LOCAL RIPPLES.

—Court adjourned at Concord today

—The Gruber family is billed for a concert at the Y. M. C. A. hall on February 5th.

—Pegleg Williams, the passenger agent, passed through the city today with a train load of an even 300 negroes. He got them down about Goldsboro, and was escorting them to the West.

—The Carolina Central is coming out last. Its swift passenger trains are popular, and business is now improved along the road, by the adoption of the standard railroad rules for the conductors.

—The Baker Music House has been moved to the Y. M. C. A. building. The room lately occupied by the music house in the Central Hotel is to be remodeled, supplied with a glass front and generally improved.

—Mr. F. A. Hicks, the slater and tinner, is in business on his own hook, at the old place in the Central Hotel, as will be seen by his advertisement. Mr. Hicks is an experienced and reliable workman, and invites the trade of our people.

—A postal from Concord this morning, informs THE NEWS that the residence of Mr. Hugh Johnston, near Harrisburg, was burned yesterday. Mr. Johnston was married only a few weeks ago to a daughter of Mr. Hall Caldwell. All his household goods were destroyed.

—The Washington correspondent of the Statesville Landmark makes this mention of a former Charlotte man: "Capt. Robert D. Graham has been assigned to more important duty in the General Land Office on the strength of his own faithfulness in the discharge of his duties and ability as a lawyer."

Personal Mention.

Mrs. Thos. D. Gillespie and her sous returned to their home in Columbia, last night.

Mr. J. B. Eaves is at the Buford House today.

Mrs. Woods, wife of Rev. Dr.
 Woods, of Statesville, is reported as dangerously sick at her home there.

Judge David Schenck is at the Central. He is here to represent the railroad in the Lowe suit.

Mayo Tonight.

The Richmond State gives these points in regard to Mayo, who is to appear at the Opera House here tonight: "D'Artagnan is one of the most captivating personages in French fiction, and the drama admirably preserves the peculiar admixture of incident and dialogue by which Dumas carries on the unflagging interest of his narrations—a secret of his own which has never been mastered by any one else. The character of D'Artagnan fits Mr. Mayo like a kid glove. He fills it out to its utmost limit. The role soars into the melo-dramatic, but he carries it through the most stirring scenes with a grace and delicacy of action and utterance quite delightful to the eye and ear. His charming response imparts an air of reality to the improbable, and even in his mad headlong plunge through the cabin window and into the sea D'Artagnan carried the sympathy of the audience with him, and they recalled him again enthusiastically. The whole impersonation was toned with an artistic ease and lightness and consistency that was very gratifying. The actor had the good fortune to be surrounded by an unusually large and very capable company."

The Charlotte Cotton Market.

The city cotton market today was steady and unchanged. The receipts by wagon were 17 bales. The quotations ruled:

Strict Good Middling . . . . . 9 1/2 Good Middling . . . . . 9 1/4 Strict Middling . . . . . 9 1/4 Middling . . . . . 9 1/4 Tinges . . . . . 8 1/2 @ 9 1/4 tend the Gospel and Prayer Service in the Y. M. C. A. rooms on Sunday evening at 4:30 o'clock.

IN HIS NAME.

THE KING'S DAUGHTERS IN CHARLOTTE.

Tens of this Beautiful Order of Sisters to be Formed Here.—Something About the Order and its Aims.

A party of young ladies of Charlotte have set about the good work of inaugurating the order of the King's Daughters in Charlotte, and the silver Maltese cross tied with the purple ribbon will shortly make its appearance here. From Miss Fair THE NEWS learns that the outlook for a large and enthusiastic membership is excellent. It should be, for the Maltese cross is now a magical symbol.

The order is a beautiful one. It was organized in New York in 1886, when a party of ladies met to discuss and arrange some plan which should unite all Christian women in one grand sisterhood of service. Adopting the system of Edward E. Hale's "Ten Times One" clubs, they constituted themselves a "Central Ten," around which should crystallize other Tens of workers, not assuming any authority or responsibility over them, but simply to form a nucleus around which they might cluster, and from which might radiate encouragement, advice and guidance.
 Of the various names proposed for the order that of the King's Daughters, suggested by Mrs. Irving, was most favorably received and finally adopted; the badge of the society was selected in the small silver cross tied with the royal color; the watchword chosen was the simple "In His Name" of the apostles of old, and the mottoes of action selected were:
 "Look forward and not back."
 "Look out and not in."
 "Look up and not down."
 "Lend a hand."

