THE WEATHER.

For North Carolina.
Showers to-night, Sunday showers and cooler.

PURELY LOCAL.

ITEMS OF INTEREST IN AND AROUND THE CITY.

Picked Up By the Ubiquitous Reporter and Chronicled For the Information of Argus Readers.

Go to church to-morrow.

Mr. Jno. R. Morris is in the city.

Mr. D. W. Patrick, of Snow Hill, collector of the port at New Bern, was in the city to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Southerland have returned to the city from spending the summer at Wrightsville.

Miss Bertha Massey, of Princeton, arrived in the city this afternoon on a visit to her cousin Miss Berta Brown.

There will be services at the First Baptist church to-morrow morning and evening, conducted by Rev. Height C. Moore of Chapel Hill.

A force of city hands have commenced on the sidewalk along the court house square, and will not stop till the job has been completed. It is well.

Those who took in "Pickin's Excursion" to Asheville are all safe back home again, and report a pleasant trip of sight-seeing—though they say the weather was mighty warm even in the mountains.

Our young friend and countryman Mr. Ernest Brogden, son of Mr. M. E. Brogden, who has just completed a business course, including stenography and typewriting, at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., is at home again.

The alarm of fire sent in from box 91 last night, a few minutes after the alarm from Webbtown, was occasioned by the turning over of a lamp at the home of Rev. A. B. Crumpler. Very little damage was done.

The friends of Mr. F. K. Broadhurst, who has been confined in a hospital in Greensboro for the past four weeks with typhoid fever, will be gratified to know that his recovery is thought to be an assured fact.

Mrs. Lillian Allen and Miss Grace Willford, of Des Arc, Ark., great grand daughters of Mr. John E. Beeton, a former old and honored resident of North Carolina, are visiting relatives in this State, and will spend to-night with Mr. J. A. Stevens, in this city.

The county Sunday school convention now being held at Salem church is being largely attended and the exercises and addresses are interesting, instructive and edifying. To-morrow will be the big day and the attendance is expected to be overflowing.

Our good friend and venerable townsman Capt. Dan' Reid, the efficient steward of the State Hospital, celebrated his 88th birthday on Thursday. He is in fine spirits and his health is good, the ARGUS is glad to chronicle, and we wish him many happy returns of his birthday.

The first bale of new crop cotton on this market came in to-day. It was from the farm of Mr. Olie Sutton—across the line, in Sampson county, and sold for 11 1/2 cents, being rather green. It weighed 670 pounds, and was bought by Mr. F. K. Borden for the Borden Cotton Mill, the price paid being $78.72. Cotton still is king.

The ringing of the fire alarm last night about 9 o'clock was caused by the burning of the barn and stables of Mrs. A. M. Prince at her country home, one and a half miles east of the city. The fire was discovered in time to save the live stock, but a quantity of feed stuff and farm implements to the amount of $500 was destroyed. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Mr. Sam Eason, of this city, who owns and operates a farm out near the Hooks Mill, has a field of cotton from which he anticipates at least a bale and a half to the acre. Much of the growth is as high as his head and the average is as high as his shoulder. And Sam does not ask people to take his word for it, either, but has a photograph of his field with himself standing erect in the midst of it, and you can only see his head above the level growth of cotton.

LIGHT OF THE WORLD.

Whoever Goes Forth For the Strife of Life Without This Light Has Little Purpose Ahead.

Lead, kindly Light, amid th' encircling gloom—
Lead thou me on
The night is dark and I am far from home:

Lead thou me on.
Keep thou my feet: I do not ask to see
The distant scene—one step enough for me.

Did you observe the wondrous light yesterday evening in the western sky, the "molten golden glory," rayed with azure, merging and melting away through the sunset gates? It took but little effort for the wings of the soul to follow it out beyond earth's sight, into that infinite light that "enlighteneth every man that cometh into the world"—that shone in the darkness of old, "and the darkness did not comprehend it"; the Light that is Love; the Light that is God—for "God is Love."

