

NATIONAL BANK OF GOLDSBORO... Geo. A. Norwood, President

Goldsboro Daily Argus

NATIONAL BANK OF GOLDSBORO... Geo. A. Norwood, President

This Argus is for the people's rights... No soothing strains of Mal's son...

VOL. LXXV

GOLDSBORO, N. C., THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 11, 1922

NO. 30

Patriotic Goldsboro

Yesterday's Observance of Confederate Memorial Here Abreast of Our City's Characteristic Loyalty to Hallowed Memories

YESTERDAY'S SERVICE A TRIBUTE TO THE LATE CONFEDERATE HERO OF OUR OWN CITY AND HIS NO LESS HEROIC WIFE CAPT. AND MRS. THOMAS WRIGHT SLOCUMB.

The people of Goldsboro, under the inspiration and lead of Thos. Ruffin Chapter United Daughters of the Confederacy...

The celebration did credit to Goldsboro's best traditions, and the address by our brilliant townsman Hon. D. H. Bland...

The address was directly in line with the patriotic sentiment of the hallowed memorial service...

Mr. W. T. Hollowell was Master of Ceremonies and directed the exercises without an interruption.

The invocation was delivered by Rev. G. T. Adams, pastor of St. Paul M. E. church, and the singing was by the ladies of the Chapter assisted by citizens.

The address of Judge Bland was heard with rapt attention, and will long linger in the memories of all...

Judge Bland spoke as follows: Old Soldiers, Daughters of the Confederacy, Ladies and Gentlemen:

We are met today to pay our annual tribute of love and of honor to the dead Confederate Soldier.

Of Fame's eternal camping ground (Continued on Page 2)

would challenge today: the institution of slavery was forever wiped out by one stroke of the President's pen...

And so, on a beautiful May day in each year, we gather, and shall continue to gather as the years roll on...

Many, alas, too many, in that momentous struggle, were called upon to pay the supreme sacrifice...

The muffled drum's sad roll has ceased, the soldier's last tattoo.

Of Fame's eternal camping ground (Continued on Page 2)

Of Fame's eternal camping ground (Continued on Page 2)

Of Fame's eternal camping ground (Continued on Page 2)

Of Fame's eternal camping ground (Continued on Page 2)

Of Fame's eternal camping ground (Continued on Page 2)

Of Fame's eternal camping ground (Continued on Page 2)

Of Fame's eternal camping ground (Continued on Page 2)

Of Fame's eternal camping ground (Continued on Page 2)

Of Fame's eternal camping ground (Continued on Page 2)

Of Fame's eternal camping ground (Continued on Page 2)

DECLARES STATE OF WAR IN CHICAGO

(By Associated Press.) Chicago, May 11.—Declaring that he agreed with the contention of the chief of police that "Chicago is in a state of warfare" Judge Scranton today refused to grant a writ of habeas corpus for the release of any of the labor leaders now held in prison pending investigation into the killing of two policemen yesterday, growing out of infractions of the law by labor union adherents.

So also Judge David has refused to admit to bail "Big Tim" Murphy and ex-convict Fred Nader, president of the Builders Union, who are being held for investigation.

The entire contingent of the law enforcement bodies of Chicago have declared that the fight is now on "to the finish" against the labor union and nothing short of a thorough investigation and condign punishment of those guilty of these murderous outrages will be considered.

Will Elect M. E. Bishops For Life

(By Associated Press.) Hot Springs, May 11.—According to almost unanimous action of the M. E. General Conference here today bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church will continue to be elected for life, instead of for a term of years, as has recently been proposed and discussed.

"An Outsider's Version"

Traveling Man—"This ought to be some swell town."

Citizen—"Who?"

Traveling Man—"I'm a globe trotter and have seen many groups of girls, but I have never seen such a place as this."

Citizen—"What was that?"

Traveling Man—"The rehearsal of 'Springtime' say that's some show."

