MR. PANNELL MAKES OFFER FOR BONDS

SPECIAL MEETING ALDERMEN

City Fathers Decide to Extend Sewer System to Many Portions of Goldsboro, One From Western Part of the City to the River.

The board of aldermen held a special meeting Friday afternoon to consider the extending of sewers. Upon motion of D. H. Dixon the board adopted a resolution which means the construction at an early date of a sewer from the western part of town to the river as per the survey of the city engineer, and also to construct sewers in other parts of the city. Aldermen Dixon, Well, Gibson and Borden were appointed a special committee on this work.

Mr. Pannell, representing the Atlantic Bithulithic Company, of Richmond, was before the board. Upon motion of Mr. Gibson it was adopted that the finance and street committees should confer with Mr. Pannell. These committees met this morning and held another conference this afternoon.

It is understood that Mr. Pannell has made an exceedingly low estimate upon the grounds that work be started at once, same to be completed by Christmas. Mr. Pannell has also offered to purchase the street improvement bonds.

NEUSE BRIDGE WRECK.

Large Force of Hands Clearing Away Fearful Wreckage.

Hundreds and even thousands of people have visited the Atlantic Coast Line freight wreck at the Neuse river bridge since yesterday afternoon, and it is the marvel of all.

The Atlantic Coast Line authorities, with their characteristic energy, are already busy clearing away the wreckage and making ready for repairing the bridge, and it is hoped to have traffic restored by a temporary bridge within the next week. In the meantime arrangements will be made for transfers, and some trains will probably be run around from Wilmington via New Bern.

The estimated cost of the damage to the Coast Line is as high as a hundred thousand dollars, and some put it even higher.

Delightful Porch Party.
Miss Glennie Yelverton delightfully entertained this morning in honor of her guests, Misses Evelyn Walker, of San Juan, Porto Rico, and Ruth Coltrane, of Concord, N. C.

It was a progressive, miscellaneous contest and the prize was won by Miss Le May Dewey.

Delightful refreshments were served and the morning was charmingly spent.

Among those present were: Misses Evelyn Walker, San Juan, Porto Rico; Ruth Coltrane, of Concord, N. C.; Annie Merritt, of Greensboro, N. C.; B. Martin, of Eureka, N. C.; F. Landis, of Oxford, N. C.; M. Hauser, Augusta, Ga.; Lady Dole, Elm City, N. C.; G. Hales, Wilson, N. C.; Emma Finlayson, Baltimore, Md.; Huldah Slaughter, Jennie Ormond, Vivian Wooten, Eula Blizell, Lydia Winslow, Mamie Best, Blanch King, Mayfield Cole, Le May Dewey, Louise Stocumb, Mildred Borden, Grace Butler, Sadie Lou Britt, Maude Evans, Diana Whitfield, and Bessie Edwards.

LOOKING INWARD.

Communities As Well As Individuals Should Take Council of Themselves.

There are times, as everybody knows, when municipalities, like individuals, are so well satisfied with themselves that they not only make no effort to do anything different from what they have been accustomed to do, but they resent the intimation made by others that there is anything which they should do.

Of a people well satisfied with themselves there is no more shining example than the people of the city of New York. For many years the people of that great city have been completely satisfied with themselves, their estate, and their manners, and anyone who differed from them in belief and ventured to express that difference was reprobated and ridiculed. Recently, however, judging from expressions reaching print in the New York newspapers, a considerable number of the citizens of that town have themselves expressed dissatisfaction with things as they are in the metropolis. Several of the local newspapers have attempted by crying down the complainers and by boasting, to still the howls of the dissatisfied.

The Times, however, while expressing in delicate terms its faith and belief in its home city, has printed in its editorial column recently the following:

"The trouble with New York city is not that so many of its residents are apt to talk freely of its obvious defects, but that they generally do so little as citizens toward removing those defects. This year, we trust, the sober-minded citizens will give serious heed to the great question of municipal reform and improvement. It is useless to try to make conditions better by muzzling the 'muckrakers,' or setting up a counter-chorus of self-praise to drown their voices.

"The city sadly needs a new, workable charter, like the one prepared for it by the Ivis committee, and courageous, efficient public officers to administer the laws under that charter. It needs no booming. Its material greatness, its commercial supremacy, are acknowledged. New York has never needed boomers. But it stands now in need of a great re-awakening of civic pride which will impel men to do, not to boast. House-cleaning is irksome and annoying, but necessary, and it cannot be accomplished by standing on the front stoop and bidding for public admiration of the fine architectural proportions of the building."

Those are words which may be read and considered with profit by the people of other cities than New York.

