A Prominent Merchant Writes.
DR. H. MOZLEY, Atlanta:—Having been a great sufferer for three years from indigestion, and been treated by many physicians, who failed to give me any relief. Continuing to grow worse my brother advised me to try Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir, which remedy he had used for several years. I commenced its use, and must say that your Lemon Elixir is the greatest medicine on earth. I have never suffered a day since I commenced using Lemon Elixir.

A Wife Says:

"We have four children. With the first three I suffered almost unbearable pains from 12 to 14 hours, and had to be placed under the influence of chloroform. I used three bottles of Mother's Friend before our last child came, which is a strong, fat and healthy boy, doing my housework up to within two hours of birth, and suffered but a few hard pains. This liniment is the grandest remedy ever made."

Mother's Friend

will do for every woman what it did for the Minnesota mother who writes the above letter. Not to use it during pregnancy is a mistake to be paid for in pain and suffering. Mother's Friend equips the patient with a strong body and clear intellect, which in turn are imparted to the child. It relaxes the muscles and allows them to expand. It relieves morning sickness and nervousness. It puts all the organs concerned in perfect condition for the final hour, so that the actual labor is short and practically painless. Danger of rising or hard breasts is altogether avoided, and recovery is merely a matter of a few days.

Druggists sell Mother's Friend for $1 a bottle. The Bradford Regulator Co., Atlanta, Ga. Send for our free illustrated book.

NEW SHORT STORIES

He Earned His Fare.
Many have heard the story of the two Norwegian brothers. One of them was on the boat when she started out. She was thirty feet from the dock when the other brother came rushing down just a few seconds too late. The one aboard leaned over the railing and shouted: "Yump, Olie, yump! You can make it in two yumps!"

This local instance is alike with a difference: One Michael McNolan, a sewer contractor in the pick department, was giving his folks an outing during the general celebration and chose the Tashmo as the means of transportation. On the way to the boat Michael dropped in every little while to light his pipe.

The family were all comfortable on the upper deck and watching for the liege lord and paymaster when the machinery began to work and the boat to move. It was five feet away when the belated passenger appeared, his face red and his pipe working like a smoke-stack. He stood on the edge of the dock, steadying himself and swinging his arms to give impetus to a jump when the goodwife issued an order:

"Git back, Molke, git back, and make a good run for the jump. Yes can never make it standin'."

Mike obeyed. By the time he made his run the boat was twenty feet off, but he made a gallant effort, went out of sight in his best store clothes for a bathing suit and came up spitting out water and other things for which a later explanation would be required. He scorned life preservers showered upon him; dove down and brought up his pipe, swam to the side of the boat and when safely aboard demanded a reduction in fare.—Detroit Free Press.

Rose Eyttinge and Brigham Young.

Rose Eyttinge tells in the New York Dramatic Mirror this story of Brigham Young, whom she met in Salt Lake City: "He took me one day on a visit of inspection of a house in course of erection. As we passed from room to room the subject of polygamy was under discussion. By way of illustrating his argument he pointed out the many spacious advantages of the house and said: 'Now, suppose you were living in this house, and say you were sealed to me and I were to bring in another wife and establish her in another wing, why should you object? What would you do? To which I replied: 'Do? I would dance on her!' The old man dropped on a pile of lumber that lay conveniently near and laughed till I thought he would do himself an injury."

Brahms Was Tired.
When Brahms, the famous composer, was a pupil of Schumann, the latter wrote to Liszt in Weimar that he would send him an exceptionally gifted pupil, a young "Hamburger," Brahms by name. Brahms, who walked most of the way to Weimar, arrived there hungry and tired; but, going directly to Liszt's house, he was admitted, and, handing two of his own sonatas to Liszt, the latter played them from sight in a marvelous manner. Liszt, rather pleased with the compositions, turned to Brahms, who was seated in a big armchair, and said: "I shall play B minor sonata for you." This sonata lasts almost three-quarters of an hour, and when he had finished he turned to Brahms, but Brahms was sound asleep.

Highfalutin Reporting.

A local musical critic of Hagerstown, Md., wrote this of a performance of "Iolanthe," which was recently produced there: "Melodic curves of divine intensity vaulted aloft, mirroring the perturbations of music's soul and painting the struggle for subliminal expression upon the airy fabric of voice dreams. Ecstasically, yet orderly, the chorus rang its accompaniment, dashing the serene waves of its cloud capped vision right to the ultimate bars of human reach. The audience was sympathetic and enrapt, hanging with dramatic fervor to the meticulous inspiration of the passionate verve of the staccato, irresistibly direct and coordinate harmonies which passed off the ivory gates and scored their triumphs in the very heart of music's capital."

The Dandy and Kitchener.

Jean Carriere of the Paris Matin, who returned recently from South Africa, relates an encounter of Lord Kitchener with a dandy officer who had an unfortunate effeminate taste in trifles. The young man came to him one day bringing a dainty silk handkerchief, upon which, in accordance with a prevailing fashionable fad, he desired him to inscribe his autograph. Lord Kitchener took the handkerchief and remarked, "This is doubtless your sister's handkerchief?" "No," replied the dandy, smiling amiably; "it is mine." Lord Kitchener handed it back without writing on it, only inquiring as he did so, with an air of serious interest, "And what size hairpins do you wear?"
