Black and White.

A new system of crayon drawing, by which any one can learn to draw. Pupils with no previous knowledge of art, and even those who have no special talent for drawing, are successful.

As much progress made by this system in two weeks as by the old methods in a year by the "Black and White" system.

Any Sort of Picture Can be Drawn any size. Copies can be made accurately, life-size portraits made from photographs or tin types.

Landscape Sketches directly from nature. Sketches drawn from life, and any kind of picture can be either enlarged or diminished.

The "Black and White" method of shading is very different from any other system, the finish finer, and as much can be done in an hour as by other methods. A pupil who has never had a lesson before can draw life-size portraits with from one to three weeks practice.

The system is presented entirely on its merits, no charge being made until

The Pupil is Convinced of Success.

"Black and White" is endorsed by artists and art teachers wherever introduced, and its success is phenomenal.

Prof. Otis A. Miller, who is teaching the system in person, has wide experience as a teacher of portraiture, his classes always being large. Everything the pupil needs is furnished with the lessons, and

No Pupil Left Until Success is Attained.

There is no accomplishment more practical than "Black and White." One can soon make their own portraits, and if they wish can also

SHORT NEWS STORIES.

Compensation For a Bad Odor—Spotted the Spider's Scene—A "Progress" Report.

Lord Rosebery, formerly premier of Great Britain, surprised some of his hearers at a recent gathering by referring to himself as an agriculturist, says a London newspaper. It is not generally known, even in England, that Lord Rosebery, statesman, author, sportsman, is also a farmer. His farm is at Mentmore, on the splendid estate which came to him on his marriage. It is conducted on the highest scientific principles and is one of the first model fruit farms in England. Large quantities of fruit come from Mentmore to the London markets. Lord Rosebery has a dairy farm on the Mentmore estate. At Dalmeny his association with the world of industry is in the form of shale mines lying on a remote corner of his estate. Now and again the wind brings the smoke and smell of the mines up to the mansion, and it was this which provoked a visitor to remark on the nuisance of having such things so close by.

"Ah, my friend," said Lord Rosebery, "however unpleasant it may be to you, to me it is the smell of 25 per cent."

Spotted the Spider's Scene.

H. Cooper Cliffe tells an amusing story of his first performance of the Spider at the Globe theater, in London. In the last act of "The Silver King" the Spider locks a case of jewels of enormous value in an iron safe. Mr.

"THE JEWELS ARE SAFE."

Cliffe did some elaborate business with the key and the safe and turned to the house to give full weight to his lines: "Securely locked. The jewels are safe." There was a roar of laughter. He spun around and perceived that the locked doors were wide open again, giving the audience a full view through the back of the safe of a lime light and the legs of the stage carpenter.

A "Progress" Report.

Congressman Clayton of Alabama was sitting in the cloakroom of the house when one of his colleagues drifted in.

"How are they getting along with the river and harbor bill?" asked Clayton.

"Well," was the reply, "I can report progress."

Clayton laughed. "That reminds me," said he, "of an old negro down in my district who was known as Henry Burley. He was quite a steady churchgoer, used to pray loudly and sing lustily, and so when the congregation decided to build a new church he was placed at the head of the committee to solicit subscriptions. He provided himself with a little book, and as he was well known to all the merchants of the town he soon raised quite a little sum of money. Whenever the congregation called upon him for a report of his endeavors he always answered, 'Burdron, I'm only able to report progress.' And he reported progress and nothing more for at least a year. At the end of that time the church had nothing, but Burley was living in a new cabin which he had built for himself. He was still reporting progress."—Washington Post.

Goodwin's Costly Joke.

Nat Goodwin has the apparatus of a joke that cost him $100. He bought it in the Swiss section of the Invalides. Fortunately, that is, for Mr. Goodwin, if not for his friends, it can be used again and again; indeed it is warranted for five years. To whom it may concern, warning: Among the Swiss clocks was one whence every hour a little wooden soldier emerged and fired a gun—for 2 o'clock, for 3 o'clock, and so on.