Citizen—"So you would advise me to see it?"

Traveling Man—"If you don't you ought to be shot. Why that 'Periwinkle Chorus' is alone worth the price of admission."

Citizen—"There's a girl selling tickets now."

Girl—"How many?"

Citizen—"One, please."

Traveling Man—"Make it two, I'm coming back Friday just to see it again."

Come to "Springtime" Friday, May 12.

A Promising Youngster

Perhaps the youngest Sunday School in Wayne county, Patetown Academy, organized in January of this year by Rev. W. O. Butler, Mr. R. H. McCrary and R. H. Stevens, is the most thriving, having an attendance of over 100, a Bible class of over 50 men, a catechism class numbering over 30.

A photograph of this class will soon be taken so the people can see the personnel of this youngster.

MISS ISAACS HOSTESS

Miss Frieda Isaacs was hostess yesterday afternoon at her home on John street at a delightful informal car party given in honor of Mrs. Barney Aaronson of Raleigh and Mrs. Ben Goodman of Philadelphia, who are visiting here.

Various card games were played during the afternoon. The hostess awarded the score prize, a dainty apron, to Mrs. C. E. King. The guests of honor received silk hose and stationary. A refreshing ice course was served.

Those present were Mesdames Barney Aaronson of Raleigh, Ben Goodman of Philadelphia, Isaac Cohn, Sol Isaacs, Jno. S. Dortch, Isidore Cohn, N. J. Edwards, M. N. Epstein, Jos. Isaacs, C. E. King, N. A. Edwards, Harry Smith and Misses Byrdie Cohn Ida Isaacs and Helene Cohn.

A supper according to the slang days—Only a few black eyes.

Where Stated Aviator Met Death

Remains of the plane in which Sir Ross Smith, famous Australian aviator, was to have made a flight around the world, together with his brother, Sir Keith Smith, which on a fatal night, crashed to earth at Brooklands, England, May 11, 1922.

FATAL TOLL HITS SOLDIERS BONUS

(By Associated Press.) Omaha, Neb., May 11.—The death of a young soldier here today, a result of the influenza epidemic, adds to the toll of fatalities which have been reported since the outbreak of the disease.

Atlantic Airplane To Be Built

(By Associated Press.) New York, May 11.—The death of D. A. Batts, of Wilson, N. C., who yesterday at a local hotel cut his throat, with suicidal intent, occurred here today, at Bellevue Hospital.

Bright Trade Prospects For The United States

(By Associated Press.) Philadelphia, May 11.—F. de St. Phalle, Vice-President of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, told the delegates of the National Foreign Trade Convention here today that the future holds out bright prospects for South America and for the United States.

"South America will develop at an increasing rate because it is the most attractive and richest of the thinly populated sections available," he continued. "A larger appropriation of this development will be made and carried out with the assistance of the United States."

Economic factors governing the movement of exchange rates have been understood in South America," he continued, "and it is now being recognized that the future holds out bright prospects for the United States."

"The airplane is not to be developed merely as an engine of destruction, however," the naval officer declared. "The commercial usefulness of the airplane cannot be over emphasized. The war airplanes, great carriers with a speed of from 15 to 20 knots an hour will be able to launch smaller planes from their docks by means of a catapult that will cast the small ship into the air at the rate of 50 miles an hour. The same catapult will be used for commercial purposes. A fast transatlantic airship could cast from its decks an airplane loaded with mail within a distance of a European port that the smaller machine could make in safety, thus saving a full day in mail operation."

A STATEMENT

The Goldsboro Woman's Club has never been a political organization in any particular sense. Its members may individually be Democrat, Republican, Socialist, Prohibitionist, or as a club it is allied with no party. No more does it advocate the candidacy of any man or woman for office.

Its members in their support of one candidate or another act entirely as individuals—as an organization the club advocates and supports principles and measures, never candidates. This has always been the policy of the Woman's Club—it is still its policy today.

