THE WEATHER.

For North Carolina. Fair to-night fair warmer Saturday.

PURELY LOCAL.

ITEMS OF INTEREST IN AND AROUND THE CITY.

Picked Up By the Ubiquitous Reporter and Chronicled For the Information of Argus Readers.

Mrs. F. K. Borden and children are sojourning at Cedar Springs, in Virginia.

Mrs. W. T. Hollowell and Misses Kate and Annie Powell are visiting in Winton.

Fodder-pulling is now the order of the day with the farmers. Thus the year rolls away.

There was a pretty fair "break" of tobacco on this market to-day—that is "considering."

Mrs. M. T. Brezale, of Mount Olive, is in the city on a visit to her parents Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McGee.

The grounds and the walkways around the Borden Cotton Mill are being improved and very much beautified.

Mr. J. O. Carr, of the Wilmington Bar, returning from a professional trip to Person county, was in the city to-day.

Mr. Chas. Cotton, who has been quite sick at his home on North John street, is improving, we are glad to know.

Mr. C. Markley left last night for Wilson. He has made many friends here who will always hold him in pleasing remembrance.

Evangelist R. H. Morse will deliver his celebrated lecture on the evils of Intemperance in the court house on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The public is invited and the lecture is free.

It is with real pleasure a gratification at their safe journey that the Argus chronicles the arrival yesterday afternoon of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weil and their two daughters, Miss Gertrude and little Janet, from their extended European tour, the itinerary of which included a visit to Mr. Weil's boyhood home in Germany.

While the Board of County Commissioners are having the sidewalk in front of the court house put in proper shape they could also have a little work done to the court house square that would greatly improve its appearance. At present the lawn looks very much like an old field. The weeds are waist deep and are still growing.

The Goldsboro Glens, the name by which the colored baseball team is known, have returned from Norfolk where they have been playing the team in that city this week. The Norfolk team will come to this city next week and play three games on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The Wilmington Buck Stockings have an engagement to play three games in this city beginning on the 31st of August.

A delegation of Goldsborians left this morning for Rocky Mount to attend the meeting of the Farmers' Protective Association, which has been called to take action in reference to the low price of tobacco. A number of people came in on the early train from Raleigh, including representatives of the two morning papers, who had to lie over here until 1 o'clock this afternoon by missing connection with the northbound train on the Atlantic Coast Line this morning.

The many friends of the little orphans in this city will be glad to learn that they are having a delightful time in Wilmington, as the following taken from the Messenger to-day will show: "From one seashore to the other. Wednesday the Odd Fellows' orphans spent the day at Wrightsville Beach and yesterday they visited Carolina Beach. Both trips the children greatly enjoyed, notwithstanding the very disagreeable weather. The little ones, as the guests of honor of Captain John W. Harper, went down to Carolina Beach yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. They are delighted beyond measure with the ride on steamer Wilmington and at the beach their joy was unconfined. Clever Captain Harper showed them many courtesies and did, so, too, in that graceful and hospitable manner so peculiar to him."

"HUMAN HEARTS."

IT IS A POWERFUL MELODRAMA WITH A STRONG COMPANY.

They Will Have the Boards of the Messenger Opera House on the Opening Night, September 25.

The powerful and impressive melodrama "Human Hearts," presented by an exceptionally strong company of players, will be offered for the approval of the lovers of all that is clean and wholesome in melodrama on the stage, at the Messenger Opera House, on the opening night, September 25th.

"Human Hearts" has been firmly established as one of the most original and interesting of modern dramas. The author, Mr. Hal Keid, has long been famous as a play-wright, but in the present instance, he has surpassed all his former efforts. For ingenuity, strength and brilliancy, "Human Hearts" is a marvel of stage craft, done by a master hand in stage adroitness. Mr. Reed has poured out his entire store of theatrical knowledge in this play. He has produced a work of magnificent possibilities for a melodramatic public. The characters are finely drawn, the dialogue is crisp, the human interest is all-absorbing, the comedy is charming, the pathos is sincere. Taken in its entirety, "Human Hearts" is probably one of the strongest plays ever shown on the American stage.

A DELIGHTFUL PARTY

Given at the Home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hooks, in Fork Township Tuesday Night.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hooks, of Fork township, this county, gave a fine and donkey party on Tuesday night in honor of their nephew Mr. E. Harvey Hand, of Chester, S. C. It was the most pleasant social event that that neighborhood has known for some time.

The feature of the occasion, which furnished more amusement than anything else and caused almost a continuous roar of laughter, was the efforts of each guest to pin the donkey's tail on while blindfolded.

Dr. W. D. Crawford won the prize (though he says it was hardly fair as he drew the picture of the donkey and knew where the tail belonged) and Mr. Frank Yelverton won the booby.

Those present were: Misses Lizzie Beaton, Lula Smith, Bessie Swinson, Edna Gurley, Aileen Hooks, Effie Swinson, Alice Bell Gurley, Sallie Smith, Lizzie Hooks, Emma Swinson, Julia Gurley, Bessie Beens, and Messrs. Jack Sasser, Deland Beaton, Hugh Edwards, Frank Yelverton, Wade Caldwell, Carl Gurley, Tom Beens, Leslie Massey, George Lynch, Will Yelverton, Albert Smith, Luby Edwards, Carl Swinson, Forest Smith, Billy Hooks, Mrs. W. H. Hand, Rev. W. D. Sasser and Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Crawford.

Mrs. Hooks sustained her reputation as a charming hostess in the dining hall, where, assisted by Mrs. W. H. Hand and Mrs. Will Crawford, a delicious repast was served. When the midnight hour approached and "good night" was said, every heart was filled with appreciation and thanks to the popular host and hostess for a most enjoyable evening.

FOUNDED IN ROMAN FORM.

Base of Donatian Statue a Highly Important Discovery.

Rome, August 29.—An important discovery was made to-day in excavations in the Roman Forum. The base of the celebrated equestrian statue of the Roman Emperor Donatian, which is of the greatest interest in determining the topography of the Forum during the first century of the Empire, was found.

It stands five feet below the present level of the Forum. The base is forty feet long twenty feet wide and over ten feet high. On the top are three blocks of travertine stone, showing where the feet of the horse stood. The fourth block is lacking, indicating that the right fore-foot of the horse was raised.

The distance between the blocks is so great that it is calculated the statue was six times life size.