"I'm going to buy that," said Mr. Goodwin to his wife, Maxine Elliott.

"That silly thing. Why?"

"Oh, just to kill time," Mr. Goodwin replied lightly.

And if that joke doesn't wear out before the clock does he may get the worth of his money.—Saturday Evening Post.

He Had the "Encore."

Washington's Mrs. Malaprop was talking of the theaters and her favorite plays.

"Of course," she said, "now that we have money it isn't necessary to think so much about it, but I used to envy a man I knew. Why, he had the encore to all the theaters in Chicago!"—New York World.

Recent sales of real estate in Galveston show that current property values are held at only about one-half the figures prevailing prior to the storm.

RURAL FREE DELIVERY.

Canada Sends an Expert to Study American System.

Canada is very much interested in the United States rural free delivery system. A representative of the postmaster general of Canada is now in Washington making a minute study of the service for the purpose of reporting to his home government. This gentleman is Mr. Charles Ross, assistant postmaster at Toronto.

The other day Mr. Ross was introduced to Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith, who extended him the courtesies of the department. He was taken in charge by A. W. Machen, superintendent of free delivery, who accompanied the Canadian with an exhibition of the manner in which the rural free delivery system is managed. Mr. Ross was extravagant in his praise of the system which Mr. Machen has inaugurated whereby every detail of the service is at an instant's command by the officials of the department.

Mr. Ross, accompanied by an expert detailed from the department, has gone to Carroll county, Md., where he will spend a short time in a thorough examination of the practical working of the rural free delivery system.

Mr. Ross declares that the fame of the United States rural postal service has spread to Canada and excited the greatest interest there. The Liberal party, which is an advocate of progressive movements, stands ready to inaugurate the service there if the postmaster general of the Dominion thinks well of it.—Philadelphia Press.

Crete's New Coins.

According to a report from Athens the new Cretan coins will soon be put into circulation. They bear the head of Prince George and include gold pieces of 20 and 10 francs, silver pieces of 5, 2, 1 and half francs, small change in nickel of 20, 10 and 5 centimes, and in copper of 2 and 1 centimes, says the New York Tribune. Hitherto on the island Greek, Italian and French silver money has chiefly been in circulation, Turkish money having disappeared.

Kipling Dramatizing "The Jungle Book."

Rudyard Kipling is dramatizing "The Jungle Book" for H. Clay Cameron, who intends to produce the play next summer in London.—New York World.

Like a flash of lightning, sudden and startling, disease strikes down many a man. Yet there have been warnings upon warnings, unheeded. Food has lain like a heavy weight in the stomach after eating. There have been belchings, bitter risings in the mouth, nervousness, sleeplessness and growing irritability. Instead of listening to these warnings, recourse has been had to some of the nerve numbing palliatives that cover but never cure disease. Many serious diseases begin in a diseased condition of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. For such diseases there is one medicine which rarely fails to effect a complete cure. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures ninety-eight per cent. of all who give it a fair and faithful trial. It is a temperance medicine and contains no alcohol.

"I was afflicted with what the doctors called nervous indigestion," writes Mr. Thos. G. Lever, of Lever, Richards Co., S. C. "I took medicine from my family physician to no avail. In looking over one of Dr. Pierce's Memorandum Books, I found my case described exactly. I wrote to you and made a statement. You sent me a descriptive list of questions, also some hygienic rules. I carried these out as best I could, but thought myself incurable as I suffered so much with pain under my ribs and an empty feeling in my stomach. At night would have cold hot feet and hands alternately. I was getting nervous and suffered a great deal mentally. Thinking that death would soon claim me, I was excited, trembling, unusual to take plain food, and suffered a great deal. I could not sleep, and I could not eat any thing that would not produce bad feeling in my stomach. After some hesitation, owing to my prejudice against patent medicines, I decided to try a few bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pills. After taking several bottles of each, I found I was improving. I continued for six months or more, and on the 11th I was cured."
