OUR CHILD'S COLUMN.

STORIES OF HORSES.

One-day a horse pulling a cart heavily laden with coal was going along a narrow lane. The driver was waiting behind to chat with a friend.

In the center of the road a little child was sitting, making mud pies. When the horse came close to her he stopped. I dare say he wondered how he was to get past without hurting her.

As she didn't move he caught hold of her dress with his teeth and lifted her on to the grass at the side of the road. When he had done this he turned round and saw a lady on a pony horse with a big sore place on its shoulder in the field next her garden.

She went indoors and got some ointment and plaster, and she called the horse to come to her, and after feeding him with bread, she put the ointment on the bad place, with the plaster over it.

Next day she heard a horse neighing, and going into the garden, found that it was her friend of yesterday. The plaster had come off. She put it on again. And the next day the same thing happened. After the third time the plaster stayed on all right, and the horse soon got well. But he remembered the lady, and if he met her when in harness would walk up to her and wag his tail.

This pony belonged to a farmer, and one day when he was brought in from the field he was very restless, and at last managed to get away from the man who was leading him.

Then he rushed off as fast as he could go. And where do you think he went? To the blacksmith's shop. And when he saw the blacksmith he went up to him at once and held up one of his hind feet.

A stone had somehow got between the shoe and the hoof. And when the man had taken it out the pony went happily home again.

The manager of a circus had a strange way of cleaning the horses that performed in it. When they became dirty he would put a boy on each horse and make them ride through the river three or four times. One day a new boy was on one, and after he had ridden the horse backward and forward several times, the manager told him to bring him back to the water. The boy struck his horse lightly on the head with his whip.

Now, when this horse was performing in the circus, a touch on the head meant that he was to lie down, so he obediently lay down in the water. Nice for the boy, wasn't it?

A ship struck on the rocks and went to pieces near the Cape of Good Hope. You can look the ship up on your map. There was no boat near, and the poor sailors could be seen clinging to parts of the wreck.

Just then a settler came riding up on a big horse. He knew the horse was a splendid swimmer, so he instantly rode him right into the sea. The horse swam out to the wreck with his master on his back. The man made one sailor hold on to each of his legs, and then the horse started for the shore. He did this seven times, and saved fourteen men, but when he was going out the eighth time a big wave washed him off the horse's back. The horse got back to the shore, but his poor master was drowned.

American Beauties.

There are none fairer or sweeter the world over. Unfettered and untrammelled the American woman queens it as does no other woman in the world. Yet her very energy and ambition are oftentimes her undoing. She attempts too much. Her health is undermined. And when health goes beauty goes also.

The use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery re-establishes the health. It cures diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and assures perfect assimilation of food and the proper nourishment of the body. It increases the blood supply and eliminates the impurities that clog the system and cloud the complexion.

Mrs. Mary E. Lewis, of Tanner, Gilmer Co., W. Va., writes: "Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Pleasant Pellets' cured me when doctors and other medicines failed. For fifteen years I suffered untold misery. I had given up all hope of ever getting well. I could not lie down to sleep, and everything I ate would almost cramp me to death. Was very nervous and could hardly walk across the room. I only weighed ninety pounds when I commenced taking these medicines six years ago; I now weigh one hundred and forty pounds and am having better health than ever before. After being sick so long I have changed to be robust and very cheerful. I have taken fifteen bottles each of 'Prescription,' 'Discovery' and 'Pellets.'"

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets act gently but effectively. Women value them.