The society as organized had no constitution and no code of laws save the one general regulation that whenever any reasonable request should be made "In His Name" it should be granted without question or delay.
 Never was less said or written, and never so few plans made for any work, as the design of the society was to move silently and steadily, and so secretly accomplish its purpose of bridging the chasm between the rich and the poor, and to unite all women engaged in any kind of good work in such a way as to secure to each the sympathy and co-operation of all. Yet from almost every State in the Union, and from the most remote countries over the sea—India, Australia and New Zealand—from people in every walk of life, from pastors of churches, matrons of hospitals, teachers of schools, leaders of philanthropic societies, presidents of colleges, from the belles of Fifth Avenue and the street gamins of the Bowery come tidings of the continual organization of tens upon tens of King's Daughters, until 8,600 silver crosses have been sold and 10,000 members have enrolled their names among the King's Daughters, although the society has been organized only two years.

As for the kind of work accomplished by this remarkable sisterhood, it is too varied and extensive to be recorded in detail. There are Tens that visit the sick, Tens that supply the hospitals and homes with flowers, Tens that support foreign missionaries, Tens that sing and Tens that sew, Tens that endow beds in hospitals, Tens that provide pleasant country homes for deserving poor, and Tens that simply "bridle their tongue" and "endeavor to live in love and charity with all men," all "In His Name."

A Flagman Killed.

Passengers who arrived in the city on the Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta train yesterday afternoon, brought news of the killing of a young white man, named McNesley, who was employed as flagman on the C. & C. narrow gauge. He was knocked from a car by a covered bridge, near Lancaster, and was dead when picked up. His skull was crushed and his neck was broken.

A $25,000 PATENT.

A Charlotte Young Man has Invented a Trick That the Patent Men Say is Worth that Sum.

Dr. Chan. L. Alexander, of Charlotte, is not only a successful young dentist, but he has an inventive mind that is working in a way that bids fair to eventually make him a rich man. His first and only patent brings up visions of a brown stone front.

He has invented an automatic gas extinguisher and has not only been granted a patent on the same, but has placed orders with a New York house for the manufacture of a lot of the extinguishers. It is a simple, but accurate device, and cannot get out of order. The invention consists of a hollow tube, in which an inverted cup fits closely. In the top of the cup is a hole about the size of a pin point. The tube is filled half full of water and the cup is inserted in the tube. From the top of the cup, a small chain, working on a pulley, depends from the outside of the tube and connects with a lever which opens or shuts the gas valve. A hook on the tube secures the chain.
 When wanting to turn off the gas, the chain is simply detached from the hook, the weight of the cup causes it to slowly sink in the tube, and as it sinks it draws up the chain which gradually shuts off the gas. It can be made to shut off the gas quickly or slowly as desired, by regulating the size of the hole in the cup. This invention is considered a most useful one for halls and bed rooms. A person coming in at night can turn off the gas in the hall and still have light to guide him to his room, and then he can turn off the gas in his room and have light to retire by.
 Dr. Alexander has received a letter from a handler of patents who places the market value of his patent at $25,000.

The tubes are made in silver, brass and copper and are screwed on the joint of a gas bracket, proving ornamental as well as useful.

Chicken Thieves Surprised.

Mr. H. W. Tatem, who resides on the corner of Tenth and B streets, raked in two chickens that were left at his house last night by thieves.
 Mr. Tatem had always feared a visit from chicken thieves, and as a matter of protection, he rigged up a string that led from the door of his chicken house to his back porch, where it connected with a lot of tin cans, shot, scrap iron and one thing and another in such a manner that when the door of the chicken house was opened, the tin would come down with a mighty clatter. About twelve o'clock last night the whole neighborhood was aroused, for thieves had set off the thing. Mr. Tatem ran out with his gun just in time to see the terrified thieves vanishing in the darkness.
 They did not get any of his chickens, but left two that they had stolen from somebody else.

To Teach in Statesville.

The Landmark of yesterday says:
 "Miss Mamie Osborne, of Charlotte, daughter of Rev. E. A. Osborne, a young lady of experience and success in teaching, has accepted a position as assistant teacher in the Home School of Mrs. and Miss Morrow, and besides the English branch-will teach drawing and painting and a special method of calisthenics which has been particularly commended as improving the health and grace of her pupils. We congratulate the Home School and the community upon this accession of strength to both. The school closed its winter term with fifty-two pupils, and has opened the spring term under equally favorable conditions."

A Cotton Buyer Murdered.

A Charlotte drummer yesterday brought news of a fatal shooting affair at Fort Lawn. Ike McFadden was shot and killed by a man named Connor. Connor shot him with a gun and then knocked his brains out. McFadden was a cotton buyer, and the trouble arose over a dispute about cotton.
