THE WEATHER.

Continued fair and cooler to-night and Tuesday.

OUR LOCAL OPTIC.

Prof. J. Y. Joyner was in the city to-day.

Miss Sallie Kirby is at home again from a visit to Raleigh.

Miss Virginia Baxter is in the city visiting Miss Berdie Edwards.

Mrs. J. C. Benson and children are spending a few days at Southport.

Miss Julia Howell is in the city on a visit to her parents Capt. and Mrs. R. P. Howell.

Mr. James Stroud, of Florence, S. C., is in the city on a visit to his son Mr. W. E. Stroud.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Edmondson left to-day for Raleigh, to spend some days with relatives.

Mr. Asher Edwards left last night for the North to purchase fall and winter goods for his constantly increasing trade.

Mrs. A. W. Haskins and little daughter, of Oriental, N. C., are visiting her mother, Mrs. S. E. Crumpler, on Elm street.

The degree team of Ruffin Lodge, No. 6, Knights of Pythias, go to Smithfield to-night to induct a new lodge in that town.

Col. T. H. Bain, Inspector General of the State Guard, left to-day for Fayetteville, to inspect the company of that town.

Mr. W. F. Brogden will run another excursion to Seven Springs, Friday, on the steamer Goldsboro. The fare for the trip is 75 cents.

Dr. Roger A. Smith and son William left to-day on a pleasure trip to the mountains. Mrs. Smith and the other children are pleasuring in Washington, D. C.

His many old friends here are glad to see in the city to-day Mr. Ed. Griswold, who is on his way home from a pleasant visit to the Buffalo Exposition.

Mr. W. R. Hollowell lost his fine driving horse last night. The animal was valued at $150 and besides its money value was prized very highly for its good qualities.

Dr. Geo. J. Robinson, of Smithfield, Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Monk, and little daughter Agnes, and Mrs. M. A. Cox, of Newton Grove, were in the city to-day, visiting Mrs. Margaret Robinson.

Mr. J. T. Coley, from the Bull Head section of Greene county, was here this morning and brought with him a curiosity. It is a piece of grape vine, on which is growing chestnuts. Just how the vine came to bear such strange fruit is a problem that has met with no explanation so far.

It is essential that all our citizens who have homes, and all of whom have been supplied with the numbers of same, should place their numbers over their doors at once, in order that the Postmaster may inform the Post-office department at Washington that the city is ready for free mail delivery.

The first number of The Tar Heel, Mr. Walter L. Cahoon's new paper published at Elizabeth City, has reached this office. It is filled with splendid selections, live editorial comments and interesting local news and makes a splendid appearance typographically. The Argus wishes success to the venture.

The Durham base ball team, on their way home from Newbern yesterday, stopped over in this city and will play a game with the Goldsboro team this afternoon. Our people remember the splendid games we had with Durham last week and it is not necessary to say that the game this afternoon will be well worth the going to see.

An excursion train composed of five coaches and a baggage car passed through this city this morning headed for Wilmington. Without exaggeration it can be said that there were enough people on those five coaches to load eight. They could not all get on the inside of the coaches and had to hang on to the railings. We doubt very much that the train ever reached Wilmington without an accident.

The acquaintances and friends of the family in this city will learn with regret of the death of Mr. A. K. W. Falkner, at his home in Warrenton, yesterday morning. His son, Mr. Andrew Falkner, who is one of our enterprising business men, left here for the bedside of his father Saturday night. Mrs. W. K. Parker, daughter of the deceased, was already by her father and Mr. Parker left last night to attend the funeral to-day. To these members of the family, who are Goldsboro people, is extended the sympathy of their hosts of friends. The deceased, who was a gentleman of the old school and was well known throughout the State, had visited Goldsboro and was held in high esteem by those with whom he came in contact.

MR. N. H. GURLEY DEAD.

He Died at His Home in Johnston County This Morning.

The news of the death of Mr. N. H. Gurley at his home in Johnston county this morning was received with genuine regret by his many friends in this city to-day.

He took supper with Mr. Tom Massey, in Smithfield, last night and went home seemingly in good health. He died suddenly at 4 o'clock this morning.

His loved ones were from Smithfield in the country and the particulars concerning the funeral could not be obtained before going to press this afternoon.

It is very probable that the interment will be made at the family burying ground on his plantation in Fork township.

In saying that this community regrets to hear of this good man's death is but mildly expressing it. Genuine and deep sorrow pervades the hearts of his many friends and acquaintances throughout this county, where he was well known and where he had lived all his life until about two years ago, when he married the second time and changed his residence to Johnston county.

We might go on and sum up his virtues and excellent traits of character if they were not so well known. They need no introduction from this source. We could say nothing that would be more to his credit than to tell that he was a brave Confederate soldier and carries with him to his last resting place wounds that he received on the field of battle. He was a prominent character at all gatherings of the Democratic party while he was a citizen of this county and did the party excellent service which will not soon be forgotten.

A STAR COURSE.

Attractions What Can Be Secured for the Messenger Opera House.

Mr. Albert Hummel has the subscription books for a Star course of Entertainments which can be secured in Goldsboro the coming season, and it is for the people of Goldsboro to say whether we shall have these high class attractions or not. The list includes, "Enoch Arden," the Ladies in "Original Idies" and "Infinite Jest," Maj. Frank Graham in a lecture on "Southern Traits and Traditions," Lovett's Boston Stars in "100 Minutes in Kweer Company," and Ellmwood." To secure these attractions, which are all first class, will require 400 subscribers at $3.00 each. A book will be issued to each subscriber containing tickets for all five attractions, which puts the cost for each entertainment at 60 cents each. One subscriber can secure two books for $5.00, which will place each ticket at 50 cents.

Other places in the State have secured these attractions and if our people wish to have amusement in the Messenger Opera House the coming fall and winter now is the time to take action in the matter.

Checking Prescriptions.

If you bring us a prescription in which six ingredients are called for, we get down the six "stock" containers and set them in a row on the prescription counter. There the medicine is compounded. When finished, we take the written prescription and compare each separate entry (both names and quantities) with the "stock" bottles before us and the weights or measures indicated in conjunction with these bottles. That makes three separate and distinct times that each ingredient is handled. We are then certain that there will be no slips or oversights. It is never any trouble for us to take time to be correct.
