FORTY FOUR YEARS AGO

Sherman's Army One Hundred Thousand Strong Marched Into Raleigh.

They Hung Lieut. Walsh Because He Fired Upon Federal Troops After The City Had Been Surrendered by The Mayor—The Day Opened With Drizzling Rain.

(Raleigh News and Observer.)

Today marks an anniversary memorable in the history of Raleigh and it will be recalled with vivid interest by the older people. A citizen, now counted among the old inhabitants who as a youngster witnessed the coming of Sherman's army from an elevated position on the top of the State Capitol, said yesterday:

"Forty-four years ago today (April 13, 1865) as a young man, I witnessed the entrance of Sherman's army into our beautiful city, and as some of the scenes witnessed by me may be interesting to your young readers, as well as some of the older ones, I will attempt to draw you a few pictures of that memorable event.

"The day opened with a drizzling rain as Kilpatrick's cavalry came dashing up Fayetteville street at a gallop, with oil cloths spread over their shoulders, and as their commander reached Hargett street he and his staff were fired upon from the head of Fayetteville street by Lieut. Walsh, who belonged to Wheeler's cavalry, who occupied the city on the night previous, committing many depredations on stores and public buildings. One of the public buildings ransacked was the railroad depot of the old R. & G. and N. C. railroad, now known as old Southern freight depot. After taking everything in the way of provisions, the building was fired to destroy ordnance stores in said depot, and many bombs were exploded in the burning building.

After firing upon the advancing officers, Lieut. Walsh turned and rode rapidly west along Morgan street, being hotly pursued by some of Kilpatrick's men. He did not know that Morgan street was obstructed by the railroad, not having a bridge over the road. When he realized his mistake and attempted to retrace his steps so as to reach Hillboro street by way of West street, in suddenly turning his horse at the corner of Morgan and West streets the saddle girth broke and he was captured. He was brought to the capitol square and was condemned to be hanged by the Federal officers, he having forfeited his life according to the rules of war, having fired upon the invading army after the city had been surrendered by the mayor, on the previous night.

"By the terms of the surrender every house was to be supplied with a soldier to guard the premises, and as the infantry entered the city shortly after the cavalry, a sentinel was placed at each residence to protect the premises. This was kept up for quite a long while. When the infantry began to enter the city one realized what Gen. Sherman's reputed language about war meant. In every company you could see such sights as a bag of meal on one man's shoulder, an old rooster or a hen on the knapsack of another, and occasionally a quarter of a sheep or hog suspended over the back and held in place by the bayonet of a musket being forced through the meat and the musket resting on the shoulder as a peddler would now carry his pack. These scenes could be witnessed during most of the day, as the army marched up Fayetteville street and turned aside to go into camp on the northwest and southwest outskirts of the city, and by nightfall nearly 100,000 soldiers were in camp within three miles of the city and between here and Durham.

"But few of the people ever realized what a narrow escape our citizens had from mob violence on account of the news reaching the Federal soldiers while encamped in and around the city of the assassination of President Lincoln two nights previous, and had it not been for the prudence of Gen. Schofield in ordering double guards around all the camps, and not allowing any soldiers outside of camp for two days, our city might have been the scene of many a tragedy, as wrought up was the army over the sad news.

"After the surrender, of Gen. Johnston at Durham a few days afterwards, Gen. Sherman mobilized his army of 100,000 men around and near the city, and before the army was disbanded he had a review of his whole command which entered Fayetteville street at South street and marched up to its head in companies, regiments, battalions, divisions and corps. With white gloves, bright bayonets reflecting in the sunlight, the street a solid mass of marching humanity from curb to curb, bands playing at the head of each division, and as the sound of the drum would reach the ears of the following soldiers keeping step to the beat of the drum as they would hear it, the glistening of the bayonets had a waving motion as the waves of the sea, and Fayetteville streets its entire length, was a sheet of waving and glistening steel, as witnessed by your writer from the top of the capitol building.

