LOCAL RIPPLES.

The Light of the Moon company is at the Central.

The Charlotte cotton market was firm and unchanged today.

Which will you do to-night—Skip by the Light of the Moon, or go to Mexico?

Mrs. J. Elam Henderson died at her home at Philadelphia church, this county, last night.

Engineer Misenheimer, who was injured in the wreck on the Carolina Central road, several months ago, is able to be out on crutches.

A city subscriber suggests that the mayor offer a reward for the capture of the burglars who have been operating in Charlotte.

The cotton compress which has been idle for a few days past, will begin work tomorrow on a big lot of cotton.

In the Criminal Court today, Andy Alexander, Toney White and Lonnie McElwee were all found guilty of larceny. Abe Johnston was acquitted of the charge of larceny.

Mr. C. M. Etheridge, agent of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, today paid Dr. Jno. H. McAden, $20,000, the amount of the policy held in that company by the late Rufus Y. McAden.

A number of farmers were in the city today. They report that the ploughs are busily engaged in turning over the soil this week, and that a large amount of oats is being sowed.

The trees on the government lot next to the mill, upon which the new postoffice is to be built, are being cut down. The contract for excavating will be awarded on the 19th, by Dr. Wilder, the superintendent.

Mr. George Brockenbrough is still in Richmond at the bedside of his mother, who is dangerously sick with pneumonia. The latest news from Mrs. Brockenbrough is that there is no change in her condition.

Two Hundred and Fifty Delinquents.

Esquire D. G. Maxwell was engaged today in making out warrants for the arrest of those who failed to list their poll taxes last year. There are one hundred and fifty delinquents of this character in Charlotte township alone. The penalty is double taxes and $50 fine. Sad times are evidently ahead of those who vote but fail to list their poll tax.

Called to Orangeburg.

Rev. J. L. McLees, who has been serving the Graham street Presbyterian chapel in this city for some months past, has received a call to the pastorate of the Presbyterian church at Orangeburg, S. C. It is probable that this call will be accepted, and in that event, the people of Orangeburg may be assured of securing the services of an excellent pastor. Mr. McLees has endeared himself to all our people since his stay in Charlotte, and they would regret to part with him.

The Funerals To-day.

The funeral services over the body of the late Mrs. J. H. Tolar, were conducted from the residence, this morning. Revs. J. Y. Fair and J. L. McLees officiated. The services were of a most affecting character, and were attended by a large concourse of sympathetic friends. The pall bearers were: Messrs. C. N. G. Butt, B. W. Barnett, D. R. Harry, J. B. Ross, J. E. Oates and W. B. Niblet.

The funeral of Mr. Paul Eagle was conducted from the Tryon Street Methodist church, and the exercises were attended by a large crowd, including a delegation from the old volunteer fire department. Rev. Solomon Pool and Presiding Elder Carraway conducted the services.

Annie Davis, the 13 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Davis, whose death occurred at Anniston, Ala., was buried at Elmwood cemetery, this afternoon. The funeral services were conducted at 3:30 o'clock, from the residence of her parents, on North D street.

RAIDING AN EDITOR.

The Burglars Try Mr. Christian and Find Out that he Knows how to Throw Cord Wood.

Mr. Christian, of the Charlotte Democrat, has had his turn with the burglars. He lives on West Trade street, near the new passenger station of the Richmond & Danville road, and his premises have been invaded quite frequently of late. The first night the thieves stole his axe, and the next night they came back and stole a lot of wood upon which to exercise the axe. Last Tuesday night, they came back with the intention of getting still closer to the editor.

Mr. Christian was aroused that night by a noise at a window, and rising in bed he saw the form of a negro silhouetted in a window frame. The negro had climbed to the roof of the porch, had raised a window and was just then in the act of entering the room. Mr. Christian had no firearms of any sort, but quickly springing from bed he picked up a stick of wood and hurled it with all his might at the intruder. The billet struck the negro in the breast and knocked him from the window. He leaped from the roof of the porch to the ground and fled in the darkness. When Mr. Christian came up town yesterday morning, the first thing he did was to invest in a double barreled shot gun. He loaded the weapon with buckshot and carried it home, and the next time a burglar gets into his house, THE NEWS will be good for a triple header.

On to Marion.

Major John F. Jones has no longer charge of the Blacksburg-Rutherfordton division of the C. C.'s railroad, over which Col. Averill of the South Carolina railroad will soon take charge, as he has control of the lower division from Charleston to Blacksburg. Major John F. Jones will soon move to Rutherfordton and will take charge of the completion of the road from Rutherfordton to Marion. The Shelby Aurora says: "The road to Marion will soon be graded and contractors will soon be at work with a full force of operatives. Maj. Jones knows how to build well and quick a railroad, as his work from Rutherfordton to Blacksburg attests. The completion of this gap will give us a through route to Asheville and the West, and will give us lower freights for bacon, furniture and Western products. We have often heard that this road would soon be completed. This time we think the work will be done."