And whosoever goes forth full-believed for the strife of life, or whosoever comes to the end of it all, where the last dim shadow falls, and has not this Light cannot "stand firm," and—perhaps too late—his soul would penetrate the smoke and dust of battle or pierce the veil dropped before his fading eyes for one guiding ray from the Kindly Light.

Sometimes inarticulate, maybe, sometimes clear as the Angelus bell when all is still; sometimes in low and trembling whisper, sometimes like thunder of Olympus; sometimes unsyllabled by maiden lips, sometimes shouted by man as the battler of his soul—in some form the Master has taught that every human heart shall plead, Kindly Light, lead thou me on!

The illustrious Cardinal Prince of the Church whose divine inspiration gave to the world the deathless hymn to the Kindly Light, which has cheered a hundred million hearts, offered it up as a prayer to the Supreme Love that is Lord of all, of Presidents and Kings, of rich and poor, who all alike do but await the inevitable hour when the Light shall be most essential.

"Lead, kindly Light—lead thou me on."

PERTINENT OBSERVATIONS.

Col. Jno. R. Morris Gives a Characteristic Interview.

A man approached a neighbor and asked him if he knew the difference between the words "recollect" and "remember." The neighbor gave it up. "Well, I'll tell you," said the first speaker. "I recollect loaning you a certain sum of money, but I don't remember that you ever paid it back."

Col. John R. Morris, of Goldsboro, who passed through Raleigh yesterday afternoon on his way home, gave an even more graphic description of the difference between the words "abhorrence" and "admiration."

Col. Morris was returning from a trip through the northeastern tobacco belt of the State, and remarked to a Post man that the business depression is not as great in that part of the State as it was two weeks ago. "It is noticeable in the fact," he said, "that merchants are now placing orders they have been deferring for some time, awaiting to see further into crop conditions. The cotton crop appears to be very fine in that part of the State, while other crops are also good. The depression has been caused by the prevailing low prices of tobacco."

"Nearly all the tobacco farmers are also cotton farmers," said Col. Morris, and their abhorrence of those who have lowered the price of tobacco is qualified by their admiration for Brown and his associates who have raised the price of cotton."

FARMERS' MEETING.

At the Court House in This City To-Day—Much Interest Manifested in the Cause.

As we go to press this afternoon the meeting of the farmers of Wayne county, under the auspices of the State Farmers' Association, is in vogue in the court house.

The attendance is large, all sections of the county being represented in goodly numbers, and there is a general interest manifested that means business.

The ARGUS will contain a full account of the meeting next week.

Overwork is a vice to which few men are in a position to plead guilty.

Rheumacide

Continues to make Miraculous Cures
READ THIS LETTER!
ALMOST A MIRACLE.

DILLON, S. C., Aug. 19th, 1903.
Gentlemen—In September, 1902, I took rheumatism in a very bad form. In a month after the disease started I had to give up my work and go to bed. It continued to grow worse until my arms and hands were badly drawn, so much so that I could not use them. My legs were drawn back until my feet touched my hips. I was as helpless as a baby for nearly twelve months. The muscles of my arms and legs were hard and shrank up. I suffered death many times over. Was treated by six different physicians in McColl, Dillon and Marion, but none of them could do me any good, until Dr. J. F. Ewing, of Dillon, came to see me. He told me to try your "RHEUMACIDE." He gave me one bottle of the medicine and I began to take it and before the first bottle was used up I began to get better. I used five and a half bottles and was completely cured. It had been two years ago, and my health has been excellent ever since. Have had no symptoms of rheumatism. I regard "RHEUMACIDE" as by far the best remedy for rheumatism on the market. I cannot say too much for it. I have recommended it to others since and it has cured them.

Will say further, that I began to walk in about six days after I began to take "RHEUMACIDE," with the aid of crutches; in about three months after I began to take it, I could walk as good as anybody, and went back to work again.

Very truly,
JAMES WILKIN.