"It has been forty-four years since those stirring times in Raleigh, yet the scenes have not been dimmed by the lapse of time."

SIGNALLY HONORED.

A Merited Recognition of One of Our State's Best Soldiers—A Goldsboro Boy.

Capt. S. Cohen has just been signally honored by being appointed State Secretary of the National Rifle Association of America for the State of North Carolina. The appointment was made by Gen. James A. Drain, of Washington, D. C., president of the Association, and one of the best known gunsmiths and rifle shots in the country. The National Rifle Association numbers among its members some of the most prominent men of the country, among others, ex-President Roosevelt. We congratulate our young friend on the honor, which is indeed worthily bestowed.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

Let's Nominate Conservative and Conversant Men.

Editor Argus:—In tomorrow's primary it should not be lost sight of that two members of the Board of Public Works are to be nominated.

The names of Geo. S. Dewey, the present competent and satisfactory incumbent, and Geo. C. Royall have been put before the voters.

Let me say that these men are admirable selections—Mr. Dewey to look after the mechanical operation and the physical needs of the plant; Mr. Royall to supervise the management and give, as he will see that we will get the best service at the least possible cost.

BARN BY FIRE MONDAY.

Early Morning Blaze Thought To Have Started From Rodents.

Mr. D. A. Daniel, who resides on Rural Route No. 2, about five miles from town, had the misfortune to lose his barn by fire early Monday morning. The blaze was first seen about 3 a. m., and before help arrived the building was a mass of flames. The barn contained 1,000 bundles of fodder, 1 ton of fertilizer and much feed. The loss is about $300, with no insurance.

Mr. Daniel believes the fire originated from rats igniting some matches that were left in the building.

CATHOLIC MISSION.

Interest and Attendance Increasing. Question Box Is Being Used Freely.

Last night's mission service in St. Mary's Catholic church was the occasion of another fine discourse from Father Austin Fleming that all his hearers followed with closest interest and his scriptural deductions in proof of the truths he enunciated of Catholic doctrine unquestionably sustained the reasonableness of the faith he so forcibly expounded.

The "Question Box" is being liberally patronized, and last night's question were clearly and concisely answered, as were those at Sunday night's service by Father Fred Price, of Nazareth, who is here for the mission.

—Father Fleming, as we stated yesterday, is an earnest, eloquent, convincing preacher, a conversant student of the Scriptures and a profound theologian.

Every night this week the services will open at 8 o'clock and the public are cordially invited.

Tomorrow's Primary.

Dear Argus:—I heartily endorse your reference yesterday to the Democratic primary to be held in the different wards of this city tomorrow for the nomination of a candidate for mayor and two members of the Board of Public Works.

This contest is between Democratic friends, and such friends can and will settle it without the aid of those who are not friends in a party sense.

Let those who want to see our city take on new life and vim be at the polls and show by their presence and action that they are not willing to march at slow time music while other towns and cities are forging to the front.

If progress is to be our watchword, let us be up and doing.

POLITICAL PARAGRAPHS.

Pertinent to Passing Efforts and Expectancies.

It would be an act of kindness to those men who have been distanced in the Judgeship race for the President to let them know it.

There is one thing Cannon's enemies cannot accuse him of, and that is not paying his friends for standing by him when he gets into a tight place.

The Republicans want Taft to eat his words and put Western District Republicans ahead of Eastern District Democrats in the race for the Judgeship.

It is said the strain of his position is beginning to tell on Taft already. The Eastern District Judgeship alone has been enough to upset the nerves of any ordinary man.

The postmaster at Spencer wants to swap that $1,500 job for the office of mayor of his town which pays a tenth as much salary. Will somebody explain that?

Roosevelt's first important act after leaving the American shores was to establish an Annapolis Club for France, a Paris newspaper correspondent being the first man initiated.

Now that the charge of the Democratic brigade on the White House is over we suppose the President will be able to give attention to the selection of a man for Judge of the Eastern District.