Mrs. T. M. Sizell, Acting President.

GOVERNOR COOPER ON FARM BOARD

(By Associated Press.) Washington, May 11.—The selection of Gov. Robt. A. Cooper, of South Carolina to fill the vacancy on the Federal Farm Loan Board caused by the resignation of A. F. Lever is understood today to have been decided upon by President Harding.

Governor Cooper is now filling his second term as Governor of South Carolina, and will have to resign, in order to accept this new position.

He will be succeeded as governor of the "Palmetto State" by U. S. Governor Wilson G. Harvey, of Charleston.

Tragedy At Warsaw Yesterday Afternoon

(By Associated Press.) Warsaw, N. C., May 11.—L. L. Uter, whose home is at Bowden, N. C., a few miles distant from this town was shot and instantly killed here late yesterday afternoon by George Battsan.

After the shooting Battsan gave himself in custody and claimed self defense in justification of his act. Battsan is being held for the verdict of the coroner's jury which has been sworn in and is now investigating the case.

What Might Have Been

University of Louisville, Louisville, Ky., told the Mississippi Valley Historical Association at its meeting here today, "A false move on the part of the president or the Union leaders in the state would have meant that Kentucky would have gone with the lower South," said J. F. Shortridge, who compared the position of Kentucky at the outbreak of hostilities to the attempt of the United States to maintain armed neutrality during the World War, and traced the transition of the state to armed neutrality and finally to participation in the war for the union. He spoke in part as follows:

"The impulse to follow the cotton states into secession was very strong in 1860-61, and it was only by very skillful political maneuvering that this action was delayed until after March 4, 1861. Even then it required the exercise of great tact on the part of President Lincoln to keep Kentucky in the Union.

"The fact that Kentuckians were reduced to blood by the people of both free and slave states and that Kentucky was intimately bound to both sections by economic ties had great influence in determining the attitude of the state in 1861. The method used was an attempt at neutrality between the sections similar in some respects to the attempt of the United States to maintain neutrality during 1914 and 1915. Kentucky declared neutrality partly because public opinion in the state was not crystallized in any one way or the other and partly because of the hope that by preserving neutrality to an end, as the difficulties of maintaining neutrality increased in Kentucky passed into the position of armed neutrality. This position was one step in the crystallization of public opinion in Kentucky and the eventual outcome of the war was a large measure dependent upon the outcome of the situation in Kentucky. This fact was recognized and was appreciated by President Lincoln.

"The question of the preservation of the Union was suspended at difficult times by very slender threads, perhaps none were more slender than that regarding the position that Kentucky should ultimately occupy. The person the story of the struggle most to maintain neutrality in Kentucky and then to bring public opinion safely from neutrality to participation in the struggle between the sections, has great importance in American history."

Japan To Be Represented At Assembly

Des Moines, Ia., May 11.—An event of notable interest at the approaching meeting of the Presbyterian General Assembly here May 15-26, will be the appearance of a deputation from the Church of Christ in Japan headed by its Moderator, the Rev. Dr. Masahisa Uemura, distinguished as the president of a theological seminary, editor of an influential religious newspaper, and preacher to a great congregation.

The occasion of his coming to America is the fiftieth anniversary of the Church of Christ in Japan, which is an independent sister church of the Presbyterian and Reformed family, and with which all the Presbyterian and Reformed Churches that have work in Japan cooperate.

A recent letter from the Rev. Dr. J. B. Hall, of the Japan Mission, reports that this first organized Protestant Church has in fifty years grown into 1,224 organized churches, of which 359 are entirely self-supporting. Besides the churches there are 1,338 places where preaching is regularly held. There are 759 church buildings, and church property is worth 6,798,029 yen ($3,399,015). In 1920 there were over 11,000 baptisms. There are 137,823 communicants, and in 1920 these Christians contributed 1,161,575 yen for all purposes.

