LOCAL BRIEFS.

Items of Interest in and Around the City.

Ten-cent cotton was reached again today.

Mr. J. H. Bryan, of Tarboro, has accepted a position with the Southern express office at this place.

Chamber of Commerce will hold a meeting tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to attend.

The regular spring cleaning is a sweeping argument why a man should stay down town to lunch these days.

It is well that Easter Monday and circus day came together today, as two holidays are thereby combined in one.

Mrs. Charles Strickland, who has been confined to the hospital for four weeks, was able to go to her home today.

Don't forget nor fail to attend the meeting of the Civic Improvement League at the City Hall tomorrow (Tuesday) evening at 8 o'clock.

The literature department of the Woman's Club will meet in the club room this evening at 8 o'clock for the election of officers. All members are urged to be in prompt attendance.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Church are requested to meet at the church tomorrow (Tuesday) afternoon at 4 o'clock, and it is hoped that the attendance will be prompt and complete.

Superior Court, after reconvening today, took a recess until tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock to allow one of the popular members of the bar, Col. W. T. Dortch, the opportunity to carry his children to the circus—not "to see the animals," but to see the whole show.

It is unnatural to expect visitors to a town to think well of it if its own people speak ill of it. Visitors form a better impression of a town, as a rule, when its people are loyal, because such an attitude shows civic pride and local public spirit. A town made up largely of kickers and grumblers will seldom make a good impression on strangers.

We feel sure that every one who wants good government will insist that the rules adopted by the executive committee for governing the Democratic city primary on Wednesday, April 14, be conducted in strict accordance therewith, in order that when the selection is made, every candidate can feel that everything was done in good order and with the utmost fairness, and that no one not entitled to vote for any reason, including his affiliation with the Republican party in the last State and county election, was allowed to vote.

CHAT ABOUT YOUR FRIENDS.

Mrs. W. E. Borden is on a visit to relatives in New York.

Rev. Bishop Strange left this morning for his home in Wilmington.

Mr. Harry Humphrey, of Farmville, spent Easter at his home in this city.

LET'S GET TOGETHER.

There is So Much to Be Done in Common and So Much That Can Be Done by Unity.

Goldsboro is a busy place just now with material and permanent improvements, and is attracting the attention of prospectors by reason of its possibilities; but the knockers in our midst are liable to retard if not altogether thwart the impending opportunities; and the best remedy for this disease politic is for our progressive people whose interests are in Goldsboro and who propose to abide here to get together and stand together and work together.

Here is the occasion for missionary work at home for our Chamber of Commerce.

There was a time not so long ago in this country when many of our best citizens honestly believed that the growth of one community could only come at the price of a corresponding loss to some adjoining community, possibly their own. Never was a bigger error made. We are beginning to recognize this now, but had we done so at the start how much more would have been accomplished hereabouts these past half score years! Get together and stay together or get out. Do your share of the building up of churches, schools, roads, or if you are not so inclined the next best thing is to leave your neighbors alone while they are trying to do it. It will be done by some one, never fear, but it is so much easier when all are pulling as one man in the common good.

"Get together and stay together or get out," is a bit of wholesome advice. When a man spends a large part of his time talking disparagingly of the community in which he lives just remind him that there are ways to get out of it and make room for somebody who is willing to contribute to its progress and development.

A man has no right to abuse and pull down the town which offers him the opportunity to earn a living. If it doesn't suit him let him get out. Any community can well spare people of this kind. People who form the habit of speaking ill of their home town are seldom worth anything to it.

The get-together spirit is the most valuable asset a town can have. The pull-apart spirit is one of its heaviest liabilities.

Acme Reopens.

The Acme Theatre, after taking a rest for one week on account of Holy Week, opens again tonight with a better class of motion pictures than ever.

The vaudeville bill will consist of "Mayne and Mayne," Irish comedians, singing, talking and wooden shoe dancers.

Matinee every day at 4 p. m.; night at 7:30.

Mr. Mason wishes to inform his patrons that he now has his film business in shape, so that he will assume the management of his theatre, and careful attention will be given the patrons and provision for their comfort in every way will be made. His special personal attention will be given the children at the matinees.