It's all nonsense to talk about Taft vetoing the tariff bill. It may not come to him in the shape he desires, but he will not dare to undo all the work of a three or four months' session of Congress.

Things are too quiet about the White House to suit the Washington people. They miss the donor and blitzen performances with which they were entertained during the seven years of Roosevelt's rule.

GEN. NEVINS AT BULL RUN.

Commander-in-Chief of G. A. R. Visits Famous Battlefield.

Manassas, Va., April 12.—Gen. Henry M. Nevins, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, is the guest of the Manassas Picket Post at the home of Lieut. Geo. C. Round. Today Gen. Nevins and other distinguished Union veterans visited the Bull Run battlefield, where luncheon was served in the famous old stone house which bears the marks of shot and shell from the contending forces in the days of '61.

Tomorrow Gen. Nevins, with Lieut. Round as special aide, will leave Manassas for Hampton, Va., where the Grand Army encampment of Virginia and North Carolina will meet on Wednesday.

Asheville, N. C., April 12.—A frightful murder was committed in the northern section of the city Saturday night about 12 o'clock, when John Babab Birchfield, in a drunken frenzy, and apparently without any cause or provocation, shot to death young Zeke Roberts, a son of Emmet Roberts, of this place.

IMMENSE REVIEWING STAND

To Be Erected for the Twentieth of May Celebration—Committees Completing Their Programs.

Charlotte, N. C., April 13.—All committees of the Twentieth of May celebration, which is to be held in this city next month commemorating the signing of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence, are rapidly completing their programs for the big event. The several parade committees, including the floral, the colonial and others, are making preparation for the most spectacular affair in the history of the city. The Daughters of the American Revolution, the Children of the Confederacy, the Colonial Dames and other historic organizations will participate in the procession. The chairman of the floral parade committee is anxious that all members of these organizations who do not live in Charlotte shall be present on "Taft Day" and take part in the parade.

Definite plans have been made to erect an immense reviewing stand on the Mecklenburg county courthouse grounds, from which President Taft and his party, including Mrs. Taft and Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, will review the parade.

Change of Boundaries of Voting Precincts.

At a meeting of the County Board of Elections of Wayne County, North Carolina, held in Goldsboro on Monday, the 5th day of April, 1909, at 12 o'clock, m., all members being present, it was ordered that the boundary lines of Precincts No. 3 and 4 as now existing for the State and County elections in Goldsboro Township, be changed to conform in every particular to the boundary lines said Wards, No. 3 and 4, as set out in the Charter of the City of Goldsboro, in section 3 of chapter 397, of the Private Laws of North Carolina, session 1901. That is, the boundary lines of Precinct No. 3 in the City and County elections shall be as follows:

"Beginning at the center of intersection of William street and Chestnut street, and runs thence southerly with the center of William street, and an extension thereof, to the southern boundary line of the corporate limits of said city; thence with said boundary line westerly to the southwestern corner in said boundary line northerly to a point opposite to the center of said Chestnut street extended; then easterly to and with the center of said street to the beginning."

The boundary line of Precinct No. 4 in the State and County elections shall be as follows:

"Beginning at the beginning point of the Third Precinct and runs thence southerly with the center of William street, and the line of the Third Precinct to the southern boundary line of the corporate limits of said city; thence with said boundary line to the southeastern corner in said boundary line; then with said boundary line northerly in its various courses to a point opposite to the center of Chestnut street extended on the east; then westerly to and with the center of said street to the beginning."

I was further ordered as follows, that whereas the County Board of Elections in their meeting on September 7, 1908, passed an order dividing Fork Township into two Precincts, known as No. 1 and No. 2, with the understanding that if it did not meet with general satisfaction, it should be restored after the election.

Now there, the Board being of the opinion that to continue said division is unwise, it is therefore ordered that the said division be done away with and that there shall be only one precinct in Fork Township, that is, that no polling place and boundary of said Township that existed during the State and County general election of 1906 be restored.