Law School in Charlotte.

Hon. W. H. Bailey, L. L. D., has opened a law school in our city. Dr. Bailey has had great experience as a law teacher, having taught with his father, the late Judge Bailey, for several years before the war. He once sent a class down to Raleigh, of whom Hon. T. D. Johnston, M. C., and Rev. Dr. J. K. Connelly were members, with this endorsed on their letters, "Stump them, if you can."

The doctor teaches both synthetically and analytically unless the student is pressed for time—then, only analytically. He is now preparing a work—questions and answers on Chitty's Blackstone with questions and answers on American law, for the use of students.

County Sunday School Convention.

County Sunday School Conventions will be held at each county-seat in the State on Friday, February 22, at 10 o'clock. Any minister of the gospel, superintendent or officer, teacher or adult member of any Sunday school will be a member of these conventions. Pastors and superintendents, resident of the county seats, are expected to meet at once and arrange for the convention, selecting place, preparing programs, appointing speakers, etc. Each County Convention is entitled to appoint five delegates to the State Convention.

The New Solicitor.

Col. John E. Brown yesterday afternoon received a telegram from Raleigh, announcing that he had been appointed Solicitor for the Criminal Court of Mecklenburg county, in place of Mr. Geo. E. Wilson, who declined to serve longer in that capacity. Col. Brown's opponent for the place was Capt. Geo. F. Bason, a clever gentleman and a bright lawyer, and who gave the Colonel a warm race. Col. Brown is one of the oldest members of the Charlotte bar, is a lawyer of ability, and will, no doubt, make a good and faithful officer. He is a brother-in-law to Stonewall Jackson.

Mr. Wilson has held the office of Solicitor since the establishment of the Criminal Court, and has discharged the arduous duties of that position with signal ability. He made a most successful Solicitor, and won many a hard fought case against odds. He retires from the office with a good record. Mr. Wilson's increasing practice required his sole attention, and for that reason he declined to longer serve as Solicitor.

The Senate in executive session yesterday confirmed Col. Brown's nomination, and also that of Capt. T. R. Robertson, as clerk for another term. Capt. Robertson has made a splendid officer. The News and Observer editorially says: "Charlotte will be well served by Messrs. Jno. E. Brown and T. R. Robertson as solicitor and clerk respectively of her criminal court. The appointments were conspicuously fit to be made. Both gentlemen are talented, able and popular. Mr. Wilson, the predecessor of Mr. Brown, declined to stand for reappointment."

A Good Book.

"Bible Readings for the Home Circle" is the title of a new work just published by the "Review and Herald," Publishing House, Battle Creek, Mich. The artistic execution of the work can hardly be exceeded in the book line. It is designed for all classes of society, comprising 162 readings, answering nearly 3,000 questions on religious topics, practical, historical and prophetic; massing the testimony of scripture on a great many subjects of interest to the child of God. Agents are selling it in this city.

Receiver Appointed.

The Charlotte candy factory and confectionery store, at the old O. K. bakery stand, on South Tryon street, has passed into the hands of a receiver. A disagreement arose between the partners a few days ago, as mentioned in THE NEWS at the time, and the establishment was closed up by the Sheriff. A conference was afterwards held by the parties concerned, and it was agreed to appoint a receiver. Mr. Jesse Chambers was appointed, and he is instructed to sell off the goods and wind up the concern.

A Pleasant Event at Fort Mill.

A dining was given today by Mrs. Brevard D. Springs at her elegant home at Fort Mill to a number of Charlotte ladies. Mrs. Robert Stokes, Mrs. Thos. Bell, Mrs. Graham, Mrs. R. L. Jones, Mrs. W. F. Myer, and Mrs. W. H. Harris took the early morning freight for Fort Mill. The dining was given in honor of the old set of Charlotte girls.

A Sound Legal Opinion.

E. Bainbridge Monday, Esq., County Atty., Clay Co., Tex., says: "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother also was very low with malarial fever and jaundice, but was cured by the timely use of this medicine. Am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life."

Mr. D. L. Wilcox, of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: He positively believes he would have died, had it not been for Electric Bitters.

This great remedy will ward off, as well as cure all malarial fevers, and for all kidney, liver and stomach disorders stand unequalled. Price 50c. and $1, at Dr. J. C. Davis's.