COLORED WOMAN HONORED.

Old "Aunt" Lucy Kersey Laid Away by Distinguished Citizens.

Weldon, N. C., July 23.—The most remarkable funeral ever held in North Carolina took place here yesterday, when the remains of "Aunt Lucy" Kersey, who committed suicide in Wilmington Tuesday morning, were laid to rest in Cedarwood Cemetery.

"Aunt Lucy" was only a colored woman, but her heart was right and her principles were right. She had lived in the household of Dr. I. E. Green here for thirty years, and prior to that time she lived in the home of the late Rev. R. O. Burton, for seventeen years. Only a few colored people attended the funeral, but there was a large assemblage of white people prominent in two counties and the pallbearers were Hon. W. W. Wiggins, mayor of Weldon; J. A. House, sheriff of Halifax county; Hon. W. E. Daniel, for twelve years solicitor for the twelfth district; S. M. Gary, clerk of Halifax Superior Court; A. E. Wilson, son of the former chairman of the Corporation Commission; W. L. Stainback, traveling salesman for Garrett & Co., of Norfolk.

Is there such another instance in all history where white men of prominence and state-wide reputation have acted as pallbearers at the funeral of a colored woman, and where the remains were laid to rest in the family square of a prominent physician in a white cemetery? But there was a reason, and it was eminently proper that the remains of "Aunt Lucy" should be so honored. She had never in all her life associated with the people of her own race and never slept a single night in any of their houses. She was born in Warren county near Monson, of free parents, before the war, her father having been a tavern keeper on the old stage road from Monson to Clarksville, Va. It was here that Dr. Burton first saw her and induced her father to allow her to become a member of his household. She lived with the family for seventeen years, nursing and caring for the children. Later she came to Weldon and for thirty years lived at Dr. Green's and nursed all his children. In all that time she had never spent a single night outside of his home until a few weeks ago. She went to Wilmington to visit Dr. Green's daughter, Mrs. J. B. Fountain. It was there during a fit of temporary insanity, she went into the cellar and hanged herself with a small rope.

And thus ends all that was mortal of one of the most remarkable colored women the world has ever known.

It is Obligatory Upon All County Public School Teachers to Attend.

A county institute for teachers will be held in the Court House at Goldsboro, N. C., beginning August 2, and continuing two weeks.

GOLDSBORO WINS.

Fayetteville Scores by Using Pinch Hitters in Seventh.

Fayetteville, N. C., July 23.—It took 11,000 Otis to beat the Highlanders this afternoon, Goldsboro winning out in the last round of a heart-breaking, ragged game. Score, 5 to 4.

The Highlanders used pinch hitters in the seventh inning, coming up from behind and tying the score with a grand batting rally.

They hammered Shraden out of the box in the first two innings, scoring two runs on a hit batsman, McKernan's single and Schumaker's three-bagger. The hook was then applied and Otis sent in. Five more singles were gathered off his delivery. Muir allowed five hits to the seventh inning, in which he was replaced at the bat by Bebe, Clancy taking his place on the slab and yielding but two hits. Otis struck out twelve batters. The Giants scored three times in the first inning on three errors, a sacrifice, a pass and a hit. Another was gotten in the third on an error, a sacrifice and a hit. The winning run was scored on a hit batsman, a sacrifice and an error.

None of the visitors' runs were earned, while the Highlanders earned two.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Items of Interest in and Around the City.

Register of Deeds W. G. Britt issued a marriage license today to Mr. Charley Wiggs and Mrs. Ashley Peeden, of Mt. Olive.

The first load of tobacco from the country of the new crop arrived in the city today, and was driven into one of our sales warehouses to be graded before being placed on the floor for the opening sale in August.

In the list of honorary pallbearers at the late Dr. W. H. H. Cobb's funeral, published yesterday afternoon, the name of Capt. J. B. Edgerton, one of his Confederate comrades and lifetime friends, was inadvertently omitted.

Postcard and mounted pictures of the big freight wreck yesterday at Neuse river bridge, executed by Goldsboro's well-known photograph artist, Mr. A. O. Clement, are now on exhibition and for sale at his studio and at Hill's drug store. The work is very graphic and shows the wreck to be one of the most disastrous, in a physical and financial measure, that has ever occurred in these parts.

The Income Tax.

We have been slow to believe that all the states would rush into the adoption of the proposed constitutional amendment by which they would turn over to the national government the power to tax the incomes of the citizens of the various states.

Justice Brewer, of the Supreme Court of the United States, has this to say on the subject:

"Under the hue and cry of today we must have the income tax, which means a tax upon