The Hon. D. Tagawa, a member of the Japanese delegation at the recent Washington Conference, a member of the Imperial Diocese and a Presbyterian elder, publicly declared: "If we are to make a free Japan, we are to make a Christian Japan. Only the Christian church with its program of redemption and righteousness, individual and social, can victoriously combat the unclean forces of greed, fear, and hate which so largely cause the depressing disease of which the world suffers."

THE WEATHER

North Carolina: Generally fair tonight and Friday. Little change in temperature. Fresh northwest winds.

NEW BERN POST MASTER OPPOSED

(By Associated Press.) Washington, May 11.—Senator F. M. Simmons, senior Democratic senator from North Carolina, and minority leader of the senate, said today that he had decided to oppose the confirmation of Walter B. Rouse to be postmaster at New Bern, the senator's home city.

Senator Simmons said the people of New Bern do not want Rouse, and besides his is the lowest name of three named for the place, and the people of New Bern would be satisfied with either of the other two.

Although Mr. Rouse is an ex-service man, other applicants are in the same category. Mr. Simmons, however, did not say whether, in opposing Mr. Rouse, he would go to the extent of saying that he was "personally objectionable" to him, which, under an invariably observed rule of the post office department, as to a senator's home town, would mean the defeat of Mr. Rouse.

Russia Files Her Reply To Allies

(By Associated Press.) London, May 11.—A Reuters dispatch from Geneva states that the Russian delegation to the Geneva conference filed its reply to the allied ultimatum at 11.45 o'clock this morning.

Gasoline Goes

It also made a similar advance in varnish material and naptha.

The company's tank-wagon price is now 26 cents per gallon—the same as charged by other competing oil companies.

What Might Have Been

University of Louisville, Louisville, Ky., told the Mississippi Valley Historical Association at its meeting here today, "A false move on the part of the president or the Union leaders in the state would have meant that Kentucky would have gone with the lower South," said J. F. Shortridge, who compared the position of Kentucky at the outbreak of hostilities to the attempt of the United States to maintain armed neutrality during the World War, and traced the transition of the state to armed neutrality and finally to participation in the war for the union. He spoke in part as follows:

"The impulse to follow the cotton states into secession was very strong in 1860-61, and it was only by very skillful political maneuvering that this action was delayed until after March 4, 1861. Even then it required the exercise of great tact on the part of President Lincoln to keep Kentucky in the Union.

"The fact that Kentuckians were reduced to blood by the people of both free and slave states and that Kentucky was intimately bound to both sections by economic ties had great influence in determining the attitude of the state in 1861. The method used was an attempt at neutrality between the sections similar in some respects to the attempt of the United States to maintain neutrality during 1914 and 1915. Kentucky declared neutrality partly because public opinion in the state was not crystallized in any one way or the other and partly because of the hope that by preserving neutrality to an end, as the difficulties of maintaining neutrality increased in Kentucky passed into the position of armed neutrality. This position was one step in the crystallization of public opinion in Kentucky and the eventual outcome of the war was a large measure dependent upon the outcome of the situation in Kentucky. This fact was recognized and was appreciated by President Lincoln.

"The question of the preservation of the Union was suspended at difficult times by very slender threads, perhaps none were more slender than that regarding the position that Kentucky should ultimately occupy. The person the story of the struggle most to maintain neutrality in Kentucky and then to bring public opinion safely from neutrality to participation in the struggle between the sections, has great importance in American history."

The Hon. D. Tagawa, a member of the Japanese delegation at the recent Washington Conference, a member of the Imperial Diocese and a Presbyterian elder, publicly declared: "If we are to make a free Japan, we are to make a Christian Japan. Only the Christian church with its program of redemption and righteousness, individual and social, can victoriously combat the unclean forces of greed, fear, and hate which so largely cause the depressing disease of which the world suffers."

THE WEATHER

North Carolina: Generally fair tonight and Friday. Little change in temperature. Fresh northwest winds.