morning, after a long and painful ill-ness. Maj. Badger was born in Raleigh, August 8th, 1830. He was sprung from an illustrious ancestry. He was o descendant of Richard Cogdell, the chairman of the committee of Safety at Newbern in the early days of the Revolution, and a son of Hon. Geo. E. Badger, peinaps the most distinguished public man yet produced in North Carolina, by his last wife, a daughter of Mr. Sherwood Haywood, and a hady greatly esteemed and beloved by a large circle of friends and relatives. After the usual preparation, Mr. Badger entered Cnapel Hill, where he was graduated in 1854, and having ehosen the law as his profession, studied under Judge Pearson at Richmond Hill.
