well pleased with the results.

From the largest dealer in Atlanta, Ga.: This butter gives perfect satisfaction to all my customers.

Loughlin, of Dallas, Texas, says: You can use our name in saying the best you can for your butter.

The above are the opinions of a few leading grocers of different localities, all agree that they have found nothing better. But listen, I am much more interested in what the housekeepers of Goldsboro say about this butter than I am about the opinion of all the grocers on the face of the globe. Try it and let us hear from you; we want your opinions and are not afraid to have them.
